Deputies Log Arrests; Probe Wrecks, Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office made several arrests this week, responded to a car and a four-wheeler accident, and is currently investigated the $1,731 theft of tires and windshields.

Donald V. Steyer, 32, Deer Park, was arrested on the strength of a warrant charging him with one count of malicious destruction of property and eight counts of battery. Steyer allegedly rammed a 1985 Subaru GL Wagon with his Ford Mustang on Steyer Road. Several persons were apparently in the vehicle the defendant struck. Garrett County District Court issued the warrant for Steyer's arrest, according to the report.

Tracy L. Bennett, 24, Friendsville, was charged with being disorderly in a public place after she apparently yelled profanities in the district courtroom on Monday morning. Sheriff's deputies attempted to escort her out and, according to the report, Bennett became violent and had to be restrained.

Kenneth W. Hawkins, 25, Oakland, was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) on December 28. Hawkins was traveling on the Southern Crosscut Road when Det. J. Murphy stopped him for a traffic violation. A check of Hawkins's licenses revealed them to be suspended and revoked. At the time of the arrest, the defendant was incarcerated on $5,000 bond.

Samuel E. Ingram, 30, Oakland, apparently failed to dim his headlights to an oncoming police vehicle driven by Murphy. The officer stopped Ingram and subsequently charged him with DWI. The defendant was released into the custody of a sober companion.

Denzil E. Moyers, 19, Bruceton Mills, W.Va., was served a bench warrant charging him with failure to appear in district court on May 15.

Vehicle Mishaps

Sheriff's Office personnel responded to an automobile accident that occurred on Bethlehem Road approximately one half mile east of Rt. 50. Gail L. Hebb, 30, Deer Park, was operating a 1989 Ford Aerostar van westbound on Bethlehem Road early last Saturday when she lost control of the vehicle on ice. The van struck an embankment head-on, rotated 180 degrees, and then struck the embankment with the rear.

Hebb was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by private vehicle. She was treated and released. There were no charges lodged against her because of the icy road conditions.

In a separate mishap, a 13-year-old boy was injured when the 1984 Suzuki 125 four-wheeler he was operating hit a ditch, overturned, and ejected him. John D. Mellinger was transported to Garrett Memorial where he was treated and later released. The accident occurred on December 24.

Theft

An employee of S&A Discount Tire, Oakland, reported that someone broke a window of the establishment sometime between December 24-27 and entered the building. The culprit(s) then removed 22 tires of varied types with a value of $986.98. Two windshields worth $744.61 were also taken, according to the report.

Police may have a lead in the case, according to the report, and an investigation is currently underway.

"LEADING THE WAY TO CHRIST" was the theme this year for the annual holiday luminary lighting event held by residents of Grantsville. Above, Betty Jo Swauger, left, and Ruth Newman place some of the approximately 1,200 sand/light bags along the roadway. After the lighting of the candles, the estimated 30 participants gathered at the Northern Rescue Squad hall for refreshments donated by Buckel's Market, Grantsville. Tourism Adventure Sports Packages Outlined During Meeting At GCC

A plan to attract thousands of visitors to the U.S. Canoe and Kayak Team Olympic Trials on the Savage River next May will ultimately benefit the economy of this area met with enthusiastic response during a recent meeting of interested persons at Garrett Community College.

Speaking to a group of representatives from the motel and restaurant industries, adventure sports vendors, realtors, and Promotion Council members, college president Dr. Steve Herman outlined ideas for tourism packages that will include spectator admission to the whitewater competition, participation in other adventure sports experiences, lodging, and meals. Bus tours, shopping, and visits to other area attractions will also be available.

"We intend to do something different," Dr. Herman said. "Capitalizing on the many adventure experiences offered in this area, we will convert a one-day spectator event to a two or three day participant event and give visitors the opportunity to enjoy adventure sports such as whitewater rafting, mountain biking, sailing, and horseback riding."

The adventure sports tourism packages will be developed and marketed through the college under the leadership of Anna Maria Williamson, a veteran of seven years experience in the tourism/travel industry. Interested persons may contact her at the college at 387-6666.

Dr. Herman emphasized the significance of the Olympic Trials as the "premier whitewater event" in the United States next summer,

Registration Now Open For GCC Spring Classes

Registration is now being taken for all classes offered in the spring semester at Garrett Community College, according to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development. Schedules of classes are available at the branches of the Ruth Enlow Library, area supermarkets, and other places of business, the offices of all Garrett County schools, and the Student Assistance Center at the college.

The Registrar's Office will be open for registration at the following times: Monday, January 6 through Thursday, January 9, and Monday, January 13 through Thursday, January 16, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Monday, January 20 through Thursday, January 23, and Monday, January 27 through Thursday, January 30, 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Academic advisors will be available to assist students during evening registration hours. The college will be closed on Fridays.

New students intending to register should call the Student Assistance Center at 387-6666 for an appointment. Spring semester classes begin Monday, January 27.

Observant Citizens Aid State Police In Recovering Reported Stolen Skis

Two ski theft cases were solved last week by observant citizens, according to reports filed by the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Two Pasadena, Md., men who each had reported their skis stolen last Friday decided to head home about an hour after they told police of their stolen skis. While enroute, they stopped at a gas station in Grantsville.

While getting gas, Brian D. Scalio and Vincent M. Caropreso saw their skis (K-2 190 and Triola SMX) on another vehicle. They detained the pair in possession of their skis and called state police.

Tfc. Scott MacLane arrived and charged Keith E. Thomas, 19, Stevenville, and a male juvenile with theft. Thomas appeared before a Garrett County District Court commissioner and was released on his own recognizance. The juvenile was released from the custody of Juvenile Services.

The second incident occurred on Sunday when an unidentified ski instructor at the Wisp Resort witnessed two men pick up two pairs of skis belonging to other skiers and place them in their vehicle.

The instructor approached the men and detained them until state police arrived to make the arrests.

Steven Attmand, 23, Randallstown, and Alexander Chernov, 21, Baltimore, were each charged with felony theft and taken before a court commissioner.

House Parent From Children's Trust Charged With Various Abuse/Sex Counts

A house parent from Salem Children's Trust was arrested recently by the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, and charged with numerous counts of child abuse and sexual offenses.

Arrested was Aric B. Phinney, 24, Cresaptown, who was remanded to the Garrett County Jail. He later appeared before a Garrett County District Court Commissioner where bond was set at $25,000. He has since been released from jail after posting 10 percent of that bond, according to a jail spokeswoman.

Phinney allegedly sexually abused a young boy residing at the Trust. Following an investigation by the state police, Phinney was charged with 10 counts of child abuse, 10 counts of second-degree sex offense, 10 counts of third-degree sex offense, 10 counts of fourth-degree sex offense, and 10 counts of perverted practice.

Tfc. R.J. Resh is handling the investigation for state police. The abuse allegedly occurred during November of 1991.

Health Dept. To Offer Cholesterol Level Screenings

The Garrett County Health Department will offer cholesterol screening beginning in January, it was announced this week. Awareness of cholesterol level is important because an elevated blood cholesterol level has been shown to be a major risk factor for coronary heart disease, according to Dr. Rex Archer, Garrett County Health Officer.

"An analysis of death certificates shows that more Garrett County residents die from cardiovascular diseases than any other cause," stated Dr. Archer, who continued, "Every adult should have his or her blood cholesterol level checked at least once every five years. It is important to be aware of an elevated blood cholesterol level and to take action to reduce it to a healthier range.

"For each one percent reduction in blood cholesterol, the risk of having a heart attack is reduced two percent. Thus, a 25 percent reduction in blood cholesterol (for example from 280 mg/dl to 210 mg/dl) will cut a persons chance of having a heart attack in half," Archer added.

The degree of risk has been divided into three groups: 200 mg/dl or lower - low risk; 200-239 mg/dl - borderline risk, and 240 mg/dl or greater - high risk.

Anyone whose results are greater than 200 mg/dl will be counseled on diet changes or reduce fat and cholesterol intake. The results of all tests will be sent to the participant's physician.

The Garrett County Health Department will use the Kodak DT 60 Machine. This equipment has been evaluated by the University of Maryland to insure that results are accurate.

To schedule an appointment for cholesterol testing, interested persons are asked to call the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111, 895-3111, or 359-0855. Currently, testing will only be offered at the Oakland Health Department Clinic. Plans are being made to extend the program to other locations as well. The cost of this service is $10.

Midland Woman Dies As Result Of Vehicle Mishap

A Midland woman died Thursday, December 26, following a single-vehicle crash on the Meyersdale Road, near U.S. Route 40.

Fatally injured was Shari E. Rizer, 26, the reported driver of the 1976 Jeep that crossed the center line, struck a tree and then overturned. She was pronounced dead at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, after being transported there by the Maryland State Police Medevac helicopter shortly after the 5:21 p.m. accident.

A passenger in the vehicle, Gregory E. Newman, 35, Grantsville, was transported to Memorial by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. He was reportedly treated and released. One source indicated that two other passengers in the vehicle were not injured in the mishap.

Tpr. J.T. Bentlejewski investigated for state police. Speeding, alcohol, and driver error were reportedly contributing factors in the fatal mishap.

MAN INJURED

An Oakland man was listed in "guarded" condition Wednesday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, following early morning accident on the Hutton Road near Sanders Lane.

Howard V. Sisler, 21, Oakland, was transported to the hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. State police said Sisler was operating a pickup truck west on the Hutton Road when the vehicle traveled out of control on the icy roadway and struck a ditch and embankment before becoming airborne. The truck then struck a utility pole.

Tfc. James Hare, state police, reported alcohol and speeding were factors in the accident.

ONE HURT

A Burke, Va., woman was injured Tuesday when the vehicle in which she was traveling hit an icy patch on Interstate 68, skidded, struck a guardrail in the median strip, and traveled back across the road before coming to rest on the south side of the roadway.

Treated for injuries at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, was Wendi Santavicca, 24. The driver of the vehicle, Vincent J. Santavicca, 25, and other passengers, Alissa A. and Lisa F. Santavicca, all of Burke, were apparently not injured.

Tpr. G.S. Becker investigated the 12:30 p.m. mishap. Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported Santavicca to the hospital.

TRUCK OVERTURNS

A Beltsville man was treated and released from the local hospital Friday when the 1991 Ford Ranger he was operating skidded on a patch of ice, left the roadway and overturned on U.S. Rt. 50, west of the Mason School Road.

Charles W. Smith, 27, was slightly injured in the 11:45 p.m. mishap and transported to the hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad, according to a report

Commissioners Hear Concerns About Prevailing Wage Rate In County

The Garrett County Commissioners heard from various heads of local agencies and departments this week concerning the economic development of the county and the progress of the county health department, among other issues, at the regular monthly staff meeting.

Director of the Garrett County Department of Economic Development Tom Jones discussed with the commissioners what he termed a "chronic problem" concerning the "prevailing wage rate" for construction workers employed by contractors involved in capital projects within the county. Jones stated that, for instance, a significant amount of the costs for the new airport have been and will be in the form of wages for labor and equipment operators.

Jones reported that Garrett County must adhere to the same prevailing wage rate as Cumberland, while a study has determined the wage rate in Garrett County to be three times that paid on the Eastern Shore and twice that paid in Hagerstown for the same type of work.

Jones added that his department will be working on a way to obtain a separate, more equitable, rate for Garrett County and would like input from the county commissioners about capital projects now in the works and plans for projects in the next three to five years in order to determine the fiscal impact.

Wendell Beitzel, Garrett County Sanitary District administrator, agreed with Jones that the prevailing wage rate needs to be changed. "The high wage rate in Cumberland has probably been the biggest factor in loss of industry there," he said.

Jones also announced during the meeting that the Farmers' Home Administration has instituted a new program for lending money to small businesses, and he expects the funds to be available by late March or early April.

Finally, Jones reported that the Garrett County Development Corporation has discussed looking at the economic development goals and objectives spelled out in the comprehensive development plan for the county to see if they should be revised in any way.

"That plan is now 20 years old," he said, "and some of the ideas are antiquated." He noted that a committee within the corporation would probably be formed and would study the plan during the first half of the year. Following that, an advisory committee would likely suggest new goals and objectives and strategies to achieve them.

Health Dept. Update

Garrett County Health Officer Dr. Rex Archer was also on hand at the staff meeting to report on the progress made by the Health Department since its inception and about how the current budget cuts are being handled.

Dr. Archer provided the commissioners with an information flyer that charts the Health Department's progress from 1932 to the present and lists goals for the year 2000.

Despite the recent state and local budget cuts, "the Health Department employees are working hard," stated Archer, adding that productivity has increased. Two examples he cited were the Home Health Unit, which made a record 2,200 visits over the past year, and the WIC (Women, Infants and Children) program, which had an increased enrollment of 25 percent.

"Approximately $600,000 a year is pumped into Garrett County's economy because of WIC's services," he said.

Archer also announced that the grant for Garrett County's domestic violence and sexual assault program has been renewed and that the addictions program has been recertified. In fact, he said, "the state officials reviewing our addictions program said no improvement plan was necessary, although the staff will continually work to improve the program."

Archer noted that a minigrant has been received to implement a county-wide seatbelt program, and that cholesterol testing has now begun at the health department.

According to Archer, the Health Department is currently working with a balanced budget but "we don't know what the next round of cuts will do to us." So far, no furloughs have been implemented, although two cleaning persons have been cut from full-time to 80 percent and one special payments employee in the mental health department has been terminated, he said.

If furloughs do become necessary, Archer said that grant money could be lost in some cases because some employees are paid through federal grants.

GCC Campus Is Now Smoke-Free

When classes begin again in January at Garrett Community College, instructors and students will be teaching and learning in a smoke-free environment. In accordance with an action taken by the Administrative Council and the college Cabinet last semester, GCC will become a totally smoke-free campus, beginning in 1992.

During the past two years, smoking has been confined to designated areas in each building. The decision to disband these areas and to eliminate smoking altogether came as the result of efforts of a number of faculty, staff, and students, and following a presentation by county health officer Dr. Rex Archer on the hazards of passive smoke to non-smokers.

"CAROLING, CAROLING, NOW WE GO..." The age old tradition of Christmas caroling was revived this year in Grantsville, and organizers of the event, such as Gerry Beachy, plan to make it an annual community get-together. A covered dish dinner preceded the singing, and snacks and fellowship at St. Paul's United Methodist Church concluded the evening. The party will be held in another local church next year. GOLDIE S. MOON

Goldie S. Moon, 92, Oakland, died Monday, December 30, 1991, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Born April 21, 1899, in Davis, W.Va., she was the daughter of the late Daniel Grant Judy and Rachel (Weimer) Judy.

Her husband, Lester C. Moon, died in 1962.

Mrs. Moon was a member of the Gortner Union Church of the Brethren.

She is survived by two sons, Edward G. Moon and the Rev. David C. Moon, both of Oakland; three sisters, Mary Hamstead, Greenwood, Del.; Maud Feather, Oakland, formerly of Eglon, W.Va.; and Martha Shively, Cheraw, Colo.; one brother, John Judy, Horse Shoe Run, W.Va.; five grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Friends were received Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland.

A service was conducted at the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, Eglon, at 2 p.m. today by the Rev. Donald Matthews and the Rev. Charles Teets. Interment will be in the Eglon Cemetery.

The family requests that memorials take the form of donations to the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

EDITH V. MARKLEY

Edith V. Markley, 81, Laurel, died December 24, 1991, at Greater Laurel Hospital, Beltsville.

Born July 31, 1910, in Oakland, she was the daughter of the late Truman C. and Sarah M. (Beckman) Bittinger. She was preceded in death by her husband, Edward G. Markley.

Mrs. Markley was a retired computer data processor for Trailways. She was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Laurel.

Survivors include two brothers, Cecil E. Bittinger and Harold G. Bittinger, both of Oakland; and one Godchild, Olivia Schlosser, Laurel; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Friends were received in the Fleck Funeral Home, Laurel, where a service was conducted Saturday at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Father Michael J. Blackwell officiating.

Interment was in the Fort Lincoln Cemetery, Brentwood.

Mikulski, Byron, Hattery, Pres. Candidate Reps To Attend Forum

The Garrett County Democratic Club will host a "Meet Your Candidates Forum" on Saturday, January 18, from 2-5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Cumberland.

A spokesman from the local club indicated that Democrats from throughout Western Maryland will be gathering for their first chance to hear from each of the Democratic presidential campaigns; Senator Barbara Mikulski; and the 6th Congressional District contenders, Congresswoman Beverly Byron and Delegate Thomas Hattery, before the March 3 primary.

"By moving the primary date to March 3, Maryland has become one of the key early states to securing the Democratic nomination," said the spokesman.

The speakers for Saturday's event include the Maryland representatives of Senator Tom Harkin, Senator Bob Kerrey, Senator Paul Tsongas, former Mayor Larry Agran, and Governor Bill Clinton. After each candidate/representative has spoken, time will be allotted for a question/answer session.

All interested Democrats from Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties are welcome and urged to attend.

For further information, Phyllis Trickett, event chairperson, may be contacted at 301-334-4810.

Bloodmobile To Visit Grantsville Next Tuesday

The American Red Cross bloodmobile will make its regular visit to Grantsville Tuesday, January 7, according to Lela H. Bender, blood program chairman. The bloodmobile will be collecting blood at the Grantsville fire hall from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m.

"Blood donations give others another chance to enjoy the holiday season with family and friends," Mrs. Bender said. "During the holiday season, why not consider giving a gift that costs no money and one that will benefit as many as four people?"

Mrs. Bender noted that blood supplies are usually short this time of year and an increase in travel usually means an increase in accidents and an increase in the need for blood. She said that all types of blood are needed, particularly type O and all types with a negative RH factor.

All persons who are at least 17 years of age, weigh at least 110 pounds, and are in generally good health are eligible to donate blood.

No New Year's baby had been born as of presstime this morning, but two births this past week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital were announced this morning by a hospital spokesman.

A daughter was born December 27 to Robert Glen and Lillian Margaret Kuhn Gatto, Mt. Storm, W.Va.

A son was born December 29 to Denver Keith II and Debby Sue Parsons Eichorn, Oakland.

Admissions were listed at 59 with 42 discharges. This morning's census shows 49 patients.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON -- A Nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientist may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to an decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of the product called Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 3 weeks on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritional sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

A SEEMINGLY NEVER ENDING PATH of dancing lights brightened the holiday season for Grantsville area residents and visitors to that area, as about 30 volunteers assembled and placed some 1,200 candle luminaries along Cemetery Road. The annual event was started by a former Grantsville resident, William Grimm, now of Hagerstown, who still provides the candles and paper bags. Keystone Lime Company donated the sand. Below left, Lois Durst provides stability of the candles by placing them in paper cups before positioning them in the sand-anchored bags. Below right, 7-year-old Emily Rawe places one of the lights along the path. Mr. Grimm and his wife were among those who attended the lighting of the candles. Photos by Craig Speicher.

Wide Variety Of Financial Aid For College Available

Maryland residents have a wide variety of college financial aid programs available, according to the financial aid administrators at Maryland's institutions of higher education who are promoting the availability of such financial assistance during "You Can Afford College '92" Month in Maryland during January 1992.

Some 116,000 students received a total of more than $384 million in financial aid to attend Maryland's colleges, universities, and proprietary schools during 1989-90 year, the last year for which complete figures are currently available.

Through a variety of scholarships, loans, grants and work assistance programs, more than 116,000 undergraduate and graduate students attended the State's community colleges, the University of Maryland, Morgan State University, St. Mary's College, the independent colleges and universities, and proprietary schools. The largest number of students receiving assistance -- 47,257 students -- attended an institution of the University of Maryland System. Some 28,280 students receiving financial assistance attended one of the State's 16 public community colleges; 20,607 students attended independent colleges and universities and 14,235 students attended private career schools. The rest of the 116,000 students who received some form of financial help attended Morgan State University, 5,231 students, or St. Mary's College, 797 students.

Of the more than $384 million dollars provided in financial assistance to college students in Maryland in the 1989-90 year, over $136 million was in federal, private and institutional grants -- non-repayable gifts to students. Another $59 million was in the form of scholarships, including numerous state scholarship funds, that similarly do not require repayment. More than $70 million was paid through student employment programs and assistanceships in which students earned an income while they studied. Student employment funds, likewise, do not require repayment. More than $119 million was also provided in repayable loans, through federal, institutional, and private sources.

The average amount of financial assistance for undergraduates from all sources was $2,551. The average amount of assistance ranged from $1,027 to those students attending a community college, to $5,656 to students attending one of the state's independent colleges or universities.

Maryland Student Financial Aid Administrators, The Maryland Higher Education Loan Corporation, and The Maryland Higher Education Commission have organized numerous financial aid information sessions throughout the State under a program entitled "You Can Afford College '92."

The Garrett County Crime Solvers organization is seeking information concerning two thefts that occurred this fall.

In the early morning hours of September 17 and sometime between October 15 and 18, two separate thefts occurred at Buddy's Used Car Lot, located on U.S. Rt. 219 south of Glendale Road.

A 1988 Honda 80R motorcycle was removed from the car lot on Sept. 17. A 1989 Suzuki four-wheeler was stolen sometime between the noted October dates. The culprit(s) also removed two 20-inch bicycles from the property during the second theft.

Any person with information about this or any other unsolved crime is urged to contact Crime Solvers at 334-1975. Persons who provide tips that lead to arrests are eligible for rewards up to $1,000. Callers do not have to give their names nor appear in court.

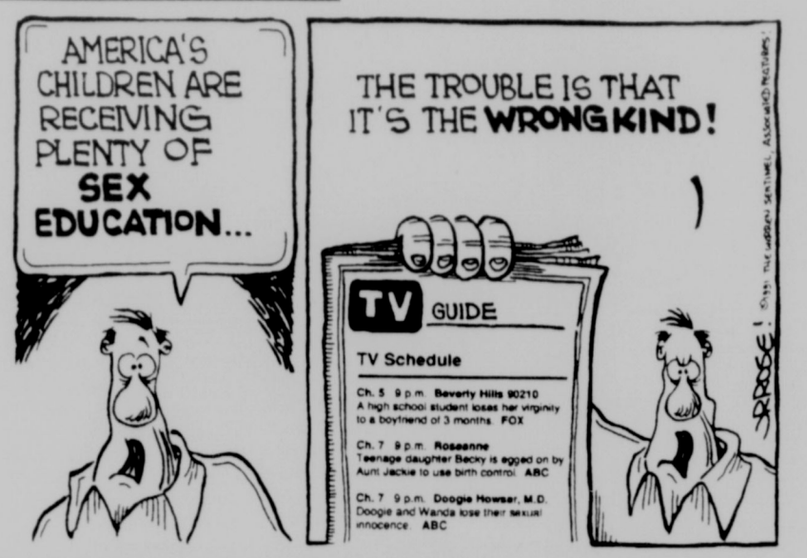
Incentives Needed...

While there are many reasons for our economy to be floundering the way it is, we believe that the president and U.S. Congress have the power right at their fingertips to bring the current recession to an end. Unfortunately, it will take courage on the part of our elected officials, a characteristic that is painfully absent in so many of our "leaders," especially those who are up for election this year.



We believe that President Bush has the courage and is on the right track in calling for an end to the taxes on capital gains, for example. However, the cowardly Democrat members of Congress who profess to be "champions of the poor" use this against Bush, claiming that elimination of the capital gains tax would benefit no one but the rich. What they aren't willing to admit is that cutting the capital gains tax, and providing other incentives and credits to "big business," is just what is needed to get our nation's economy rolling again. There should be a jobs tax credit provided to employers, to encourage them to hire additional employees. There should be investment tax credits, which would encourage business owners to expand their operations, again resulting in more jobs.

People forget that, like it or not, it is "big business" that provides those sorely needed jobs. It is "big business" that produces the products and goods that consumers purchase.

Granted, the middle class families in this country also need some breaks and incentives. They are the largest group of workers/consumers in the nation and they are presently the most heavily taxed. Nearly every incentive on our income tax forms has been stripped away by the 1986 tax reform laws. Just as with big business, there is little or no incentive to buy property or invest in much of anything. No wonder the realtors are having such a tough time; their downslide started with the 1986 tax reform laws.

History has shown repeatedly that if tax breaks and incentives are provided during a recession, things quickly turn around and the recession comes to an end. Why can't the members of Congress "just do it," as the Nike Corporation says? Why can't they learn from history?

We predict that if President Bush gets his wish on the capital gains tax, and if Congress somehow musters the courage to follow that with some new incentives for all of us, the economy will rebound in dramatic fashion by the end of 1992.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Coping with shortfalls is the prime concern today by everyone. There is no way to predict what the real outcome will be. It seems the educators are finding the greatest difficulty. I wonder why they haven't thought about letting the parents teach their children to use the bathroom, tie their shoes, and give them their breakfast at home?

For further and better cuts: eliminate evolution, sex education, humanism, and mind-shaping from their curriculum. Possibly they could do with fewer teachers aides. To improve the quality of education would be to put more emphasis on honesty, morals, truth and general Judaism Christian principles.

Let us remember Jesus is not only the reason for the season we are celebrating, but He's also the PERFECT way of life. God will bless what He orders. Let us face the truth and it will make us free.

Homer Mellott

To the Editor:

1991 has certainly been a memorable year. As it grows to a close we in rural America feel somehow at a loss. With an economy that is apparently growing worse daily, it is now that we would like to be able to turn to the government for help in our time of need. This, however, will not likely happen. The state and the county governments are finding it necessary to make deeper and deeper cuts into the services that we have all taken for granted.

It would, of course be easy to cast blame, however the purpose of this article is not to blame but to inspire. It is during this crisis that we must begin to use our greatest natural resources in Garrett County ... ourselves. We must all take a close look at what we can do to help alleviate the current crisis. It is now more than ever that we need to spend time and energy to build up those things that are our passion. Rather than just complain about the cuts to the school system, why not spend some time educating our children ourselves? Instead of just saying "Ain't it awful that the library is closed on Mondays" why don't we call and say "what could I do as a volunteer to help?"

It is also important that we remember that it is the mothers and fathers, grandparents, and other family members who play the primary role in developing our children's character. The following are just a few facts that we should remember when spending time with our children. 1. Offering children choices improves the way they make decisions. 2. Praising children improves behavior. 3. Reading 15 minutes a day improves test scores. 4. Giving children jobs they can do well improves self-esteem.

During the darkest days of WWII while Britain alone stood against the overpowering forces of Nazi Germany, Sir Winston Churchill said, "Let us ... brace ourselves to our duties, and so bear ourselves that if the British Empire and its Commonwealth last for a thousand years, men will still say; this was their finest hour."

I ask you, the citizens of Garrett County, will this be seen as our finest hour? If not, why can't it be? Hurry, there is no time to waste, because it is now that we must act to save what we have. If we so choose we shall not only endure these troubled times, we shall prevail.

Sincerely,
Robert T. Stevens
Executive Director
Garrett County Office for Children, Youth and Families, Inc.

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter out of concern that numerous county taxpayers and parents are not being told the complete story concerning our tax dollars and the Board of Education particularly concerning the transportation of our children.

It has been inferred in past communications from the Board of Education that the more times a school bus stops, the more it costs the Board of Education, so that one of the savings to the budget is minimize the stops. This argument has been used toward parents who are concerned about the safety of children walking along roads with little or no berm. Let me assure you that extra stops by contractors to pick up children to keep them from walking along dangerous roads does not cost the county or state one extra dime. School bus contractors are paid by mile, not by the number of stops.

Many Garrett County taxpayers seem also to be unaware that Maryland state funds totally pay for the bus transportation of our children and Garrett County tax money pays for what may be proportionally the HIGHEST administrative salary for transportation in the state of Maryland. You would think that with such high paid expertise, all parents and bus drivers would all be very happy with the way transportation is handled. Are they? Could this be a good place to save budget dollars?

How much money is paid to the director of transportation other than a $57,000 salary? Many county people would like a job with perks that include getting paid mileage, excellent health insurance, how many weeks paid vacation?, up to three weeks of additional holidays, (Christmas, Easter and political) and not to forget several working conferences in places that most of us can't afford to go on vacation. Many people wonder why, with all this, one of the most creative in-service training sessions held this past year for school bus contractors was a special mandatory meeting for the purpose of teaching them how to adjust the rear view mirror. Could this kind of creative use of time and money be responsible for our current bloated administrative budget?

If you have some of these same concerns, please find one of the Garrett County businesses that have made available space for a petition. Read it and, if you agree, please sign. If we can't change the system, maybe we can change one little (overpaid) part.

Sincerely,
Herb Clevenger

An Update From The Superintendent

By
Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent Of Garrett County Public Schools

Student Service Alliance

(This article was written in conjunction with Mrs. Lisa Bender, marketing instructor at Southern High School.)

Garrett County is among the many school systems around the state that are interested in creating opportunities for youth to make a difference in their schools and communities. As a result, both Northern and Southern high schools offer a class called the Student Service Alliance.

Through this class students develop a better understanding of their community and their responsibilities as citizens. Secondly, students gain self-confidence and self-respect through service activities. Finally, students begin to view service to their community as "habits of the heart." These activities are not simply just nice things to do - there are valuable lessons to be learned from their experiences.

The teachers of these classes incorporate three important components:

1. Preparation - Students identify and analyze problems within their school or community. They may read newspapers, interview experts, or conduct a survey to determine where the needs are greatest. Then they plan a service activity.

2. Action - Students conduct the actual service to address the needs identified through their preparation activities.

3. Reflection - This component incorporates both individual and group reflection. This gives students an opportunity to analyze the personal impact of their experience. Each student keeps a journal of his/her experiences. Through their reflections, students will have a better opportunity to discover the meaning of citizenship in a democracy.

For example, during the month of October both high schools actively participated in Red Ribbon Week to promote drug awareness. These efforts were coordinated by the Student Service Alliance classes. Students prepared for this event by inviting guest speakers to class, researching statistics regarding drug abuse, and participating in brainstorming activities to promote their drug-free message. Students then went out and hand-delivered over 26,000 ribbons throughout the county as part of their action. Finally, students reflected on their participation through class discussion and written journal entries, determining the value of the service performed.

Since Garrett County students live in a rural area, many of the students elect to participate in service activities within their own school. Within the school, service performed might include peer tutoring programs after school, working with special needs students, and advocating for special community programs and events such as bloodmobiles, fund drives, and wellness activities. Currently, Southern High School has 46 students enrolled in the Student Service classes while 16 students participate in the program at Northern High School.

Lastly, we're very fortunate to have cooperation from so many citizens throughout the county to act as guest speakers in the classroom. These guests do an excellent job in defining the need for volunteerism for their organization. They are an integral part of the efforts to stress the importance of citizenship, and giving of oneself in a democracy.

What's happening in our schools this week?

* The public schools resume classes on Thursday, January 2, 1992.

* Almost as soon as ninth grade students return to school, they will be given the Maryland Writing Test - one of the four State functional tests required for graduation. The tests will be given on January 7 and 8 at both high schools.

The Garrett County Schools Update can be heard each week on WMSG Radio at 8:35 a.m. each Monday, WXIE Radio at 8:30 p.m. each Saturday, and at 8:30 p.m. each Saturday on WAIJ Radio.

Senior Citizens' Menus

"Eating Together" sites are now operating two days per week and offer only two menu selections per week. The menu for the week of January 6-10 is as follows:

Day 1 - Tossed salad w/grated cheese, crispie fish, scalloped potatoes, stewed tomatoes, rye bread, apricots.

Day 2 - Turkey w/dressing, whipped potatoes, cranberry sauce, mixed vegetables, whole wheat bread, Neapolitan ice cream.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Telephone numbers of individual sites are as follows: Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, 746-8824; Bull's Restaurant, Bloomington, 359-3035; Finzel Fire Hall, Finzel, 689-8388; Old Mill Grill, Friendsville, 746-5414; Old Mill Restaurant, Gorman, 334-4865; Starner Hill Apts., Grantsville, 895-5092; Jennings Community Building, Jennings, 245-4204; Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller, 453-3445; Oakland Senior Center, Mtn. Lake Park, 334-3399; and Swanton Community Building, Swanton, 387-9191.

The Mind Wanders

by Sherry Frantz

An inspirational and uplifting essay about the promising prospects of 1992 would certainly be in order -- and nice -- at this point. But I'm fairly convinced that we must enter this year gingerly and with a healthy dose of skepticism.

We must take with us as much foresight and insight as we can challenge ourselves to muster -- certainly more than we've displayed in recent years -- because there is demanding work ahead of us and for us in the coming year.

I predict that 1992 will not be a year for the squeamish.

Indications are that the recession is coming to an end, and while that sounds encouraging, what does it really mean? For one thing, I guess it means that people who were financially comfortable before the recession will now have more money to pump into the economy.

But what does that really mean? We'll still have a huge, unmanageable national debt. Poverty will continue, as well as homelessness in increasing numbers (in part, because of the deficits we're now dealing with on the local, state and federal level).

There is evidence that social programs, having been abused, mismanaged and in need of more money, will be tossed out because we're becoming fed up with the abuse, mismanagement and lack of funds. We seem to find it easier to direct our anger at the ones who benefit from these programs instead of at the bureaucracy that manages them, and so rationalize and generalize that the recipients don't really need or deserve help.

Will we be destined to throw the baby out with the bath water? Or will we be patient enough to change the things that are really and truly wrong with those programs.

It looks like a case of desperately and hurriedly discarding whole packages, with both good and bad components, instead of recycling or salvaging the parts that do work. That's what seems to happen when we become fed up and impatient. We want things to work right. And we want it now.

But that's not smart, and we need to be smartest when things are toughest, and although it's been said that, "He who hesitates is lost," I think it's appropriate at this moment.

At a New Year's Eve party I attended, an interesting thing occurred while waiting, champagne in hand, for the countdown to midnight. As we watched T.V. to make certain of the time, the T.V. people suddenly started cheering in the new year while the clock at the corner of the screen revealed about one more minute to go.

So we, the living room people, just sorta stared at each other, tentatively looking for an answer in each other's eyes to the question: Do we wait for the clock or toast each other now? Did we really gather together here in all this tradition just to be duped by the T.V. people?

Apparently, we all gave each other the silent permission to wait for the corner clock to indicate midnight and then toasted in the new year with much warmth and good cheer.

And it is because of that telling uncertainty and trusting reliance on one another, as we cautiously lifted our glasses, that my glimmers of hope for the future might just be realized.

Eisenhower Is Named By GOP Over Senator Taft; Nixon Is Running Mate

General Dwight D. Eisenhower won the Republican presidential nomination on the first ballot of the GOP national convention in Chicago last Friday afternoon.

Nine votes short of the goal at the end of the first roll call, he was pushed over when Minnesota reconsidered and tossed him 19 votes previously cast for Harold E. Stassen.

The Minnesota action set off a swift volley of vote shifts in 41 other states and territories, with the result that when tally clerks finally were able to complete the tabulation it showed: Eisenhower 845, Sen. Robert A. Taft 280, Gov. Earl Warren 77, and General Douglass MacArthur 4.

Fined For Selling Theatre Tickets On Sunday At Drive-In

Local agitation here over Sunday moving pictures in the county and cash nights has brought action in two instances.

On June 27 Sheriff Paul W. Fisher arrested the owner of the "Paradise Drive-In" theatre, seven miles north of Oakland, on a charge of selling theatre tickets on Sunday, June 22.

A hearing was held before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer last Friday at which time the owner pleaded not guilty. Yesterday afternoon Bitzer pronounced a verdict of guilty. He assessed the maximum fine of $5 and costs under section 560 of article 27, an old law on the statute books.

Barry Rascovar's
Maryland Commentary

Who will the budget betray next?

BALTIMORE — This has not been a pleasant year for Maryland leaders. The highlights came in the early months, when there was still money in state and county coffers. Once the full brunt of the recession hit, smiles evaporated and gloom descended on government office buildings.

What lies ahead could be even more gruesome. Gov. William Donald Schaefer has sliced more than $1 billion from the state's general fund budget. The governor froze government spending at current levels, and then tightened the purse strings even further.

But the state's "business" has been booming: more welfare applicants (caseload is up 10 percent), more Medicaid applicants (up 90,000 people), more prisoners (up 10 percent), more criminal court cases (up 6 percent). This means more state spending, much of it mandated by inflexible federal laws.

The result, after more than 15 months of wrenching cutbacks, is downright depressing: State government faces a new budget deficit that exceeds $1 billion.

More sharp budget cuts are certain. Many state programs will be closed. State workers who avoid the next round of layoffs probably will find their pay cut at least 2 percent.

Still, it will take huge reductions in state aid to localities to close the gap. The prime target will be public schools. That is the biggest chunk of state spending for the city and counties: nearly $2 billion.

In years past, proposals to cut into school aid would have been off limits. Not only did the powerful teachers lobby stand guard against such intrusions but public sentiment strongly favored a generous school-assistance program.

No longer. Education is under fire. All these billions of dollars and yet students are faring no better on test scores. Faith in the public school system is eroding.

On top of that, a growing segment of the local populace doesn't give a hoot about schools. These are the "no new taxes" advocates, including many retirees. They've already put their kids through school. All they want is to keep their tax bills low.

So far, this segment has been content to see big cuts in state programs. They haven't felt any pain to date. That will change in 1992 as the budget crisis descends directly upon the counties.

Huge cuts in school aid would force local leaders to face unpleasant choices. In some jurisdictions where education remains paramount, the options will be clear: higher property tax rates will be approved, if that's what it takes to ensure first-class schooling. But in other jurisdictions where the "no new taxes" crowd continues to hold sway, that option might not be available.

User fees could become ubiquitous and in some cases onerous. Any way the counties can raise extra revenue will be exploited.

County programs will end. Layoffs will follow. But there will still have to be steep cuts in school budgets or politicians must turn to that other dreaded option, higher property taxes. This would produce either a firestorm of protests from the education lobby or a firestorm of outrage from the anti-tax crowd.

Given the political upheaval that property-tax protesters generated at the polls in 1990, no county executive wants to risk his or her career by jacking up property taxes. But county leaders don't want to face down the school lobby, either.

This could set the stage for a classic confrontation between interest groups with enormous political muscle. Will Roger Hayden in Baltimore County, for instance, cater to the school lobby that helped get him elected? Or will he kow-tow to the anti-tax crowd that also backed him vociferously in the last election?

Someone is going to be bitterly disappointed and turn on political leaders with a vengeance. Someone is going to feel betrayed in 1992.

OPEN DEVELOPMENT - A Garrett County resident and his daughter recently developed property in Washington County, about five miles south of Boonesboro. The project was completed by Bob Railey, owner and broker of Lakeside Realty, and his daughter, Roberta Hurley. Three- and four-acre parcels are each surrounded with split rail fencing installed by Jerry Meyers and his Underwood Landscaping. Some 8,000 feet of fencing has been installed to date. Pictured above is the entrance to the development and one of the houses.

"Kids Praise" Program Set For January 12

"Kids Praise," a Christian musical program performed by youth members of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will be presented on Sunday, January 12, at 7 p.m. at the church.

"Kids Praise" is a series of up-beat musical pieces connected with dialogue between the children and "Psalty," a living book of praises, portrayed by Jim Bartholomew. Psalty attempts to inspire the children to praise God by way of singing, and the children respond with several animated songs of varying tempos and messages, according to a spokesperson for the program.

Approximately 15 children, aged 6 to 13 years, are involved in the production, as well as one adult (Bartholomew). "Kids Praise" is under the direction of Julie Ursin, assisted by Mary McEwen, Fran Storck, Liz Gilbert, and Barb Wolf.

The show will last approximately one hour. The public is invited to attend.

The most common first name of U.S. presidents is James.

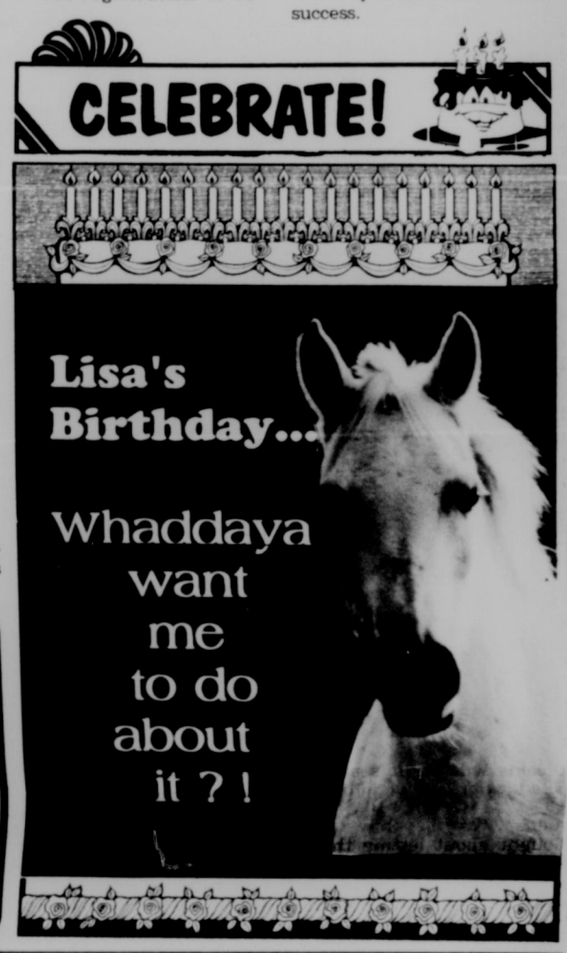
CPR Course To Be Offered At Wisp By ARC

When CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) is combined with quick delivery of the right medical care, it has been shown that about 40 percent of cardiac arrest victims can be saved, according to the American Red Cross.

The Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced that it will be holding a CPR course on Tuesday, Jan. 21, and Thursday, Jan. 23, from 5:30 to 10 p.m. Wisp Resort, McHenry.

The course is eight hours long and will cost $25 per person.

Community CPR teaches: how to deal with an emergency, what to do when an infant, a child, or an adult stops breathing, what to do when an infant, a child, or an adult is choking, and more.



Pre-registration is required. Those interested are asked to contact the Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross at 334-3916.

The college reserves the right to cancel classes due to insufficient enrollment.

Garrett Community College does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, religion, national origin, ethnic origin or handicapping conditions. This non-discrimination policy includes equal treatment for students in regard to admissions, programs/activities, financial assistance and equal treatment of faculty and staff in employment.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Noncredit registration will be taken on a first-come, first-serve basis and should be completed at least one week prior to the starting date of class. Payment may be made by mail or in person at our office. We accept VISA or MasterCard. Please call us at (301) 387-6666, Ext. 169 (301) 245-4133, or outside Maryland (800) 695-4221.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

An out-of-county and out-of-state differential fee will be assessed for those courses marked with an asterisk (*). Maryland Senior Citizens (persons 60 years of age or older) may participate in these courses tuition free but are responsible for materials and/or lab fees that may be assessed.

REFUND POLICY

Refunds will be made in full if you withdraw from a course prior to its first session, provided the course tuition/fees exceed $20, or if the course is cancelled. If you withdraw prior to the second class meeting, you are entitled to a 75% refund, provided the number of classes scheduled is equal to or exceeds five sessions and the course/tuition fees exceed $20. THERE WILL BE NO REFUND AFTER THE SECOND CLASS SESSION. In order to receive a refund a "withdrawal" form must be completed.

CREDIT/NONCREDIT COOPERATIVE OFFERINGS

Courses with titles and course numbers listed in italics are credit courses which are open to students on a noncredit basis. The noncredit student pays the listed tuition as well as out-of-county/out-of-state differential (if applicable), the cost of textbooks (if desired), the cost of materials, and other fees as indicated. Noncredit students are not required to take course examinations or complete other assignments which may be required of credit students. Priority for enrollment will be given to those students who enroll for credit.

CHARGE KEY

Northern Matmen Capture Coca-Cola Tourney; Rams Win Four Divisions

The Northern High School wrestling team amassed 135 points to capture the Western Maryland Coca-Cola Classic wrestling tournament, held Friday and Saturday at Westmar High School in Lonaconing.

The Huskies topped nine other teams, as Buckhannon placed second with 126 points, followed by Liberty and Beall, each with 104 and one-half points, and Southern in fifth place with 101 points. Other teams involved were Allegany, Fort Hill, Frankfort, Westmar, and Berlin.

Allen Bittinger and Scott Beitzel led Northern's effort by winning on pins in the 135-pound and unlimited divisions, respectively. Tirell Burdock (103), Chris Rowe (130), Greg Miller (140), and Todd Burdock (171) all finished in second place for the Huskies.

Winning first place trophies for the Southern Rams were Gary Sweitzer (112), Jason Burgess (119), Pete Strawser (125), and Shane Skipper (140), all by decision. Coach Terry Kendall took only six Rams to the tournament, four of whom placed first, one second, and one third.

Beall's Mickey Clark, who was the 135-pound champion, was named the tourney's most valuable wrestler.

Top Team Scores: Northern 135, Buckhannon 126, Liberty 104½, Beall 104½.

Other Teams: Allegany, Fort Hill, Frankfort, Westmar, Berlin, Southern, Westmar.

Southern Girls Win Chestnut Ridge Tourney

The Southern High School varsity girls warmed up for their own Snowflake Classic by traveling to New Paris, Pa., last Thursday and Friday and winning the Chestnut Ridge Holiday Shootout.

The Rams topped United, Pa., in their opening game, 47-40, Thursday night and then defeated the host team, Chestnut Ridge, in the title contest, 55-43, on Friday.

Southern won the game against United in the fourth quarter, after trailing 17-15 at halftime and being tied at 30-30 after three periods.

Shelli Cannon paced the Rams' second half scoring, when she netted 13 of her team-high 16 points. Michelle Duling finished with 13 points, nine of which she recorded in the second half. Ingrid Carlson contributed eight.

Stump led United with a game-high 19 points.

The Rams led the entire game against Chestnut Ridge on Friday night, holding a 13-7 advantage after one quarter, a 32-16 lead at halftime, and a 45-25 margin after three periods.

Duling sunk a season-high 22 points to pace Southern's offense, while Cannon, Susan Umstot, and Carrie Newcomb each finished with eight.

Harrison and Walter led the host team's scoring with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Coach Don Stemple's Rams had no rest after their victories, as they hosted their own Snowflake Tournament Saturday and Monday evenings (see separate story).

Molson Ski Challenge Set At Wisp Slopes

Molson Breweries U.S.A, along with local sponsors Lohr Distributors, Oakland, and Wisp Resort, will sponsor the Molson Ski Challenge on Saturday, January 11.

The competition is of a unique nature because skiers of all abilities have a virtually equal chance of winning the obstacle course race. The course is set up on an easy slope with obstacles such as flags, bamboo shoots, and a bale of hay. Skiers simply run the course and their times are entered into a random drawing held at the apres ski party following the race.

"The skier with the fastest time on the course is not necessarily the winner of the event," state Bob Lohr. "It could just as easily be a racer with an average or slow time. This is why it's a great event for skiers of all abilities, plus it's a lot of fun."

Three men and three women will receive prizes, with a pair of Elan skis awarded to the first place winners, Carrera ski goggles to the second place finishers, and Seirus gloves to the third place man and woman. All participants will receive prizes and there will be still more prizes awarded by drawings at the apres ski party. Pizza and beverages will be supplied.

The Molson Ski Challenge, now in its seventh season, is held at more than 80 resorts around the country, from December through March.

All entrants must be at least 21 years of age and there is a $5 entry fee. Registration for the event at Wisp will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., with the race slated for 1 p.m.

All proceeds from the event will benefit the racing program at Wisp, according to Lohr.

Westmar Girls Win Tournament; Southern Second

The Westmar Wildcats, led by Most Valuable Player Dawn Sloan, successfully defended their Snowflake Classic crown by defeating the host Southern Rams Monday night in the championship game, 65-51.

Sloan, who is being recruited by a number of Division I universities, scored 34 points on 13 field goals and six of six free throws to lead her team to its fourth straight Snowflake title. It was also the fourth time that Sloan was named the tourney MVP.

The Rams earned a spot in the finals by defeating Fort Hill in an opening round Saturday evening, 47-28, behind a 20-point effort by Michelle Duling, while the Wildcats reached the championship game by defeating Northern, 43-32. Sloan netted 21 points in that contest.

Defense was highlighted in the Southern-Fort Hill game, as the Rams led by only 6-4 at the end of the first quarter and 17-10 at halftime. The third quarter was also all defense and cold shooting, as the Rams scored only five points and the Sentinels just two to make it 22-12 at the end of the period.

Shelli Cannon also reached double figures for Southern with 11 points, and also had four steals and four assists.

Leading Fort Hill in scoring was Kara Goldsworthy with seven points. The loss dropped the Sentinels to 2-4.

The Northern-Westmar contest was also a defensive struggle, but the Husky unit could not contain Sloan, even though they held her below her 27 ppg average.

The Huskies stayed close in the first half, trailing 13-10 at the end of the first quarter and 21-17 at halftime. The Wildcats slowly pulled away in the second half, leading 30-24 after three quarters.

Kara Wachter led Northern's offense with nine points, while Audra Speicher finished with eight. It was the first loss by the Huskies in four games.

In the title game Monday evening, the Rams' effort to control Sloan was totally ineffective, although behind the shooting of Cannon and Duling, Southern stayed within 10 points most of the way. Cannon and Duling each finished with 18 points, with their best efforts recorded in the second quarter when the Rams cut the Wildcats' lead to 33-28 by halftime.

A successful three-quarter-court trap by Westmar in the third period rebuilt the Wildcats' lead to 48-38 by the end of that quarter.

Rebecca Fratz paced the Huskies in the consolation game as she netted 16 points. Northern led 9-5 at the end of the first period, trailed by one at halftime (14-13), and led 24-21 after three quarters.

Sonja Smith led the Sentinels with eight points and Kara Goldsworthy added seven.

Shelly Cannon was named the Most Outstanding Player. Named to the All-Tournament team were Duling of Southern, Julie McGowan of Westmar, Goldsworthy of Fort Hill, and Speicher and Fratz of Northern.

Garrett Sports League To Meet Next Tuesday

The Garrett Sports League will hold an organizational meeting at Dominick's Pizza Restaurant, McHenry, on Tuesday, January 7, at 6:30 p.m.

The League will be reviewing its plans for runs, races, and other events for the 1992 season. The League will also be selecting the winners for the two scholarships going to track or cross country student athletes.

A special invitation to the meeting is being extended by the league to all local coaches and athletic personnel, as well as the general public.

Commissioners

ty Community Action Duane Yoder reported that since local jurisdictions across the state have been cutting back on mass transit systems, largely because of state budget cuts, "this has become an area of concern for us," he said.

Yoder explained that medical transportation is reimbursed by Medicaid -- which is currently experiencing numerous problems -- and that, in Garrett County, 6,000 trips were made during the past year, 90 percent of which were to local health care facilities.

"We also anticipated having problems with transporting medical emergency cases, but we have gotten some small combined grants now," he added.

Sanitary Commission Update

Garrett County Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel stated that "the drought problems from this summer are now behind us, and improvements have been made to the water systems." The latest project in Crellin, the drilling of a new well, is now complete.

Beitzel noted that the Sanitary Commission is also working on a "total rewrite" of the county's master plan for sewer and water. That plan is also 20 years old and in need of revision, according to Beitzel.

He stated that public meetings would be held during January to obtain input on the Sanitary Commission's recommendations for revision.

Southern Rams Fall To Elkins In Snowball Final; Huskies Lose

The Southern High Rams defeated Waynesburg, 91-82, last Thursday night in their own 16th annual Snowball Classic, but were edged by Elkins in the championship game Friday night, 64-60, which also halted the Rams unbeaten streak at six games.

Meanwhile, the Northern Huskies finished fourth in the tourney, losing to Elkins Thursday evening, 66-47, and then falling to Waynesburg in Friday's consolation game, 67-47. The Huskies are now 2-4 on the season.

Brett Rice, who is leading the area in scoring and was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player, led the Rams against Waynesburg, as he hit 13 field goals and all 10 of his free throws for 36 points.

The Rams won the game at the foul line in the fourth quarter, when they converted 14 of 17 attempts. Waynesburg finished with a 32-31 edge in field goals, but Southern made good on 29 of 37 foul shots, while Waynesburg netted 12 of 16.

The Ram held leads at the quarters of 22-15, 40-38, and 61-58 before pulling away in the final quarter, when they out-scored the visitors, 30-24.

Also reaching double figures for Southern were Mike Duling with 17 and Jeremy Bosley with 15.

Dan Baird led Waynesburg with 22 points, with a dozen of them coming on four three-point buckets. Mike Cook, who was ultimately named to the All-Tournament team, was close behind with 20 points and Dave Baily finished with 12.

The loss dropped Waynesburg to 3-5.

Rice also spearheaded the Rams' offense against undefeated Elkins with a 27-point effort, but Elkins maintained about a five-point edge throughout the game. The Rams trailed 20-15 at the end of the first quarter, 36-26 at halftime, and 45-40 after three periods.

Clint Crosston, a 6-7 junior center, paced Elkins with 21 points, 15 of which were recorded in the first half. Brandon Thompson, who came into the game averaging 27 points per game, was held to 17 points by the defensive efforts of Dave Kurtz, Nathan Dixon, and Jeff Spencer. Shane Meade, who was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player, finished with 12 points.

Bosley scored 17 points for the Rams, while Britten Martin grabbed nine rebounds and Dixon was credited with six assists.

The win upped Elkins' record to 4-0 and they are currently among the top 10 teams in West Virginia's Class AAA standings.

Meade paced Elkins over the Northern Huskies the previous evening, as he recorded 22 points. Thompson finished with 17 and Chad Shumaker added 10.

Coach Harv Speicher's Huskies led by six points, 20-14, at the end of the first quarter, and were down by just one at halftime, 30-29. Elkins then surged for 16 points in the third period while holding the Huskies to just five, which gave them a 46-34 advantage. They continued their offensive thrust and a successful zone defense against the Huskies in the fourth quarter.

Dave Hinebaugh was the top scorer for the Huskies with 17 points, Brian Kamp had 12, and Jon Houser, who was named to the All-Tournament team, added eight points.

Against Waynesburg, the Huskies were again very much in the game until the fourth period when Grant Burdeau erupted for 14 fourth-quarter points to give Waynesburg the 20-point victory. Northern was down 20-15 at the end of the first quarter, cut the deficit to just one point by halftime, 29-28, and trailed by only three points after three periods, 45-42.

Also reaching double figures for Waynesburg was Mike Cook with 10 points.

Houser paced the Huskies and all scorers with 18 points and Rob Speicher contributed 10.

Named to the All-Tournament team were Thompson and Crosston of Elkins; Bosley of Southern, Houser of Northern, and Cook of Waynesburg.

Although the Huskies and Rams did not meet in the tournament, they will face each other this Friday evening in Oakland.

Penicillin Allergy: The Bad and Good News

The bad news about penicillin allergy is that it can be life threatening. In a person with an allergy to penicillin, a single dose of the antibiotic can produce anaphylactic shock. This is a severe reaction which may involve itching, hives, breathing problems, and collapse of the circulatory system. Without immediate medical intervention, death may result. Because of the severity of penicillin reactions in some individuals, few physicians use this antibiotic in persons with a history of penicillin allergy.

There is some good news about penicillin allergy. According to a recent study published in British Medical Journal, only a small percentage of people with a reported history of penicillin allergy are clinically at risk of having a serious reaction. One hundred thirty-two persons with a history of penicillin allergy were referred to and evaluated by physicians in an outpatient allergy clinic. All were tested for the presence of penicillin antibodies. Only 4 persons out of the entire group had penicillin-specific antibodies in the blood. The remaining 128 persons were given oral penicillin with no ill effects.

Researchers suggested that people who think they are allergic to penicillin may need to be tested for the presence of penicillin antibodies. If test results are negative, this is conclusive that they are not allergic to penicillin.

What a success! Last year over 75 ladies can be very proud of their participation in the new Body Basics excercise program. The workout was just what they needed to get them started into excercise. Sharing fitness tips on subjects like fat burning, stress reduction, diet and many other health and fitness topics gave them increased knowledge and renewed motivation.

Body Basics is more than a workout, it's FUN GROUP SUPPORTIVE, and EDUCATIONAL. If you have never tried a class at Brenda's Body Shop or have not attended a class for several months, Body Basics is the class will change your mind about excercise. Summer is just a few months away so what better time to begin toning muscles and losing extra body fat. The movements in Body Basics are so easy to adapt that it's a perfect workout no matter what age, shape or size you might be.

Woman Dies

filed by Tpr. G.S. Becker of the Maryland State Police.

TWO TREATED

A Friendsville mother and son were slightly injured last Thursday, December 26, when the 1990 Ford LTD in which they were traveling left the roadway and struck a culvert.

Joyce L. Calhoun, 38, and Michael J. Calhoun, 13, were both reportedly treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital after being transported there by the Southern Rescue Squad.

Tpr. J.T. Bentlejewski investigated the 2:10 p.m. mishap and charged Ms. Calhoun with changing lanes when unsafe to do so.

STRIKES ROCK

An Oakland youth was treated and released from the local hospital Sunday morning after the 1979 Ford F-250 pickup he was operating struck a large rock on Md Rt. 39.

Roger R. Reckart, 16, was transported to the hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad following the 10:25 a.m. mishap.

Tfc. P.R. Brown investigated for state police and said the accident occurred when Reckart failed to negotiate a right turn, crossed over the center line, ran off the left side of the road and struck a large rock. The driver stated that the steering locked up.

CAR OVERTURNS

A Grantville, Pa., woman was treated and released from the local hospital Saturday following a mishap in which the 1990 Toyota she was operating south on the Sand Flat Road overturned.

Annabelle D. Perando, 56, was slightly injured in the mishap in which she attempted to negotiate a right curve, lost control of the vehicle, causing it to overturn and come to rest in a ditch.

Tfc. P R. Brown investigated the 9 a.m. mishap and stated that Perando was taken to the hospital by private vehicle.

CHARGED WITH DWI

An Elkton, Va., man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs by the state police following a 2:30 p.m. accident on Saturday.

Lawrence L. Frazier, 38, was also charged with negligent driving and driving on the wrong side of the road by Tpr. G.S. Becker. Reports indicated that he was taken to the local hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad where he was treated and released for minor injuries.

Police said the accident occurred when the 1975 Chevrolet Caprice he was operating on U.S. Route 50 near the West Virginia line crossed the center line and struck an embankment on the left side of the roadway.

MORE DWI ARRESTS

Three additional arrests for DWI were also logged by the state police this past week.

Dennis J, Thorp, 33, Accident, was arrested on Christmas Day and charged with DWI by Tpr. G.S. Becker.

David R. Conners, 27, no address given by state police, was charged with DWI by Tpr. J.T. Bentlejewski on December 26.

Christopher J. Hughes, 24, Churchill, Pa., was charged by Becker on Sunday with DWI.

Governor Appoints Steven I. Feldman To MHI Commission

Governor William Donald Schaefer recently filled a vacancy on the Maryland Home Improvement Commission with the appointment of Steven I. Feldman.

Feldman is president and CEO of American Mechanical Systems, Inc., which is a plumbing, heating, and air conditioning business. With headquarters in Baltimore, the firm has offices in Oxon Hill and Richmond, Va. Plumbing is the primary business of the firm and it operates as a contractor for Sears as its authorized plumber.

The MHI Commission is charged with the regulation of the home improvement industry in the state of Maryland. It is composed of three industry representatives, three consumer representatives, and one representative from the banking industry.

Feldman brings to the Commission over 20 years in home improvement industry experience. The Governor stated, "Feldman will be a great asset to the commission."

The appointee is married to the former Linda Nally, who is the daughter of Faye Nally, Oakland. The Feldmans are the parents of three sons, Tim, Sam, and Jerry.

SWANTON

Entertaining with ease

Casual get-togethers are ideal for fall and winter entertaining. Lively conversation combined with satisfying, delicious food are the main ingredients for a successful and memorable evening.

While informal entertaining implies minimal fuss and effort on food preparation and service, it doesn't mean sacrificing great-tasting food that's attractively presented. Select an array of creative dishes that can be quickly and easily made ahead of time. That way, hosts can relax and enjoy their own party while still receiving a multitude of compliments on the meal.

When planning the menu, keep in mind that variety is the key to an exciting meal. With over 200 varieties, types and styles of premium quality Wisconsin cheese available, countless recipe possibilities abound. Gouda & Beer Spread, a party favorite, is an appealing blend of nutty Wisconsin Gouda cheese with beer. Served in a "bowl" that's hollowed out of the waxed Gouda, the easy-to-make spread offers a unique appearance and pleasing taste that's perfect for the munchers in the bunch. Cheese is the original convenience food, and the impressive-looking Wisconsin Brie 'n Fruit Pie gives no clue that it's a snap to prepare.

Party menus receive a great flavor boost with the garden fresh flavor of Ortega® Thick and Chunky Salsa. Made from premium fresh ingredients, including fire-roasted green chiles, the salsa adds zest and spice to recipes such as Mexican Meatballs and Pam's Party Drumsticks. It's also great as a dip with tortilla chips.

As a recipe ingredient or decorative and tasty garnish, California ripe olives are the ideal choice for the casual food buffet. The mellow, rich taste of California ripe olives enhances the flavor of the Hearty Taco Slices sandwich filling. Olive Pizzettas is a snappy twist to pizza—flour tortillas, Ortega Thick and Chunky Salsa, Wisconsin Monterey Jack cheese and California ripe olives. What could be easier?

Whether your next gathering is to celebrate the season, cheer on your favorite football team, or an impromptu get together with friends to watch the latest video, make it easy on yourself—make it casual!

Select an array of creative dishes that can be quickly and easily made ahead of time.

Gouda & Beer Spread

Makes about 4 cups spread

1 (2-pound) Wisconsin Gouda or Edam cheese
¾ cup butter, cubed and softened
2 tablespoons snipped fresh chives
2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
½ cup amber or dark beer, at room temperature
Cocktail rye or pumpernickel bread slices

Cut ⅓th off the top of the cheese to create a flat surface. With a butter curler or melon baller, remove the cheese from the center of the ball leaving a ½-inch thick shell. Shred enough of the cheese removed from the ball and the top to measure 4 cups. Reserve remaining cheese for another use.

In large bowl, place shredded cheese, butter, chives and mustard; mix with a spoon until blended. Stir in beer until blended. Spoon spread into hollowed cheese ball; reserve remaining spread for refill. Chill until serving time. Serve as a spread with cocktail bread.

Mexican Meatballs

Makes 6 servings

1 pound lean ground beef
1 (4-ounce) can Ortega Diced Green Chiles
¼ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg
1 (16-ounce) jar Ortega Mild, Medium or Hot Thick and Chunky Salsa
¼ cup chopped California ripe olives
¼ cup (1 ounce) shredded Wisconsin Monterey Jack cheese

In medium bowl, thoroughly combine ground beef, chiles, onion, garlic, bread crumbs and egg. Shape into 36 (1-inch) meatballs. In large nonstick skillet, over medium-high heat, brown the meatballs in batches.

In large saucepan, Over medium heat, heat salsa and olives to a boil. Gently stir in meatballs; reduce heat and cover. Simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.* Spoon into serving dish; sprinkle with cheese. Serve immediately.

*Meatballs may be covered and chilled until serving time. Reheat to serving temperature; sprinkle with cheese and serve.

Hearty Taco Slices

Makes 8 servings

1 cup Ortega Refried Beans
1 cup Ortega Mild, Medium or Hot Thick and Chunky Salsa
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded Wisconsin Cheddar cheese
¼ cup sliced, pitted California ripe olives
1 (16 to 18-inch) loaf Italian bread
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon chili powder
1½ cups shredded lettuce
8 pitted California ripe olives, for garnish

In medium bowl, combine refried beans, ¼ cup salsa, ½ cup cheese and olives; set aside.

Slice loaf in half horizontally; remove soft insides leaving a 1-inch-thick shell. (Make bread crumbs from insides; freeze for another use.) Spread bean mixture over bottom half of loaf; set aside.

In nonstick skillet, over medium-high heat, brown ground beef; drain. Stir in chili powder; cook and stir 1 minute. Add remaining salsa; heat to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Spread beef mixture over beans; top with remaining cheese and top of loaf. Wrap loaf in foil. If desired, chill until serving time. To serve, place foil-wrapped loaf on baking sheet. Bake at 350°F for 20 minutes or until heated through. Unwrap loaf. Lift top of loaf and sprinkle filling with lettuce. Using decorative toothpicks, spear olives and insert each through top to bottom of loaf at evenly spaced intervals. Slice and serve immediately.

Wisconsin Brie 'n Fruit Pie

Makes 8 servings

1 (14-ounce) whole Wisconsin Brie cheese
1 (9-inch) unbaked pie crust
1 (21-ounce) can fruit pie filling (apple, cherry, peach or blueberry)

Place Brie in center of pie crust. Spoon pie filling over and around Brie. Bake at 400°F for 30 to 35 minutes or until cheese softens and fruit is bubbly. Let stand at least 1 hour at room temperature to set. Serve warm. Refrigerate leftovers.

Pam's Party Drumsticks

Makes 6 servings

¼ cup Ortega Mild, Medium or Hot Thick and Chunky Salsa
⅓ cup honey
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup Dijon mustard
2 pounds chicken drumsticks

Blend salsa, honey, soy sauce and mustard. In nonmetal dish, pour salsa mixture over chicken. Cover; chill at least 2 hours or overnight.

Line 15 x 10 x 1-inch pan with foil; arrange chicken in pan in single layer. Pour salsa mixture over chicken. Bake at 400°F for 45 minutes or until done, basting after 20 minutes. Serve warm or cold with sauce for dipping.

Olive Pizzettas

Makes 16 appetizers

4 (8-inch) flour tortillas
1 cup Ortega Mild, Medium or Hot Thick and Chunky Salsa
1 teaspoon dried basil leaves
1 teaspoon dried oregano leaves
2 cups (8 ounces) shredded Wisconsin Cheddar cheese
½ cup sliced, pitted California ripe olives
½ cup sliced pepperoni
⅓ cup chopped green pepper

Place tortillas directly on oven rack and bake at 425°F for 2 to 3 minutes or until toasted. In small bowl, blend salsa, basil and oregano; spread ¼ cup salsa mixture over each toasted tortilla. Top with cheese, olives, pepperoni and pepper. Place on baking sheet. Bake for 5 to 7 minutes more or until hot and bubbly. Cut into quarters; serve immediately.

Each new day, we must choose
To live God's way, or we may lose
Ourselves in confusion, doubt, and fear
In the coming days of this New Year.
For God assures us; never doubt;
There is nothing we shall do without.
When we look to Him, God lights our way
Through every hour of each new day.
Then, let us start this year anew
With faith and hope and more strength too;
As we worship God with heart and mind,
And pray for the soul of all mankind.

Let us rejoice as we walk with God through each new day of the coming year; and praise Him as He gives us the gift of a fresh beginning. God promises us in Revelation 21: 5, "Behold, I make all things new." May your New Year be happier with each new day.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

NEARER THAN YOUR LOCAL CHURCH

January 5, 1992

Background Scripture:
Psalms 84
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 90

I have always regarded the 84th Psalm as a hymn of joy composed by someone who is either making the pilgrimage to Zion, or has just completed one. I was surprised, therefore, to find that Biblical scholar Samuel Terrien in his The Psalms and Their Meaning for Today (Bobbs Merrill, 1952), regards the Psalmist as someone in exile who, out of his "religious homesickness," is expressing a deep sense of melancholy at his distance from God's Temple.

There may be plaintiveness in his realization that "Even the sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young at thy altars..." (84:3). Is this what Jesus meant when he said, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head" (Matthew 8:20). So, perhaps it is with spiritual envy that the Psalmist exclaims, "Blessed are those who dwell in thy house, ever singing thy praise!" and he is saying, in a sense, "Oh that I were there too!" If that is so, I can better understand his lament, "My soul longs, yea faints..." (84:2).

NO EDIFICE COMPLEX

I had always also assumed that the Psalmist is rhapsodizing over the Temple itself: "How lovely is thy dwelling place..!" But Prof. Terrien tells us that it is not God's Temple that is the object of the Psalmist's longing, but the God who is experienced in that Temple. Wonderful as God's "dwelling place" may be, no matter how much we may long for "the courts of the Lord," it is not the building or even the place that is paramount, but God himself: "my heart and flesh sing for joy to the living God," not his Temple.

The Psalmist remembers not only the glory of being in God's Temple, but also the wonderful expierence of making the pilgrimage to get there. He remembers that even in the midst of the desert wastelands, God gave him and others the strength to go on: "Blessed are the men whose strength is in thee ...They go from strength to strength" (84:5-7). No matter how difficult the way, he found that his faith in God brought him the daily strength he needed to finish the pilgrimage. Sometimes Baca is associated with bekeh, "tears," so that this is possibly an allusion to God turning the "tears" in his barren place to the "springs" and "pools" of a landscape that figuratively blooms.

AS IN HIS PRESENCE

Then the Psalmist makes a discovery: seperation from the temple cannot keep him from God's presence. "Blessed are the men...in whose heart are the highways to Zion" (84:5). Blessed is the man who trusts in thee!" (84:12). God can live in our hearts as well as in our temples and it is in our trust that we are able to know his presence, as Emerson put it, "closer than breathing, and nearer than hands and feet."

At this point, the mystic becomes a moralist: "No good thing does the Lord withhold from those who walk uprightly" (84:11). To "walk uprightly" is a Hebrew phrase which Terrian says means "to behave as if in the continuous of God, without any attempt at concealment ..." If, because we are in the continuous presence of God, that presence means not only his everpresent help, but his everpresent expectation for us to live unashamed in his sight.

No matter how near your church is, God is always nearer. And all of us can join St. Augustine in saying, "I sought thee at a distance, and did not know thou wast near."

COVER STORY

It's been 11 years, but Somers is fine, thanks

BY LYNN HOOGENBOOM

Suzanne Somers shot to TV stardom in 1977 on "Three's Company." Then, after five years as the highest profile star on one of TV's most popular shows, she lost her job in a 1981 contract dispute. Now, in "Step by Step," an ABC Friday-night comedy about a blended family, she's finally back on network TV. But what took so long?

Suzanne Somers

"Well, I really couldn't get a job in television," she explains. "When I left 'Three's Company' with that contract dispute, it got so blown out of proportion that none of the three networks would touch me. I realized what was happening, so I completely left television, and I went off and just pursued my nightclub career and made that real successful."

She did do occasional television. "I did four Suzanne Somers specials, and I did a miniseries, 'Hollywood Wives,' " she says. "But anytime I would do a pilot, even if it was a good pilot, there was all this fear about was I going to be trouble."

It's a reputation she feels she never deserved. "My contract was up, and I renegotiated," she says. "They didn't like what I asked for, but that's what negotiation is. They never countered. I was just out. What I learned later on was that they wanted to make an example of somebody who was real big in television."

Looking back, though, she doesn't feel it was the worst thing that ever happened to her. She points out that it led to a successful nightclub career and to "Keeping Secrets," her autobiography about growing up with an alcoholic parent.

"I don't know if I ever would have scrambled this hard had I been able to smugly stay put in a network, prime-time, hit series," she says. "So I'm glad it happened. But there were some hard times there."

She claims that she knew right away that "Step by Step" was going to break her 11-year network jinx. "I walked on to the set, and I could smell it," she says. "It was the same way I felt when I walked on the 'Three's Company' set."

The biggest surprise so far has come from her co-star. "I didn't expect Patrick Duffy to be funny," she says, then laughs. "I know it's strange that I would go into a comedy not expecting that. But I figured, 'Well, I'll carry it.' But he understands the comedy beats. Few people do, you know. You either hear that rhythm or you don't."

"Step by Step," while not an out-and-out hit, is looking like one of this season's more successful new series. "I'm really happy that the show's doing well," says Somers. "But I was real happy before the show too, and that's one of the things I learned in the last 11 years not being on television."

Patrick Duffy and Suzanne Somers star as the newlywed parents of a blended family in "Step by Step." The comedy series airs Fridays on ABC.

SOAP SCOOP

Punching in, punching out, and one punch-up

BY CONNIE PASSALACQUA

Get ready for the busiest news week of the soap year! There are so many big-name actors coming and going from their respective soaps that you can almost get whiplash keeping track:

• Hard on the news that Tristan Rogers (who plays Robert Scorpio) is leaving "General Hospital" next month comes word that his present leading lady, Finola Hughes (who plays Anna Devane Scorpio) is leaving as well, for a role on a limited-order nighttime series, "Saturdays."

Finola Hughes

But arriving on Jan. 22, a month before Rogers leaves, is the once wildly popular Emma Samms (who played Holly Scorpio, Robert's former wife who disappeared, a.k.a. "died," in a 1985 air crash). Samms, of course, left "GH" to take the role of Fallon on "Dynasty" (and later, "The Colbys").

• Astounding news from "The Bold and the Beautiful" is another temporary addition – double Daytime Emmy Award-winner Dorothy Lyman arrived Dec. 20 as Bonnie Roberts. Lyman, of course, created the role of kinetic Opal Cortlandt (now played by Jill Larson) on "All My Children."

• In another surprise move, NBC will air an episode of "Days of Our Lives" in prime time on Jan. 10, the same night as the usually very entertaining Soap Opera Digest Awards.

A dangerous storm will strike Salem, spotlighting the positions and personalities of the town's leading couples. The one-hour "mini-movie" is being called "Days of Our Lives: One Stormy Night."

• One morning last month, rumors made the soap-magazine rounds that "The Young and the Restless" ' Eric Braeden (who plays Victor Newman) and Daytime Emmy winner Peter Bergman (who plays Jack Abbott) had a knock-down, drag-out fistfight at the studio. By that evening, news of the incident made the national TV news!

"Y&R" 's public-relations people issued a stiff "no comment" on the affair. But rumors are that Bergman (a nice guy most beloved backstage throughout his soap career) couldn't deal with Braeden (who has proven himself to be combative in the past) perpetually having to have the last word on every scene, and Bergman finally said so publicly. The fight supposedly didn't break out until the day after the original disagreement. Both actors were said to have suffered facial cuts.

Finally, there's some really great gossip having absolutely nothing to do with who is coming or going on soaps!

THIS WEEK

Pernell Roberts

SCHEDULE Shuffling: ABC has shaken up its Monday and Thursday prime-time schedules. Effective Jan. 6, "FBI: The Untold Stories," the true-crime series hosted by Pernell Roberts, moves to Mondays, to be followed by "American Detective." Movies will round out the night. Beginning Jan. 9, ABC will fill its Thursday nights with reruns of "Columbo" movies, starring Peter Falk, and "PrimeTime Live." • "Learning in America: Education on Trial" premieres Monday, Jan. 6, on PBS. (Check local listings.) The three-part courtroom-style series quizzes educators and experts on the future of American education. • Cable's USA Network premieres "Drive Like Lightning," an original action-adventure movie starring Steven Bauer and William Russ, both of "Wiseguy," on Wednesday, Jan. 8. • NBC spotlights "Daytime in Prime Time" on Friday night, Jan. 10. The network will air "Days of Our Lives: One Stormy Night," a special one-hour edition of the daytime drama, which will be followed by the network's live telecast of the Soap Opera Digest Awards. • From Jan. 11-Feb. 1, CBS will air episodes of "All in the Family" immediately following the network's Saturday-night movies.

IN FOCUS

The ancient Romans, who thrilled to their appearance in the Eternal City, called them "horse tigers"; we know them as zebras, but are every bit as enthralled by the striped animals' surreal cast. "Horse Tigers," airing Sunday, Jan. 5, on PBS's "Nature" (check local listings), examines the zebras' migratory existence on the plains of East Africa and in the process offers a surprising explanation for how their unique camouflaging works.

MOVIES ON TV

De Niro, Drago shine in 'The Untouchables'

BY FELICIA A. FEASTER

Brian DePalma's update of the 1959-63 TV series "The Untouchables" (CBS, Jan. 11) features Kevin Costner, Sean Connery, Andy Garcia and Charles Martin Smith as a quartet of Chicago Prohibition-era do-gooders enforcing sobriety and intent on capturing mob bad boy and income tax evader Al Capone. Connery won an Oscar for his role as a salty ex-beat-walking Irish cop who teams up with Federal Treasury agent nice-guy-with-a-gun Eliot Ness (Costner). The film's greatest flaw is Costner, whose average-guy rendition of Ness is all too average, allowing him to be upstaged by Robert De Niro as Capone, Connery and, in particular, Billy Drago, who plays Capone's favorite hit man, Frank Nitti. Nevertheless, DePalma sustains an upward momentum throughout the film and creates a great deal of suspense, thanks in part to the skillful musical score of Ennio Morricone and screenplay by David Mamet.

Drago & De Niro

• Dick Van Dyke portrays Dr. Mark Sloan (who first appeared as a character on "Jake and the Fatman"), a fun-loving physician and amateur sleuth who stumbles across a mystery when his patient is suspected of murder in "Diagnosis of Murder" (CBS, Jan. 5).

• "Survive the Savage Sea" (ABC, Jan. 6), with its alliterative, hokey title, may be a child's perfect "I told you so" to tyrannical parents with badly hatched and irresponsible vacation plans. Robert Urich and Ali MacGraw star as Jack and Claire Carpenter, a couple who decide to embark on a lifelong dream to sail around the world after yanking their kids out of school, selling their house and flying to Australia to pick up the 50-foot schooner that will take them to the Cook Islands. A school of whales sink the boat, proving how precarious the elder Carpenters' plan was. The Carpenters, their three sons and an Australian deckhand are set adrift for 38 days in a lifeboat. The true story, narrated by Jack Carpenter from the ship's log – and read in the flattest monotone possible – moves from the Carpenters' travails as they scramble for rainwater and battle sharks, to their daughter Susan in Australia, who becomes increasingly concerned about their safety.

• Marshal Matt Dillon (James Arness) returns in "Gunsmoke: To the Last Man" (CBS, Jan. 10) as he tracks a gang of no-good cattle thieves while his ranch hand (Matt Mulhern) and daughter (Amy Stock-Poynton) lag behind. It's well done, as TV Westerns go.

TV DIALOGUE

BY TONI REINHOLD

COLORFUL RED – Is Red Buttons still alive? If so, how old is he? – S.D., Oshkosh, Wis.

Red Buttons

Buttons was born Feb. 5, 1919, and, at the age of 72, is still performing. He recently toured with comedians Milton Berle and Henny Youngman in a stage show called "A Night of a Thousand Howls."

Legend has it that Buttons, whose given name is Aaron Chwatt, took his stage name from a uniform he wore when he was 16, working as a bellboy and singer at a tavern in the Bronx, N.Y. Before those days, he stood on street corners in Manhattan performing for pennies. Eventually, he worked his way to the burlesque circuit and in 1941 made his Broadway debut.

Buttons has had a distinguished film career, winning a Best Supporting Actor Academy Award for his performance in 1957's "Sayonara." On television, he hosted "The Red Buttons Show," a variety series that ran from 1952-55, and played the title role in the 1966 comedy series "The Double Life of Henry Phyfe."

In recent years, Buttons has performed mostly on stage in such locales as Las Vegas, Nev.; Atlantic City, N.J.; and Lake Tahoe, Nev.

KIRK AT WORK – How old is Kirk Cameron? What TV shows did he appear in, if any, before "Growing Pains"? – T.H., New Iberia, La.

Cameron is 21. Before taking on the role of Mike Seaver in "Growing Pains" in 1985, he was in the cast of the 1983-84 dramatic series "Two Marriages." Last summer, Cameron married 26-year-old actress Chelsea Noble, whom he met on the set of "Growing Pains" two years ago when she began her role as Kate on that series. They recently starred in the NBC movie "A Little Piece of Heaven."

DAVID THE GOLIATH – My husband and I can't agree on how long David Susskind was on TV. I say that it was at least 10 seasons, but he says it wasn't that long. Also, is Susskind still alive? – P.L., Bangor, Maine

"The David Susskind Show" aired in syndication for 29 years, from 1958 until the talk-show host died in 1987 at the age of 66. Susskind was also a famous producer who won Emmy Awards for "The Ages of Man" (1966), "Death of a Salesman" (1967), "Eleanor and Franklin" (1976) and "Eleanor and Franklin: The White House Years" (1977).

SPORTS CALENDAR

Big Monday intensifies ESPN's hoops coverage

BY CHRISTOPHER HULL

On ESPN this college basketball season, Mondays are big, big, big. As in Big East, Big Eight and Big West.

This week, the cable network begins its expanded schedule of conference doubleheader and tripleheader nights. This season, for the first time, Monday night – in addition to Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights – will be filled with basketballs. Along with its Saturday-afternoon games, ESPN will be airing at least 11 games a week through March. And each night, you can catch the latest results on "SportsCenter," with Chris Berman.

Big Monday tips things off on Jan. 6 with a Big East matchup between Georgetown and Providence, a Big Eight contest between Kansas State and Oklahoma State, and a Big West game between New Mexico and New Mexico State. The tripleheaders will continue every Monday night through March 2.

Tuesday nights feature Big Ten and Southeastern Conference doubleheader action. On Jan. 7, Michigan State and Ohio State play in the Big Ten, and Georgia and Kentucky meet in the SEC.

Wednesdays, the Big East and the Atlantic Coast Conference are at center stage. On Jan. 8, Wake Forest visits Virginia in the ACC, and Boston College takes on Villanova in the Big East.

Thursday nights through the college hoops season, teams from a variety of conferences play. On Jan. 9, Big Ten rivals Michigan and Iowa play, and Southwest Conference foes Houston and Texas hook up.

Saturday afternoons, the situation is much the same as it is on Thursday nights, with a variety of intra- and interconference games scheduled. Normally, ESPN will air more than one game each Saturday, but with it carrying the Japan Bowl all-star college football game from Yokohama, Japan, on Jan. 11, there is only one: Mid-Continent Conference member Northern Illinois travels downstate to take on Southern Illinois of the Missouri Valley Conference.

Hoops junkies already know that ESPN's college basketball coverage actually began with the Hall of Fame Tip-Off Classic on Nov. 14. In all, ESPN has 171 games scheduled for the 1991-92 season – including a President's Day Special on Feb. 17 between James Madison and George Washington. They do have fun.

• The NFL playoffs move one step closer to their climax with AFC and NFC divisional playoff games Sunday, Jan. 5, on NBC and CBS.

In 1957, Americans rushed home to see if Charles Van Doren (pictured), could answer his questions on the quiz show "Twenty-One." The following year, they were sickened when it was revealed that Van Doren and other contestants had been briefed on everything – from the answers to the questions to when to wipe their brows. "The Quiz Show Scandal" airs Monday, Jan. 6, on PBS's "The American Experience." (Check local listings.)

IN FOCUS

Milwaukee has been hailed as a manufacturing town that has made an enviable adjustment to new economic conditions. But in "Minimum Wages," Bill Moyers (pictured) discovers that the adjustment carries a heavy price. Instead of earning $12 to $20 an hour, many displaced workers now earn little more than minimum wage. The sobering Moyers special airs Wednesday, Jan. 8, on PBS. (Check local listings.)

Over 1.9 Million State Tax Packets In The Mail; Goldstein Notes Changes

Increased filing levels, greater use of the tax tables, higher benefits for senior citizens and a last chance benefit for taxpayers who received capital gains last year are some of the changes that will help Maryland state income taxpayers this year, Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced at a joint IRS-state news conference in Baltimore on December 30.

The comptroller also said his office will be making even more joint taxpayer service appearances with I.R.S. personnel at major shopping malls and federal and state offices during the upcoming filing season.

* Increased filing levels will allow taxpayers to earn more before they're required to file. For example, single taxpayers under 65 do not have to file a Maryland return unless they earned $5,550 or more last year. The minimum filing level for taxpayers over 65 filing a join return is $11,300.

* The expanded tax tables in the Maryland tax packet will also help many folks who traditionally had to calculate their state tax manually because of higher incomes. Persons with taxable incomes of up to $100,000 can now use the convenient tax tables.

* Maryland's maximum pension exclusion has also been increased to $11,800 for 1991. The exclusion applies to taxable pensions. Social Security and Railroad Retirement benefits are not taxable in Maryland.

* Maryland's personal exemption continues to be $1,200, while taxpayers 65 or older - or blind - are eligible for the regular $1,200 personal exemption plus an extra exemption of $1,000.

Taxpayers should be careful when they are filling out the exemptions area of the Maryland form and can avoid a common error from the last filing season by remembering to enter their total exemption amount on line 58 of the short or long form.

* Taxpayers who received capital gains during 1991 should know that Maryland's tax break for capital gains has been reduced for tax year 1991 and eliminated for tax years after 1991. Maryland taxpayers can subtract up to 30% of their net capital gain income on their 1991 state returns, instead of the 40% previously allowed.

The maximum amount that can be subtracted is limited to $7,500 for an individual and $15,000 for a married couple filing a joint return. The subtraction must also be reduced by one-half of the amount of which the taxpayers' ordinary federal income exceeds $50,000 for individuals or $100,000 for married couples filing a joint return.

Taxpayers who wish to take advantage of this benefit must file Form 502 and 502CG. Maryland Tax Tip #11 - "Capital Gains and Your Maryland Return" - explains the procedure step by step and is available free at any Maryland income tax office.

* Form 123 allows approximately 200,000 single or dependent taxpayers to claim a refund of taxes withheld by their employers even though their gross income is less than the amount required to file - $5,550 for 1991. This easy-to-use form has only five lines to fill out and avoids delays in processing these refunds.

* Certain taxpayers whose earned income and federal adjusted gross income are less than the increased poverty level guidelines may claim a special poverty level tax break on their Maryland return. The poverty level income worksheet in Instruction 13 of the state tax packet helps taxpayers determine if they qualify for this benefit.

* Taxpayers who qualify for the federal earned income credit on their federal return may qualify for an earned income credit on their Maryland return. The Maryland benefit is one-half of the federal earned income credit.

* Military taxpayers who served in Operation Desert Storm and other overseas locations during 1991 can claim special breaks on their Maryland returns.

All combat zone pay for enlisted and warrant grade personnel - and up to $500 per month of combat zone pay for commissioned officers is exempt from Maryland income tax.

In addition, up to $15,000 of military pay, not already excluded as combat pay, which a member of the armed forces received while serving on active duty outside the United States is exempt from Maryland state and local income taxes.

The amount of the exclusion declines relative to the total military pay (both U.S. and overseas duty combined) between $15,000 and $30,000. A worksheet in the Maryland income tax packet will help taxpayers compute the amount of tax break for which they are eligible.

* Electronic filing of Maryland income tax returns is being offered again this year. Tax preparers must be approved to participate in the I.R.S. electronic filing program before they are admitted to the state's program.

* The contribution feature for the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund will appear on the 1991 return again, following three years during which taxpayers have donated more than $3 million. Last year, more than 92,000 taxpayers donated over $1,092,000.

Goldstein reminded taxpayers that all 18 Maryland income tax offices will offer free state tax assistance Monday through Friday, until the filing deadline, April 15, 1992. The hours of assistance are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Extra hours of assistance will also be offered on all state holidays and certain weekends during the filing season. The addresses and telephone numbers of all 18 Maryland income tax offices are listed on the back of the state tax packet and in most local telephone directories. The statewide toll-free number for free state income tax assistance is 1-800-MD TAXES. (1-800-638-2937).

C&P FULFILLS $10,000 PLEDGE -- The C&P Telephone Company recently fulfilled its $10,000 pledge to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation's Capital Campaign. On hand for the check presentation were (left to right) Carl Fike, Foundation treasurer; Nancy Nemith, customer relations manager for C&P; and Terry Weaver, vice president of financial services at GCMH. "Campaign pledges, which were payable over a 3-5 year period, are currently entering their fourth year. With the success of the Campaign, the Foundation has been able to purchase equipment totalling over a quarter of a million dollars," stated William B. Grant, chairman of the Foundation. "The Foundation is currently working towards its long range goal of establishing an endowment that will assure the hospital's future ability to stay abreast of the rapidly advancing technology of medical care. This technology is vital to maintaining quality health care in Garrett County," concluded Grant. Additional information on the Foundation can be obtained by calling (301) 334-2155.

Family Council Slates Meeting On January 8

The Garrett County Children and Family Council will hold its next meeting Wednesday, January 8, at 3 p.m. in the board room of the Garrett County Board of Education building.

According to a Council spokesman, the focus of this meeting is to begin evaluating services available in both the public and private sector in Garrett County for children, youth, and families. This information will then be used to enhance or develop needed services for the children and families of the community. In an effort to become more knowledgeable about what the youth in Garrett County need or want, student representatives have been invited from Northern High School, Southern High School, and Garrett Community College to become active members of the council.

"All members of the community are encouraged to attend and participate in the council. The input of everyone in the community is necessary to help make aware the needs of children and families in Garrett County," the spokesman said.

On Dean's List

The dean's list for the fall term at Bridgewater College has been announced by Dr. Carl H. Caldwell, dean for academic affairs, and includes one Garrett County student.

Michael Gene Stauffer, a freshman majoring in physics and mathematics, son of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Stauffer, Mtn. Lake Park, was among those on the list.

Students on the dean's list have attained a 3.2 or better quality point average of a possible 4.0, and are included in The National Dean's List, a publication citing academic achievement of college students nationwide.

Buckwheat Cake/ Sausage Dinner Set In Swanton

A buckwheat cakes and sausage dinner will be held Saturday, January 11, beginning at 4 p.m. at the Swanton Community Center.

The cost of the meal is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children. Proceeds will benefit the center.

Share And Care Project Begun By St. Paul's

Members of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, have begun a "Share and Care" project in an effort to assist persons in the community in various capacities.

The church members have volunteered to drive persons to appointments or for shopping, banking, or any other task. The volunteers will also repair small appliances and make home repairs, including some electrical and plumbing work. The members may be called upon by persons who simply need company as well.

Any resident of the area may contact the church for help; they need not be members of St. Paul's.

To receive the volunteer assistance, persons may contact Jay and Maryann Cross at 387-7526 or Tom and Betty Moran at 387-5881.

Planning Office Releases Report On Land Use

Exceeding all projections, the total developed area of Maryland grew by 145,000 acres since 1985, according to a recently released report by the Maryland Office of Planning. This growth edges the amount of land developed up to 15 percent of the area of the State.

The report, entitled "Maryland Land 1973-1990: A Changing Resource," is the most recent part of a process to track land use change in the State begun in 1973. Three times since then the Maryland Office of Planning has examined aerial photographs of the counties and used a computerized geographic information system to analyze the data.

"What we have is a very accurate accounting of how the land in the State is changing. We know of no better source of statewide information," said Ronald M. Kreitner, director of the Maryland Office of Planning. "Anyone who cares about the environment and economy of the State ought to be interested in this report," he added.

Across the State, low density residential development, defined as lots larger than .5 acres but smaller than 5 acres, is increasing faster than any other land use. Low density residential development increased 37 percent since 1985, an area nearly two times the size of Baltimore developed almost entirely at the expense of forest and farmland. Acreage of forest has fallen in every county except one.

"Maryland's Land 1973-1990" is available from the Maryland Office of Planning at (410) 225-4500.

Federal Tax Booklets In The Mail; IRS Notes Variety Of Changes

More than 2.6 million federal tax booklets have begun arriving in mailboxes throughout Maryland.

The Internal Revenue Service says taxpayers should not be surprised if they receive a different form than the one they filed last year. The IRS sends the tax form that is easiest and best fits the taxpayer's needs based on the return filed in the previous year. So, a taxpayer who filed a Form 1040 last year but could have used the shorter Form 1040A will receive that package in the mail.

At a news conference last week, H.J. Hightower, IRS district director for Maryland and D.C., urged taxpayers to allow up to two weeks to receive their tax booklet. "If yours doesn't arrive by then, or if you need a different form, call 1-800-829-3676," Hightower said.

Hightower asked taxpayers to take time to review their tax booklet and to start gathering the information needed to file their returns.

Although the 1991 forms closely resemble those taxpayers used last year, there are several changes taxpayers should note this year.

The Earned Income Credit (EIC) has changed significantly for 1991. The amount of the credit is larger with a maximum credit this year of $2,020, up from $953 last year. The credit now has three parts, the basic EIC and two new credits -- one for taxpayers who paid for health insurance coverage for a qualifying child and another for taxpayers who have a child born in 1991.

More people may qualify for the credit this year because now taxpayers with single filing status can claim the credit; in past years only taxpayers filing as head of household or married filing jointly qualified. This year taxpayers with income up to $21,250 can claim the credit. This is up from $20,264 last year. The IRS has developed a new form, Schedule EIC, for taxpayers to claim the credit. Taxpayers have the option of letting IRS compute the credit for them by filling out only three lines on the form. The new Schedule EIC is included in all Form 1040 and 1040A tax booklets.

For 1991 the personal exemption amount for each taxpayer and dependent is $2,150, up from $2,050 in 1990.

"Again this year," Hightower noted, "most taxpayers will not have to itemize deductions but instead, can take advantage of the increased standard deduction.

The 1991 standard deduction amounts are as follows: single taxpayer, $3,400; head of household, $5,000; married filing jointly, $5,700; and married filing separately, $2,850.

Additional standard deductions: single, age 65 or over or blind, $850; and married, age 65 or over or blind, $650 each.

For taxpayers eligible to be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return, the standard deduction is the greater of $550 or actual earned income, limited to the standard deduction amounts listed above.

This year most taxpayers will not have to look up their standard deduction in the tax booklet instructions. These amounts are listed right on the form. This change should help eliminate one of the most common mistakes taxpayers make when they file -- entering the wrong standard deduction amount on the return.

Changes Affecting Higher Income Taxpayers

For 1991, higher income taxpayers will pay tax at a new 31 percent rate (down from 33 percent last year) on taxable income over the following amounts: $82,150 for married taxpayers filing jointly; $41,075 for married taxpayers filing separately; $49,300 for single taxpayers; $70,450 for heads of household.

The new 31 percent rate, however, does not apply to net capital gain income, which is taxed at a maximum rate of 28 percent. Taxpayers with net capital gains should use Schedule D, Part IV, to figure their tax.

Taxpayers with adjusted gross income greater than $100,000 ($50,000 for married taxpayers filing separately) will reduce the amount certain itemized deductions claimed on Schedule A by three percent of the amount that their AGI exceeds the $100,000 threshold. The tax booklet contains a new worksheet to help taxpayers determine their net itemized deduction.

Taxpayers with AGI in excess of the following specified thresholds will reduce their personal exemption amount by two percent for every $2,500 ($1,250 if married filing separately) or part thereof that their income exceeds $150,000 if married filing jointly or qualifying widow with dependent child; $75,000 if married filing separate; $100,000 if single; or $125,000 if head of household. There is a worksheet in the tax booklet for taxpayers to determine if their personal exemption amount must be reduced.

Income Limits For Filing Are Higher

Taxpayers must only file a return if their income is above a certain amount. These amounts vary, depending upon a person's filing status.

Filing requirements for 1991 for taxpayers under age 65 are: single, $5,550; head of household, $7,150; married filing jointly, $10,000; married filing separately, $2,150.

With the exception of the "married filing separately" filing status, the income threshold for taxpayers who are over age 65 is increased by the amount of their additional standard deduction. Special filing requirements for children and dependents are detailed in the tax instruction booklet.

Other Changes

Taxpayers must record on the tax form the social security numbers of dependents who were age 1 or older during 1991.

Personal interest (such as interest on car loans and credit card balances) is no longer deductible in 1991.

"Approximately 70 percent of taxpayers will get refunds this year averaging $950," Hightower noted. "I can't think of a better reason to file early than to get your refund check as soon as possible."

Hightower also encouraged taxpayers to consider filing their returns electronically this year. "In its fourth year of availability in Maryland and D.C., this process cuts the waiting time for refunds in half." Last year, over 147,000 taxpayers filed their returns electronically and received their refunds in approximately three weeks instead of waiting the usual six weeks for a return filed on paper. This year IRS projects that over 250,000 Maryland/DC area taxpayers will file electronically through the services of over 500 tax preparers who offer this feature.

Hightower concluded her remarks by stating that IRS stands ready to assist taxpayers in person at any of 12 offices throughout Maryland and the District of Columbia or telephonically by calling (410) 962-2590 in Baltimore or toll-free, 1-800-829-1040 elsewhere in Maryland and D.C.

"We are again pleased to be teaming up with the Maryland State Comptroller's office in providing joint assistance sites on several dates and at several locations throughout the area during this filing season," Hightower said.

A Glimpse Of The Past . . .

THE KILDOW GRIST MILL in Oakland was located at the west end of Water Street along the Little Youghiogheny River and is pictured here during a flood in April 1924. The mill was built circa 1830 for Isaac McCarty, pioneer settler of Oakland. The original millstones, made in France, were used throughout the life of the mill. In 1877, Peter Martin bought the mill and installed a steam engine to give added power. Henry Rasche, who emigrated from Germany, purchased and rebuilt the mill in 1878. The mill was demolished some years ago. This photo, on loan from the collection of Freda Pennington, is published courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican. HEARING AIDS
DO YOU HAVE FEEDBACK OR WHISTLING WITH YOUR HEARING AID?
ARE YOU CONTINUALLY ADJUSTING THE VOLUME?
This is a common complaint that we hear from many hearing aid users. With the new Cleartone hearing aids you will not have feedback once the hearing aid is completely in your ear. You will not have to continually adjust the volume control, because the hearing aid will automatically reduce the loud noises for you.
We have found that it even helps those who have Tinnitus "ringing ears".
Come in today for a no-cost hearing evaluation and demonstration of the hearing aid!

Rodeheavers Will Celebrate 50th

An open house celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rodeheaver will be held January 19 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the McHenry fire hall.

The Rodeheavers were united in marriage January 19, 1942, by the late Rev. Jonas Sines at his residence. Lifelong residents of Garrett County, the Rodeheavers reside on their farm along Bishoff Road near McHenry.

The couple will be honored by the presence of their family and friends, and request that gifts be omitted.

Thank You

We would like to thank friends and family for the sympathy and flowers. A special thanks to Mason and Sandy Paugh for their sympathy and kindness following the death of Effie A. Comp.

Tax Assistance Available For Senior Citizens

The AARP Tax-Aide Program will again provide free personal tax preparation to persons 60 years of age and older with low to moderate incomes, according to the Area Agency on Aging.

The Tax-Aide volunteers are trained through the Internal Revenue Service and must be certified annually by passing a test developed by the IRS. Under the direction of the Area Agency on Aging, the program will operate from February 1 through April 15.

An agency spokesman said Tax-Aide is AARP's largest community service program, helping one and a half million people a year file federal, state and local tax returns. Trained Tax-Aide counselors will also travel to special sites such as hospitals, nursing homes, shut-ins, or senior centers to provide this service.

Assistance with federal and state income tax returns may be provided to individuals under 60, but assistance to the elderly will be given priority. Tax payers with complex tax returns which involve matters outside the scope of the volunteers' training will be referred to professional tax preparers.

Additional information on times and locations will be announced later and will be available by calling the Area Agency on Aging at 334-5856 or 334-9431.

Rhonda Grove, Mathew Scheffel Wed In October Double-Ring Ceremony

Rhonda Sue Grove and Mathew Walter Scheffel exchanged wedding vows on October 5, 1991. The double-ring ceremony was held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland with the Rev. Ray Ursin Officiating.

Sue Peterson was organists, flutist and vocalist. Tom Peterson was guitarist and vocalist. George Scheffel Sr., father of the groom, was also a vocalist. Frankie Katzenberger, nephew of the groom was acolyte. The mothers of the bride and groom lit the candles for the unity candle lighting.

The bride is the daughter of Pat and Ed Grove, Deep Creek Lake, and Mr. Scheffel is the son of Dawn and George Scheffel, Oakland.

Given in marriage and escorted to the altar by her parents the bride wore a gown that belonged to her aunt, Paula Detrick. The gown of white lace and satin was accented with pearls on the lace top. A white lace train was attached by a white satin bow which was made by the bride's aunt, Eleanor Wade. Her jewelry was white seed pearl earrings borrowed from her aunt, Eleanor Wade. Her bouquet of white roses, accented with red roses and white pearls and lace, was made by her aunt, Sue Lindsay. The bride was attended before the wedding by Cathy Lohr, a close friend who introduced the couple.

Serving as maid of honor was Cheryl Detrick, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Amy Snyder, friend of the bride; Dawn Scheffel, sister of the groom; Laura Frye, friend of the bride; and Georgianna Grove, cousin of the bride. The roses carried by the attendants were made by Sue Lindsay, aunt of the bride. Flower girls were Sabrina Scheffel and Jasmine Scheffel, nieces of the groom. Their basket flowers were made by Kathi Katzenberger, sister of the groom.

Serving as his brother's best man was George Scheffel II. Ushers were Tom Coddington, friend of the groom; Ron Grove, brother of the bride; Gary Biser, friend of the groom; and Gene Flinn, friend of the groom; Corey Lindsay, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. The groomsmen's boutonnieres were made by Kathi Katzenberger, the groom's sister.

Lisa Katzenberger, niece of the groom, registered the guests. Scott Grove, cousin of the bride, gave out scrolls. Chad Lindsay and Chris Detrick, cousins of the bride, gave out programs. The Boutonnieres and corsages worn by the mothers and grandmothers were made by Kathi Katzenberger.

The reception was held at Brodak's Mt. Resort. Catering was done by Cathy Biser and Virginia Reckart, close friends of the groom. Decorations were made by Sue Lindsay, aunt of the bride. The three-tiered cake, surrounded by five heart-shaped side cakes and topped with red roses were baked and arranged by Joyce Bishop, close friend of the groom. The disc jockey and master of ceremonies for the event was Wayne Jackson, owner of Sound Trax. Video taping and the wedding and reception was done by Frank Katzenberger, brother-in-law of the groom.

For their honeymoon the couple traveled to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. Upon their return, they set up residence on the Oakland-Deer Park Road in Oakland.

The bride is a graduate of Beall High School and Indiana University of Pennsylvania. She is a respiratory therapist at Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, W.Va.

Mr. Scheffel graduated from Southern High School and is co-vice president of the family business, Alleghany Welding and Machine, Inc. of Oakland.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Oakland American Legion. The bride was guest at two showers. The first one was hosted by Sue Lindsay, aunt of the bride, at her home and assisted by Mary Jane Lindsay, grandmother, Paula Detrick and Betty Pittman, aunts, Bonnie Pittman and Cheryl Detrick, cousin of the bride. The second was given by Cathy Lohr at her residence.

Out-of-town guests were from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware, North Carolina, New Jersey, Florida, Ohio, Virginia, and Washington, D.C.

Harriet E. Frazee

want to take this opportunity to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and comfort shown us, following our Mother's illness and loss. We want to thank those who sent flowers, brought food, sent cards and made donations in her name, and especially those who stopped by the funeral home to spend some time with us and offer comforting words.

A very special thanks to Rev. Donald Wilson for his comforting message. A heartfelt thanks to Lynn & Carol Newman of Newman's Funeral Home for their kind and professional help and the beautiful music during our bereavement. We also want to thank Mrs. Virginia Rainey and Mrs. Martha DeWitt for preparing the delicious lunch for the family after the services. May God Bless each and everyone who helped in any way.

SWANTON

Christmas guests of Wayne and Hazel O'Brien were members of their family: Edward, Crystal, Chad and Shawn O'Brien, Cresaptown, James and Stephanie O'Brien, Ringgold, Va., and Jonas and Sadie Fazenbaker, Swanton. James and Stephanie also visited James's grandparents, the Fazenbakers, several times while here. The whole group exchanged gifts and had a meal together. Edward and family returned to their home on Christmas night, while James and Stephanie left on Thursday for Ohio and New York to visit Stephanie's relatives until after New Year's. They will return to their home in Virginia on January 2.

Choose Carefully!

The last time you bought a home, how many different real estate agents showed you properties? Were you aware that a single agent could have shown you virtually every home for sale in this area, saving you untold hours or days of searching for the right home?

Most agents represent a number of sellers who have listed their homes for sale. Each of these homes is placed in the local Multiple Listing Service which, in turn, provides information to local REALTORS® on all homes in the area.

By choosing an agent carefully before you begin househunting, you can receive a number of benefits, although in most cases there will be no charge for the services provided. Those services include an interview to determine location, style, size and features you desire in a home, advice on available mortgages and interest rates research to locate a variety of suitable homes, and househunting trips to visit those homes.

Before the agent can locate homes to see, it is important that you share your home buying objectives. In your first meeting with the agent, explain what you hope to accomplish. Give details about your desired moving date, the size and style home you plan to purchase, and preferred locations you may have in mind.

The agent can advise you on available mortgage loans and interest rates too. A confidential interview with a loan officer can also be arranged. This prequalification interview can result in a conditional loan approval, giving you the freedom to purchase your home from a position of financial strength.

Once the agent understands your objectives, he or she can research the current pool of available homes, identifying homes which meet your requirements. The agent can then preview them, eliminate unsuitable properties, and save you much time. By choosing a single agent through careful deliberation, your househunting can be an enjoyable adventure that includes a generous selection of attractive homes.

If you'd like to purchase a home, but feel out-of-touch with what's happening in realestate, give us a call today at 387-5303, or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

Two Preston County Farmers Experiment With Subterranean Clover

The West Virginia University Cooperative Extension Service, with the aid of the West Virginia State Soil Conservation Committee and the Soil Conservation Service has provided seed and assistance for two one-acre demonstration plots in Preston County. The plots will provide information on growing Subterranean Clover in cooler wet climates as a living mulch weed control for annual weeds.

Subterranean Clover is being grown in these Preston County demonstration plots to determine its winter hardiness and effectiveness on the control of weeds. Subterranean Clover has a unique life cycle which is beneficial to weed suppression. The plant grows in the fall and spring, goes to seed in early May and dies towards the end of May. The demonstration plots will show the effectiveness of the clover used in a no-till corn rotation and a pumpkin field for the suppression of weeds. The Subterranean Clover, a winter annual pasture legume, has been demonstrated in New Jersey, Maryland and other states, as an effective living mulch. That is, it will shade and compete for nutrients that weeds need for growth.

How will this crop be used in crop production? Because the clover dies in late May, crop producers should be able to no-till their main crop into the clover sod. While the seeds of the main crop are germinating, the clover will be dying. This should allow enough time for the new crop to get a head start on the weeds. The mat of dead clover provided is an excellent mulch throughout the growing season. The Subterranean Clover will reseed itself with its unique life cycle, which will save the crop producer time and expenses.

The clover's ability to suppress weeds is very important to the farmer and to the environment. The use of this clover should allow the farmer to reduce his chemical spraying for weed control, which will reduce the chances of pesticides entering the water.

In addition to the benefits received from the clover for weed suppression, it should also provide approximately 75 percent of nitrogen for the following crop. This will result in a savings of fertilizer. In these economic times, every dollar the farmer can save is vital.

The two farms participating in these demonstration plots, are the Tom Mason farm in Bruceton Mills, and the Wade Harsh farm in Eglon. The Mason farm will be demonstrating the clover with its corn silage rotation, while the Harsh farm will be demonstrating the clover in a pumpkin field. These two farms should be able to provide valuable data on growing Subterranean Clover, with different crops, in the higher elevation of Preston County.

For more information or assistance about growing Subterranean Clover in West Virginia, contact Suzanne Poland, assistant integrated pest management specialist, WVU Coop. Extension, phone 293-3911 or Joe Hatton, NPS environmental specialist, WV SSCC, phone 329-1922.

Listed in the report which follows are the top Maryland DHIA herds, for November in Garrett County. The name of the herd owner or farm is at left, followed by the number of cows, with H designating Holsteins. The column at right is pounds of milk per day of 3.5 percent fat-corrected milk.

The last portion of the report lists the top producing colored breed herds in Maryland. Production is based on 3.5 percent fat-corrected milk.

Maryland Farmers Meet 31 Percent Of Compliance Goal

Conservation plans prepared by farmers and ranchers to comply with the 1985 Farm Bill conservation compliance requirements have been fully implemented on 31 percent of the highly erodible cropland in Maryland according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.

"We only have three years left to complete two-thirds of the job," said Maryland State Conservationist Robert J. Klumpe. "There is real concern that farmers with multi-year conservation systems planned, may delay too long and not be able to implement all the components of the system by the deadline."

In Maryland, there are 306,180 acres of highly erodible cropland with conservation plans to be implemented by December 31, 1994. As of December 17, 1991, 94,324 acres of cropland in Maryland had been treated with conservation practices to curb erosion and water quality problems.

"It will take accelerated technical assistance from our field staffs and skilled management techniques from farmers to reach this goal," Klumpe said. "Helping farmers keep on schedule is the important thing."

Under the provisions of the 1985 and 1990 Farm Bills, producers with highly erodible cropland need to have conservation plans completely implemented to stay eligible for USDA program benefits. SCS field offices provide technical expertise and work with producers to develop conservation plans. Each year, Maryland farmers must certify to USDA that they are actively applying conservation plans on their highly erodible cropland.

According to Soil Conservation Service Chief William Richards located in national headquarters, Washington, D.C., everybody wins when the conservation plans are implemented.

"The American public gains the advantage of less soil erosion and less sediment moving into streams," Richards said.

Nationwide, farmers have reached the 50 percent mark in their conservation compliance.

"Producers are expected to apply their conservation compliance plans on schedule," Richards continued. "I encourage producers to start even earlier than scheduled, especially if they are unfamiliar with any agreed-upon practice."

Nationwide, more than 135 million acres of highly erodible cropland have conservation plans. Of these, some 67 million acres have plans fully implemented. About 75 percent, or 99 million acres, have plans that call for crop residue management. Crop residue management has environmental benefits -- protecting soil from erosion and improving water quality -- along with the economic benefits of saving labor and fuel.

Swine Management Notes

• Heat mats are now replacing the heat lamps for keeping newly born litter warm. The heat mats are more cost-efficient and safer.

• Have you heard of the "Hatfield System" of grading swine carcasses? This system is gaining in popularity among packers. The emphasis is put on leanness of the carcass. Consumers are buying lean meat. With this system, the carcass is graded on fat and loin depth. The formula used equals the percent of lean cuts. For each percent above 56 percent lean cuts, the producer is paid a bonus. For each percent below 55 percent lean cuts, the producer is assessed a dockage fee.

• Sow should be bred at least twice during estrus. The first breeding should be when you first detect the heat period. The second breeding should follow 24 hours later. This practice will increase conception rate and litter size.

Milk Production Down Again

November milk production was about one percent below a year ago, the seventh monthly decline in a row. The trend reflects the negative outlook for milk prices. Cow numbers are on the decline with milk per cow increasing. The inability of Washington to make any progress on the dairy problem has some producers realizing that prices are likely to swing lower when milk production increases again this spring. November manufacturing grade milk prices averaged $12.92 per cwt, more than $2 above last year's November price. Prices typically increase in December and then slide lower, reaching a bottom sometime in the spring. Over the last three years, this slide has averaged about $1.50 per cwt. Producers will need to keep belts tightened and operations running efficiently. Also expect to be squeezed by higher feed prices.

Dwarf Pearl Millet Pasture For Sheep

When making your plans for crops this coming spring, you may want to consider planting some Dwarf Pearl Millet for summer grazing. This forage does very well in the heat of summer. It contains around 18 percent crude protein with an average of 65 percent TDN. The millet should be planted around mid-May and grazing should begin around the first of July.

NAME ADDRESS

Secretary Madigan Calls For Public Comments On Milk Marketing Orders

Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan is inviting comments from the dairy industry and the general public regarding the future of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's milk marketing orders. Acting Secretary Roland Vautour said.

The comment period will run until March 2, Vautour added.

Federal milk marketing orders regulate the minimum prices paid dairy farmers by handlers of Grade "A" milk in specified geographical areas. Since they were established under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, milk marketing orders have been modified periodically to keep pace with changes in the structure of the dairy industry.

"Recently, concerns have increased about the cost, efficiency and rationale of milk marketing orders," Madigan said. "Are there more efficient, more competitive ways to give consumers a dependable supply of milk and, at the same time, give dairy farmers a fair return for their product?"

In a separate but related action, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service announced the preliminary findings of its 43 days of hearings held last year on milk marketing orders.

"I am not satisfied that all of the issues were thoroughly aired during the AMS hearings, so I am posing a number of questions to the dairy industry and the general public which are aimed at a more fundamental assessment of milk marketing orders," Madigan said.

The questions are:

• Would producers, processors and consumers be better served with less regulation or strengthened regulation under federal milk orders? What would be the impact of less regulation, stronger regulation or no regulation on producers, processors and consumers?

• What institutions have other countries used in milk marketing that shed light on our own system? Are there particular aspects of milk marketing that are carried out more equitably or efficiently in other countries than in the United States?

• Could contractual arrangements between cooperatives and handlers replace some of the functions now performed by the federal order system? If so, which functions?

• If federal orders are changed to impose less regulation, what types of changes should be made? For example, should the following changes be implemented:

(1) Lowering of minimum Class I differentials.

(2) Removal of pricing regulations that cause purchasers to pay more under the order for milk brought into a market than would otherwise be necessary to attract the milk to that market.

(3) Establishing the lowest class price under federal orders (usually Class III) equal to the federal support price for milk (instead of the Minnesota-Wisconsin price)?

• If the orders should be strengthened, what special additional rules are warranted?

• Should the orders be terminated? If so, should this be done immediately or should the orders be phased out over a period of time; and, if so, how much time?

Responses should be sent by March 2, to the Secretary of Agriculture, Milk Marketing Orders, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

ASCS Reminds Farmers Of Eligibility For Dairy Refund Payment Program

Mike Kozier, county ASCS director, reminds dairymen that they may apply for the Dairy Refund Payment Program (DRPP) beginning January 2, 1992, through March 15, 1992. Refund payments are available only to those persons who: were commercial producers of milk at the farm level; received milk proceeds that were reduced by the statutory reduction; did not, during the year for which the reduction was made, exceed their milk marketings from the preceding year; have related persons that meet the qualifications for DRPP, if applicable.

Kozier explained that the required reduction amounts are as follows:

*during calendar year 1991, the price will be reduced 5 cents per cwt.

*during calendar year 1992, through 1995, the price will be reduced by a minimum of 11.25 cents per cwt.

*the 11.25 cents reduction may be increased on May 1 of each of the years 1992 through 1995 to compensate for refunds of amounts from the immediately preceding calendar year reduction.

He added that milk marketings are defined as milk marketed for commercial use. Acceptable evidence of marketings and reduction amounts shall be payment receipts from milk handlers showing amount of milk marketed for commercial use during the refund period; the amount of assessment deducted for CCC; the name and address of the milk handler.

Bases are defined as: DRPP bases, milk marketings for commercial use for the entire calendar year of the base period; base period, the calendar year immediately preceding the calendar year for which a refund payment is being requested.

He stresses that documentation shall include payment receipts or statements from milk handlers that show the amount of milk sold each month during the base period.

Additional ASCS Notes

Wool producers are reminded to bring receipts to the ASCS office by March 2, 1992.

The Feed Grain Program signup is February 10 through April 17, 1992.

Applications for the Livestock Feed Program will be taken until March 25, 1992.

Body Condition Important For Maximum Dairy Cow Performance

You can never be too rich or too thin.

Whoever coined this statement must not have been talking about dairy cows. Although it's very difficult to become too rich in today's dairy economy, it's all too easy for a high-producing dairy cow to become too thin.

Not until 50 to 60 days after freshening does a cow's appetite catch up to her milk production. In the meantime, she is using more energy than she is consuming, and is tapping into her bodily reserves to make up the difference. If that difference is too great, she can lose excessive body condition and be prone to metabolic, performance and reproductive problems.

Research also indicates that overconditioned cows can experience increased calving difficulties and breeding problems, as well as depressed dry matter intake. It is with both fat and thin cows in mind that body condition scoring is becoming a popular tool in the energy management of a dairy herd.

Developed at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the system uses a five-point scale. A score of "1" is given to an extremely thin cow and a "5" to one that is very fat. A score of "3" is considered about average, but the ideal score varies by stage of lactation (see table).

Scoring is done by feeling a cow's fat cover at the loin, rump and tailhead areas. With proper instruction and a little practice, scoring can be a visual process. Producers who learn to keep records of their herd's overall body condition can use that information as an important tool in evaluating an energy management program.

"Ideally, every cow should be scored each time she is handled for a reproductive function, and then again late in lactation and at dry-off," says Dr. Charles Sniffen, professor of dairy nutrition at Michigan State University. "If this is not possible, score a representative sample of at least 20 percent of the cows in each group."

If energy is found to be lacking, feeding a fat source, such as tallow or whole oilseeds, is one way to help cows maintain their body condition. The drawback, according to Dr. James Ferguson, University of Pennsylvania, New Bolton Center, is that feeding too much of these conventional fat sources can interfere with rumen digestion.

"Six percent of ration dry matter is generally considered the maximum amount of conventional fat you can safely feed. But many of today's dairy cows still need additional energy. This is where a rumen bypass fat becomes very useful," Ferguson says.

A high-quality bypass fat remains inactive in the rumen, yet is highly digestible in the lower digestive tract, he explains. This prevents it from interfering with rumen digestion while still providing the extra energy high-producing cows need.

"Early lactation is crucial," Sniffen adds, "because energy needs are at their highest. And if you can keep a cow from getting too thin early on, she will perform better throughout lactation."

Which will also help dairy producers in the never-ending quest to become too rich.

SUNNYSIDE/ UNDERWOOD

Sunday School and worship services in the Underwood Church on Dec. 22 were followed by a carry-in dinner in the social rooms to celebrate the birthdays of Bessie Canan and Zackery Rhodes.

The Matthew families had their usual Christmas Eve get-together in the home of Mildred Peterson, which was attended by most of the family. On Christmas day the foster children of Mrs. Peterson were at her home for dinner.

Bessie Canan spent from Sunday, Dec. 22, to Christmas night with her son and daughter-in-law, Milton and Dawn Canan, and family at Bittinger. Others in the home were their daughter and son-in-law, Regina and Stephen Sandberg, Nicholasville, Ky., and also attending the family dinner on Christmas day were Caroline and Kevin Dodge, Marylyn and Eric Paugh, and Mrs. Canan's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper.

Hazel and Ronald White were Christmas night dinner guests of Mrs. Anna Lee.

Christmas Eve dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sandberg, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Paugh, Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Skipper and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Canan and family and Bessie Canan.

Hazel Uphold is seriously ill and is a patient in the intensive care unit at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. She was admitted Saturday morning.

Billy Thomas Jr., who is with the U.S. Army Reserve at a base in Kentucky, arrived home December 18 to spend a two-week furlough with is family. He will report for duty this week. David Uphold, son of David and Angela Uphold, spent a few days last week visiting his grandmother, Mary Thomas.

George Snyder and family of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., are spending a vacation with his mother, Mildred Peterson, and visiting other relatives and friends.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Bessie Canan were her brother, Howard Hebb, of East Flat Rock, N.C., his brother, Kenny Hebb, of St. George, and Milton Canan, Clarissa, Autumn, David and Scott of Bittinger.

Mrs. Bessie Canan received word on Christmas day of the death of Mrs. Doris Epperson of Pawhuska, Okla., following a brief illness. Mrs. Glenn Canan is a daughter of Mrs. Epperson.

Ronnie and Jo Rhodes and children were visiting Bessie Canan one evening. Audrey and Becky Lynn Shipe also called.

John Canan and his friend, Ellen, of Alberties, Pa., were weekend guests of his father, Larry, his grandmother, Bessie Canan, and his mother, Mrs. Carol Craver.

Jan LeFort of Baltimore, is spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. O'Haver.

Marie Knotts traveled to Woodland, Colo., for a Christmas vacation holiday and visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Sam and Debbie Case, and son, Jason. While they were there they toured many places of interest, including Colorado Springs, Big Gorge Bridge, and Fort Carson. She was accompanied by her son, David, and Bobbi McRobie.

Arlena Dilley hosted a family get-together during the Christmas holidays.

PBS To Present "Education On Trial" Programs

The issues facing the American educational system will be debated in a courtroom setting with attorneys presenting both sides of the issues on a Public Broadcast System (PBS) series entitled "Learning in America: Education on Trial." Experts in various educational fields will be called to testify in the program.

By calling an 800 telephone number, persons may pass judgment on the issues. The January 6 program will center on "Do We Need A National Report Card?" The show will begin at 10 p.m.

"Are Our Public Schools Beyond Repair?" will be the subject of the January 13 program, and "Are We Shortchanging Our Schools?" will be the topic on January 20. Persons may check local listings for times of the second and third programs.

CONTRACT SR-07-92
BLUELICK-WEST BRANCH

The Maryland State Forest and Park Service is offering for sale the following timber on 12 acres of Compartment #23 of Savage River State Forest. This sale is estimated to cut 63,324 BD FT of live sawtimber and 3,533 BD FT of dead sawtimber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule, and 40 cords of hardwood pulpwood, more or less. All tallied trees 11" D.B.H. and larger with at least one 16' log to a 8" top D.I.B. with less than 50% defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located along a forest access road on the east side of Lower New Germany Road, .8 mile south of the intersection with Bluelick Road. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 AM on Monday, January 13, 1992. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet at the intersection of Twin Churches and Lower New Germany Road.

2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Savage River State Forest Headquarters, Rt. 2, Box 63-A, Grantsville, MD 21536 or phone 301-895-5759.

3. A Security Bond in the amount of 10% of the bid submitted must be posted upon submission of the bid to the Maryland State Forest & Park Service.

4. The operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator in Maryland for 1991 and hold a Certificate of Erosion and Sediment Control (Green/Gold Card) training to be awarded successful bidding.

5. A Performance Bond in the amount of 10% of the bid submitted must be posted upon acceptance of the contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.

6. All timber volumes noted in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. NO adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.

7. Bidder may pay 50% of bid price on acceptance of the contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from bid acceptance. If buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in form acceptable to the State.

8. Bids will be received up until 1:00 PM on Monday, Jan. 27, 1992.

Pennsylvania Man Is Arrested On Numerous Charges

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office reported the arrest of Steven R. Thomas, 29, Hyndman, Pa., on several traffic charges and bench warrants. At the time of the arrest, Thomas was incarcerated in lieu of a $14,850 bond. Sheriff's Office personnel are also investigating a breaking and entering incident, and responded to a car accident on Saturday.

Thomas was charged after Det. J. Murphy stopped him for numerous traffic violations on January 1. The arrest occurred on Second Avenue in Loch Lynn. Pfc. C. Feller was also present for the arrest.

Thomas was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI), driving uninsured and unregistered, giving false name to uniformed police, violation of an alcohol restriction, displaying tags issued to another vehicle, and two counts of driving with a suspended and revoked license.

While recording the charges at the Sheriff's Office, the officers discovered that four bench warrants had also been issued for the defendant's arrest, as Thomas was charged with failure to pay deferred payments into Garrett County District Court in the combined amount of $1,850, according to the report. The report also stated that Maryland State Police served a warrant for Thomas, although the charge was not noted.

BANK ROBBER'S PHOTO CAPTURED - Surveillance cameras at the First United Bank and Trust captured the image of the suspect who robbed the bank Tuesday at 1 p.m. He has been described as five feet, seven to nine inches tall, in his mid-30's, and has shaggy reddish-blond hair. The robber handed a note to the teller demanding money or her life, and the bank employee quietly emptied her cash drawer and gave the money to him. The suspect then fled on foot, and remains at large. An extensive investigation is currently underway by Oakland City Police, Garrett County Sheriff's detectives, Maryland State Police, and the FBI. Persons who may recognize the suspect are urged to contact any of these agencies immediately.

Md. State Police Respond To Reports Of Destruction, Misconduct At Wisp

The Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, have been kept busy lately with reports of disorderly conduct and vandalism at the Wisp Resort Hotel, McHenry.

Police reportedly removed 28 people (some of whom were juveniles) from the resort hotel early Sunday. Many of those removed were charged with disorderly conduct and underage drinking.

A number of those involved were high school students from Arnold, Millersville, and Severna Park who had rented several hotel rooms for the weekend.

Also early Sunday morning, a Gambrills man was arrested after allegedly urinating in an elevator at the hotel. The man was told to leave, but reportedly returned several hours later.

Tfc. P. R. Brown charged Parnell J. Romero, 20, with trespassing, destruction of property, and disorderly conduct after he damaged 10 yards of carpet.

In another destruction of property incident early Sunday morning, a Bowie man is a suspect in the damage of eight yards of carpet after he allegedly urinated on stairwell carpet. Brown said charges are pending.

State police also reported that unknown persons also damaged two vending machines in the game room of the Wisp Resort Hotel between 8 a.m. and 11 p.m. on Thursday, January 2. The machines are the property of Al-Mar Vending, Grantsville.

On New Year's Day, security at the Wisp reported a damaged pool table in which the culprit(s) forcibly removed a piece of Plexiglas from the table. Tfc. Scott MacLane investigated that report.

THEFT REPORTED

Tfc. S.H. Anderson is continuing his investigation of a reported theft that allegedly occurred between 11 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m. on Saturday.

Joseph C. Mynaugh, Edgewood, told police that

Crawford To Be Installed As Judge

Susan J. Crawford, former inspector general for the Department of Defense and part-time resident of Garrett County, will be installed as judge of the United States Court of Military Appeals at a ceremony in the Courthouse this Friday, January 10. The Honorable William Rehnquist, chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, will conduct the ceremony.

Other speakers at the ceremony, which will be carried live on C-span at 1:30 p.m., will be noted trial attorney F. Lee Bailey and general counsel for the Department of Defense Terrance O'Donnell.

Ms. Crawford becomes the first female justice on the Court of Military Appeals, following her appointment by President Bush and confirmation by the Senate last year. Her appointment to the court is for a 15-year term.

At a ceremony in the Pentagon last month, Ms. Crawford was presented the Department of Defense Medal for Distinguished Public Service by Defense Secretary Dick Cheney, who spoke of her 10 years of "outstanding service." This medal is the highest civilian award given by the Department.

Ms. Crawford first joined the Department of Defense in 1982 when President Ronald Reagan appointed her as deputy general counsel to the Department of the Army. She subsequently became general counsel for the Army, special counsel to the secretary of defense, and inspector general of the Department of Defense.

Before beginning her career with the Department of Defense, Ms. Crawford was a partner in the Oakland law firm of Burnett, Eiswert, & Janes, and an adjunct instructor at Garrett Community College. She is a graduate of Bucknell University and the New England School of Law, and the daughter of Bill and Joan Crawford, Deep Creek Lake.

Bittinger Man Injured In Fall At Water Plant

A Bittinger man was injured Tuesday while working at the Friendsville Water Treatment Plant and is listed in "fair" condition at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., according to a spokeswoman at the hospital.

Milton Canan, Bittinger, an employee of the Beitzel Corporation, reportedly fell from a ladder about 2 p.m. while completing renovations to the plant, according to sources at the plant.

Canan was flown by HealthNet helicopter to Ruby. Northern Garrett Rescue Squad and Friendsville volunteer firemen also responded to the scene.

Press Conference Being Planned For Opening Adventure Sports Institute

One of the highlights of the U.S. Canoe and Kayak Team Olympic Trials on the Savage River May 16-17 will be a major press conference called by Garrett Community College, host for the event, to announce the official opening of the Adventure Sports Institute.

According to a GCC spokesman, the concept of the Institute has been developed cooperatively by a team of administrators from GCC and Frostburg State University over the past several years. It will mark the first effort to offer an integrated program of various adventure sports that use the natural resources of this area, the first such program affiliated with a higher education institution that will offer certificates and degrees in adventure sports programs.

For the purpose of the Institute, adventure sports are defined as those recreational activities that occur in a natural outdoor environment, in which the individual challenges some force(s) of nature and faces some degree of risk.

Garrett Community College president Dr. Steve Herman, one of the prime initiators of this concept, recently explained the logic of centering the Adventure Sports Institute in Garrett County. He pointed to the natural environment of whitewater rivers, lakes, forests, ski slopes, and 150 miles of public trials, as well as the location within driving distance of 63% of the United States population. Dr. Herman also tied the creation of the Institute to one of the four specific missions of the college -- that of assisting in the economic development of Garrett County.

As presently conceived, the Adventure Sports Institute will serve five major functions: offer degrees in adventure sports programs, both two-year and four-year, as articulated with Frostburg State University; offer a year-round schedule of conferences, workshops, and short courses; provide free research and development service to adventure sports manufacturers; publish a quarterly journal for adventure sports enthusiasts; and plan a year-round schedule of events and competitions.

Pending final approval, the Adventure Sports pro-

Vendors Sought For U.S. Olympic Trials Packages

Adventure sports vendors in the area are being invited to participate in the Olympic Trials Tourism packages being developed by Garrett Community College in conjunction with the U.S. Canoe and Kayak Team Olympic Trials on the Savage River, May 16-17, according to Anna Maria Williamson, coordinator.

The tour packages will offer visitors discount rates at motels, restaurants, and other area businesses, as well as participation in a selection of adventure sports activities on or near the whitewater site. Included in these activities are mountain biking, canoeing, whitewater rafting, and horseback riding. These packages will be offered from May 10-22 for varying numbers of days.

Plans are being structured to give Garrett County vendors preference for the Olympic Trials tour packages and to limit the number for each sport. College president Dr. Steve Herman explained, "We are setting this up to assure that vendors make a profit." Any vendors of these sports interested in participation are asked to contact Ms. Williamson at the college, 387-6666 or 245-4133, by January 24.

Vendors will be selected on a first-come basis, and a waiting list for each sport will be kept.

The Olympic Trials, considered to be the premier whitewater event in the United States this year, will see 100 top paddlers competing for 15 slots on the team that will represent this country at the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona.

Edwards To Push For Shorter Gen. Assembly Session

With the commencement of the 1992 Maryland General Assembly this week, District 1-A Delegate George Edwards revealed that he will be co-sponsoring a bill to shorten the number of days the assembly is in session from 90 to 60 days.

Edwards explained that, with all the work being done by legislators during the interim months, he believes the 90 days allowed for the general session are unnecessary. "It's one way of downsizing government and making it more efficient," he said.

Edwards also noted that shortening the session would save the state money in terms of wages to part-time employees, such as support staff, and in utility bills.

The bill, he said, would allow for an exception during sessions that immediately follow a new term.

When Edwards was asked if he felt the bill would receive a favorable review from the legislature, he indicated that other legislators reportedly have similar concerns, and that variations of a bill supporting a shorter session would likely be introduced.

Edwards also reported that he supports a proposal to implement a "workfare" program in the state that would mandate "able-bodied" welfare recipients to move back into the work force and out of the welfare program.

"Not only will this program save the state -- the taxpayers -- money, it also instills the work ethic in people who are continually on welfare," said Edwards, adding that the idea would be to put people to work for the government, not private enterprise, on the federal, state and local levels.

The state of Michigan is currently experimenting with the program, and Edwards said he thinks it is working there. The details of the proposal would have to be worked out with the Maryland Department of Human Resources, among other agencies, he noted.

Edwards then indicated that the three biggest issues facing the legislature this year would be the budget, redistricting and health care.

When asked about the issue of growth control in Maryland (a controversial and renowned issue during last year's session) Edwards replied, "I'd be surprised if you see a whole lot of anything in that area, although there may be a few proposals introduced." He added that legislators have been concentrating recently on defining and determining sensitive areas.

Edwards noted that the session might produce a law that would require local jurisdictions to update their land use or zoning plans on a regular basis.

First United Bank And Trust Robbed Tuesday; Suspect Remains At Large

An unidentified white male described as in his mid-30's, five feet, seven to nine inches tall and weighing about 170 pounds, entered the First United Bank and Trust, Oakland, Tuesday at approximately 1 p.m. and handed a note to a teller demanding cash. According to authorities, the note stated, "I have a gun. Give me $6,000 or you will die."

The teller reportedly emptied her drawer and handed an undisclosed amount of cash to the suspect, who then left the bank on foot. The Garrett County Sheriff's Office was notified by silent alarm and several deputies and detectives responded to the scene, but the suspect was able to elude the officers and remains at large.

Minutes before the crime occurred, the Sheriff's Office reportedly received a tip that an armed robbery was in progress at the Mountain Lake IGA grocery store, located several miles east of Oakland. Deputies soon discovered that the call was unfounded, and at nearly the same moment, the silent alarm was issued from the bank. Oakland City Police Chief John Sines was reportedly the first officer at the scene.

Officers fanned out in Oakland, detaining several persons who may have matched the description of the suspect. No arrests were made, however.

The bank robber had shaggy reddish-blond hair, a full beard, and was wearing a purple toboggan, jacket, and gloves. He was reportedly seen by several persons inside the bank at the time of the theft. However, no persons saw which direction he went as he left through the front door, according to authorities. Later Tuesday, with the combined efforts of the Sheriff's Office, Oakland City Police, and Maryland State Police, the toboggan, gloves, and jacket were found in a walkway behind the Oakland Post Office. A K-9 unit was brought in to assist, as well as FBI personnel.

Bank surveillance cameras were in operation when the robbery occurred, and photos of the suspect have been developed and issued to the media. Any persons who recognize the suspect or have any information about the crime are urged to contact the Sheriff's Office at 334-1911, Oakland City Police at 334-2100, or Garrett County Crime Solvers at 334-1975.

Fugitive Charge Dropped Against Friendsville Man

A fugitive charge against a Friendsville man who had been held in the Garrett County Jail as a fugitive from justice was dropped by the State's Attorney's Office in Garrett County District Court proceedings last week.

Bruce L. Seuss Sr. had waived extradition in October from Pennsylvania. He had been arrested on numerous counts by Pennsylvania State Police after a high speed chase that ended in Garrett County in March of last year.

Seuss will still face charges in Pennsylvania, according to court documents.

In other District Court news, Donald A. Sharps, 18, Terra Alta, W.Va., was found guilty of malicious destruction of property. Judge Jack R. Turney sentenced him to a six-month suspended jail term, fined him $50, and placed him on six months of unsupervised probation. He was also ordered to pay restitution to Ben Shaffer.

Sharps had been charged following an incident at the Southern High School parking lot, when he and several other individuals allegedly threw rocks at a 1986 Toyota pickup, the property of Ben Shaffer, Deer Park.

A motion to revise an earlier sentence imposed on Dale W. Alexander, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, was dismissed by the judge.

Alexander had been found guilty of a fourth-degree sex offense in May court proceedings. At that time, he was sentenced to a one-year jail term and placed on 24 months of supervised probation.

Charges had been filed against Alexander last April by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office on behalf of an 11-year-old male juvenile, who stated that Alexander had touched and/or fondled his genitals on numerous occasions without his consent.

William H. Thoman, 18, McHenry, pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty of possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

He had initially been charged by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office after being stopped for not dimming his lights when he passed a police officer on U.S. Route 219. A search of Thoman allegedly revealed a metal pipe with the odor of burnt marijuana.

Byron To Hold Town Meetings; One In Oakland

Rep. Beverly Byron (D-Md.) has announced she will be holding five town meetings throughout the district in January and February. The first was held Monday at the Eldersburg Branch Library. One of the five meetings will be held at the Oakland Town Hall Wednesday, Jan. 15, from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Byron said one of the meetings would focus exclusively on the issue of health care and would give Western Maryland residents an "important opportunity" to participate in discussions about the cause of escalating health care costs and reforms to health care system that Congress will be considering in the second session of the 102nd Congress.

The congresswoman's Health Care Town Meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 14, at Hagerstown Junior College in Building C-11 beginning at 6:30 p.m. The college is located at 751 Robinwood Drive in Hagerstown.

"Health care is a national issue. It's on everyone's mind, and the problems we are facing with our health care system are very, very serious. Nearly 200 other members of Congress will be holding health care town meetings January 14. Clearly that shows that people are concerned. I expect health care reform to dominate much of what we do in the coming session. The Hagerstown town meeting in particular, and the others I will be holding, are really a great chance for people to have their opinions heard before Congress begins work on coming up with solutions to our health care crisis," Mrs. Byron said.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY - The New Year baby for 1992, Colin Charles Herron, was showered with gifts by local merchants last week. In addition, this lucky baby was named the Johnson & Johnson Baby of the Year for Garrett County Memorial Hospital in celebration of the company's 100th birthday. Colin will receive a package of baby products from the Johnson & Johnson Company and be entered in a drawing for a $1,000 savings bond. Colin's proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marty Herron who reside in Loch Lynn along with their four other children, three daughters and a son. Mr. Herron is pastor of the Pleasant View Baptist Church on U.S. Route 219, south of Oakland. Colin Charles Herron was born at 4:32 p.m. on January 2, 1992, which made him the first baby born at the local hospital this year. Local merchants participating in the New Year Baby Shower were Crafty Critters, First United National Bank and Trust, Party House, Gregg's Pharmacy, J.C. Penney Catalog Store, Naylor's True Value Hardware, Personally Yours Monogramming, Presentations, and Wepco Credit Union.

Pros And Cons Of County-Wide Zoning Presented

The Garrett County Planning Commission reviewed the advantages and disadvantages regarding county-wide zoning, presented by John Nelson, to Garrett County Planning and Zoning director, during their regular monthly meeting held last week. Lists were presented in a draft form only.

The list was compiled following several months of discussion about the controversial issue. Currently, Garrett is the only county in Maryland without county-wide zoning.

Following are the lists as presented to the commission by Nelson:

PERCEIVED DISADVANTAGES

1. County-wide zoning would require all citizens to secure a zoning permit prior to the construction, reconstruction or alternation of any building or the change in use of any land or building.

2. Development plans of a property owner could potentially be delayed until the building and zoning permits are secured, particularly if the development plan may need approval by the Board of Appeals for a Special Exception or Variance.

3. Property owners could encounter opposition from their neighbors for potential projects that may require Board approval and consequently create conflicts among neighbors.

4. Property owners may be prevented from developing their property as they may wish, and at the density they may wish.

5. From a philosophical point of view, some persons oppose zoning because they perceive the regulation of property as an undue and unconstitutional infringement upon private property rights.

6. From a philosophical point of view, some persons oppose zoning because they conclude that decisions are made as the result of excessive political influence.

7. Some persons may perceive that zoning decisions are rendered regardless of public input or regardless of an individual's particular point of view.

8. Zoning does not necessarily regulate or solve all the problems that the public may presume it does.

9. Some property owners may falsely conceive that zoning standards do not apply to their land or project due to the existence of a similar development on another property.

10. Zoning restricts what people can do on their property, however, zoning also protects property owners by restricting what others can do with their property.

ADVANTAGES

1. Zoning provides a level of predictability regarding the types of uses that can be expected to develop on a given property.

2. Zoning provides a vehicle by which property values, particularly residential, can be protected from the adverse affects of other uses.

3. Zoning attempts to assure that appropriate land and sufficient land area is maintained for scenic open space, recreation, commercial development, industrial use, and residential purposes, all of which must play an integral part in the county's development pattern.

4. Zoning attempts to achieve compatibility between all present and future land uses by considering the intended character of zoning districts and their suitability for particular uses.

5. Zoning establishes minimum standards to obtain the best possible use of the undeveloped land remaining within the county.

6. Zoning attempts to recognize, respect and derive maximum benefits from the assets and limitations of the natural environment and to prevent environmental pollution by development.

7. Zoning provides for a variety of lot sizes and residential densities and housing types to assure that adequate and affordable housing is available to every family and individual in Garrett County and to prevent over concentration of development.

8. Zoning attempts to provide a more attractive place to live and work by providing a proper location for each type of land use.

9. Zoning attempts to separate residential development from other types of development in order to enhance safety and protect the peaceful enjoyment of people in their homes.

10. Zoning attempts to protect roads and streets from undue congestion.

11. Zoning establishes standards to assure adequate parking and adequate light, air and space between buildings.

12. Zoning does not stop growth but will maintain controlled growth.

13. Without zoning vacant properties situated in a primarily residential area could be developed with any business from a junkyard to a tavern to a slaughter house.

14. Zoning is not inflexible, amendments and appeals from decisions can be considered through a due process of law.

CUBE Meeting Held; Several Issues Discussed

Despite inclement weather, a large number of persons attended the second public meeting of Citizens United for Better Education (CUBE) last month at Garrett Community College. Following its usual format, the group first held a general meeting, chaired by Bob Frazee, during which the heads of each subcommittee gave a progress report.

The organization then broke into subcommittees which enabled members to attend presentations and participate in in-depth discussions.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County schools, was present, as well as Mikal Moomau, one of the five elected school board members.

A spokesperson for CUBE stated, "We are grateful to see representatives of the school board in attendance. Open communication between board members, teachers, parents and citizens is essential if we are to provide our children with the best possible educational experience."

Following the general meeting, Dr. Brenda McCartney, director of elementary education, addressed the curriculum committee, one of five subcommittees within the organization, and presented an overview of the county's elementary curriculum in all content areas. The presentation was followed by a discussion.

Rob Sharps, head of the educational awareness committee, stated, "The majority of our session was used to draft a needs assessment which will help our committee understand what teachers, support personnel, and board of education staff need to be more effective, to give them more time with their students or to otherwise improve the quality of education in Garrett County.

"Major areas of potential interest that were briefly discussed by the parents and teachers who attended this workshop were recruiting and using volunteers; improving communications and relations with parents; using technical assistance and support from business, industry and professionals; exchanging success stories; and recognizing achievement by students and teachers."

Sheila Edwards, co-chairperson of the budget committee, reported that principals Dale Garlitz, Grantsville Elementary School, and Jack Rickman, Southern Middle School, were invited to discuss the process of budget analysis. Each school principal drafts a budget for his or school in the fall and then submits it to education board administrators.

Edwards explained this is the first stage in the budget process for the next fiscal year. One of the goals of this subcommittee is to learn as much as possible about the education board's budget and budget process so that effective recommendations can be made to the board.

Dana Shimrock, head of the membership and public relations committee, met with committee members to discuss ways of getting the public more involved in the educational process through the dissemination of information.

Charlotte Sebold acted as head of the legislative and political committee and led a discussion on the effects of state and local politics on the Garrett County School system.

All persons interested in the quality of education in the county may attend CUBE's next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, January 21, at 7 p.m., in the Continuing Education Center at Garrett Community College.

Leora Yaste Retires From Social Services

Mrs. Leora Yaste, Bittinger, retired recently after a lengthy career at the Garrett County Department of Social Services. Mrs. Yaste's career began in 1967, when she was hired as a "visiting homemaker." She was one of eight original visiting homemakers in Maryland.

Robert Shaffer, director of Garrett County Department of Social Services, credits Mrs. Yaste with being a "stabilizing influence" in the midst of numerous changes that occurred within the department over the last 24 years.

He also lauded Mrs. Yaste for her remarkable achievements while with the department. When first hired, Mrs. Yaste had only a seventh-grade education, as that was all the public school system required when she graduated. However, in 1967, Mrs. Yaste was successful in obtaining a high school equivalency diploma.

Upon the opening of Garrett Community College in 1971, Mrs. Yaste enrolled as a part-time student, attending classes at night while continuing her full-time job. She obtained her AA degree from GCC in 1975, with a double major, including a degree in human services.

"Mrs. Yaste's dedication and work skills, coupled with her college education, enabled her to climb steadily through the ranks of the local department," said Shaffer.

At the time of her retirement, she was a supervisor in the Income Maintenance Unit, responsible for administering the public assistance, food stamps, and medical assistance programs.

Mrs. Yaste plans to remain active in her retirement years. She participates in various community activities, including the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Bittinger, and various activities at the Bittinger Fire Hall.

She is contemplating the possibility of enlisting in the Peace Corps or becoming a full-time volunteer in the Lutheran Church. In her leisure time, she enjoys walking, reading, quilting, playing the piano, and traveling. She hopes to take a trip to Alaska in the next few years.

Potomac Scouts Collect 13 Tons In Food Drive

"Fantastic" and "unbelievable" is how Ben Elkins, president of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, described the success of the 1991 Scouting For Food Good Turn, as some 13 tons of food was collected. For the past several years, this annual event has resulted in the donation of thousands of pounds of food to area residents. Nationally, the event has provided millions of pounds of foodstuffs to needy families.

Tri-Valley District lead the way with 15,209 pounds. Several community pantries received the bounty, included Faith in Action Pantry, Moorefield, Petersburg, Fort Ashby and Tri-Town Food Pantries, and several church, community and mission organizations.

Nemacolin Trail District collected a total of 7,968 pounds, 6,623 of which was donated to the Western Maryland Food Bank, which serves the entire tri-state area. Other recipients were the L.D.S. Welfare System, George's Creek Pantry and St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Deep Creek District contributed 3,000 pounds of food to the House of Hope, Oakland, which serves all of Garrett County. Pack 31, Mountain Lake Park, lead the district with 1,118 pounds of food. Others were Troop 22, Oakland, 596; Troop 82, Accident, 412; Pack 70, Oakland, 173; Pack 95, Oakland, 173; and Pack 80, Oakland, 22 pounds.

Potomac Council is a participating United Way Agency.

Swanton Woman Escapes Injury In Keyser Mishap

A Garrett County woman escaped injury Friday when her vehicle went out of control just outside the Keyser, W.Va., city limits and came to rest on top of a large cement wall about a culvert, according to reports filed by the West Virginia State Police, Keyser Barrack.

Misty D. Cutter, 18, was not injured in the 2:30 a.m. mishap that occurred at the intersection of U.S. Route 220 and Stoney Run Road, according to Tpr. L.S. Goodnight.

Cutter was reportedly westbound on Stoney Run Road when the vehicle failed to stop at the intersection and slid across Rt. 220 when it came to rest on the cement wall.

No charges were filed in the mishap. Keyser Rescue Squad and New Creek Volunteer Fire Company were also dispatched to the scene.

Helen Fitzwater Files For Seat On Ed. Board

Helen C. Fitzwater, a teacher at Dennett Road Elementary School, has announced her candidacy for one of the two at large positions on the Garrett County Board of Education.

A resident of Mtn. Lake Park for 46 years, Mrs. Fitzwater has taught in the Garrett County School system for more than 30 years. She plans to retire at the end of this school term.

She graduated from Frostburg State College with a B.S. degree in education and earned a master's degree in elementary supervision and administration from Frostburg State. Additional graduate credits in education were earned from the University of Maryland, West Virginia University, Loyola College, and Frostburg.

As an active member of the Bethel United Methodist Church in Mtn. Lake Park, Mrs. Fitzwater has served in many capacities, including Sunday School teacher, member of the board of trustees, finance committee, chairperson of administrative council, and delegate to district and annual conferences.

A member of the Garrett County Teachers' Association, she has served as secretary since 1988 and as an elected delegate to Maryland State Teachers' Association conventions (1988-1991) and National Education Association convention as well as Parent Teachers Association convention in 1990.

Mrs. Fitzwater's late husband, John L. Fitzwater Jr., was a teacher at Southern High School for a number of years.

The mother of three, she has eight grandchildren; three of whom are attending school in Garrett County. "I have an intense interest in education and the future of our children," she said.

"Our children are our most important asset. We must not sell them short. It is our bounden duty to assure these young people the best education possible as they are the leaders of tomorrow," she said.

"If elected, I will strive to bring consistency and continuity to our county's governing bodies. I will dedicate my efforts to maintain and enhance our educational system; to help teachers regain the support and respect they so rightfully deserve as they continue the task of dedication and hard work," she concluded.

Patricia Bowser, Oakland, is serving as Mrs. Fitzwater's campaign treasurer.

ARTWORK NOW ON DISPLAY AT LIBRARY -- The artwork of local artist, Jesse Brobst, is currently on display at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland throughout the month of January. A 1986 graduate of Northern High School, Brobst's most recent works are done in pen and ink and mostly depict North American wildlife. His earlier work, completed in high school, will also be on display. Brobst attended Calhoun Community College in Huntsville, Ala., where he majored in business administration. He has recently moved back to the county. He is compiling his most recent work for a 1993 calendar. Samples of his artwork are shown above and at right. Brobst is pictured below.

Education Board Meeting Slated; Agenda Noted

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, January 14, in the conference room of the education board office. The executive session will be held in the morning, with the public session beginning at 1 p.m.

The schedule is subject to change, but as of this morning the agenda was written as follows: 1:15, the yearly re-organization of the board of education (election of officers); 1:35, student representatives from county schools will visit and present a "bill of rights" for approval; 2:40, Chapter I grant application for school improvement; 2:45, Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills results reported; 3 p.m., proposed school calendar revisions; 3:10, a discussion concerning the lack of consensus of the Garrett County Commissioners concerning the school consolidation.

At 3:15, a budget work session date will be decided upon; 3:25, a funding resolution will be studied; 3:30, bus stop appeal.

Public comment will be held at 4 p.m., as at all monthly meetings. An annual ethics form will be discussed at 4:15, a draft policy for board meetings will be acted on at 4:20, and legislative issues will be discussed at 4:25. Maryland 2000 will the topic at 4:30 until 5 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the public session of the meeting.

Friendsville Man Found Guilty Of Sex Offenses

John A. Cosner, 28, Friendsville, was found guilty last week of several sex offense charges, including second degree rape, second degree sex offense, and incest. A count of third degree sex offense was merged with the second degree sex offense charge. Cosner made a motion to dismiss the charges, but Judge Fred A. Thayer of Garrett County Circuit Court denied the motion and announced the guilty verdict. He then ordered a pre-sentence investigation and revoked the defendant's bail.

Cosner reportedly forced a 22-year-old female to drive to a secluded area and have sexual intercourse with him. He threatened the safety of her children if she did not comply with his wishes, according to the report.

The defendant was remanded to the custody of the Garrett County Sheriff pending sentencing.

John R. Toston was Cosner's attorney.

In other circuit court news, Brian K. Craver, 25, Deer Park, convicted of being an accessory after the fact, will serve three years in the Maryland Department of Corrections by order of Thayer. Craver was sentenced last Thursday.

The defendant was charged after he admitted to being involved in the March 2, 1991, fatal stabbing of Terry L. Wilson. Robert L. Stark, 26, Oakland, was convicted of killing Wilson, and Craver reportedly assisted Stark in hiding the victim's body and cleaning the site of the crime.

Craver originally told police that he was not present at the time of the stabbing, but after failing a lie-detector test, confessed to being an accessory after the fact. He pleaded guilty to the charge in a November hearing, at which time a pre-sentence investigation was ordered. The defendant began serving his sentence following last Thursday's proceedings.

Craver was represented by John R. Toston.

Robert S. Storey, 37, Baltimore, pleaded guilty last week to driving under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol (DUI) and failure to drive right of center. Thayer accepted the plea and fined Storey $500 for the DUI charge and $10 for the traffic violation.

Storey was arrested by Maryland State Police officers in September 1991 at the intersection of Gravelly Run Road and U.S. Rt. 219.

Robert W. Strange represented Storey.

Michael P. McCarthy, 36, Stevensville, appealed a Garrett County District Court sentence given to him for three counts of trespassing on posted property. Judge Jack R. Turney sentenced the defendant to 180 days in the Garrett County Jail, suspended, and 180 days of unsupervised probation. He also fined McCarthy $200.

In circuit court, McCarthy pleaded guilty to two counts of trespassing, and the third was not prosecuted. Thayer reimposed the suspended jail term, but eliminated the unsupervised probation order.

McCarthy was arrested in July 1991 after he allegedly trespassed on restricted grounds at the Jennings Randolph Lake. The Army Corps of Engineers had restricted the area in question, according to the report.

McCarthy had no counsel in the appeal.

Sanitary Commission Status Concerns County Officials; Members Frustrated

The autonomous status of the Garrett County Sanitary District was the topic of discussion over the past week among three county agencies -- The Garrett County Board of County Commissioners, The Garrett County Sanitary Commission and the Garrett County Planning Commission -- and members of the Sanitary Commission were seeking a resolution to the issue at a meeting held with the commissioners Tuesday.

Along with Garrett County Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel, three members of the Sanitary Commission asked the commissioners for feedback concerning criticism recently leveled at them -- personally and professionally -- and explained their decision-making process as "fair and equitable," according to member Ben Rosenthal.

Dorothy Leuba, chairperson of the Sanitary Commission, told the commissioners that she and other members of the commission are "very frustrated and upset."

Leuba explained that she has and does serve on various boards but she has never been exposed to the level of "harassment" she has dealt with as a member of the Sanitary Commission. "My integrity has been questioned and I have even been accused of operating outside of the law."

She continued, "If the county commissioners can run the Sanitary Commission any better, fine. If not, let us do our work. Frankly, I'd like to get it settled and I want a decision. I didn't know there was this much dissatisfaction."

Commissioner Elwood Groves, who requested legislation to bring the Sanitary Commission under the authority of county government, responded by stating that the Sanitary Commission should be "less autonomous and more a part of county government," adding, "This is no reflection on Wendell and the Sanitary Commission members, but things need to be more coherent between the two commissions. We shouldn't be going in opposite directions."

Leuba then asked what the "major problem" was, and Groves stated that it was a "lack of security people feel dealing with the Sanitary Commission -- they don't feel they can have an impact on the decisions made."

Groves continued that the Sanitary Commission is "a powerful agency that makes decisions that impact many people, and those people don't see any accountability."

Sanitary Commission member Ben Rosenthal disagreed that there was no accountability to the people, stating, "The members of the Sanitary Commission are appointed by the county commissioners, and we are financially audited by the same auditors used by the commissioners. In addition, a representative from the county commissioners has always been invited to attend our meetings but no one has ever come."

Rosenthal then stated, "If there's been an oversight in accountability, it's been on the part of the county commissioners, and not the Sanitary Commission. We think the accusations have been made without substantiation of the facts." He added that the members of the commission have, at times, not been given the opportunity to respond to criticism, because they read about it or hear it through the media.

Groves, however, stated that, "apparently there are relationship problems because three towns -- Mtn. Lake Park, Loch Lynn and Kitzmiller -- have continually lobbied the commissioners to bring the Sanitary Commission under the control of county government."

Wendell Beitzel noted that he has met with the towns regularly. "I always make myself available," he said. He added that, in recent months, there has been even more communication because of the universal rate proposal for the county water and sewer rates.

The proposed universal rate has been a controversial topic for several months, with the county commissioners unanimously opposed to the universal rate and petitions coming from the towns of Mtn. Lake Park, Loch Lynn and Kitzmiller in opposition to the rate. Those petitions also called for the Sanitary Commission to be brought under the county's authority.

Implementation of that universal rate would result in residents of those towns paying more and residents of Shallmar and Gorman paying less.

Beitzel noted that Mtn. Lake Park currently has the lowest water rate in the county and that rate has not been raised in over 10 years. "The increase they would see under the universal rate would be minor compared to what other towns are paying," he said.

He also stressed that the Sanitary Commission was able to obtain grants that paid the full amount for two sewer projects -- Crellin and Gorman -- so that "no debt whatsoever existed for the county." He also said that the Sanitary Commission has been responsible for over $40 million worth of capital improvements for water and sewer projects, that all the "bonded indebtedness has been retired, and the current indebtedness to lending institutions amounts to $2,257,890.

"We've done all we can to hold down rates and to provide assistance to the users," he said.

Rosenthal then pointed out that, if they opt for the separate rate (which is the current structure), there will be significant rate increases in the small systems such as Shallmar and Gorman, and those people will be the first knocking at your door." He also noted that those systems are currently operating on a deficit.

"Someone has to pay for the operation and maintenance of those systems," stated Rosenthal, who added, "The question is, 'What is the best mechanism and who is the best entity to pay for the system?' Also, we can't turn the ownership of the systems over to the towns (a possible option suggested by Commissioner John Braskey) without them having a qualified operator of those systems."

Leuba pointed out that "no one could expect the people of Shallmar and Gorman to pay such high water rates. They're so high that people just aren't going to pay them."

Commissioner Groves, however, warned the commission members that if the universal rate is implemented, "I have a feeling it's going to involve litigation."

Groves is the only commissioner in favor of bringing the Sanitary Commission under the authority of county government. Recently, he asked that legislation be passed to at least allow the commissioners the authority to do so.

Commissioner Braskey disagreed with the concept, stating that he felt bringing the Sanitary Commission under the control of the county would tend to "politicize the issues" too much. He added that the county does have a form of control now by virtue of appointing the commission members and by approving the formation of any sanitary districts.

During a meeting of the Garrett County Planning Commission last week, the topic of the Sanitary Commission's independent status as an agency was also given the limelight. Commissioner Groves, an ex-officio member of the Planning Commission, briefed the members about the controversy and his role in it.

Groves told the members that he was probably the commissioner most involved with the issue because the towns with the most complaints are in his district.

"What can the county commissioners do when there is a serious disagreement between the direction of the board of county commissioners and the direction of the Sanitary Commission?," he said, continuing, "So, you have two important bodies -- one where there is no accountability to the people because the commission members are not elected, and there's really not much of a way to work out the differences."

Groves also stated, "We always get the complaints from people who feel they have no route of appeal and we can't do much to address their appeals at this point."

He noted that, up until about two years ago, the two boards had a good working relationship, and stated, "Probably one of the more disconcerting scenarios that took place was the issue over the Shallmar water district.

The Deputy Was Wrong...

There was quite a bit of excitement in downtown Oakland Tuesday afternoon when the main office of First United National Bank & Trust was robbed. Within moments the area was crawling with police officers, who secured the scene and began a frantic search for the allegedly armed man who perpetrated the crime.

While the vast majority of law enforcement officials conducted themselves properly and professionally, unfortunately there was at least one Garrett County sheriff's deputy who did not. We at The Republican office know this for a fact because several members of our staff were front-row eyewitnesses to the following incident.

One of our finest employees, who has been on our staff for over 20 years, was just finishing his lunch in the pressroom when he heard about the robbery. Like many other curious citizens, he decided to walk down the alley to Second Street to observe what was happening. He had no sooner reached Second Street when he was stopped, or perhaps more accurately, accosted, by Deputy Jeff Green. After being told to put his hands on his head and turn around, the employee was then frisked by the deputy.

There was no question that the employee fit the description of the bank robber in terms of size, hair, and even clothing, and we really cannot fault the deputy for making the stop as he did and going through the procedure described above. It was what transpired after the frisk that was, in our opinion, an outrageous, blatant violation of our employee's rights.

The deputy demanded that Gary remain in the same position, with his hands on his head, and he would not allow him to turn around and face him. He asked no further questions, such as "What is your name?", "Where were you five minutes ago?", "Is there someone who can substantiate your location?" He didn't even talk to him. He was neither polite nor courteous. He never told Gary, until it was all over, that he fit the description of a person who had just robbed the bank.

The deputy totally ignored several other members of the newspaper staff, including the manager and editor, who told him who this employee was and where he was at the time of the robbery. Of course, the deputy didn't know who we were either, but he would not even acknowledge our presence or ask us the appropriate questions that would have cleared things up immediately.

When it was finally over, and the deputy was informed by another officer that his suspect was not the robber, he handed back Gary's wallet and left without so much as an apology.

The entire incident was not only frightening, but also extremely embarrassing for Gary, as numerous bystanders observed what had happened.

Apparently several other suspects were stopped, which is to be expected, but we were informed that one of them was actually handcuffed and taken to the bank for the teller to look at!

We have, over the years, received a number of calls and letters to the editor alleging mistreatment and violations of rights by our law enforcement personnel. While we cannot claim with certainty these other incidents occurred as described by the victims, we can say with absolute certainty that such an incident occurred Tuesday in front of our office. Our employee most likely has grounds for a lawsuit, or could probably have charges filed against the deputy; however, he is not the type of person who would likely pursue such a thing.

There are several other points we want to emphasize. We know that our police officers have a tough, dangerous, often thankless job to do. We know that they have to deal with a rather miserable lot of humanity on a daily basis. We know they are not compensated very well for what they have to do. We believe that the great majority of our officers, including the county deputies, conduct themselves in a professional manner.

We also have full confidence in Sheriff Van Evans and believe he is doing an excellent job. We would not hesitate to vote for him if his re-election for sheriff were held today. He is well aware of these occasional problems with his deputies and he has dealt with them, sometimes to the point of terminating the officer's employment. We have spoken to him about this incident and are confident that he will address the problem with Deputy Green.

Sometimes police officers have to be rough, but Deputy Green needs to learn that it is vital that they handle all situations with professionalism and not with the Gestapo-like tactics we witnessed this week.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In last week's Republican there was a letter written by Herb Clevenger, Friendsville.

I am one of those parents who is not happy with the transportation.

On Nov. 1, 1991, the director of transportation took my children's school bus stop away. The director said that my children had to walk to the next stop.

It has been 34 school days and I still can't get it in the director's head that this road is dangerous.

My children are to walk in the road with coal trucks, log trucks and speeders and the director of transportation thinks this is safety!

Susan Lewis
Friendsville

To the Editor:

This letter is a letter of questions to the taxpayers and citizens of Garrett County.

Do you want the Board of Education to have the power of SEPARATE taxation? This separate taxation is going to be proposed by Delegate George Edwards. What kind of raises will the administrators get if they become a taxing body?

Do you want the Board members to be their own person or do you want them to be "YES" people to the Administration?

There are six people running for the Board of Education. You and I as taxpayers and citizens of Garrett County have the right to have these questions answered. The administrative members of the Board of Education, i.e., Dr. Ryscavage, Mr. Morris, and Mike Sines act like dictators (Hussein/Castro etc.). Maybe they believe they are. Maybe they should read the papers and discover that there are only a few places in the world which employ dictators. Hopefully Garrett County will soon be a place where they aren't employed.

Our very intelligent forefathers once said, "Stay together or hang separately." In this case we will all hang by our pocketbooks.

To the bus drivers, contractors, and bus association: Are you happy and satisfied with the supervisor of transportation or are you a "YES, MR. SINES" person?

If you want answers to these questions, hang together and write a letter to the editor, the Board of Education or the commissioners and sign the petition that is begin circulated.

Sincerely,
Jack L. Shaffer
Kitzmiller

To the Editor:

Garrett Community College is smoke free! As of January 1, 1992, there is no more smoking in the buildings of GCC. We have been honored to be included in the 1992 Wellness Together Calendar for the month of January, and we would like to encourage other educational institutions, government offices, business and industry to consider joining us in providing a smoke-free environment for work.

Our success in instituting a smoke-free policy has taken a considerable amount of time, but when the evidence is examined about the health risks from inhaling tobacco smoke directly as well as inhaling environmental tobacco smoke, we could not do less than work towards a plan of action that has culminated in our 1992 Smoke-Free Policy. The Garrett County Health Department was instrumental in assisting us with information and educational sessions for students, faculty, staff and administration.

We invite other organizational and work site representatives to attend the "Town Meetings" that have been planned for Thursday, January 23, at 7 p.m., in the Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, or Thursday, January 30, at 7 p.m., at Southern Garrett High School, Oakland. The newly formed Tobacco-Free Coalition of Garrett County invites all citizens to attend these meetings which will include exhibits, information, prizes, and refreshments.

Sincerely yours,
Manning L. Smith,

To the Editor:

I am concerned about frequent national reports that show that young girls interested and talented in math/science areas drop their involvement in them at an alarming rate as they progress through the upper grades and make actual career choices. I feel this loss of female interest in math/science studies will continue to threaten our nation's ability to compete. With high school population at a lower number, we need females in these fields.

For those girls who do remain involved in mathematics, computer, and science careers, female role models have played an important part in influencing girls to pursue their studies and to persist in these careers. Mentors are needed to open networks and provide support. According to Dr. Barbara Kerr, most eminent women have had mentors, but since careers in math and science have been traditionally populated by men, the chance to provide role models and female mentors has been difficult.

Female role models are needed for the American Association of University Women's Career Fair in Annapolis on February 29 -- to chat with students, answer questions, and to explain their work and jobs. Although there will be nearly 200 female role models at the Annapolis Career Fair, the AAUW particularly invites interested Garrett County women to participate either as a role model or as a volunteer assistant. Anyone interested, please attend the meeting at Ruth Enlow Library on January 14 at 4:00, or call Sheila Edwards at 334-9344 or Gail Herman, 387-9597 for further information.

To the Editor:

The present landfill could last at least 25 years. It could meet all of the new requirements to operate it safely. There is plenty of area for natural drainage to go into the treatment pond. This is contrary to what Ms. Metz told the Times News about the on-site soil. According to the inspector there is more than sufficient soil to close out the landfill. As for the new landfill, if you were to dig a hole 50 feet deep, what would you do with that dirt? Maybe send it to Russia.

The following amount is an approximate low estimate of what it would cost per month to have waste hauled to another county: $400,000 for tipping fee; $50,000 extra for hauling (other listing is at least $100,000); transfer station would be at least five times more to operate than the present landfill. That would be at least $6 million per year above the present cost.

Garrett County could charge $20 per ton (compared to $40 to $120 per ton elsewhere) for tipping fee and generate about $50,000 to $100,000 per month or more if kept operating as it is now.

The figure I have quoted

An Update From The Superintendent

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent Of Garrett County Public Schools

School-Community Centers Program

(This article was written in conjunction with Mr. Tom Woods, Coordinator of the School-Community Centers Program for the Garrett County Board of Education.)

The School-Community Center Program (SCCP) was initiated in 1971 through a cooperative effort of the governor and the General Assembly. Grant-In-Aid funds are channeled through the Maryland State Department of Education to local school boards to allow schools to remain open after regular school hours for the purpose of educational and recreational endeavors.

The program is funded entirely by State dollars. This year we were awarded $20,812 to meet the needs of our 5,000 students in Garrett County. From our grant we must pay instructors, equipment, travel costs, administrative costs, and employer social security. The severe financial problems facing our state have made a major impact on the SCCP in that we have been cut from approximately $29,000 two years ago.

Since Garrett County offers no Parks and Recreation Program, the local SCCP experience is the sole effort in the area of organized recreation. We run several after-school drop-in-recreation programs at most elementary schools throughout the county. We also offer summer playground programs at five sites around the county. We have recently made vast strides in the area of educational offerings through SCCP. Our program offers many computer centers, tutoring centers, reading labs and other education courses throughout the county at the various elementary and secondary schools. As a result of these after-school programs, we serve a dual purpose of fulfilling a latch key service to families.

Virtually every staff member in the SCCP is affiliated with the Garrett County Board of Education either as a teacher, principal, or service worker. Unlike most programs in the state, we have been fortunate enough to attract well-trained, competent instructors who make their living dealing with these same children during the regular school day.

This year our program began on January 2 and is in force in practically every school in Garrett County. The winter program generally runs for 10 to 16 weeks. The summer program will begin in early June and finish around the middle of August. Hopefully, the program will continue to receive funding since it provides recreational opportunities for so many.

What's happening in our schools this week?

* All ninth grade students in the county will have to take the Maryland Citizenship Test sometime this month. This is one of the four functional tests required for graduation. The testing period begins this coming week, with the test actually being given between then and the end of the month.

* The 1991 Northern Middle School yearbook, Polaris, has been selected as a finalist for the 1992 Yearbook Yearbook, Taylor's annual collection of yearbook design and copyrighting excellence. Congratulations to the staff and their advisors, Mrs. Nancy Frank and Mrs. Mary Jane Dye.

The Garrett County Schools Update can be heard each week on WMSG Radio at 8:35 a.m. each Monday, WXIE Radio at 8:30 p.m. each Saturday, and at 3:30 p.m. each Saturday on WAIJ Radio.

Senior Citizens' Menus

"Eating Together" sites are now operating two days per week and offer only two menu selections per week. The menu for the week of January 13-17 is as follows:

Day 1 - Apple sauce, porcupine balls, augratin potatoes, spinach, rye bread, chocolate pudding.

Day 2 - Tomato juice, bowl bean soup w/ham, corn bread, pear half w/grated cheese, pumpkin cake.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Telephone numbers of individual sites are as follows: Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, 746-8824; Bull's Restaurant, Bloomington, 359-3035; Finzel Fire Hall, Finzel, 689-8388; Old Mill Grill, Friendsville, 746-5414; Old Mill Restaurant, Gorman, 334-4865; Starner Hill Apts., Grantsville, 895-5092; Jennings Community Building, Jennings, 245-4204; Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller, 453-3445; Oakland Senior Center, Mtn. Lake Park, 334-3399; and Swanton Community Building, Swanton, 387-9191.

LWV THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The course will be held Saturday, January 18, from 1-4 p.m. and the fee will be six empty beverage cans. Donna Aspinall, Bobbie Andersen, Lee Thorne and B&S Scrap will be among the leaders of the seminar. For further information call Donna at 334-1804.

The Mind Wanders

Happy Birthday, Scuz
by Pam Ashby

Boy, have I got her running scared. She thinks I'm putting some dippy picture of her from the past in today's paper with a goofy birthday poem about how old she is today. She has even threatened me with bodily harm. Yep, she's on needles and pins wondering what I have in store for her.

I've known her for 40 years. I'm the one who's 40, so figure it out. Who's the elder sister? That's not important. We've been best friends probably since I was able to walk and talk. That's not to say we haven't had our differences over the years. Two sisters with distinct personalities are bound to disagree. And the "pet" names we've given each other are often understood only by us.

We certainly have varied tastes. As children, she liked red and I liked blue. Her favorite doll was "Tiny Tears." Mine was "Betsy Wetsy." With a Magic Marker she made "Barbie" anatomically correct. I followed suit with "Ken." She always ordered cheeseburgers. Fish sandwiches for me. She munched Wise barbecue chips. I chose plain Ruffles. She was going to marry Ben Casey. I lusted after Dr. Kildare. She was obsessed with The Beatles. I preferred The Rolling Stones. She believes in nature. I worship God.

But we mesh in many other ways. While our passions in life may often be on different planes, we share a love for creating. We're both writers. She chooses each word carefully. I spew forth and let the words fall where they may. But we respect each other's craft. And that's all that matters.

We both love food -- to cook it and eat it -- and we don't trust anyone who doesn't. We share a great admiration for the earth and we are fulfilled with dirt under our nails and fresh vegetables and flowers to show for our efforts. We are happiest when we trek through unknown woods and discover a unique, yet dazzling, weed she can dry and use later for one of her magnificent creations. She truly does exquisite work and I believed in her talent so much that I now grow flowers in my own garden that I can dry for her.

Sisters two, we cry when babies are born, when music evokes fond memories, when old movies have happy endings. We laugh at off-the-wall comedians and we guffaw at people who have no sense of humor at all. But sometimes I wonder if Sherry knows how much I admire her? While I tease her about how most men treat her differently than they treat me because she's gorgeous, is she aware that I see more clearly her inner beauty -- her humanity? Does she know I deeply respect her ability to speak her mind without losing her cool.

We have been through so much together and even during the tragic times that so often occurred in the middle of the night, we complemented each other and pulled through. We've gotten lost on back roads. We've been cursed by motorists who felt we should be going the other way on a one-way street. We've sung not-so-perfect harmony to The Dixie Cups or The Beach Boys. We've gotten home at 3 a.m. on a wing and a prayer with nothing but fumes in the gas tank. And we've done it all laughingly and lovingly.

Auto Manufacturer In Camp In Garrett County

A staff correspondent of the Cumberland Daily News of Cumberland visited the camp of Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, at Swallow Falls on last Thursday and as a result of the interview with the manufacturer the following appeared in the News on Friday morning:

Mr. Ford described how he had spent Wednesday. The camping party, which is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edison, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone Jr., Bishop and Mrs. William F. Anderson, and Russell Firestone, reached Swallow Falls Tuesday night from Big Pool, the party being held up for over an hour when one of the motor trucks had difficulty in crossing a bridge not far from Muddy Creek.

On Wednesday Mr. Ford spent a good bit of time hiking. Part of the time he was accompanied by Mr. Edison. Together they chanced across an old boiler at a saw mill. Mr. Ford sketched it and both he and Mr. Edison remarked that they had never before seen a boiler of similar construction. In talking about his sketch Mr. Ford said:

"I wanted to look at that boiler because I had never seen anything like it before, and especially because it was something old. I have found that there is much more to be learned from an old thing than from a new one. You see, an old thing has been tried and has been found to be of service. A new thing is still an experiment and you can't learn so much from it."

(Since Wednesday Mr. Ford purchased the boiler from the owner, Mr. Newton Reams, and directed that it be shipped to his plant at Akron.)

"While Mr. Edison and Mr. Ford were examining the old boiler the elder Mr. Firestone rode through the woods on a pony, in search of a bear that someone had sighted earlier in the day. Some country boys, who were visitors to the camp, lent the pony to Mr. Firestone. He had an interesting time but failed to come up with the bear.

Besides the 11 members of the party, there are about 15 attendants. The campers, though well provided for, are not taking advantage of the elaborate facilities, but are roughing it to a considerable degree.

The party broke camp on Sunday, passing through Oakland just before noon with a point in the West Virginia mountains near Elkins as their objective.

AURORA/EGLON NEWS

PERSONAL MENTION

Ernest Arnold, a resident of the Goodwill Mennonite Home and formerly of Eglon, is now a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland as the result of a stroke.

Cora Cullers, niece of Dayton and Betty Bolyard, Eglon, was again hospitalized last week in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, but is at home now.

Mrs. Carl (Wilma) Jenkins of Aurora is a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital after having a hip replacement last week. Her hip fractured at her home and she was transported by ambulance.

Ross and Naomi Teets of Aurora accompanied Harold and Martha Holsopple of Red House to Springfield, Va., on Saturday. The Holsopples were overnight guests of Alan and Mary Teets and the elder Teetses stayed with their son, Doyne, and Bonnie Teets. The purpose of the trip was to attend ceremonies on Saturday evening in which Jason Teets received his Eagle Scout badge. Also visiting were Greta, Andy and Kristi Weeks of Claymont, Del., who were there so that Andy could participate in the ceremony for his cousin by serving as flag bearer. Following a family dinner on Sunday, the visitors returned to their respective homes.

Herb and Jean Starr spent the holidays in Ohio where they visited with Mr. Starr's mother, Annie Starr, his sisters, including one of whom is in the hospital, with their children and grandchildren, and all of Mrs. Starr's brothers and their families. Since returning home to Stemple Ridge, weekend visitors there were Eldean and Claud Poling of Shepherdstown, and Linda Ayers and Dan Liston of Farmington, Pa.

New Year's Day dinner guests of Louella and Norman Fike, Aurora, were Kevin and Becky Fike, Gary, Cleta and Brian Fike, all Terra Alta. Both Kevin and Brian had visited longer with their grandmother.

The children of Mrs. Opal Stemple will honor their mother with a card shower for her 88th birthday on January 15. Her address is: c/o Cortland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas, WV 26292.

Celebrating her birthday January 12 will be Mrs. Lydia Harsh who is staying in the home of her daughter, Cleota Hoisington. Her address is 3734 State Rt. 43, Canton, Ohio 44240.

Tammy and Cody Fauber have returned to their home in Albany, Ga., after spending two weeks in Aurora visiting her parents, Scott and Dean Sisler, and others of her family. Her husband, Albert "Buddy" Fauber, was unable to accompany her here.

On Friday evening, Dean and Scott Sisler hosted a family dinner for all of their children and their mothers: Michael and June Sisler and children, Ron and Donetta Nice and Dane, Ron and Jana Freeman and daughters, Cara and Darren Radford, Shauna and Paul Perrine, Tammy Fauber and Cody, Maxine Hauser and Ernestine Sisler.

Doris Denison returned the weekend following Christmas to her home in Miami Lakes, Fla. During her visit here, a family dinner was held in the home of her mother, Maxine Hauser, for all of the Hauser children.

Word has been received here of the critical illness of Wilma Conn Hauser, who had recently moved to the home of her son, Ralph A. Hauser, at Temperance, Mich., from her own home. She is now hospitalized in a Temperance hospital.

SENIORS MEET

Union District Seniors met Saturday evening, January 4, for a covered dish dinner at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building with Paul Stemple asking blessing of the meal.

Devotions were a meditation on miracles from Norman Vincent Peale and read by Rita Sue Harsh and another, "Prayers Can't Be Answered Unless Prayed," by William "Bink" Sisler. Ted Hardesty closed the devotions with prayer.

Mrs. Harsh and Mr. Sisler then sang a number of gospel songs for the group and Mrs. Harsh concluded with prayer. There were 30 present for the meeting.

Keyser Resident Earns Promotion

Susan Chaney, formerly of Keyser, W.Va., was recently promoted to controller of RSSB, Inc. t/a Doorguard Systems in Baltimore. Doorguard is a manufacturer of time delay locking systems to control egress from emergency exit or perimeter doors, while fully complying with all fire safety codes. It markets this product in the United States and Canada.

Miss Chaney was orginially hired by Village Lock & Key, in Columbia, Md., in June 1991. Village Lock & Key is a retail and service Locksmith Center and is one of two sister companies of Doorguard Systems. She still holds the accountant post along with her new duties.

Miss Chaney is also the lead female vocalist and keyboard player for "The Stickmen," a Baltimore area band which concentrates on progressive/classic rock format. She is a 1983 graduate of Keyser High School and a 1988 graduate of Thiel College where she received a bachelor of science degree in accounting and one in business administration. She is currently studying for the CPA exam, which she will take and plans to in May 1992.

Miss Chaney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Chaney, Keyser; granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Watson, and the late Wanda M. Watson; and the granddaughter of Ms. Ruby Chaney, orginially of Terra Alta.

Blood Screening Set At Mt. Storm

The American Heart Association is sponsoring blood screening tests, Saturday, January 25, working with the Mt. Top Medical Center at Mt. Storm, and Grant Memorial Hospital, spearhead by Ellen Kirby, Grant County health nurse.

All interested must call the medical center at 693-7616 to register. "This will give us an idea of how many to plan for," stated Ms. Kirby.

The cost for these 33 screenings will be $23.

Graham Winner Of Geography Bee At East Preston

Andy Graham, a student at East Preston Jr. High School, has won the school-level competition of the National Geography Bee and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level bee, at which students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the fourth annual National Geography Bee, which is sponsored by national Geographic WORLD, the Society's magazine for children, and Amtrak.

Graham will now take a written test and up to 100 of the top scorers in each state and territory will be eligible to compete in their state Bee March 27.

The National Geographic Society with its co-sponsors will provide an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C., for state champions and their teacher escorts to participate in the National Geography Bee national championship on May 20 and 21. The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second-place winner, a $15,000 scholarship and the third-place winner, a $10,000 scholarship.

Deer Park Man Treated After One-Car Mishap

A Deer Park man was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital Friday night following a single-vehicle mishap on the Steiding Church Road, according to a nursing spokeswoman.

Raymond P. Bennett, 29, was injured when the 1984 Mercury Topaz he was operating east on the Steiding Church Road crossed the center line, ran off the left side of the road, and struck a tree, reported Maryland State Police at Barrack W, McHenry.

Bennett was transported to the local hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

DWI CHARGE

A Frostburg man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs and with changing lanes when unsafe to do so following a Sunday evening mishap on Interstate 68.

John F. Bond, 55, was charged by Tfc. J.W. Hare following the 6:40 p.m. mishap that occurred when Bond, operating a 1980 Chevrolet Citation, attempted to pass a vehicle in another lane of the thruway, lost control and crossed over two additional westbound lanes. The vehicle then ran off the right side of the highway, struck a ditch, and came to rest on an embankment.

In an unrelated mishap, Howard V. Sisler, 21, Oakland, was charged with DWI by Tfc. J.W. Hare on January 1.

FALLS ASLEEP

A Mtn. Lake Park man escaped serious injured but was treated and released from the local hospital last Thursday following a single-vehicle mishap.

Wesley Massey, 35, was slightly injured when he reportedly fell asleep at the wheel of the pickup truck he was operating on Rt. 39, east of Crellin. The truck traveled up an embankment and struck several trees before overturning, said state police.

Massey was not charged in the 7:40 p.m. mishap. He was taken to the hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

is based upon the present landfill and may not be perfect, but I have worked at the landfill for five and ½ years, and I have not seen any of the Garrett County commissioners or anybody from any other company during working hours.

What if Allegany County can take only 1,000 tons per day and there is 900 tons? That would mean that Garrett County would be able to dispose of only 100 tons that day. What would become of the rest?

I feel that Garrett County has a lot of hard-working people who are smart enough to operate the landfill. Remember one thing: if somebody else takes over the garbage, the people will pay whatever they ask. It will be too late to turn back and the price will go up and up. I would hope that the Garrett County commissioners would want to keep the money and business within the county.

Every day I bury tons and tons of cardboard, plastic, and yes, even the paper that is put in the recycling cans.

The U.S. government talks about the environment, but yet they want to destroy another piece of ground. It looks to me as if all the government wants to do is to destroy the environment and to see how much money they can spend.

As for closing, I would like to invite the county commissioners to come look at the prettiest, best kept landfill in the whole U.S.A. Also the cheapest operating one, too -- but not for long.

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, January 14, 1992, Congresswoman Beverly Byron will hold a health care town meeting at Hagerstown Junior College (Room C11) in Washington County, a central location in the Sixth Congressional District. This will be an evening meeting from 6:30 to 8 p.m., to provide information on the health care reform proposals before Congress and give people an opportunity to participate in a discussion concerning health care.

Legislative initiative includes, according to Congresswoman Byron, creating a single payer system similar to Canada's, expanding the employment-based health insurance program, and providing tax incentives for health insurance. Before deciding on any approach, an integral part of the health care debate must focus on finance. Whether the health system, should be paid for through a combination of flat premiums and taxes or whether it should be 100 percent taxpayer-funded.

The United States spent $2,354 per person on health care in 1989. This is expected to rise to $5,513 per person by the year 2000. All of us must keep this in mind when considering changes to our health care system.

Congresswoman Byron does not anticipate that we will develop the answers to our health care problems at the January town meeting. Rather, it will be a chance to listen and learn for her constituents, and allow her to get a better understanding of our views on health care before Congress reconvenes for the new year.

Sincerely,
Jerome W. Cox

To the Editor:

I just read your article in the paper this week and I was pleased to know that someone cares for something that is important to the taxpayers.

I wrote a couple of months ago and it appeared that no one cares as long as we had teachers in our school. I want to thank Ruth M. Snyder for writing in and seeing things as they really are. It is not right for us taxpayers to pay the teachers salary just for them sitting around and asking the parents to do the work that the teachers are being paid for. Yes, I agree that the parents should help their children when they can, but the parents shouldn't have to do all the work. After all, what are the teachers being paid for? Not much if you ask me.

A Taxpayer,
Shirley Michaels

P.S. The teachers do not deserve a raise. And again, I want to give thanks to Ruth M. Snyder.

PETITION

The undersigned hereby petition the Garrett County School Board to remove Michael G. Sines as Director of Student Transportation for Garrett County, Maryland. The undersigned believe that the interest of students, parents and drivers involved in the transportation of the school age population in Garrett County can only be protected and enhanced by the removal of Michael G. Sines and the appointment of a new Director of Student Transportation.

COVE

There will be communion this Sunday, January 12, during the worship service at St. John's Lutheran Church, ELCA, at 9 a.m. followed by the Sunday School session. The Rev. Stephen Yelovich is the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Miller were Friday evening visitors of the latter's mother, Mrs. Hazel Oester, at the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville. Mrs. Miller visited with her mother again on Sunday at the home. Mrs. Oester will mark her 90th birthday anniversary this Monday, January 13, at the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville, MD 21536.

Campbells soup and other Campbells products labels are saved for the Lutheran School for the Deaf and special education ministries, Detroit, and will be sent to the School in the near future. Labels to be sent may be left at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, or may be given to Mrs. Walter Hanft to send to the School.

Misses Phebe and Julia Maust were among the members of the Youth Group of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church that met at the church on New Year's Eve to "ring in" the New Year of 1992. FHA MEMBERS VISIT SENIORS, YOUNGSTERS - Members of the Northern High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America recently spent some special holiday time with some of the younger and older citizens of Garrett County. They visited the residents of the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home in Grantsville and presented each of them with a hand-crafted gift. They also stopped by the Cherry Glade Day Care Center, where they presented a puppet show and provided gifts to the children. Above (left to right), Anita House, Erica Sisler, FHA Advisor Barbara Law, and Kandi Sukow converse with, Mary Forney, a resident of the Goodwill home. At right, Anita House assists little Rachel Gonzales in a bubble-blowing effort. Below, the children enjoy the puppet show. This was the fifth year that the Northern FHA has conducted this Christmas community activity. Photos by Craig Speicher.

4-H Club News

COUNTRY KIDS

The Country Kids 4-H Club met on December 8, 1991, for its monthly meeting. The meeting was brought to order by Jennifer Barnard.

The members discussed the workshops that were held at the Extension office. Recently the club made 10 bears and dolls for children at Christmas time.

New officers for the coming year are as follows: senior officers are president, Jamie DeBerry; vice president, Scott Watkins; secretary, Jennifer Barnard; treasurer, Arthur Pysell; reporter, Danielle DeBerry; and photographer, Sarah Pysell.

Junior officers are: president, Nick Glotfelty; vice president, Bryan Barnard; secretary, Alicia DeWitt; reporter, April Clemmons.

The club met at Sandy DeWitt's day care and went from there to Dennett Road Nursing Home for Christmas caroling and went back to the day care for a Christmas party.

Next month's meeting will be on January 21 at 7 p.m. at the Extension office. Each member is to bring his record book and get them ready to turn in on February 1.

Refreshments for next month's meeting are to be brought by the DeBerry family. Jamie DeBerry and Jennifer Barnard are to give demonstrations at the next meeting. Each member and adult signed a get-well card for Jerry Browning who was a patient in the hospital.

Potomac Edison Speakers Bureau Available Free

The Potomac Edison Company's 57-member Speakers Bureau completed 212 presentations to more than 11,600 customers in 1991, reaching customers from kindergarten age to senior citizens, according to a PE spokesman.

Electrical safety, fundamentals of electricity, the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, how rates are made and protecting the environment are among the programs available to Potomac Edison customers free of charge. Programs are tailored to fit the specific needs of requesting groups by Potomac Edison representatives knowledgeable in those areas.

"Potomac Edison has long been a provider of safe, economical and reliable electric service, and we feel it is important to communicate with our customers," said Sam Meroney, Speakers Bureau coordinator. "Our Speakers Bureau members enjoy meeting with customers and speaking to them on topics related to the electric utility industry. This is a great way to hear about customer concerns and answer questions about the operations of our company."

Groups interested in receiving more information on Potomac Edison's Speakers Bureau and a brochure listing available programs can call (800) 654-3317.

CHURCH NEWS

Zion's altar flowers were given in honor of Pastor Louise Knotts on her birthday by Zion's Women of the ELCA on Sunday.

Pastor Knotts was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Buckel, along with Allen Kinsey, Rosina Buckel and Allison Buckel. Mrs. Gary Buckel had baked a birthday cake for her.

Emmanuel's Women of the ELCA will meet Friday, January 10, at 7:30 p.m. Members are reminded to bring their blue program booklets to be updated at this meeting. Materials suitable for quilt tops should also be brought to the church at this time.

Newsletter items are due by January 16. All those responsible for a report are asked to turn them in by Sunday, January 19. Treasurers are asked to make an extra copy and give to Pastor Knotts so she can complete her year-end reports.

Holy Communion will be celebrated this Sunday, January 12, at each church of the parish.

The Parish Youth Group met Sunday evening at Emmanuel.

Alan Kinsey is a guest in the Bittinger Parish and will stay until January 12. He is participating in a rural studies program.

PERSONALS

Alan Kinsey is a week's guest of Ruth DiPaolo. On Saturday evening, the following were supper guests: Pastor Louise Knotts, Alan Kinsey, Loretta Opel and Virginia Hesson. Sunday evening supper guests were the Sussman family, Rodney Glotfelty's family, and Carol Bass and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brenneman celebrated Christmas with family members. There were 41 in all -- 19 of them were grandchildren.

Martha Glotfelty entertained the residents of the Goodwill Nursing Home on Thursday evening with a half hour of Christmas songs and carols. She was accompanied by Mrs. Russell Brenneman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty joined Mr. and Mrs. Julius Carey at a restaurant in LaVale to celebrate the 14th birthday of Tony Carey.

Richard and Carolyn Yaste returned home Friday to Maple Valley, Wash., after spending several days with Leora Yaste. Kathryn Glotfelty also returned home on Friday.

Marion Stephens and Martha Glotfelty were New Year's Day dinner guests of Raymond and Isabel Klotz. Dorothy Bowser and Becky Bowser were Tuesday visitors of Martha Glotfelty.

CORRECTION

Last week the name Alice Glotfelty should have read Olive Glotfelty, and the name Mary Farney was misspelled.

NEW PASTORAL ASSIGNMENTS were made recently by the United Brethren Conference, resulting in a change at two local UB churches. For the first time, the Crellin and Underwood congregations will have their own separate pastors and worship services will be held at both churches each Sunday, rather than on an alternating basis as has been the practice for many years. Previously assigned to both churches was Rev. Michael Mudge, pictured left, who will now pastor at just the Crellin Church. At right is Underwood's newly assigned pastor, Rev. David Kisamore. Pictured center is Rev. Charles Teets, who retired in 1988 from serving both congregations and is now serving both the Gortner Union Church and Brookside Church of the Brethren. See story.

Crellin, Underwood Churches Have Separate Pastors

Two new pastoral assignments have been made by the United Brethren Conference, resulting in significant changes affecting the Crellin and Underwood congregations. For the first time, both churches have begun holding worship services every Sunday morning at 11 a.m., rather than alternating services every other Sunday, and each congregation has its own pastor.

Rev. Charles Teets retired from service to these two congregations in 1988, having been their pastor for 30 years. He came to Garrett County in 1958 when Crellin and Underwood were on a five-church circuit. He and his wife, Mary, reside at Gortner, and he is now in his 39th year of ministry, providing pastoral service to the Gortner Union Church and the Brookside Church of the Brethren.

Rev. Michael Mudge, who was appointed in 1988 to succeed Rev. Teets at both congregations, has been assigned as the first full-time pastor for the Crellin United Brethren Church. He is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, Cumberland; Frostburg State University; and Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky.

Rev. David Kisamore has begun his new assignment as student pastor to the Underwood United Brethren Church. He is a graduate of West Preston High School, Masontown, W.Va., and also of Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Va., where he is currently enrolled at Eastern Mennonite Seminary. He came to Underwood after serving three years as pastor of the Abrams Mennonite Church, St. Elizabeth Parish, Jamaica.

Pastors Mudge and Kisamore both became charter members of the Harrisonburg (Va.) United Brethren Church in 1986, where they gained experience in church planting under the pastorate of Rev. Harold Myers. Both were licensed to preach by the United Brethren conference in 1987, and Pastor Mudge was ordained as an elder in 1989.

The Church of the United Brethren in Christ was born on Pentecost Sunday, 1767, during a revival service held in a barn at Lancaster, Pa. Martin Boehm, a Mennonite Bishop, was preaching, and Wilhelm Otterbein, a German Reformed pastor, was so moved that he embraced Boenm and exclaimed: "Wir sind Brueder!" "We are brethren!", giving origin to the denomination. The revivalistic movement begun by these two men won many converts among the Germans in America, and when it was finally officially organized in Frederick County, Maryland, in 1800, it became the first Christian denomination born in the United Stated. Francis Scott Key and Wilbur and Orville Wright were among the earlier United Brethren Church members.

The United Brethren in Christ first came to Garrett County through the work of Bishop J.J. Glossbrenner of Hagerstown, overseer of the Virginia Conference. The Underwood congregation is named for its first pastor and was established in 1873. The Crellin congregation dates to the turn of the century and was part of the Crellin Union Church until 1956. A branch of the United Brethren Church was merged into the United Methodist Church in 1968; however, Crellin and Underwood remain with the branch which has preserved the Confession of Faith, Constitution, and name of the original movement.

Productivity To Be Focus Of GCC Class Series

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College will be offering a series of classes starting in January to address the changing productivity needs of the business community. These classes are designed to provide the skills and knowledge that will be most practical and valuable in meeting the diverse needs of the employees, managers and owners of area businesses, according to a GCC spokesman.

Six mini-classes are being offered this fall as part of a Fundamental Skills of Management and Supervision Series. They have been designed to meet the specific needs of those who manage or supervise employees in business, health, service organizations, or school settings. The content of each of these classes is interrelated to the content of the other classes. Participants may register for any combination of the classes, but will gain the most from each class by enrolling in all six classes, according to the spokesman. In order to address the individual needs of each participant, each class is limited to 12 students.

"Managing to Hire and Develop Good Employees," the first of the series, begins on January 21. This class will focus on practical issues that are critical to hiring, developing, and keeping good employees. Key topics include: employee selection; orientation; training and development; job descriptions and policy manuals; performance evaluations; effective supervisory techniques; legal responsibilities; progressive discipline; and terminations. The class meets on January 21 and 28 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

"Building Employee Productivity" is designed to help each participant explore and strengthen motivational and leadership skills that will help assure a productive, motivated work force. Key topics include: basic motivational techniques; the dynamics of effective leadership; developing team building skills; delegating to motivate; using situational leadership; and the components of personal change. The class will meet February 4 and 11 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

"Strengthening Your Assertiveness and Communication Skills" is designed to enable participants to build confidence and personal power by learning to effectively use assertiveness techniques and basic communication principles. Practical "hands on" learning experiences will be offered in: assessing and strengthening assertiveness skills; practicing effective communication techniques; focusing on listening to communication; and giving and getting positive feedback. The class will meet February 18 and 25 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

"Communication Challenges for Supervisor" will help supervisors confront difficult supervisory and managerial situations in a positive "win-win" fashion. In order to participate in this class students must have completed "Strengthening Your Assertiveness and Communication Skills." The class will include skill building opportunities in: dealing with problem employees; managing difficult customers; terminating employees; conducting performance evaluations; and coaching and team building. The class will meet March 3 and 10 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

"Making the Time To Manage" is designed to enable students to discover ways to manage time that will help them handle stress and enjoy their jobs. Practical individualized learning experiences will be focused on: values, goals and priorities; time management techniques; getting past procrastination and personal time wasters; increasing and using prime time; and conducting effective meetings. The class will meet March 17 and 24 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

The final class, "Planning, Organizing and Controlling," will help students improve skills in: operational planning, organizational structures, implementing control systems and decision making. The class will meet March 31 and April 7 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

The spokesman said, since space is limited, those interested in these classes should register immediately. To obtain information on any of these classes or other business classes, persons may call Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 180.

Edna M. Sisler
who passed away February 27, 1989

God took them home it was His will,
But in our hearts we love them still.
Their memories are as dear today,
as in the hour they passed away.
We often sit and think of them
When we are all alone
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own.

A Glimpse Of The Past . . .

ST. MATTHEW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH in Oakland, formerly the Garrett Memorial Presbyterian Church, is pictured here in the early 1900s. The church was built in 1869 by members of the Garrett family in memory of their brother, Henry S. Garrett. The Presbyterian congregation used the church until 1938, after which it became St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. It is also often referred to as the Church of the Presidents, since four U.S. presidents have worshipped there. Note that the trees in the church yard in the above photo are not the evergreens that now stand there, one of which is decorated each year and serves as the community Christmas tree. This photo, on loan from the collection of Freda Pennington, is published courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican.

Miller To Speak To Stroke Club

The Allegany County Stroke Club (ACSC) has scheduled W. Gary Miller, director of business office, Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, as the guest speaker at its next monthly meeting. Miller has chosen as his topic, "How to Read and Interpret Inpatient and Outpatient Hospital Bills." A question and answer period will follow his talk. Refreshments will be served.

The meeting will be held Friday, January 17, at 1 p.m. in the clubroom of the Kensington-Algonquin, 1 Baltimore Street, Cumberland. In the event of inclement weather, announcements of cancellation will be broadcast on local radio stations during the morning.

All meetings are open to the general public, but especially to those who have suffered strokes or other serious illnesses as well as caregivers. Membership is currently comprised of residents of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Before the close of each monthly meeting, attendees separate into two support groups, with stroke patients/stroke veterans in one group and caregivers and family members in the other. These groups are led by professional medical personnel and local psychologists.

Additional information about the ACSC meetings and social activities may be obtained by contacting Glenn Carr at (304) 738-9467 or Terry Wolff at (301) 729-1640. Additional information on strokes in general and related heart diseases may be obtained by contacting the American Heart Association at (301) 724-4011.

Planning Workshop Set In Frostburg

Responding to several requests, the Maryland Citizen Planners Association will conduct a winter workshop on January 11 in the Frostburg City Hall. According to an Association spokesman, the workshop has two parts: how to conduct a meeting and how to read a site plan.

The first session demonstrates how to chair a public meeting. "By using parliamentary procedure, a planning commissioner or any public official, can feel confident in running a smooth and proper meeting," the spokesman said. "You will learn how to deal with disruptive elements and how order can be maintained."

Richard Hillman, former mayor of Annapolis and now with the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development, is the instructor. The meeting is designed for planning commissioners and members of boards of appeals, but the public is welcome. Anyone who would like to learn more about Roberts Rules of Order is encouraged to attend.

The second portion of the workshop deals with how to read a site plan. LDR International, a planning and design firm located in Howard County, is sending senior staff to teach this portion. There will be a definition of terms, examples of good design, and an exercise in applying good design principles.

The registration fee is $10. The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. in the Frostburg City Hall on Broadway Street on the second floor.

There will be a coffee break at 10:30. The second session will begin at 11 a.m. and conclude at 12:30 p.m. Persons may send registrations to MCPA, 301 West Preston Street, Room 1101, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, or call (301) 225-4512.

G.C. Tobacco-Free Coalition To Hold Town Meetings

The Garrett County Tobacco-Free Coalition has invited area residents to attend one of two identical town meetings scheduled in January. The first one is in the northern area of the county and will be held on Thursday, January 23, at 7 p.m., at the Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident. The second meeting is in the southern area on Thursday, January 23, at 7 p.m., at Southern High School, Oakland.

Prizes, refreshments, and smoking-related exhibits, information, and awards will be included. Information at the meeting will include how to quit smoking, preventing young people from using tobacco products, and reducing the chances of developing cancer and heart disease from exposure to other people's tobacco smoke.

The organizations and individuals involved in the coalition include the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, American Lung Association, citizen advocates, Garrett Community College, Garrett County Health Department, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and the March of Dimes.

More information may be obtained by calling 334-8116.

Huskies Roll To 60-37 Victory Over Salisbury

A strong offensive effort by Brian Kamp in the first quarter gave the Northern Huskies control over visiting Salisbury last night, as the Huskies rolled to a 60-37 win, their fourth victory in nine starts.

Kamp netted 10 of his 12 points in the first period to pace the Huskies to a 20-7 advantage by the end of the period. They stretched their lead to 37-15 by halftime and 48-23 by the end of the third quarter.

Leading Northern's scoring effort was Mike Fike, who finished with 13 points and also pulled down a team-high nine rebounds. Rob Speicher also reached double figures with 10 points and dished out four assists.

Soon after Kamp's outstanding effort in the first quarter he got into foul trouble and had to sit out much of the rest of the game, plus Coach Harv Speicher was able to empty his bench as the Huskies dominated throughout.

Leading Salisbury and all scorers was Mike Seibert with 21 points.

The Huskies will play at Union this Friday.

Huskies Rebound With Win Over Aggies, 74-49

After falling to cross-county rival Southern last Friday night, 85-47 (see separate story), the Northern High Huskies came back strongly Tuesday night at Flintstone to record a 74-49 win over the Aggies.

After a close first half, the Huskies erupted for 19 points in the third period while holding the Aggies to just eight points, giving Northern a 52-36 lead. Northern trailed at the end of the first period, 17-11, and was on top by only three, 31-28, at halftime. Coach Harv Speicher's team kept pouring it on in the final quarter to win by the 25-point margin.

Dave Hinebaugh led the Huskies with 24 points on 10 field goals and two of four from the line. Rob Speicher finished with 10 points and seven assists, while Rick Schofield pulled down seven rebounds.

Flintstone's Kevin Thacker led all scorers with his 26-point effort, Brian Shipley chipped in with nine points, and Calvin Ott grabbed five rebounds. The Aggies fell to 4-5 with the loss.

The Northern junior varsity, one of the top jayvee teams in the area, hammered the Flintstone jayvees in the preliminary game, 63-20, as Tim Hinebaugh scored 13 and Brian Yoder, 12, for the winners. Chris Peck netted eight of the Aggies' points.

Southern Girls Edge Northern In Final Minute

The Southern High School girls' varsity recorded its fifth win in seven starts Friday afternoon by edging arch rival Northern, 38-34, on the Rams' court.

After the Huskies took a 34-32 lead with a 9-2 run late in the fourth period, Southern's Shelli Cannon hit a bucket to tie the score and then put the Rams up by two with a pair of free throws. The Huskies were then forced to foul and Ingrid Carlson added a pair of insurance free throws to ice the win.

The score was close from the opening whistle, as Northern led 14-12 at the end of the first quarter and at halftime, 21-20. The Rams held a 30-25 advantage after three periods before the Huskies rallied in the final stanza.

Michelle Duling paced the Rams with 12 points. Cannon and Carrie Newcomb each finished with nine points, and Newcomb also pulled eight rebounds.

Leading all scorers was Northern's Rebecca Fratz, who finished with 19 points and 16 rebounds.

The loss was the second for the Huskies in six starts.

In the preliminary game, the Southern jayvees were also victorious, topping Northern's junior varsity, 29-25, behind a 12-point effort by Stacy Kinser. Gina McCartney also recorded 12 for the Huskies.

The Rams' next encounter will be at home against Fort Hill on Monday. They will then host Allegany next Wednesday.

Northern's girls went on to defeat visiting Beall Monday and played at home last night against Hyndman (see separate story).

Ram Grapplers Defeat Keyser

After placing third in the Petersburg Invitational Saturday (see separate story), the Southern High School wrestling team edged visiting Keyser last night, 36-30, despite the fact that the Rams had to forfeit six matches, one of which was a double forfeit.

The Rams were undefeated in the match, as every one of them recorded a win in his respective weight class. Winning by pin were Gary Sweitzer (112), Jason Rush (130), and Mike DeWitt (135). Pete Strawser (125) and Shane Skipper (140) each won by technical fall, while Jason Burgess (119) and Sonny Livengood (152) won on points.

Southern Rams Place Third In Viking Tourney

Despite being able to fill only about half of the weight classes, the Southern Rams captured third place in the 10-team Petersburg Viking Invitational Tournament, held Saturday on the Viking's mats.

Coach Terry Kendall's grapplers amassed 139 points in winning four first places, two runner-up trophies, and one fourth place. Turner Ashby High School, of Virginia, won the tourney with 157 points, while Frankfort placed second with 147. In fourth place behind the Rams was Spotswood, Va., with 130 points, followed by: Grafton, 112 and one-half; Keyser, 94 and one-half; Petersburg, 67 and one-half; Allegany, 44 and one-half; Musselman, 25; and Elkins, two.

Bringing home first place individual trophies for the Rams were Gary Sweitzer in the 112-pound class, Jason Burgess, 119, Pete Strawser, 125, and Sonny Livengood, 152. Jason Rush (130) and Mike DeWitt (135) finished in second place and Shane Skipper won fourth in the 140-pound division.

BRINGING HOME A TEAM TROPHY for finishing third place in the Viking Wrestling Invitational held Saturday at Petersburg High School were the Southern Rams, who topped seven of the 10 teams competing and won four first place individual trophies. Team members pictured front row, left to right, are: Jason Rush, Pete Strawser, Jason Burgess, and Gary Sweitzer. Standing, same order, are Coach Terry Kendall, John Fulmer, Mike Liller, Mike DeWitt, Shane Skipper, and Sonny Livengood. See story for details.

Also competing were John Fulmer and Mike Liller as extras in the tourney. Liller won two of four matches.

"I was really proud of our team," Coach Kendall said. "Bringing home a team trophy meant a lot to us."

The Rams also competed last night at home against Keyser (see separate story).

TO HOST TOURNEY

The Rams will host the annual Garrett County Wrestling Tournament this Saturday, Jan. 11, with competition set to get underway at 10:30 a.m.

Teams slated to participate besides the Rams are the defending champions of the event, the Northern Huskies, Preston County, Frankfort, Fort Hill, Allegany, Westmar, Hyndman, Morgantown, and Phillip Barbour.

Competition will continue throughout the day and evening. The finals will begin at approximately 6 p.m.

Rams Continue To Dominate Area Play; Defeat Northern And Keyser

The Southern High School Rams continued to dominate play in area high school basketball this past week, as they recorded convincing wins over arch rival Northern Friday night in Oakland, 85-47, and visiting Keyser Tuesday night, 68-46. The victories improve Coach Tom Bosley's team's mark to 8-1 on the season, with the only loss coming at the hands of then undefeated Elkins in the Southern Snowball Classic.

Brett Rice, who is on his way to shattering numerous Southern High School records, continues to spearhead the Ram offense, scoring 31 points in the game against the Huskies. Eleven of that total came in the first period when the Rams bolted to a 25-7 lead by the end of the quarter. Mike Duling, who finished with 12 points, scored eight of his in that period.

Northern closed the gap slightly in the second period, as the Rams held a 40-26 advantage at halftime, but then stretched the lead to 53-34 by the end of the third stanza.

The second leading scorer for Southern was Jeremy Bosley with 16 points. He was also credited with five assists. Rice's points came on 12 field goals, including three from three-point range, and four of five free throws.

Britten Martin pulled down nine rebounds for the Rams and Dave Bosley grabbed six.

Leading Coach Harv Speicher's Huskies in scoring was Dave Hinebaugh with 15, while Jon Houser finished with 11.

The loss dropped the Huskies to 2-5 on the season, but they came back Tuesday night for an easy win over Flintstone (see separate story).

In the preliminary contest, the Northern junior varsity held on for a 49-47 win over the Southern jayvees behind a 23-point effort by Tim Hinebaugh. Jon Hinebaugh added 12 points to the Husky total, while Jeremy Sanders led the Rams and all scorers with 24 points.

Rice was held below his scoring average Tuesday night against Keyser, but still finished with a game-high 22 points in the Division I Potomac Valley Conference win. Nineteen of his total were recorded in the first half, when he was hitting about 80 percent from the floor; but he was off the mark throughout the second half.

Again the Rams used their quickness, both offensively and defensively, to jump out to a quick lead and they were never seriously threatened the rest of the way. They held a 23-10 lead after one quarter, were on top 37-15 at halftime, and led 52-28 at the end of the third period.

Mike Duling netted 13 points for the Rams, Martin finished with 11 points, eight rebounds, and four steals, and Bosley contributed eight points, five steals, and four assists.

Pacing the Golden Tornado's offense were Jay Twyman and A.J. Stevenson, who hit 19 and 16 points, respectively. The defeat dropped Keyser to 3-4.

The Southern jayvees were also victorious in the preliminary game, out-scoring their Keyser counterparts, 60-52. Mark Elliott scored 21 points, Jeremy Sanders netted 13, and Brian Reams added 11 for the winners.

The Rams, currently ranked number one in the area ratings, will play at Allegany this Friday evening. Their next home game will be Tuesday against Petersburg.

Lakers Pick Up New Recruits, Defeat CCAC-South, Fall To PG

The Garrett Community College Lakers, revived with a few new recruits to replace some players who for various reasons left the team, opened their second semester of competition Saturday afternoon with a 60-52 victory over CCAC South at Steel Valley High School, West Mifflin, Pa. Coach Dennis Gibson's squad then dropped a 79-72 decision to Prince George's Community College in a Maryland JUCO American Division contest Monday night in McHenry.

Fred Wilson paced the Lakers' offense past CCAC South by recording 16 points, while Ed Gerald, a new transfer student from North Greenville College in South Carolina, finished with 13 points and a team-high 10 rebounds. North Greenville, which was a national power in basketball, suddenly dropped its program and Gerald was immediately eligible to play for the Lakers.

Garrett was on top by three at halftime, 27-24, but fell behind by two, 34-32, in the early moments of the second half. The Lakers then went on a 9-0 run to take a 43-34 lead, however South came back to tie the score at 48. The Lakers surged again to put the game away, scoring a dozen points and allowing only four by South to end the game.

Leading South and all scorers was Benjie Ingram with 24 points.

Also reaching double figures for Garrett was Curtis Shepherd with 11 points. He was also credited with four of his team's 14 assists, while Wilson recorded eight steals and Gerald and Joe Refosco each had three blocked shots. Refosco also pulled six rebounds.

Refosco and Greg Inglese, both Southern High School graduates, are among the new team recruits.

The Lakers had a 14-point lead (52-38) early in the second half of their game Monday against visiting Prince George's, but the Owls answered with a run of 37-17 to take a 70-69 lead with just over three minutes to play and then stretch the margin to 74-69 at the 1:50 mark. The Lakers were forced to foul in the final minute and the Owls connected on their opportunities at the line to win the game.

Ron Wolfe led the Lakers with a game-high 21 points and 10 rebounds, while Shepherd finished with 16 points and Wilson had 10 points, eight rebounds, and five blocks.

The bigger, more physical Owls were led in scoring by Scott Stewart and Rod Little with 16 and 14 points, respectively. Jimmy Walker added 12 points.

The Lakers out-rebounded their opponents, 41-30.

The 5-6 Lakers will attempt to win their first JUCO contest this Friday evening when they host Essex in an 8 p.m. game.

Northern Girls On Roll, Defeat Beall, Hyndman

The Northern High School girls' varsity upped their record to 6-2 this past week by recording a pair of wins, topping Beall Monday evening, 47-37, at Northern and then rolling over visiting Hyndman last night, 46-32. The victories came after a close loss to the Southern girls Friday night (see separate story).

Against Beall, Wanda Swartzwelder paced the Huskies with 15 points and 15 rebounds, as she assumed the team leader position since senior Rebecca Fratz was sidelined with illness. Cara Wachter also finished with 15 points, while Audra Speicher netted eight and dished out five assists.

The first half of the contest was close, as the Huskies led by only one, 13-12, at the end of the first quarter and 24-21 at halftime. However, they outscored the Mountaineers in the third stanza, 9-2, to take a 33-23 advantage into the final period.

Jenny Price and Jenny Cain led Beall's scoring with 12 and 10 points, respectively. The loss dropped Beall to 3-5.

In the preliminary contest, Elida Schofield led the Northern junior varsity with 16 points in a 38-10 thrashing of the Beall jayvees. Sara Younkin added eight points to Northern's total.

Fratz was back in the line-up last night against Hyndman and led her team with 15 points and 13 rebounds.

The Huskies jumped out to a 12-3 lead in the first quarter and never looked back, as they led 24-10 at halftime and 36-19 after three periods.

Wachter added 10 points to Northern's total and Speicher was credited with seven assists.

Leading the Hornets were Kristi Reed with 14 points and Molly Heider with 10.

Coach Harv Speicher's Huskies will host Allegany on Saturday in a make-up game, with the jayvee contest set for 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7:30.

Laker Women Open Campaign With Two Losses

The Garrett Community College women's basketball team opened its season this week with a pair of defeats, falling to Prince George's Community College Monday night, 79-63, and losing to Frederick CC last night, 66-42. Both games were played on the Lakers' court.

Heather Shepherd, a graduate of Fort Hill High School, scored nearly half of the Lakers' points with a game-high total of 30. She also had seven steals, six assists, and three blocked shots.

The Lakers trailed at halftime, 38-29, as the Owls led throughout the contest.

Toncedar Johnson and Ayna Perkins led the Owls with 24 and 21 points, respectively, while Stacy Darden chipped in with 10.

Kathy Gibson, who decided to forego her senior year of basketball eligibility at Southern High School this year, scored nine points for the Lakers. Tracie Dawson, another SHS grad, contributed eight points and seven assists, and Kenyatta Brown, a Largo High grad, had five assists.

Against Frederick last night, Brown was the leading scorer for GCC with 12 points, while Shepherd and Gibson each finished with nine points. Brown and Gibson also each had seven rebounds, Shepherd contributed four steals and four blocks, and Dawson dished out three assists.

Gayle Lindenstruth and Meghan Flynn led Frederick with 15 and 12 points, respectively.

"This team will continually improve throughout the season, and hopefully peak by tournament time," stated Laker Coach Dennis Gibson. "We don't have the size we had last year, so we have to find other ways to win."

The Lakers finished 12-10 in the regular season last year and placed second in the Maryland JUCO Tournament.

Huskies' Unbeaten Streak Stopped By North Hagerstown

The Northern High School varsity wrestling team recorded its first defeat of the season Saturday afternoon in being edged by host North Hagerstown, 36-31.

The Huskies went into the contest with a 4-0 mark, plus a first place finish in the nine-team Western Maryland Coca-Cola Tournament. They will attempt to get back into the win column tonight at home against Meyersdale in a 7:30 p.m. match.

Earning pin victories against North Hagerstown were Tirell Burdock in the 103-pound division, Allen Bittinger, 135, and Jason Fazenbaker, 189. Winning by decision were Greg Miller, 140, and Todd Burdock, 171, while Scott Beitzel was declared the winner in the heavyweight division by forfeit.

Recording pins for the Hubs were John Starkey, 112; Mike Tso, 119; Dennis Keadle, 125; Ryan Moats, 152; and Ali Robinson, 160.

news, Ralph Friend, 41, McHenry, was arrested last Saturday on two counts of battery, assault, and resisting arrest. According to the report, Pvt. J. Green responded to a domestic dispute at a residence on Glendale Road, and the officer witnessed an altercation between Friend and the unidentified victim. Friend was later released on his own recognizance.

Melvin G. Cullers, 39, Aurora, W.Va., was charged with DWI on December 31, according to the police log. Cullers was originally stopped by Dep. J. Sowers for having a loud exhaust, and was subsequently charged with DWI and driving an unregistered and uninsured car. After signing the citation, Cullers was released.

Thomas W. Friend, 35, Oakland, was cited for DWI on January 1 after being stopped on Rt. 135 in Mtn. Lake Park for driving erratically. After signing the citation, Friend was released into the custody of a sober companion. The arrest took place at 12:15 a.m.

B&E, Theft

A vacation home owned by Michael P. Sparocino, Baltimore, was apparently broken into and robbed sometime between December 12-27. The Sheriff's Office is currently investigating the theft.

According to the report, the culprit(s) apparently threw a large rock through a basement window to gain entry. The front door glass was also shattered. The thieves then removed a color television, microwave, and a stereo with speakers.

The combined loss of items and damage to windows has been placed at $771. This incident marks the third time the Sparocino residence has been burglarized.

Auto Mishap

A two-vehicle accident Saturday at the intersection of Weber Road and Rt. 135 resulted in the charging of a 16-year-old female driver. The teenager was cited for failure to yield right of way to oncoming traffic while making a left turn.

The driver apparently pulled in front of a vehicle driven by Robert L. Cosner, 19, Bayard, W.Va.

No injuries were reported in the mishap, although the vehicles were damaged.

Commission

A problem area existed between the Maryland Department of the Environment and Shallmar, and we thought it was imprudent to get involved in that . . . We didn't want to do the dirty work for the state."

As the scenario unfolded, the state did the paper work and the Sanitary Commission did the dirty work . . . The commissioners had a working agreement with the Sanitary Commission. That kind of major policy reversal should not have occurred without some kind of communication with the board – it put us in a very awkward position. It's indicative of the weakness of the structure."

The Planning Commission members agreed to invite Beitzel and representatives from the Sanitary Commission to their next meeting to hear their opinions about the issue.

Miss Patterson Becomes Bride Of Mr. Tasker In October Ceremony

Angela Dawn Patterson and Robert Eugene Tasker Jr., were united in marriage October 11, 1991. The double-ringer ceremony took place at the White United Methodist Church, Rt. 560, with the Rev. Kenneth Montgomery officiating. Amy Roberts was the soloist and the organist was Cindy Carr.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted down the aisle by her uncle, Sgt. John Riley, of U.S.A.F., the bride chose a gown of satin, featuring a fitted bodice lavished by embroidered applique trimmed with pearls and sequins, embroidered cutwork sleeves, and expansive train heavily decorated with sequins and pearls. The full skirt flowed from a fitted waistline with the partial open heart shape back leading to a large bow.

Her headpiece consisted of a bridal hat encircled in sequins and pearls and a veil. Her jewelry consisted of diamond and pearl earrings borrowed from her sister-in-law, Melanie Chidester.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of red and white roses, carnations, and English ivy, accented with pearl sprays. The flowers of all the wedding party were made by the bride.

Serving as matron of honor was Melanie Chidester, sister of the groom. Maid of honor was Jodi Beeman, cousin of the groom, and the bridesmaid was Kristy Patterson, sister of the bride. The flower girl was Ashley Currence, niece of the bride.

Serving as best man was Duane Chidester, brother-in-law of the groom. Groomsmen were Ed Thayer and Toby Miller, both friends of the groom. Ushers were Terry Ashby, cousin of the groom, and Ritchie Riley, cousin of the bride. Ronnie Bray, cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

A reception followed the ceremony at the VFW banquet room. Louise Bray and Jane Ashby, both aunts of the groom, prepared the reception food table. A red, black, and white color scheme was used in the decorations. Table decorations and balloon archway were made by Grandma's House, Oakland.

Debbie Riley and Kathy Lyons both cut and served the cake. The three-tiered cake featured a fountain and a stairway with bridesmaids and groomsmen figurines. The cake was trimmed in red and white.

Teresa Nelson and Rhonda Sisler distributed programs, Barbie Nelson distributed birdseed, and Cheryl Bray, cousin of the groom, registered guests.

Following the honeymoon trip, the couple established residence in Deer Park.

The bride was honored with a bridal shower, by Melanie Chidester at her parents' residence.

HEARING AIDS
DO YOU HAVE FEEDBACK OR WHISTLING WITH YOUR HEARING AID?
ARE YOU CONTINUALLY ADJUSTING THE VOLUME?
This is a common complaint that we hear from many hearing aid users. With the new Cleartone hearing aids you will not have feedback once the hearing aid is completely in your ear. You will not have to continually adjust the volume control, because the hearing aid will automatically reduce the loud noises for you.
We have found that it even helps those who have Tinnitus "ringing ears".
Come in today for a no-cost hearing evaluation and demonstration of the hearing aid!

Elaine DeBerry And Trish Marple Attend National FFA Convention

Trish Marple

Elaine DeBerry

FFA members Elaine DeBerry and Trish Marple represented the Oakland FFA Chapter at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, November 12 through 16, 1991.

"Being part of the biggest convention in the world gave us the opportunity to meet many interesting people such as President George Bush," said Marple.

A special session was presented by President Bush, and other presenters included Miss America Carolyn Sapp, Captain Gerald Coffee, Dave Roever, Jerry Glower, and Jack Parnell.

"We were able to take in Shenandoah and The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band in concert," exclaimed DeBerry.

While attending many sessions, DeBerry and Marple said they brought many leadership skills, ambitions, goals, enthusiasm, and a positive attitude home with them to share with their fellow FFA members.

Local businesses that helped the chapter send the two members to Kansas City were: Beachy Lumber Company; Southern States Oakland Co-op; Electronics Unlimited; Buffalo Coal Company; Deep Creek Security; Oakland FFA Alumni; 135 Meat Market; Sams' Agway, C.E. Jackson Equipment; Merry Maids; Arnold Brothers Equipment; and R&R Trucking.

The girls said they appreciated all the help and support given by these businesses and added, "Remember, the FFA has made a difference!"

FFA Sets Record Of Support

The National FFA Foundation has once again achieved a record level of support for FFA and agricultural education programs.

At the 64th National FFA Convention, Robert W. Reynolds announced that a total of $4,417,000 was raised in 1991 to support projects and programs for FFA and agricultural education.

Reynolds serves as the 1991 FFA Foundation Sponsors' Board chairman, and is vice president and general manager of the Crop Protection Products Division of Monsanto Agricultural Company.

Reynolds believes the relationship between the 1,140 Foundation sponsors and the FFA is strong.

"By supporting FFA, the National FFA Foundation Sponsors' Board is making an investment in the future of agriculture and is encouraging the development of human characteristics that are the essence of a healthy, dynamic society," he said.

Reynolds introduced the 1992 FFA Foundation chairman, Neil O. Christenson, vice president, Farm Equipment and Consumer Products Marketing in the United States and Canada for Deere & Company.

Christenson introduced the 1992 Foundation theme: "Today's Hope for Tomorrow's Leaders."

Since 1944, the National FFA Foundation has provided nearly $40 million to FFA members for awards, scholarships and achievement programs.

FFA is a national organization of 382,748 students in 7,744 local chapters preparing for agricultural careers.

FFA activities and award programs complement instruction in agricultural education by giving students practical experience in the application of agricultural skills and knowledge gained in classes.

Farming In Maryland ..... Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Foreign Ownership In United States Small But Growing

The total amount of foreign-owned agricultural land in the U.S. was relatively stable through the 1980s, but increased 12 percent in 1990. The U.S. has nearly 2.3 billion acres within its boundaries, and of this, almost 1.3 billion is privately owned agricultural and forest land. Of the total privately owned land, only 14 million acres -- a little more than one percent -- is owned by individuals or firms outside the U.S. Japan ranks eighth with 535,880 acres, and the type and location of land owned by Japanese investors is diverse. Major Japanese landholdings include 180,000 acres of forest land in Maine, 110,000 acres of pasture and cropland in New Mexico, and 80,000 acres in Hawaii. Only in Hawaii is Japan's agricultural land ownership significant. The 80,000 acres represent 45 percent of the state's foreign-owned agricultural land and five percent of the state's privately held agricultural land. Altogether, Japanese investors hold only 3.7 percent of foreign-owned farmland in the U.S. but the value of the land they own is much higher than other foreign investors' property. The reported value of all foreign-owned agricultural land in 1990 is roughly $10 billion, with land owned by Japanese investors valued at just over $1 billion, or 10 percent of the total. Throughout the 1980s, because of the large appreciation of the Japanese yen, the price of agricultural land in terms of the yen declined -- from 210,000 yen per acre in 1982 to 100,000 yen per acre in 1990. Most of the land purchased by Japanese investors was acquired in the late 1980s.

Garrett Soil Conservation District Announces Meeting Dates For 1992

Regular meetings of the Garrett Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors will be held at the Garrett Soil Conservation District office at 203 S. 4th Street, Courthouse, Room 208, Oakland, on the dates listed below during 1992. All dates are subject to change if weather conditions, workload, or other factors make it necessary. Anyone having an item to discuss with the supervisors, is invited to attend any of the meetings.

Meeting dates are as follows: Tuesday, January 21; Tuesday, February 18; Tuesday, March 17; Tuesday, April 21; Tuesday, May 19; Tuesday, June 16; Tuesday, July 21; Tuesday, August 18; Tuesday, September 15; Tuesday, October 20; Tuesday, November 17; and Tuesday, December 15.

Meetings held during the months of November through February will begin at 1 p.m. All others will normally begin at 7 p.m. The time is also subject to change.

November Crop Prices Up

The November Index of Prices received by Maryland farmers was up two points from October 1991. At 132, the index was also five points above November 1990. Prices improved for most grains, hay and milk, while meat animal prices declined. Declining egg prices were offset by improving prices for hens. United States prices generally declined to levels below October and a year ago. The index was two points below October and six points below November 1990. Wheat and barley prices made small gains.

A New Way To Grow Tomatoes

There has been a very interesting research project going on at the USDA Research Center in Beltsville, Maryland on using hairy vetch as a mulch. Instead of using the traditional black plastic mulch, hairy vetch mulching was used. They got some amazing results. Hairy vetch mulching increased yields by about 138 percent and reduced insect infestation to the point where it was hardly a problem. An added bonus was that there was no tillage and less fertilizer and pesticides used. Unlike plastic, plant mulches add organic matter to the soil and increase its water-holding capacity. Also, vetch is a legume that adds nitrogen to the soil. Plastic mulch does not degrade and must be removed each year.

Tomato plants growing in vetch plots were greener and bigger than plants in plots where plastic, paper or no mulches were used. Yields from plants grown under the vetch mulch averaged more than 45 tons per acre, trailed by 35 tons for plastic mulch and 34 tons for paper. Control plots with no mulch at all averaged 19 tons per acre.

The hairy vetch is planted in the fall. Immediately before planting the tomato plants, the vetch is mowed to about an inch high. The plants are planted without turning up the soil. Immediately after planting, it is hard to distinguish the green tomato plants from the cutting of the vetch. But within a few days, the cuttings died, forming a heavy brown matted covering. There are varieties of hairy vetch that are winter-hardy for our area.

Private Applicators Pesticide Licenses

A reminder -- if you need your pesticide licenses, the MDA will be giving the test at my office on Thursday, January 23, at 7:30 p.m. This will be the last chance until next fall. Also, if you would like some help in preparing for the test, I will be holding a workshop on Thursday, January 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension office. Reservations would be helpful in preparing the material.

Have you made your reservations for the DHI Workshops on January 15 or 16?

Agriculture And Environment Conference Set

The Maryland Institute for Agriculture and Natural Resources announces its second annual conference aimed at improving communication between farmers and the environmental movement on January 23, in Annapolis. The institute is a part of the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

The Annapolis Holiday Inn will host the conference, which will illustrate some of the concepts of "Profitable Agriculture and a Clean Environment," (PACE), announced at the previous year's conference.

Delaware farmers and extension agents have been invited to the meeting along with national and state leaders to present research findings and general overviews. Subject areas will include field crops, ornamental horticulture, fruits and vegetables, poultry waste management, and the agricultural aspects of water quality. A $20 registration fee includes materials and lunch. The program runs from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

To register, contact Dr. James C. Hanson, (301) 627-8440; or T. Milton Nelson, (301) 405-4596.

Plant Population And Row Spacing Surveys Reported

The National Agricultural Statistics Service conducted corn objective yield surveys in 10 states and soybean objective yield surveys in 11 states in 1991. Randomly selected plots were visited monthly from August through harvest to obtain specific counts and measurements. Some of the data from these visits included plant population and row spacing. The information is intended to show trends on crop production practices. Maryland and Delaware corn and soybean fields are not included in the objective yield program.

Corn plant population among the objective yield states ranged from a low 17,500 to 23,700 per acre. Five years earlier the range was 15,800 to 23,700 per acre. Plant population increased in the states with the low populations. States with high average plant population showed very little increase. Average row width did not change much within states during the past three years. The lowest averaged row width measured 30.7 inches and the widest average row measured 34.2 inches for 1991. Three years earlier average row width ranged from 31.6 to 36.1 inches.

Soybean row spacing varies greatly among the states. The widest average row width was 31.3 inches in Nebraska. The narrowest average row width occurred in Ohio with 16.7 inches. Popular row widths seem to be in the 28.6 to 34.5 inch group and in the less than 10 inch group. Almost half of soybeans in Ohio fell in the narrow row group and only 28 percent fell in row spacings greater than 28.6 inches which helped drop that state's average. Conversely 82 percent of soybeans in Nebraska were planted in rows spaced 28.6 inches apart or greater. Nebraska farmers planted only 11 percent of soybean acreage in rows narrower than 10 inches.

The following information lists the top producing herds in Garrett County, and is taken from the official DHI Testing Program ending December 7, 1991. The name of the herd owner or farm is at left, followed by the number of cows, annual average milk, annual average fat, and annual average protein.

January Has Always Meant "Pennsylvania Farm Show"

by Bernice Kepple

The noise was deafening; the lights were bright; and the temperature continued to rise as my friends and I nervously stood in a circle waiting for the music to start. There were eight of us, four couples, and we were standing inside a square chalked on the dirt floor of the large arena in the Pennsylvania Farm Show complex waiting for the Square Dance Contest to start.

This was our first year of competition and my first year at the Farm Show. At age 14, I was mighty impressed with what I saw there, and 30 years later, I'm still mighty impressed with what I see at the Farm Show.

I was one of the youngest members of Westmoreland County 4-H Council's Square Dance Team, and we had been practicing for months. In addition to learning the dance steps and becoming familiar with the calls, the four female members of our team (with the help of our leaders) had made our fancy dresses, the aprons and ruffled pantaloons worn with them, and matching neck scarves and handkerchiefs for our partners.

As the music started, we danced and we danced, and at the end of the contest, our number was announced as one of the first-place winners in the youth category, awarding us all big blue ribbons to take home. The team stayed together, and we repeated this blue-ribbon performance for two more years, but it was a few years later after I was married that I had the opportunity to watch the square dance contest from high in the arena. Only then was I able to see and appreciate the moving rainbow of color the dance teams formed on the arena floor, and I was proud that I had once been a part of it all.

Since those early years, January has always meant "Farm Show" to me. I remember that Farm Show meant cold, cold weather. We would begin our four-hour drive from Greensburg about 4 a.m. Usually it would be cold, but there would be no snow on the ground, However, as we climbed the mountains toward Somerset, that all changed. Sometimes we stopped in Somerset for breakfast. Usually though, we got on the Pa. turnpike and didn't make a pit stop until we were well on our way to Harrisburg.

In those days, the only concessionaire on the turnpike was the Howard Johnson restaurant chain. One of those stops was especially exciting. There was a restaurant on each side of the turnpike, and a tunnel ran under the road connecting the two. There was no reason for us to cross over to the other side, but we always found an excuse just to walk through the tunnel.

As our bus pulled into one of these rest stops, it was not unusual to see other friends and neighbors, like Boyd Wolff, now Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, traveling to or from the Farm Show.

The Farm Show building itself is impressive. One of the largest indoor exhibit areas under one roof, the building has withstood several floods from the Susquehanna River which runs next to it, and there are marks on the wall complete with dates showing just how high the water was at various times.

Another of my most vivid Farm Show impressions was the "sea of blue" that surrounded us everywhere. That "sea of blue" being the FFA jackets worn by members from hundreds of schools attending. The Farm Show is still a popular field trip for FFA chapters, even those here in our area. I remember attending the Farm Show in 1976, just before our family moved to Garrett County, and being surprised to see a large exhibit by North Garrett FFA.

Howard and I attended his first Farm Show the year after we were married. He was working for a farm machinery dealer at the time, which gave me a whole new view of the Farm Show. I had never paid much attention to the machinery before, but now we spend a lot of time looking at all the machinery, crop and dairy exhibits.

As our children came along, we continued to attend the Farm Show. With one child this only meant a stroller and routine supplies. But with two, and then three kids, the trip became more of a marathon. The year our daughter was five, our oldest son was a year-and-a-half and our youngest son was five months old, we took their big red wagon and pulled them around all day.

My memory isn't clear as to the year, or which of our sons it was (and I'm sure the boys wouldn't want me to tell you which of them it was), but while looking for a spot to make one of those emergency changes babies require, I found some bales of straw at the end of the cattle barn. While making the change, the baby and I were suddenly surrounded by a very bright light. My immediate thought was that someone had opened a large outside door and I expected to feel a cold draft. But when I turned to search for the source of the light, I was surprised to see a large camera recording the baby's change on film for a Harrisburg TV station.

After our move to Maryland the event became a trip for Dad and the boys. Mom and their sister stayed home and did the farm chores so they could have a day off. I've got a whole collection of small souvenirs they brought back for me because I couldn't go. And in the bag of literature they brought back, there were always seed catalogs and anything else they thought I'd like to see.

Howard has continued to go back to the Farm Show almost every year, and for several years one of the jackets in that "sea of blue" was worn by one of my sons. And this year, I'm going back, the first time in several years, and 30 years after my first visit. So, maybe I'll see you there!

Off To The FARM SHOW

Pennsylvania Farm Show Begins This Weekend in Harrisburg

The 76th Pennsylvania State Farm Show judging begins today, Thursday, January 9, at the Farm Show complex in Harrisburg, Pa., with the opening day to the public Saturday, January 11. The new schedule this year was proposed nearly two years ago when the State Farm Products Show Commission voted to change the opening day of the 76th Pa. Farm Show to a Saturday so more families would be able to attend. Because the new schedule includes a full weekend, Pa. State Secretary of Agriculture Boyd Wolff says this year's show is geared toward the family more than ever before.

The Farm Show keeps farmers and consumers abreast of what's new in agriculture. Suppliers of products and services have the opportunity to develop new markets and farm organizations can use the occasion to hold member meetings.

Farm exhibitors of dairy cattle, livestock and field crops have a lot of incentive to display their best production for the year. A record $198,266 in premiums is being offered this year, compared to the 440 entries that took home $735 in premiums at the first Farm Show in 1917.

More than 8,000 entries are expected to vie for the record premiums in 30 departments of competition, from livestock and poultry to commodity and school exhibits to farm and home displays.

The weekend's feature entertainment lineup offers more thrills, more color and more excitement in several spectacular performances than ever before.

The shows in the large arena are free, with over 7,000 permanent seats available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Farm Show draws crowds from surrounding states as well, to see all the exhibits, displays, machinery, and animals, in addition to enjoying the good food made from the state's produce which is offered for sale throughout the week.

How To Get To The Show

The Farm Show Complex is located along Cameron and Maclay Streets in Harrisburg, just off Exit 23 of Interstate 81.

Other major arteries also lead to the Complex.

Parking is available on the 60-acre site for $2 per vehicle.

Overflow parking is offered at the Harrisburg Area Community College (HACC) with shuttle bus service to the Farm Show Complex for a nominal fee. Handicapped Parking and access are located at the West Circle, North Entrance and Large Arena.

Dates for the show are Saturday, January 11 through Thursday, January 16.

The hours of the show are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday through Wednesday, and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday.

Admission is free for all events during Farm Show Week.

ASCS Announces Disaster Payment Program

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) will administer a crop disaster assistance program to compensate eligible producers for crop losses caused by drought, flood, and other natural disasters in either 1990 or 1991.

"To be eligible, producers with crop insurance must have had losses greater than 35 percent," said county ASCS official Mike Kozier. "Producers without crop insurance must have had losses greater than 40 percent."

Program applications may be filed from February 3 through March 13.

The 1990-91 crop disaster program provides cash payments for production losses on participating program crops of wheat, feed grains, upland cotton, extra long staple cotton, and rice; nonparticipating program crops; peanuts, soybeans, sunflowers, sugarbeets, sugarcane and tobacco; and all commercial nonprogram crops.

Kozier said producers who intend to file should begin to assemble their records now, so they will be ready when the program opens. He said that farmers will receive a special mailing with specific information on the program this month. "If a producer does not receive the disaster program information in the mail by February 3, he or she should call the county ASCS office."

Kozier explained that a producer may not file on one crop on a farm for one year and a different crop on the same farm for the other. "However, the producer may request benefits for 1990 on one farm and for 1991 on another farm."

The ASCS official said disaster payments would be computed according to the 1990 Farm Bill, and expects to begin issuing payments to farmers by April 16. Further details of the disaster payment program may be obtained from the Garrett County ASCS office.

Seeks GOP Seat As Sixth District Md. Representative

Frank K. Nethken, 61, Cumberland, has announced that he is vying for the Republican nomination to the U.S. House of Representatives, Sixth Congressional District, in the upcoming 1992 Primary Election to be held March 3.

The former Cumberland mayor stated, "During the course of this campaign, the other candidates have been talking about the problems, but I am offering the Constitutional solutions to the recession and the financial problems at all levels of government and the enormous debt which has encumbered most Americans."

Nethken also states that "unless we elect a Congress that will fulfill their constitutional obligation to repeal the unconstitutional, privately owned debt interest Federal Reserve Act and, as the elected representatives, take control of the money system away from the greedy international banking cartel who have burdened Americans with the extreme debt through interest and have made just the interest on the national debt the largest expenditure in the federal budget then we can look forward by the end of the decade to see the interest on this debt increased to the extent that all of the tax revenues coming in from all sources of income will not be sufficient to pay just the interest on the national debt."

He is, therefore, calling for the repeal of the Federal Reserve Act and a "return to a non-interest bearing Constitutional U.S. note money system" wherein the "national debt and the interest can be eliminated and the over $300 billion on this interest can be used for a national health care program, bail out state, city and county governments, restore federal revenue sharing, U.D.A.G., E.D.A. grants, enterprise zones, etc., create welfare programs, protect social security and its trust funds and reverse the flow of the money from the super rich back to the working people who have created America's wealth."

Nethken is also a proponent of fair trade laws, saying that most of the trade deficit is the result of an "imbalance of trade with Japan."

He is currently employed with CSXT, is married with two daughters, and is a U.S. Navy veteran of the Korean conflict.

Downey To Speak At GOP Meeting

Mike Downey, Republican candidate for 6th District Congress, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Garrett County Republican Central Committee which will be held Wednesday, January 22, at 6:30 p.m., at the Avilton Inn on Avilton Road. Dinner will be served at 7:15 p.m.

The public is invited to attend either or both of the functions. More information may be obtained by contacting Chairman Wayne Wilt at 334-9200.

Tax Offices To Be Open Jan. 15

All Maryland income tax offices will remain open to help taxpayers on Wednesday, January 15, a day when most state offices will be closed in observance of Martin Luther King Day. The hours are 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

I.R.S. offices will remain open on January 15 as well.

Taxpayers who wish to have their Maryland income tax forms completed free of charge should bring a completed copy of their federal return and all W-2 statements to any Maryland income tax office listed on the back of the Maryland tax packet and in local telephone directories.

Alvin Ailey Repertory Ensemble

Ailey Dancers Will Perform At Frostburg State

One of America's best known and most dynamic dance repertory companies will visit the area later this month. As a part of the Lane Center's Cultural Events Series, the Alvin Ailey Repertory Ensemble will perform at Frostburg State University's Compton Auditorium Tuesday, January 28, at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the Book Center in downtown Cumberland, Main Street Books, Frostburg, and the Lane Center.

This dance company was established in 1974 as a performing company for vital and talented young professionals. "Balancing repertoire, technique, and performance, it has grown into one of the most exciting components of the Alvin Ailey American Dancer Center," stated one critic

Under the artistic direction of Sylvia Waters, a former Ailey dancer, the company has committed itself to the development of young dancers and choreographers alike. "The Ensemble has a unique and exciting repertoire of ballets by such famed choreographers as Tally Beatty and Mr. Ailey himself, as well as works by new, young choreographers like Ralph Lemon, Kevin Wynn and Ulysses Dove," the critic said.

For information, persons may call the Lane Center ticket office, 689-4411.

Other upcoming performances include Theatre of Voices, Tuesday, February 18, and Barnum, the Three-Ring Circus Musical, Wednesday, March 11.

First Federal To Convert To Public Ownership

First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland has announced it has received approval from the Office of Thrift Supervision to convert from a federally chartered mutual savings bank to a federally chartered stock savings bank.

First Financial Corporation of Western Maryland, the holding company the bank has formed as part of its conversion plan, is currently accepting orders for the sale of 1,322,500 shares at a maximum of $10 per share in a subscription offering and a concurrent community offering to employee benefits plans, eligible depositors, and members of the general public.

The offerings have begun with a mailing of conversion materials to depositors, and will continue through January 31, 1992. It is expected that any shares remaining unsold after completion of the subscription and community offering will be sold in a public offering. Adams Cohen Securities Inc. of Great Neck, N.Y., is managing the subscription and community offering and Legg Mason Wood Walker, Inc., is managing the public offering.

The bank's plan of conversion is also subject to the approval of the bank's depositors. A special meeting of depositors has been scheduled for January 31, 1992, to vote on the plan of conversion.

Headquartered in Cumberland, First Federal has assets of $336 million, deposits of $315 million and retained earnings of $21 million as of September 30, 1991. The bank operates through eight full service offices, two drive-in facilities, and loan production offices in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties. The bank's deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to the extent permitted by law.

The shares of common stock offered in the conversion are not savings accounts or deposits and are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Bank Insurance Fund, the Savings Association Insurance Fund or any other government agency. Deposit accounts at First Federal will continue to be insured by an agency of the federal government to the fullest extent permissible. Depositors will continue to hold their existing certificates, passbooks, and other evidences of their accounts.

Persons desiring more information may contact the Conversion Center at (301) 777-0441, or write to First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland at P.O. Box 1705, Cumberland, MD.

"KIDS PRAISE" PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED - Youth members of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will present a Christian musical program this Sunday, January 12, at 7 p.m. The program will be held at St. Mark's, Second Street. "Kids Praise" is an hour-long program featuring several songs of varying tempos and inspirational messages, performed by the children and one adult (Jim Bartholomew). The show is under the direction of Julie Ursin, assisted by Mary McEwen, Liz Gilbert, Barb Wolfe, and Fran Storck. Shown above are the performers. In the first row, left to right, are Rachel Sincell, Suzanne Gilbert, Molly McGowan, Amanda Pagenhardt, and Heidi Malcolm. In the second row, same order, are David Peterson, Sara Sincell, Erin Wampler, Johnny Peterson, Heather Malcolm, Katy Ashby, and Matthew Sincell. Mrs. Ursin and Bartholomew are pictured in the back row. Not present for the photo were Sarah and Jennifer Mattingly. The public is invited to attend the performance, which is free of charge.

GCC Offering Various Special Interest Courses

The spring semester schedule of credit classes at Garrett Community College includes several special interest courses, according to Dr. Lillian Mitchell, dean of academic affairs.

One of these, Property and Casualty, (BUS 292 & 293) is a course for persons in the insurance industry to prepare them for the licensing examination. It will be taught by Craig Wengerd on Monday and Wednesday evenings, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Supervision and Personnel Administration (BUS 220) is a course for persons in banking and other businesses who supervise other employees. It will be taught by Tom Kierstead on Mondays, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A course for persons who like to write, Creative Writing, (ENG 208) will be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 1:20 to 2:50 p.m. According to instructor Joan B. Crawford, students in this course will try writing some fiction, non-fiction, and poetry during the first half of the semester, then choose a writing project to pursue for the second half of the semester.

Desk Top Publishing (OT 183) will be taught by Tammy Manthos on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 10:10-11:40 a.m. In this course, students will receive "hands on" experience with electronic techniques of publishing brochures, flyers, and newsletters.

Sanitation, Safety, and the Law (RM 160) deals with food and environmental sanitation and safety in food service and hotel operations, as well as pools and spas. It will be taught by Rodney Glotfelty on Tuesdays, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Registration is now being taken for these and other courses. Spring semester classes begin January 27. Anyone desiring further information about these courses or registration procedures may call the Student Assistance Center at 387-6666 or 245-4133.

NEW POSITIVE DRUGS REPLACING OLDTIMERS

Each new year has brought us new drugs which differ greatly from the guesswork ingredients of past years. It is difficult to realize that less than a hundred years ago, you could count on your fingers the known drugs which could be depended upon to give a positive medical result.

Now the multi-ingredient, hope they work, mixtures are rapidly disappearing. We have single ingredient medicines which can positively cause a desired result. We have drugs which raise or lower blood pressure. Others permit a diabetic to live a normal life. We can fill any prescription.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

SHIVERING... BUT SURE

There are better places to seek shelter than a doorstep. But not if you know the door is sure to open!

This isn't just a picture of a cold, wet puppy. It is a portrait of faith.

And of the things which so often go with faith; patience and courage.

Fortunately, for mankind, the doors that inspire these spiritual qualities are already open. Our churches and synagogues invite us to worship God, to study His truth, to discover the strength which religious conviction imparts to life.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

DON'T FORGET THE BENEFITS
January 12, 1992

Background Scripture:
Psalms 103.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 146.

Today in rummaging through my credit card company file, I found a statement from a particular credit card outlining the various benefits available to those who use their cards: excess collision loss/damage insurance for car rentals, "Buyers Security" for accidental damage, fire and theft on anything within 90 days of the purchase date, extended warranty on all purchases guaranteed travel insurance, ready cash, and even frequent flyer points of a particular airline. "Don't forget your benefits!" the brochure advised.

Actually, that is pretty good advice for me. I'm not a big user of credit cards and I tend to forget that there are more benefits than simply establishing credit to rent a car or book a hotel room. The same is true of my relationship with God. When things are going pretty well with my life, I tend to forget about "all His benefits." It is only when I am in some difficulty, whether imposed from without or within, that I am reminded what God does for me personally. What are those benefits? The Psalmist lists them:

who forgives all your iniquity,
who heals all your diseases,
who redeems your life from the Pit, who satisfies you with good as long as you live so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.

VERY PERSONAL

No credit card company, no self-help program, no product on the market, no club or association offers me that kind of a deal. I've got a great thing going here and I need to remind myself and join the Psalmist in singing: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits" (103:1).

Scholars believe that the Psalmist is someone who has experienced both great personal adversity and rescue, so that this hymn begins as a very personal response. God has healed him and helped him in the midst of affliction. God has provided him with "good" throughout his life. So, it is not enough for us to acknowledge God's goodness in only general terms. We must seek out, recognize and respond to all the things He does, first of all, in our own lives.

Yet, having started on this intensely personal level, He moves from the personal to the corporate. We cannot praise God for what He has done for us personally without giving thanks for what He has done others. As He is concerned for me, God "works vindication for all who are oppressed." All Israel has been blessed by God's grace. So, we too, if we start with our personal thanks, must be able to move toward corporate thanksgiving, too. Otherwise our praise may be nothing else than sheer selfishness.

2 POLARITIES

The Psalmist is struck by two polarities. On the one hand there is the permanency and pervasiveness of God's goodness: "He does not deal with us according to our sins, nor requite us according to our iniquities" (103:17). Furthermore, although everything else decays and passes away, "the steadfast love of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon those who fear him" (103:17). The other polarity is the transitory nature of human life: "As for man, his days are like grass, he flourishes like a flower of the field; for the wind passes over it, and it is gone..."

Realizing these two great truths, the Psalmist abandons his solitary song of praise and calls all creatures great and small everywhere to join in praise: "Bless the Lord, O you angels... all his hosts... all his works."

Not because God demands our praise, but because for our own emotional, physical, or spiritual health we need to forget not his benefits and give him the thanksgiving that enriched and saved our lives.

Woodmen Hold Awards Banquet

Lodge 11, Woodmen of the World, held its annual awards and Christmas banquet at the Deer Park Fire Hall on December 7 with 240 members and guests present.

Elaine Bateman provided Christmas music as guests arrived. John Sines, president, served as master of ceremonies.

Robert F. Rodeheaver, area manager, presented George Zimmerman with the Mr. Woodmen Award for service to the lodge and jurisdiction. Although not present for the dinner, Marcette Danner received the Woodman of Woodcraft Award for her work on Lodge 11's award-winning scrapbook and other activities.

Ron Ford, state manager, presented the Jurisdictional Fraternalist of the Year Award to Asa M. McCain Jr. for his contributions to the lodge and community. Delbert Bittinger received a past president's pin from John Sines.

One hundred percent family plaques were presented to Delbert and Lois Waybright and John and Crystal Sines. Twenty-five year pins were earned by 58 members, while sixteen members earned 50-year pins.

Following entertainment by Hammers and Strings, Joe and Leota Peck distributed more than 20 door prizes. The meal was served by the Deer Park Firemen's Auxiliary.

The Garrett County Crime Solvers organization is seeking information concerning the breaking, entering, and theft of a McHenry home.

The James Lueck residence, located on Marsh Hill Road, was illegally entered on August 31. The culprit(s) removed stereo amplifiers, cassette and compact disc players, and a number of compact discs.

The value of the stolen property has been placed at $9,500.

Any person who has information concerning this or any other unsolved crime is urged to contact Crime Solvers at 334-1975. Callers do not have to give their names, nor do they have to testify in court. Rewards up to $1,000 are available for persons who provide tips that lead to an arrest.

Byron To Return Over $100,000 In Office Funds

Rep. Beverly Byron (D-Md.) has announced she will return an estimated $102,000 of unused funds from her 1991 operating budget.

The amount, which represents nearly 13 percent of the total budget, consists of funds designated for mailings, office equipment, and salaries.

Because of a change in congressional procedure mandated by 1990 legislative appropriations as part of the overall congressional reform effort, 1991 was the first year each member's office had complete management responsibility for its office mail account.

Budgets for franked mail are determined for each congressional district based on the total number of non-business addresses in the district. Postal patron mailings such as the three annual newsletters sent by Rep. Byron as well as responses to individual constituent inquiries are included in the mail account.

"Addressing personal concerns is an important part of my duties in Congress. I consider those individual responses to constituent inquiries, which my office handles well in excess of 30,000 annually, to be one of my top priorities. That's why I allocate a smaller portion - this year it made up 38 percent - - of the mail budget to mass mailings like the newsletter," Byron said.

"But the newsletter, despite some of the criticism, is the only means I have to communicate directly with the majority of my constituents. I am obligated to let them know, as best I possibly can, what I'm doing on their behalf, but more importantly, it's the only way I can poll the district in a meaningful way as to their opinions on various issues.

"I should also point out that this isn't just a one-time example of reducing costs in my office. At a time when franking regulations permitted up to six newsletters per year, we had cut back to just three. Prior to redistricting, the Sixth District was the largest in the state by far, yet I've reduced the size of my staff from 22 to 16. And we're handling a greater volume of mail and individual cases every year."

Masons To Meet

Oakland Lodge No. 192, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons, will have a regular communication on Tuesday, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple. Officers for 1992 will be installed. Worshipful Master Theodore Raynovich III invited all Master Masons to attend the meeting and join him on the last evening of his year in the East. Fellowship and refreshments will follow the meeting.

Dinner is Back!

Surprising news for the 1990s: dinner at home returns as a deep-rooted American tradition. According to a recent study by the Food Marketing Institute and Better Homes and Gardens magazine, eight out of 10 of us are cooking an evening meal for our families several times a week or more.

Sixty-three percent of the survey respondents considered cooking a joy. While women say they're still the main cooks for the family, men report growing interest in the joys of cooking.

Today's busy people also are finding new ways to share their evening meals at home by taking advantage of delicious innovations that shorten preparation time.

Americans are replacing time-consuming traditional menus with easy-to-prepare specialties adapted from other regions of the country and the world. Today's cooks also are choosing foods with an eye on nutrition as well as good taste.

Turkey has become one of the favorite choices for busy couples, larger households or anyone who wants nutritious, lower-fat entrees. Here's a tasty selection of elegant entrees that feature boneless turkey breast. Select skinless turkey for convenience and a lower fat content. Because the meat is already roasted, you can have dinner on the table in minutes.

Enjoy Thai food? Try "Thai For Two" prepared here in a West Bend ® Cool-Touch Skillet. With the flavors and colors of the Orient, this recipe can be prepared and on the table in less than 30 minutes. Simply remove the temperature control and the skillet becomes an elegant serving piece. You'll save time on preparation and on dishwashing.

"Turkey Stir-Fry with Ramen Noodles" features strips of oven-roasted breast of turkey stir-fried with Ramen noodles, Japanese-style vegetables, diced carrots and soy sauce. This fast, nutritious meal has less than 450 delicious calories per serving.

While demands on our time may be greater than ever before, people are not willing to sacrifice all of the pleasures of more relaxed lifestyles. And with the convenience of today's small appliances and the nutrition of new, ready-to-eat foods, it's a snap to update the American tradition of dinner at home.

Thai for Two

Sauce:
- 1 tablespoon each vegetable oil and soy sauce
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped or ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
- ½ teaspoon ground ginger or ¼ teaspoon grated fresh ginger
- ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes
- 4 slices (¼-inch thick, about ½ pound) Louis Rich, fully cooked, Honey Roasted Breast of Turkey
- 1½ cups water
- 1 tablespoon lime juice
- 2 cups uncooked instant rice

Topping:
- 2 green onions with tops, chopped
- ½ cucumber, peeled and chopped
- ½ red bell pepper, sliced, optional

❧ Mix sauce ingredients in small bowl; set aside.
❧ Place turkey in skillet. Turn electric skillet to 300°F. Pour sauce evenly over turkey.
❧ Heat, uncovered, 4 minutes, turning turkey once.
❧ Remove turkey; add water and lime juice to skillet. Bring to a boil. Stir in rice; arrange turkey on top. Cover. Turn skillet off. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes.
❧ Fluff rice with fork and sprinkle with topping ingredients before serving. Makes 2 servings.

Cash Seizures By MSP Show Huge Increase

The Maryland State Police Criminal Intelligence Division reports a dramatic increase in the amount of cash seized by troopers during drug interdiction traffic stops along Maryland highways. During the first half of 1991, State Police seized $310,377, more than four times the $75,000 seized during the same period in 1990.

"The money seizures for the six month period (January - June) nearly totalled the sum of all the currency seizures during the past five years," stated Captain John P. Cook, commander, Criminal Intelligence Division. Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service broadcast, Captain Cook said the cash was seized during 1,016 drug interdiction traffic stops.

"These drug interdiction traffic stops clearly reflect an aggressive drug interdiction program and strict traffic law enforcement," stated Captain Cook. "Maryland State Police have earned a national reputation for strict and aggressive drug interdiction enforcement."

In addition to large amounts of U.S. currency, Maryland State Police seized approximately 60 pounds of marijuana and 90 pounds of cocaine. State Police also seized various quantities of heroin, PCP and methamphetamine. The drug interdiction traffic stops also led to the seizures of a variety of firearms including semi-automatic weapons and a AR assault rifle.

The Maryland State Police Radio Program is a weekly public service broadcast carried on approximately 50 radio stations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. Portions of this program are carried on the Maryland State Police Newsline, (410) 653-4275.

NEW GOP WOMEN'S CLUB OFFICERS INSTALLED – The Southern Garrett County Republican Women's Club recently installed its newly elected officers at the Christmas dinner held at Cornish Manor. 1991 Western District Chairperson and past club president Leona Beckman was the installing officer. Each incoming officer was presented with a poinsettia, and a special gift by Ruth Umbel, who also began the evening with a reading entitled, "The Meaning of Christmas." A total of 16 members and three guests were present at the meeting. A planning meeting is scheduled for January. Pictured above are the new officers, from left to right, Ruth Umbel, president; Arzella Parsons, treasurer; Bea Crosco, corresponding secretary, and Pat White, vice-president. Not present for the picture was Lisa Thayer, secretary.

GCC Encourages Under-Employed To Take Classes

Garrett County residents who are unemployed or under-employed during this period of economic recession might well turn this "down time" to their advantage by taking college courses that will prepare them for better jobs in the future, according to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development.

"Typically, in times of economic hardships, college full-time enrollments increase, as many students receive financial aid packages that cover all of their college tuition and other expenses," she said. "Many people are not aware, however, that they can receive the same benefits if they enroll as part-time students and take at least six credit hours a semester. This makes it possible for women with families and persons with part-time jobs to go to school and still have time for their other obligations." Crawford also pointed out that there is no age limit applied to financial aid eligibility.

To encourage more part-time students to enroll in the spring semester, GCC has scheduled special courses for persons employed in banking and insurance industries, as well as courses at satellite centers in Grantsville, Accident, Oakland, and Crellin. Academic advising and financial aid counseling are available for all full-time and part-time students.

Persons interested in learning more about opportunities available at Garrett Community College are encouraged to call the Student Assistance Center of the college at 387-6666 or 245-4133 for an appointment. Registration is now being taken for spring semester classes.

Participants called "potentially generous" contributors and asked them to support the American Heart Association. "We are very pleased with the results of the TeleParty," said Janet L. Bernard, TeleParty chairman. "The callers did an excellent job of raising money to support the fight against heart disease."

Frank Lancelotta was the top fundraiser. Other callers included Jeremy Thayer, Cathy Helbig, Renee Przybylski, Carolyn Hill, Steve Cowgill, Tommy Thayer, Robin Bernard, and Becky Moreland.

The American Heart Association is the nation's largest non-profit organization dedicated to the reduction of disability and death from heart disease and stroke. For information or to make a contribution, persons may call (301) 334-5865.

Partnerships In Education Workshop Set January 31

The Regional Education Service Agency (RESA) will sponsor a Partnerships in Education Workshop on Friday, January 31, at the Venice Inn in Hagerstown at 9 a.m. The workshop is open to educators and business/industry representatives interested in developing joint working relationships in support of learning.

The workshop will feature Daniel W. Merenda of the National Association of Partners in Education (NAPE) as the keynote speaker. Dr. Vera Zdravkovich of Prince George's Community College and co-director of CREST will discuss CREST Partnerships. A presentation on the NCI Frederick Cancer Research and Development Center by Thomas Schneider and Dr. Howard Young concerning their Student Intern Program will round out the morning session.

Small group sessions will be held concurrently in the afternoon to showcase working partnerships in the four counties of Western Maryland. The sessions will provide participants the opportunity to learn first hand how some of the most successful partnerships in the region came together and how they are able to maintain close working relationships. Programs to be featured will be the ACES Program, College and Me Program of Garrett County, Hagerstown Junior College Math Program, and others.

"Nuts and Bolts: How to Build a Partnership" is the final presentation of the day. Presenters are Maryellen LeDuc of Frederick County Board of Education and Sandy Shepherd of Washington County Board of Education. They will discuss the details of setting up a partnership and what is involved.

CREST stands for Combining Resources in Engineering, Science and Technology. CREST links higher education, business, industry, government laboratories and professional organizations with science and technology programs in Maryland's elementary and secondary schools. It is designed to (1) create an awareness of ongoing successful science, technology and engineering partnerships in the State; (2) stimulate and assist with the formation of new school/university/business partnership programs; and (3) create a statewide network to address the needs in science, technology and engineering.

Frank Peto, executive director of RESA and a regional CREST leader, states, "The purpose of this workshop is to show the benefit of and need for partnerships and the opportunity for educators, business and industry to work together to provide better opportunities for students. From the standpoint of education, it is an opportunity to acquaint the greater community to partnerships as a good means to achieve learning goals. From the standpoint of business/industry, it is an opportunity to express their views regarding educational needs for a changing work environment."

There is no fee for participation in this workshop. Funding is provided through CREST, a Maryland Higher Education Commission grant. To register, persons may contact RESA, 153 Baltimore Street, Cumberland, MD 21502, or call (301) 777-3525.

Caveat Emptor!

For years, the phrase "Caveat emptor!" was popular in real estate. Latin for "Let the buyer beware!", it was meant to forwarn buyers that responsibility for making a satisfactory purchase rested in their hands.

During the many years that phrase was used, it was intended to alert buyers that they alone bore the burden of discovering negatives like construction defects, property line disputes, wet basements, and other equally undesirable, yet not readily evident, situations which could cause them great anguish.

Times have changed. With the advent of consumer protection, new responsibilities have been placed on sellers and real estate agents. Property owners are generally required to disclose defects, both obvious and latent, that are present in their home.

The owners' knowledge of a wet basement, structural settling or uncorrected damage to rafters from a leaking roof should all be disclosed up front to prospective buyers. When sellers list their home, that information is normally itemized in the listing agreement, and disclosed to buyers before a purchase agreement is signed.

Regardless of the improving disclosure climate however, buyers should still take steps to protect their interests when making a purchase. First, ask questions. When inspecting a property, ask the agent and the owner about construction flaws, defects and other situations which could have a negative impact on the property's value, if purchased.

Ask about proposed zoning changes, new development in the area and proposed changes in roads and highways which could affect the property. Listen carefully to answers and make notes when appropriate.

Although sellers, agents and others may be obligated to disclose adverse situations, the best insurance buyers can acquire is a thorough knowledge of a property's condition and its potential for future increases in value. As a buyer, take steps to be informed before making a purchase.

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303, or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

Wasserman Says State Well Positioned For Economic Recovery During 1992

Maryland's civilian labor force and employment continued to grow during 1991 despite a dramatic slowdown in the nation's economy, according to the annual economy report issued last week by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED).

During the first 10 months of 1991, employment increased by 93,200 persons in Maryland, a four percent gain. The unemployment rate dropped from 6.1 percent during the first 10 months of 1990 to 5.5 percent during the similar period of 1991.

"It is difficult to find good economic news in the year just ended, but the underlying strength and diversity of the Maryland economy has helped us weather the recession of 1991 and should put us in a position to lead the nation out of the recession in 1992," said Mark L. Wasserman, secretary of economic and employment development.

The civilian labor force in Maryland, defined as people employed or seeking employment, increased 3.3 percent during the first 10 months of 1991. On a 12-month basis, October 1990 through October 1991, the labor force grew more rapidly than employment and resulted in an increase in the number of unemployed persons in Maryland.

"The challenge for Maryland in the months ahead is to accelerate the creation of jobs through new business formation and at the same time do what we can to help existing business stay competitive," Wasserman said.

On the basis of forecasts by two independent economic research organizations, Wasserman said the Maryland economy will begin to gain momentum in 1992. The recovery, however, is expected to be slow and gradual.

Manufacturing employment in Maryland stood at slightly less than 200,000 jobs in October, 1991, down 7,600 from October, 1990, a 3.6 percent drop. Nationally, the number of jobs in manufacturing throughout the United States decreased 3.1 percent last year.

Maryland's non-manufacturing employment increased by 32,900 from January 1991 to October 1991, about 1.7 percent. Nine out of 10 payroll jobs in Maryland are now in the non-manufacturing sector and one job in three is in the services group.

Health services, part of a sector newly defined by DEED as the "life sciences cluster," is Maryland's best-performing employment area. From 1980 through 1991, employment in health services in Maryland increased from 95,400 to 164,700 -- a 73 percent jump. Total employment in Maryland during that same period increased 23 percent.

Job growth in Maryland last year was also strong in the sector described by DEED as the "information technologies." This sector includes telecommunications, printing and publishing, electronic components and accessories, computer hardware and software, instruments, avionics and research and testing.

Printing and publishing represents the largest manufacturing sector in Maryland with 28,000 jobs. Food and related products ranks second with 25,200 jobs, followed by instruments and avionics with 21,700.

During the 15-year period from 1975 to 1990, Maryland lost 23,500 manufacturing jobs, but gained 21,800 jobs over the same period in the information technology fields.

Overall, Maryland's economy remains strong, Wasserman said. The gross state product (GSP) -- the total value of all goods and services produced and sold in Maryland -- climbed to $99.1 billion in 1989, according to data released in November 1991 by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the U.S. Department of Commerce. At some point last year, the gross product surged well above $100 billion, according to current estimates.

Weaknesses in the Maryland economy in 1991, particularly in construction and retail sales, paralleled the weaknesses in the national economy and reflected a sharp downturn in consumer confidence, he said.

During the first 10 months of 1991, building permits for non-residential construction fell 7.7 percent in Maryland when compared with the same period a year earlier. Nationally, over the same comparable periods, non-residential construction was off 10.9 percent.

Retail sales during the first nine months of 1991 in Maryland totaled $26.8 billion, down $11 million. Most major retailers in the state have also reported sluggish sales during the final three months of the year -- including the Christmas buying season.

Reflecting the downturn in the national economy, Maryland's transportation sector -- including Baltimore/Washington International Airport and the Port of Baltimore -- had mixed results in 1991.

Although total passenger traffic decreased during the first ten months of 1991, international passenger business was up by 33 percent at BWI and international air freight movements increased 27 percent.

The Maryland Port Administration reports that general cargo handled at the Port of Baltimore terminals in the first half of 1991 increased 5.2 percent with a 23.2 percent increase in exports. General cargo is defined as a diversified mix of finished materials and manufactured goods.

However, total export tonnage, including raw materials and bulk commodities as well as finished goods was down 18.9 percent in the first half of 1991, the latest period for which figures are available.

Governor Declares Higher Education Awareness Week

In an effort to call attention to the current fiscal status of higher education in Maryland, Governor William Donald Schaefer has declared the week of January 20 as Maryland Higher Education Awareness Week.

Colleges and universities throughout the state have been asked to participate in certain specified activities in observance of this week. A different event has been planned by the Governor's office for each day of the week.

On Monday, Martin Luther King's birthday, minority scholars will be invited to an event in the Governor's mansion. A meeting is planned for Tuesday for all college presidents at St. John's College in Annapolis.

The Wednesday, January 22, event, scheduled as President's Town Meetings, will be observed by Garrett Community College when president Dr. Steve Herman holds a "fireside chat" in the Bausch and Lomb Art Gallery of the college at 6:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend. Dr. Herman will speak about the importance of keeping a positive outlook on the state of the economy and give his analysis of the current economic crisis and possible remedies for it.

On Thursday, an Alumni Day has been set for the Francis Scott Key auditorium of St. John's College, and on Friday, January 24, student legislators from across the state will present petitions to the General Assembly advocating tax increases to prevent further cuts in higher education budgets. The petitions were drafted by the Governor's office and sent to all colleges and universities in the state.

Members of the student delegation at Garrett Community College are currently circulating these petitions for signatures and will take them to Annapolis on January 24.

WOW PRESENTS FLAGS - Rev. Ellis Harvey and Ralph Buckel, both members of Woodmen of the World Lodge 68 of Bittinger, recently presented a Christian flag and an American flag to the Otterbein Methodist Church, Swanton, at a special ceremony. Buckel gave a short history of the American flag. Since the program started, WOW has presented more than 60,000 American flags to various organizations, according to a spokesperson. In the photo left to right are John Wright, Rev. Harvey, Buckel, and Sam Wright.

Student Literacy Writing Contest To Get Underway

Governor William Donald Schaefer will kick off the fourth annual "Maryland You are Beautiful" Student Literacy Writing Competition at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, January 14, at West Middle School, Baltimore City.

Open to all Maryland public schools and participating private school students kindergarten through 12th grade, the annual competition is cosponsored by the "Maryland You are Beautiful" Program, the Maryland State Department of Education, and the Governor's Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission. The theme is "Say No to Drugs and Alcohol!"

Students compete on four levels, K-2, 3-5, 6-8 and 9-12. The competition will run in the schools from Feb. 1 to March 1, 1992. Top entries will be judged by professional educators.

"We want all students statewide to say no to drugs and alcohol in record numbers! Projects like the annual Maryland You are Beautiful Student Literacy Writing Competition reinforce this important prevention message 100 percent," said Governor Schaefer. "Through strong education, public awareness and special projects like this literacy competition, we can work toward a drug-free future for all Marylanders."

Every student who enters will receive free discount coupons to Kings Dominion Theme Park. The top 12 statewide finalists will be honored at an Annapolis awards ceremony and luncheon with Governor Schaefer in May. The first-place statewide winners in each age division win a weekend for four in historic Annapolis, and overnight accommodations with complimentary passes for four at Kings Dominion Theme Park.

The competition's major contributors are Kings Dominion Theme Park, CareFirst and Columbia Freestate Health Systems and Image Dynamics Advertising and Public Relations.

"Your Health Is Our Business"

The Leading Cause of Tooth Loss

The primary cause of tooth loss is a condition dentists refer to as periodontal disease. The more common name for this condition is "gum disease." Periodontal disease begins with an accumulation of plaque, an invisible film that covers the teeth. If the plaque remains and hardens, it forms a material called calculus. Calculus encourages the formation of pockets around the root or base of the tooth. These pockets can become filled with food particles and bacteria, resulting in infection. Often these areas become inflamed, causing the gums to recede or move away from the teeth. Since there is less support for the teeth, the teeth eventually loosen and, without treatment, may be lost. One of the signs of gum disease is bad breath that does not improve after brushing and use of mouth rinses.

Periodontal disease may occur more frequently in persons who have diabetes, or blood disorders, or who take certain medicines. Those who grind their teeth while sleeping and individuals with a malocclusion (bad bite) also may be prone to develop gum disease.

A general dentist or periodontist may choose to treat gum disease by scraping away the calculus. If this is not effective, surgical removal of deep pockets at the gum line and antibiotic therapy may be necessary.

COVER STORY

Devane: 'Knots' is busy unraveling its problems

BY LYNN HOOGENBOOM

No one will ever accuse William Devane of being a publicity hound.

He plays one of the most interesting characters on television: Gregory Sumner, a cynical businessman with a casual charm and a sharp sense of humor, on "Knots Landing" (Thursdays on CBS). But since Devane rarely does interviews and his private life is too quiet to interest the tabloids, the public rarely hears from him.

"I've seen people at a parties who'll ask me if I'm working," he laughs. "I do very little publicity, and people in the industry never watch the show."

The reason he's doing a few interviews now is out of loyalty to "Knots Landing," which is in trouble for the first time in its 12-year history.

"Everybody on the show has been unhappy with the new batch of writers," says Devane. "Not that they're not gifted. It's just that they took a tack that's not exactly the way the show had gone in the past. And, basically, if it ain't broke, why fix it?"

As a result of pressure from the cast, production was halted in November, and a new head writer was brought on. In the meantime, episodes that had already been filmed have continued to air. Improvements should start showing up with the episode of Jan. 30.

"(The problems) became real apparent when they drove Pierce (Bruce Greenwood) into the story so quickly," says Devane. Pierce was brought in as a "hot" new romantic interest for Paige Matheson (Nicollette Sheridan); viewers could never figure out what she saw in him.

But the writing problems went deeper than hatching improperly thought-out romances. "I've written a number of 'Knots Landing's, and one of the key things was that no scene was to be longer than two pages," says Devane. "This year, we've had scenes six or seven pages long. You get seven pages to write what should be done in two pages – on our show, it's slumming."

When "thirtysomething" was canceled after three seasons, most cast members made it clear they were happy to be going on to other things. "Knots Landing" is different.

"I think you're dealing with a lot more mature actors," says Devane. "What do you mean, 'Go on to other things'? If you have a good part and you're in something good, go on to what? I certainly know when I look at what's out there, there's no character as interesting as Greg Sumner that I'm going to be offered."

So Devane isn't worrying about those "other things" yet. "The audience isn't bored; they're angry at us," he says. "Hopefully, they'll forgive us, and we can get back to what we've done the best."

William Devane and Nicollette Sheridan star as Gregory Sumner and Paige Matheson in "Knots Landing," which airs Thursdays on CBS.

TV DIALOGUE

BY TONI REINHOLD

BIG VALLEE – How old was Rudy Vallee when he died? I remember him singing through a megaphone when I was just a kid, and I enjoyed him through the years. Where was he from? – S.C., Manchester, N.H.

Rudy Vallee

Singer and actor Rudy Vallee was born in Island Pond, Vt., in 1901. Vallee was a famous radio personality during the '20s and '30s and was a regular on TV shows of the '50s. He wrote three autobiographies: "Vagabond Dreams Come True" (1930), "My Time Is Your Time" (1962) and "Let the Chips Fall" (1975). Vallee died in 1986 at the age of 85.

'GORILLA' MEGILLAH – I'd like some information about a show from the mid or late '60s called "Garrison's Gorillas." What was the series about? Who were the stars, and what were their characters' names? – D.C.A., Elgin, Ill.

Reminiscent of the 1967 film "The Dirty Dozen," "Garrison's Gorillas" was a series revolving around a group of commandos who were officially sprung from U.S. prisons to fight the Germans during World War II. The payoff was to be a presidential pardon for each of them. The series, which aired from 1967-68, featured Ron Harper as Gorilla leader Lt. Craig Garrison; Cesare Danova as Actor, a con man; Rudy Solari as the safecracker Casino; Christopher Cary as Goniff, a burglar; and Brendon Boone as Chief, a switchblade-wielding American Indian.

TATE NECESSARILY SO – Who was the actor who played Larry Tate in "Bewitched"? Did he star in any other series? – W.E., Lancaster, Pa.

Larry Tate was the only series role of actor David White.

PACINO STATION – How old is Al Pacino? Is he married? – K.L., Boston

Pacino is 51 years old and unmarried.

IT'S A FACT – When I was young, I watched "The Mickey Mouse Club," and I'm sure that Blair of "The Facts of Life" was a Mouseketeer. But my mother says I'm wrong. – D.N., Sacramento, Calif.

In 1977, when she was 14 years old, Lisa Whelchel landed a Mouseketeer slot in the short-lived syndicated "The New Mickey Mouse Club." She went on to play the spoiled Blair Warner in "The Facts of Life" from 1979-88.

Bacon and townspeople vs. worms in 'Tremors'

BY FELICIA A. FEASTER

Fred Ward ("Henry and June") and Kevin Bacon ("Flatliners") star in "Tremors" (NBC, Jan. 12) as borderline-redneck handymen and hopeless failures living in a barren, middle-of-nowhere Nevada valley along with a flock of quirky neighbors. The boys' plan to leave their backwater ville and make something of themselves is foiled when they discover enormous, burrowing carnivorous worms are living under the town, devouring locals and their property without discrimination. The remaining townspeople launch an all-out assault on the "Dune"-like creatures in this enormously silly, very eccentric 1990 comedy. Among other pluses in the film, "Tremors" has a cast of goofy characters including country singer Reba McEntire and Michael Gross as a commando couple with a liking for guns and Bacon as the cussin' and big-talking Valentine McKee – possibly Bacon's only purposefully amusing performance to date.

• When the pain of an ovarian cancer becomes unbearable, Ida Rollin (Maureen Stapleton) turns to her daughter, Betty (Patty Duke), for help in finding a way to end her life with dignity, in "Last Wish" (ABC, Jan. 12). The drama, based on Betty Rollin's autobiographical book about her relationship with her dying mother, follows her emotional struggle with herself as she faces the moral and personal implications of granting her mother's wrenching plea.

• "Breaking the Silence" (CBS, Jan. 14) is a pathetic excuse for either entertainment or education, using its sordid story of child abuse to draw attention to itself and garner ratings. Tedious, badly directed and with what may be the most pointless, ineffective use of flashbacks ever conceived, this courtroom drama stars Gregory Harrison as Paul Donner, a successful and apparently "normal" criminal attorney. In the TV movie, Donner is cajoled by a law school colleague (Stephanie Zimbalist) into helping a teenager accused of murdering his abusive father. But the case, and the teen-ager's mysterious relationship with his mother, triggers something in Donner's recollections of his own mother.

• Dinah Manoff seems to be filling the shoes of sitcom star Tony Danza in "Maid for Each Other" (CBS, Jan. 18), playing a spoiled wife employed as a maid to a singer (Nell Carter). The two women engage in several inspired high jinks when the death of the singer's ex-husband must be covered up.

SPORTS CALENDAR

NHL takes yearly bow in all-star game on NBC

BY CHRISTOPHER HULL

The biggest sports events on television this week are the AFC and NFC championship games, Sunday, Jan. 12, on NBC and CBS. The winners take two weeks off (more on whether or not that's a good idea in two weeks) before they meet in Super Bowl XXVI at the Metrodome in Minneapolis.

On the off weekend, the National Hockey League gets its once-annual broadcast-television exposure in the United States when NBC airs the NHL All-Star game live from Philadelphia, Saturday, Jan. 18. Marv Albert calls the action, and former players John Davidson and Bill Clement provide analysis.

Brett Hull

Expect Brett Hull (St. Louis), Al MacInnis (Calgary), Wayne Gretzky (Los Angeles), Luc Robitaille (Los Angeles), Chris Chelios (Chicago) and Ed Belfour (Chicago) to see plenty of ice time for the Campbell Conference; and Ray Bourque (Boston), Mario Lemieux (Pittsburgh), Jaromir Jagr (Pittsburgh), Rick Tocchet (Philadelphia), Paul Coffey (Pittsburgh) and Patrick Roy (Montreal) to do the same for the Wales Conference.

It's a long wait between games for many hockey fans in the United States, where there are basically three ways you can pick up NHL action: First is to live within range of a broadcast station that carries the games of an NHL club; second is to be wired for cable and receive one of those broadcast channels as part of your basic service; third is to have cable and to pay for a premium channel that carries NHL hockey. No matter how you cut it, that's not a lot of exposure.

Going into this season, the NHL didn't have a U.S. television contract, period. Its $51 million three-year deal with SportsChannel America expired after last year's Stanley Cup finals, and when the league finally re-upped for a considerably less $5.5 million one-year deal just after the 1991-92 season got underway, it became the first professional league to take a rights cut.

But the NHL, which takes in about two thirds of its revenue through gate receipts, is less reliant on television than the leagues of nearly all other professional sports. The league is currently looking into the possibility of direct satellite transmission of games. That would give those fans with a satellite dish unlimited access to professional hockey and cut out the middle man.

The bottom line is: Don't look for the NHL to be appearing regularly on network television anytime soon.

Bryant Gumbel

HELLO, Ruby Tuesday: NBC's "Today" celebrates its 40th year on the air in a special episode airing Tuesday, Jan. 14. Bryant Gumbel, Katie Couric, Joe Garagiola and Willard Scott will all be on hand for the ruby-anniversary festivities. • On Sunday, Jan. 12, TBS airs the Cousteau special "Indonesia: The Devil's Orchard." • The 1989 film "The January Man," starring Kevin Kline, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio and Susan Sarandon, makes its broadcast premiere Monday, Jan. 13, on Fox. • "Fever," a "VH-1 to One" special on Stevie Wonder, premieres Wednesday, Jan. 15. • "Getting Married: A Modern Bride TV Special" airs Friday, Jan. 17, on The Family Channel. Miss America 1990 Debbye Turner hosts the special, which looks at the process of getting married through the eyes of engaged couples. • On Friday, Jan. 17, PBS airs "Campaigning for the Presidency," a two-hour examination of the current state of the electoral process. (Check local listings.) • The 49th Annual Golden Globe Awards ceremony airs Saturday, Jan. 18, on TBS. The honors for achievements in television and motion pictures are an important precursor of the Oscars.

SOAP SCOOP

New head writer packs for 'Santa Barbara'

BY CONNIE PASSALACQUA

Will someone please get us off this frenetic weekly daytime talent merry-go-round!

Going this week: Bridget and Jerome Dobson as head writers of "Santa Barbara." (NBC says the Dobsons will remain "creative producers" of the show they founded in 1984.) A year ago, the Dobsons had come back to the show after an absence of three years. They had just reached a settlement with the other owners, New World and NBC.

The apparent heir as "SB" head writer (though not yet officially announced as of this writing) is a shocker: Pamela Long, who stepped down from her second stint as head writer of "Guiding Light" last spring. Can Long's all-out emotional style merge with the urbanity of "SB" 's characters?

Alabama-born Long (who represented the state at the 1976 Miss America Pageant) certainly won't be able to make these characters unabashedly Southern, as she did with so many Lewis family characters on "GL."

Long made her acting debut as Ashley Linden on "Texas" in 1981. When it looked likely that the show would be canceled, Procter & Gamble gave the totally inexperienced writer a shot, and Long wrote gloriously for "Texas." But the doomed show went off the air anyway at the end of 1982.

Long's "GL" years were just as memorable; her "GL" gave time-slot competitors "SB" and "General Hospital" a powerful run for that crucial hour's ratings. All these years later, "SB" still has not gained any serious ratings momentum, thanks in part to Long's efforts back then. According to NBC Daytime Vice President Susan Lee, the network is reconsidering the future of "SB," and its fate will be determined next July. As she did on "Texas," it looks like Long will be working against a clock.

And what of the Dobsons? After the euphoria of their return last winter, they went on to create the swashbuckling role of Warren Lockridge for Jack Wagner (acquired from "GH"), and the show took to Russia with the character for a great remote. But the rest of the show went alarmingly downhill, typified by an overblown, overproduced remote done in October in San Francisco, with characters such as Mason (played by Gordon Thomson), Julia (played by Nancy Grahn) and Cassie (played by Karen Moncrieff).

Instead of the Dobsons' wit and style, we got a "Bullitt"-style car chase and some bizarre amorous scenes filmed inside Alcatraz!

IN FOCUS

Imagine George Bernard Shaw's take on Revolutionary War hero Nathan Hale, and you'll have a good notion of what A&E's "Hale the Hero," airing Tuesday, Jan. 14, is all about. Playwright Richard Vetere isn't quite on Shaw's level, of course, but the results are interesting. Kevin Anderson (l.) plays Hale, who might be a spy or might simply be a deserter, and Elisabeth Shue (r.) plays the woman who persuades him to become a martyr.

To his daughter, actress Jane Fonda, Henry Fonda was a shy man of few words. But his love of acting impressed everyone who worked with him during his long and illustrious career. "Fonda on Fonda," hosted by Jane Fonda and airing Monday, Jan. 13, on TNT, offers a uniquely personal perspective of the legendary actor from such longtime friends as Jimmy Stewart and Katharine Hepburn, as well as Fonda family members.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Marine Pfc. Scott A. Collette, son of Jim A. and Dixie L. Collette, Mount Storm, W.Va., recently completed recruit training and was promoted to his present rank.

During the training cycle at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C., recruits are taught the basic of battlefield survival, introduced to typical military daily routine and personal and professional standards.

All recruits participate in an active physical conditioning program and gain proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline are emphasized throughout the cycle.

Collette is a 1991 graduate of Union High School.

U.S. Army Pvt. Brian K. VanSickle has completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and is presently stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. Currently training in tank turret repair, Pvt. VanSickle will be working mainly with the M-1 series.

The son of James E. VanSickle, Friendsville, and the late Frances P. VanSickle, he is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Perry VanSickle, also of Friendsville. He is a 1990 graduate of Northern High School.

U.S. Navy Chief Petty Officer Kevin M. Sines, son of Everett E. and Wilma F. Sines, Terra Alta, W.Va., recently returned from an unscheduled five-month Persian Gulf deployment in support of continuing Desert Storm operations.

While deployed aboard the submarine tender USS L.Y. Spear, homeported in Norfolk, Va., the crew of more than 1,200 men and women provided repair, supply, medical, dental, engineering, administrative, communications and deck support to some 48 different ships, ranging from mine sweepers to nuclear powered aircraft carriers.

The L.Y. Spear's crew also participated in project "Handclasp," a goodwill visit to war-ravaged Kuwait City. More than 700 men and women from the ship volunteered to repair, install and restore equipment and facilities at a school for disabled children in Kuwait. The sailors also repaired walls, cages, fences and a water fountain at the Kuwaiti Zoo, as well as delivered food, medicine and equipment donated by the Virginia Zoological Society in Norfolk.

Upon departing the Persian Gulf, the commander of U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, Rear Adm. R.A.K. Taylor, praised the "superstars of L.Y. Spear for the commitment to excellence, a trademark which will remain in this region."

Sines, a 1979 graduate of East Preston Senior High School, joined the Navy in December 1979.

Earns Promotion

Joseph A. Nelson, a member of Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, Oakland, was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant. Sergeant Nelson is in the 2nd platoon, 3rd squad as a team leader. He has been a member of the service for five years. He has also completed the Non-commissioned officers course and NBC (nuclear biological and chemical) School.

Nelson recently received the Army Achievement Medal for "outstanding initiative and dedication to duty" while serving as a combat engineer for Company C during annual training.

Nelson resides in Gaithersburg with his wife, Ladonnia, and daughter, Courtney, and is employed at the Montgomery County Detention Center.

AAUW To Hear Dr. McCartney At Tuesday Meeting

The American Association of University Women will hold its third "Local Education and Community Involvement" meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday, January 14, at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Dr. Brenda McCartney, director of elementary education for the Garrett County Board of Education, will be the speaker. She will discuss current local curriculum in elementary education including curriculum in math, computers, and science. A question and answer period will end the talk.

Plans will be finalized for the Maryland State AAUW's Third Computer, Math, and Science Career Fair for seventh grade girls to be held in the Annapolis Mall on Saturday, February 29. The purpose of the Fair is to encourage junior high school seventh grade girls to pursue an academic curriculum and careers in these disciplines. Persons may call Sheila Edwards for further information (334-9334).

Lisa Towne, the recipient of the 1991-92 AAUW Scholarship, will be an invited guest. She will receive congratulations from the group on her successful completion of her first semester at Garrett Community College. As a result of this success, she is eligible to receive the second semester portion of the scholarship.

The general public is invited and welcome to attend this service.

U.S. Whitewater Trials Among Big Events For 1992

Maryland will be the site of more than a dozen high-visibility events in 1992 which are expected to draw millions of tourists from across Maryland, the nation, and even the world, according to the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development.

Many of the events, including two Olympic trials, will also be televised to a world wide audience. A list of high-profile 1992 events planned for Maryland were presented last week to the media by Maryland Secretary of Economic and Employment Development Mark. L. Wasserman during his annual Maryland economy report.

The U.S. Canoe and Kayak Team Olympic Trials will be held on the Savage River in Garrett County May 13-17, with 100 of the nation's best whitewater athletes competing for 15 spots on the U.S. Olympic team.

"Maryland already enjoys a booming tourism industry with more than 34 million visitors a year creating an annual economic impact of $6.3 billion," said Wasserman. "And with the variety and scope of high-visibility events planned for Maryland in 1992, in addition to the hundreds of regularly scheduled annual events, DEED expects Maryland's tourism industry to continue to prosper despite difficult economic times."

"It's also exciting to have all these national and international events to look forward to right in our own back yards. Marylanders won't have to travel far this year to enjoy world-class activities," added Wasserman.

"In addition," added Wasserman, "the value of national and international television coverage of Maryland for events such as the opening of Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the Maryland Preakness Celebration and the two U.S. Olympic Trials -- gymnastics and canoe/kayak -- is immeasurable."

The public will be able to obtain more information about the events planned for Maryland in 1992 at the first-ever "Maryland on Display" consumer show to be held April 3-5 in Baltimore's Festival Hall. DEED's Office of Tourism Development and Maryland's tourism industry are cosponsoring the event. Each of Maryland's regions will be featured at the show as well as Maryland's transportation system, natural resources, special events and attractions.

STANDING TIMBER FOR SALE

BLUELICK-WEST BRANCH

The Maryland State Forest and Park Service is offering for sale the following timber on 12 acres of Compartment #23 of Savage River State Forest. This sale is estimated to cut 63,324 BD FT of live sawtimber and 3,533 BD FT of dead sawtimber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule, and 40 cords of hardwood pulpwood, more or less. All tallied trees 11"D.B.H. and larger with at least one 16' log to a 8" top D.I.B. with less than 50% defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located along a forest access road on the east side of Lower New Germany Road, .8 mile south of the intersection with Bluelick Road. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 AM on Monday, January 13, 1992. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet at the intersection of Twin Churches and Lower New Germany Road.

2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Savage River State Forest Headquarters, Rt. 2, Box 63-A, Grantsville, MD 21536 or phone 301-895-5759.

3. A Security Bond in the amount of 10% of the bid submitted must be posted upon submission of the bid to the Maryland State Forest & Park Service.

4. The operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator in Maryland for 1991 and hold a Certificate of Erosion and Sediment Control (Green/Gold Card) training to be awarded successful bidding.

5. A Performance Bond in the amount of 10% of the bid submitted must be posted upon acceptance of the contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.

6. All timber volumes noted in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. NO adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.

7. Bidder may pay 50% of bid price on acceptance of the contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from bid acceptance. If buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in form acceptable to the State.

8. Bids will be received up until 1:00 PM on Monday, Jan. 27, 1992.

Public Notices

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF MTN. LAKE PARK, MD.

The following is a condensed version of an ordinance providing for the regulation and control for Floodplain Management within the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

ORDINANCE No. 91-3 is an ordinance providing for the regulation and control for Floodplain Management within the Town of Mountain Lake Park. The Ordinance explains/defines Permit Procedures, the Establishment of Floodplain Zones, Development Regulations in Floodplain Zones (including the Floodway Fringe Zone, and the Floodway Zone), and Specific Requirements for building.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency, which administers the National Flood Insurance Program, has required that all Maryland communities which had been under resolution for the Department of Natural Resources to enforce their floodplain regulations, must now adopt their own ordinances. The primary responsibility for compliance with an ordinance and its enforcement rests with the Town.

ORDINANCE No. 91-3 is available in its entirety, for review at the Town Hall, 1007 Allegheny Drive, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland.

at the hour of 10:30 o'clock A.M.

in the Rotunda of the Garrett County Courthouse in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, which are described as follows:

ALL that lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland, lying on the north side of the Green Glade Run Tributary of Deep Creek Lake, more fully described as follows:

BEGINNING at a concrete monument marked N-387, said monument being a corner of Pennsylvania Electric Company, and being the fourth corner of the 53.77 acre tract that is described as Tract 1 of Tract 84 in the deed from Eastern Land Corporation to Youghiogheny Hydro-Electric Corporation, dated October 1, 1925, and recorded in Liber No. 91, folio 448, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and running thence from said beginning monument, North 3° 25' West 1693.15 feet to a stake standing in a fence and standing North 59° 54' East 282.40 feet from a fence post, which is the northwest corner of the whole tract, thence along a fence, the north line of the whole tract, North 59° 54' East 1367 feet to a stake, thence South 38° 06' East 58.32 feet to a stake in the southwest margin of State Route 495, thence with the southwest margin of State Route 495, South 16° 40' East 843.10 feet to a stake in the northwest margin of a road, thence with the northwest margin of said road, South 60° 44' West 763.90 feet to a stake; thence with the middle of the old county road, South 38° 42' East 1153.60 feet to a point in monument marked N-389-wit, thence two courses with the lines of Pennsylvania Electric Company, South 86° 55' West 612 feet to a concrete monument N-388, thence South 74° 56' West 834.90 feet to the beginning, containing 51.83 acres, more or less.

INCLUDING several rights of way as fully set forth in the deed from Katherine Poland, widow, et al. to Frederick D. Steiding, et ux., dated July 16, 1968, and recorded in Liber No. 286, folio 541, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

EXCEPTING, however, all of that lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being along the western margin of an unpaved county road, the northern margin of a 30 foot right of way, and being part of the land that was conveyed by Frederick D. Steiding, et ux., to William H. Buser, et ux., by deed dated July 8, 1972 and recorded in Liber No. 325, folio 612, one of the said Land Records, containing 1.00 acres, more or less.

BEING the same property conveyed to Robert C. Hesson and Sharon G. Hesson, husband and wife, by virtue of a deed from William H. Buser, et ux., dated July 14, 1986 and recorded in Liber No. 481, folio 157, one of the said Land Records.

EXCEPTING, that 12.01 acres, more or less, that was conveyed to Russell Schofield, et al. by deed from Robert C. Hesson, et ux., dated December 15, 1989, and recorded in Liber No. 541, folio 137, one of the said Land Records.

SAID property is located on the westside of Route 495 in the Green Glade area of Deep Creek Lake, Mayberry Poling Road, Swanton, Maryland, improved with ranch style home. The home has a main residence with 2160 square feet with an attached apartment with 1350 square feet, total of 2 dining rooms, 2 living rooms, 2 kitchens, a den, 6 bedrooms, 5 baths. This property has a large deck, covered porch and two fireplaces. Also located upon the property is a barn having 1500 square feet with full electric and water.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of TWENTY percent (20%) of the purchase price will be required from the purchaser at the time and place of sale, to be paid in cash or by cashier's or certified check, or in such other form as the Assignee may in her sole discretion determine. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash or by cashier's or certified check upon final ratification of the sale by the Clerk of Circuit Court for Garrett County. Taxes and all other public charges and assessments, if any, payable on an annual basis to be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes to be paid by the purchaser. The above-described property will be sold in "as is" condition and without warranty as to the accuracy of information furnished to and/or by the Assignee and made available to prospective bidders.

SAID real estate is in agricultural use and may be subject to agricultural use transfer tax, said tax, if any, shall be the responsibility of purchaser.

NHS Students Recognized For High Achievement

Northern High School students were recognized recently at an assembly. The assembly, sponsored by First United National Bank & Trust, honored the students for their high achievement on the Maryland Functional Citizenship Test.

The following students were presented with a hardback thesaurus, on behalf of the bank, for earning a perfect score on the test: Carla M. Creekmore, Jeramie S. Foy, Robert J. Fritz, Jonathan D. Hamilton, Timothy J. Hinebaugh, Gregory A. Korns, Glenn C. Rounds, Jennifer E. Theriot, Melissa A. Weimer, Christopher M. Wright, Sara L. Younkin, and Daniel Kremer.

The citizenship test is one of the four functional tests required of Maryland students for high school graduation. Other test categories include reading, writing, and math.

The citizenship test is divided into three areas: 1) constitutional government, 2) principles, rights, and responsibilities, and 3) politics and political behavior.

Constitutional government includes the federal system of national, state, and local government. Qualifications and duties of government officials are studied, as well as the law-making process. Additionally, the three branches of government - executive, legislative, and judicial. Also, the checks and balances systems are learned.

Principles, rights, and responsibilities include rights of citizenship guaranteed through the Bill of Rights. The benefits of a system of written laws and responsibilities of citizens is also covered.

Politics and political behavior concentrates on the two-party system, elections, and the process by which candidates are elected.

Small Business Survival Classes Slated At GCC

The Small Business Administration encourages anyone thinking about starting a small business to improve the chance for success by learning the basics before getting the business underway. Several short classes that have been designed to provide potential business owners with this opportunity will be starting in January at Garrett Community College in McHenry.

"Introduction to Small Business" will meet January 23 and 30 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Key topics for this class will include: Start-up considerations; marketing; financing; management; and various types of ownership.

"Developing a Business Plan and Finances for the Small Business" will focus on: developing a business plan; types of financing; cash flow analysis; business taxes; budgeting; and financial statement analysis. This class will meet on three Thursdays from February 6 through February 20 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

The final class in the series, "Records Management for Small Business," will focus on how to set up the basic record keeping requirements for a business. Topics will include: inventory and personnel records; receipts and disbursements; and tax forms. The class will meet March 5 and 12 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

These classes are co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration, and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

All classes will be held at the main campus of Garrett Community College. Anyone wishing to register for these courses or obtain additional information should call Sandy Major at the college at 387-6666, ext. 180.

WEPCO To Hold Annual Meeting

WEPCO Federal Credit Union has scheduled its 42nd annual membership meeting for Saturday, March 14, at the Westernport American Legion. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m., with the business meeting following at approximately 7:30 p.m. A dance, featuring Split Image, will be held from 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Tickets will be on sale February 10 through February 24 for members only. After February 24 tickets will be sold to members and non-members. All ticket sales will end March 9.

Members are encouraged by WEPCO officials to participate in all Credit Union activities as a member/owner of WEPCO.

Any member, in good standing, may seek nomination to a seat on the Board of Directors or Credit Committee. Those interested must submit the following information: a petition containing a minimum of 20 signatures of Credit Union members, a statement indicating a willingness to serve if elected, and a brief statement of qualifications and biographical data of nominee.

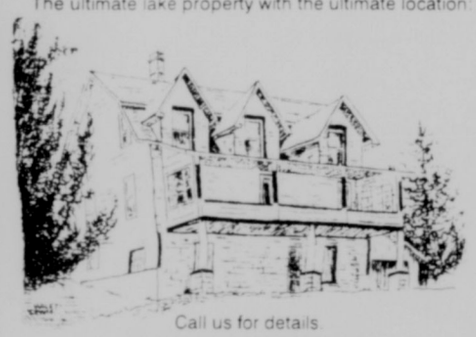
Petitions must be received by the Nominating Committee no later than February 28. For additional information or questions concerning nominations, persons may contact the Credit Union office.

In accordance with the bylaws of WEPCO Federal Credit Union, the following have been appointed to the Nominating Committee: John Burkett, Robert Alkire, Joseph Inskeep, and Donald DeVore.

Nominated for the Board of Directors are: Glenn Harvey, William McKenzie, and James Weasenforth, and for the Credit Committee: Glenn Harvey and William Smith.

No nominations shall be made from the floor unless sufficient nominations have not been made by the Nominating Committee or by petition to provide for one nominee for each position to be filled.

Voting will be held at both offices of the Credit Union as follows: Main Office in Bloomington, March 9, 10, and 11 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Oakland Branch Office in Oakland, March 12 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., March 13 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and March 14 from 9 a.m. to noon.



Voting will also be conducted Saturday, March 14, from 6 to 7 p.m. at the meeting.

For additional information, persons may contact either Credit Union office by calling (301) 359-3081 or (301) 334-1431.

Frostburg Man Dies When Car Strikes Tree

A 75-year-old Frostburg man died last Thursday, January 9, 1992, when his vehicle struck a tree along U.S. Route 40 near Green Lantern Road.

Cecil Baker was pronounced dead at the scene as a result of the 10:45 a.m. mishap, police reports at the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, indicated.

The victim was reportedly traveling west on Rt. 40 when, for unknown reasons, his vehicle traveled off the right side of the roadway and struck a tree. The body was initially taken to Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, but later transported to the State Medical Examiner's Office in Baltimore for an autopsy.

Born April 19, 1916, in Garrett County, Mr. Baker was the son of the late Philip and Annie (Miller) Baker. His wife, Mildred (Garlitz) Baker, died in 1982.

Mr. Baker was a farmer and former employee of the Pittsburgh Nipple Works, Boynton, Pa. He was a member of the Emmanuel United Methodist Chruch and the United Steel Workers of America.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Etta Neilson, Frostburg; and Mrs. Bessie Winebrenner, Frostburg; and several nieces and nephews.

Friends were received in the Durst Funeral Home, Frostburg, where a service was conducted Sunday at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Timothy Allen officiating.

Interment was in the Johnson Cemetery in Garrett County.

LISTED "SERIOUS"

A Swanton woman was listed in "serious" condition Wednesday by a community relations spokeswoman at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, after she had been transferred there from Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, following a Tuesday afternoon one-car mishap.

WIND DESTROYS BUILDING - High, gusty winds Tuesday picked up the roof of a building at Wood Products Inc. in Oakland and set it down on the side of the building causing an unknown amount of damage. The temperature dropped over 25 degrees in a 10-hour period as a storm front passed through the area. The front brought rain, hail, and wind gusts of up to 50 mph. That rain turned to snow and the snow emergency plan was put into effect at about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. Drifting snow and icy roads caused a number of accidents and fender benders in the county the past few days keeping local police officers busy. Wednesday temperatures in the county were recorded in the low 20s and the temperature this morning hovered around the zero mark with the wind chill factor going as low as 35 degrees below zero. The county picked up another four inches of blowing snow last night.

Potomac Edison Given Permission For Surcharge

The Maryland Public Service Commission, in Phase II of a two-part rate review process, has approved The Potomac Edison Company's plan to comply with the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 and has authorized the company to request a surcharge for recovery of financing costs during construction of proposed environmental facilities.

In its Jan. 10 decision, the Commission determined that the company is entitled to recover from its customers all reasonably incurred financing costs associated with investments made to comply with the new legislation. This will be accomplished through a surcharge, authorized by

Friendsville Man Sentenced To 18 Months On Felony Theft Charge

A Friendsville man was found guilty of felony theft in Garrett County District Court proceedings last week and sentenced to 18 months in jail.

Gary R. Darby, 27, had all that sentence suspended but 30 days and was also fined $500 and placed on 24 months of supervised probation.

Darby had been charged with 34 various counts, including felony theft, petty theft, theft scheming, forgery, and uttering false documents. In a plea agreement with the State's Attorney's Office, all other counts were not prosecuted.

He had been arrested by the Maryland State Police involving incidents that occurred from February 14 to July 3 of last year. Darby reportedly falsified fuel invoices at Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop and removed cash from the cash register in those amounts which varied from $12 to $120.

In other District Court news, a pre-sentence investigation was ordered for an Accident woman who pleaded guilty to five counts of petty theft and five counts of felony theft.

Overall, there were 18 counts against Sandra L. Guthrie, 23, but in a plea agreement with the State's Attorney's Office some of the charges were not prosecuted.

Guthrie had been charged after the Maryland State Police conducted an investigation involving the thefts of Social Security, welfare, and Black Lung checks, as well as food stamps and a package taken from mailboxes in the Accident area. A search warrant had been executed to search Guthrie's trailer and evidence was found to arrest her. She had apparently forged the stolen checks and cashed them. Those thefts occurred between July and September of last year.

Phyllis V. Ziler, 33, Westernport, pleaded guilty to making a false statement to a police officer. Judge Jack R. Turney accepted her plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation in the case.

Ziler had reported to a state police officer that she had been kidnapped on September 6 of 1991 and raped repeatedly. Later, during an interrogation by police, she admitted that the charges were false. It was learned that she was in the company of another, but that the act was voluntary and that she was not being held against her will.

Edward L. Wilson, 25, Westernport, was sentenced last week on a theft charge for which he had been found guilty in November.

Judge Turney handed him a 60-day suspended jail term, fined him $50, and placed him on one year of unsupervised probation.

Wilson had been one of several men who had taken leather jackets from a Bausch and Lomb, Inc. Christmas party in 1990 at Brodak's private club.

Training Place Receives Award For Excellence

The Western Maryland Consortium ("The Training Place") was presented with The Governor's Award for Excellence on Tuesday, January 7, in Annapolis.

This award was based on the Consortium's "outstanding performance" in the operation of training programs funded under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), the federal legislation which provides funding for training low income individuals and dislocated workers in need of retraining. The Consortium exceeded all of the performance measurements established by the U.S. Department of Labor which measure the effectiveness of local program operations. These measures include the rate of employment of adult program terminees after 13 weeks, the rate of employment for adult welfare clients at 13 weeks, the adult weekly earnings at follow-up, the weekly earnings of adult welfare clients at follow-up, the youth employability enhancement rate and the percent of the out-of-school youth entering employment.

By exceeding all of these measures the Consortium received $105,487 in JTPA incentive award funds. The

Wilt Sentenced To Six Years For Burglary

Timothy A. Wilt, 30, Cumberland, will serve six years in the Maryland Department of Corrections for the charge of burglary. The sentencing occurred last Thursday in Garrett County Circuit Court with Judge Fred A. Thayer presiding.

Wilt pleaded guilty to the charge, which stemmed from a September 1990 incident in which the defendant was involved in the breaking and entering of the William S. Bever residence in Bloomington. Wilt and several other suspects illegally entered the home and removed several personal property items.

Charges against the defendant that were not prosecuted were daylight housebreaking, breaking and entering a dwelling, and theft.

John R. Toston represented Wilt.

In a separate case, Merrill T. Bittinger, 20, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to breaking with intent to steal and unauthorized use of a vehicle. The plea was accepted by Thayer, a presentence investigation was ordered, and bail was stricken.

The defendant apparently broke into the Town Garage in Grantsville in August 1991 and stole a 1991 Chevrolet truck. He was later involved in an automobile accident in the truck and reportedly confessed at that time to the theft.

Bittinger was remanded to the custody of the Garrett County Sheriff pending sentencing. John R. Toston represented him in the case.

George W. Talbot, 44, Grantsville, pleaded no contest to a violation of probation charge and the judge found him guilty. Thayer then reimposed Talbot's original jail sentence of three years.

Talbot was first convicted of three counts of assault in 1990 and received a suspended sentence of three years plus five years of supervised probation. He violated the probation in December 1991 when he was reportedly arrested for driving while intoxicated, burglary, destruction of property, breaking and entering, and disorderly conduct.

Talbot was represented by Toston.

In another violation of probation case, Brian K. Miller pleaded no contest to the charge and the judge found him to be in violation. Thayer ordered the defendant to serve the balance of the original imposed sentence, which totaled 217 days, according to the court document.

Miller was originally convicted of escape from the Backbone Mountain Youth Center in December 1990. The violation of probation charge came after the defendant reportedly failed to report to probation officers, failed to graduate from high school, and failed to complete counseling at the Al-

Suspected Bank Robber Identified; Found And Arrested In California

Terry J. Wiseman, 36, Oakland, was arrested Monday in San Diego, California, and charged with federal bank robbery. Wiseman is accused of robbing the First United Bank and Trust in Oakland last week.

The defendant's photograph, taken from the bank's surveillance camera tape, appeared in last week's issue of The Republican, and according to Lt. Don Tucker of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, an informational call was made to the Sheriff's Office shortly after the paper was published. Other calls during the day provided the Sheriff's Office and the FBI with valuable tips that led to the identification of Wiseman.

After the suspect was identified, a nationwide search was instigated, and he was found Monday, reportedly at the home of his brother in El Cagon, a town in the San Diego area. Authorities arrested Wiseman without incident, according to reports, and recovered $1,866 of the money he had allegedly robbed from the bank.

Wiseman was arraigned Tuesday in United States District Court in California. He was reportedly lodged in the Metropolitan Correctional Center pending his initial appearance before a federal judge. Tucker said he does not know when or if the defendant will be returned to Oakland to face local or state charges, as the lawyers and the Maryland State's Attorney will have to decide what course of action will be taken.

Schools To Host Town Meeting Next Thursday

The Garrett County Public Schools will be hosting a Maryland 2000/Garrett County 2000 Town Meeting on Thursday, January 23, at 7:30 p.m. at Southern High School. All citizens are invited to attend this meeting which will be focusing on the finances of the State of Maryland and their impact upon the Garrett County Public School System and its operation; Schools For Success, Maryland's reform movement in public education; and the designated "charter schools" in Garrett County -- Broad Ford Elementary, Southern Middle School, and Southern High School.

Special invitations are being sent to the members of the Garrett County Public School Advisory Committee on Education, the members of the Garrett County Board of Education, the Garrett County Commissioners, officers of the County Council of P.T.A.'s, the local school P.T.A. presidents, officers of CUBE, the principals of all schools, the members of the business community involved in Business/School Partnerships, and, through the school principals, members of the Charter Schools improvement committees. A representative from the Maryland Department of Education and a representative from the Governor's Office are expected to also be present.

This Maryland/Garrett County 2000 Town Meeting is being held with similar town meetings in all counties and Baltimore City during the week of January 20. According to a Board of Education spokesman, it is part of an on-going initiative of Schools For Success to have communities involved in public education, and, in effort, "put the public back into public education."

Letter Prompts Concerns About Recycling Effort

Questions about the efficiency of the county's recycling program surfaced this week as the result of a letter published in last week's issue of The Republican concerning an allegation that newspapers deposited at the county recycling sites are then taken to the county landfill and discarded instead of being held there to transport to a recycling market.

In a plan determined by the Garrett County Recycling Committee, chaired by Gary Yoder, a facility was to be placed at the landfill to store the newspapers until a quantity sufficient for transporting had accumulated.

Calls were received at the newspaper office from citizens wanting to know why the newspapers were not being properly stored for transport.

In an effort to determine if the letter writer was correct about that allegation, Garrett County Commissioner Brenda Butscher was asked if she had read the letter and if she knew the practice of dumping the newspapers had been occurring. She responding negatively to each of the questions.

Garrett County Administrator Robert Fousek was asked the same questions and responded by stating, "I don't read the newspaper." He then stated that no market exists for the newspapers.

To clarify the situation further, Fousek was asked if the writer of the letter, a landfill employee, was correct in reporting that newspapers retrieved from the recycling bins were then taken to the landfill and discarded.

Fousek repeated, "We have no market for newspapers," offering no further explanations.

A call was then made to Lee Thorne, recycling coordinator for Garrett County, who shed some light on the situation at the landfill. He explained that, since around Christmas when the farmer who had been collecting the papers to shred for animal bedding stopped collecting them, a decision was made to discard the newspapers until a new market was found.

"We felt it was better to do that so that people who had been recycling them would not get out of the habit," said Thorne, continuing, "We hope to find a new market soon."

Thorne also stated that Garrett County is "not that much different from other rural counties" regarding the amount being recycled and the difficulty involved. "Currently," he said, "we are recycling about two percent of our trash."

A state mandate requires that local jurisdictions, such as Garrett County, must be recycling at least 15 percent of its trash stream by July 1994.

Schaefer's Budget Plan Includes $700 Million In New State Taxes

Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer last week presented his budget plan to state legislators that would result in an increase of $700 million in new taxes, as well as approximately $500 million in additional cuts in spending for Fiscal Year 1993.

The plan would raise $125 million for the state by raising the gas tax five cents in an effort to fund highway construction projects, and $40 million by increasing user fees for some state services. Also, the vehicle registration fee would be raised $8 for the purpose of supporting the Medevac helicopter service.

Governor Schaefer has been and continues to be opposed to raising the sales tax. Rather, he has proposed expanding the base of taxable goods and services and making the income tax more progressive (which means that higher rates would be paid by the wealthier residents.) Schaefer reportedly said that raising the income tax would "disproportionately hurt the poor."

The $340 million that would reportedly be raised by expanding, rather than raising, the sales tax would be accomplished by applying the tax to services such as automobile repairs, cable television, car phones, hair cuts and styling, and dry cleaning and data processing.

Another $100 million would be generated by increasing the state excise tax on cigarettes to 41 cents. That would mean a 25-cent increase. Of that amount generated, $25 million would go to cancer research and treatment.

By no longer exempting such items as ready-to-eat salads sold in grocery stores, food sold at college and hospital cafeterias, precious coins and diet dog food, $35 million would be raised. $30 million would be generated by doubling the state's tax rates on alcohol, and one-third of the revenue to restore alcohol and drug treatment programs previously cut.

To offset the state aid cuts to local governments, the plan also calls for allowing the local jurisdictions to increase the maximum piggyback income tax from 50 to 60 percent.

Finally, the proposal would raise $25 million by increasing the state's corporate income tax rate from seven to seven and one-half percent.

GCC Board Seeks Nominations For Outstanding Contributor To College

The Board of Trustees of Garrett Community College announced this week that it is inviting nominations for the Award for Outstanding Contributions to Garrett Community College.

The award is given annually at GCC's commencement exercise. Any member of the community may submit a nomination and all nominations are "warmly encouraged," according to GCC President Dr. Stephen J. Herman.

The purpose of the award is to recognize individuals or organizations that have significantly and positively influenced GCC's mission and educational goals. Persons wishing to recommend a candidate may contact the Office of the President at 387-6666 for further information and a nomination form.

To be considered, nominations must be delivered to the GCC Office of the President no later than February 20, 1992.

DeWitt Couple's Condition Now Listed As "Good"

H. Robert DeWitt, 80, and Mary Jane DeWitt, 78, Oakland, who were injured December 22, 1991, when they were struck by a vehicle, remain hospitalized at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va. Their condition has been upgraded to "good," according to a hospital spokeswoman.

Both sustained extensive injuries when they had crossed the street and were only a few feet from their car when they were struck by a 1982 Buick Skylark, operated by Michael W. Wiles, 35, Oakland.

Oakland police did not file charges in the 9:25 p.m. mishap.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt, both members of the St. Paul's United Methodist Church choir, were leaving the church after the annual Christmas cantata in which they had both performed just prior to the accident.

BYRON JOINS ADVENTURE SPORTS INSTITUTE TEAM -- Sixth District Congresswoman Beverly B. Byron has announced that she is "joining the team" of individuals and organizations responsible for the founding of the Adventure Sports International Institute at Garrett Community College (GCC). Byron attended a press conference called by Dr. Stephen Herman, president of GCC, Wednesday afternoon before she traveled on to Oakland for a town meeting. "Part of the fun of travelling to different parts of the state," said Byron, "is learning about innovative programs -- and what we were talking about today is a dream." Byron stated that she intends to set up a meeting in Washington, D.C. in the near future to garner out-of-county support for the concept. Former District One Senator John Bambacus, who has been involved in the Western Maryland Adventure Sports effort for years, was also on hand at the press conference. "This is a neat culmination of an incredible amount of work," he said, adding that it is the first program of its kind in the nation that will involve the smallest community college in the state (GCC), the largest higher education institution in the state (University of Maryland), as well as Frostburg State University. Pictured above, left to right, are Dr. Herman, Congresswoman Byron, and Bambacus.

Tobacco-Free Coalition Provides More Information On Upcoming Town Meetings

The Garrett County Tobacco-free Coalition has announced further plans for the town meetings, scheduled for Thursday, January 23, at 7 p.m., at Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, and Thursday, January 30, at 7 p.m., at Southern High School, Oakland.

During the evenings' program, awards will be presented to county restaurants who offer customers a non-smoking seating area, worksites who have instituted smokefree policies, and pharmacist who do not sell tobacco products. Individuals who have been successful in quitting tobacco products will receive a lapel pin for their accomplishment.

At the present time, all fourth and fifth graders in the county are invited to participate in a poster contest through their schools, according to a spokesperson. Posters will incorporate one of three themes: preventing children from starting to use tobacco products, urging adolescents or adults to quit, or educating people about the dangers of second-hand smoke.

Posters will be judged for originality and style, and a first and second place winner will be chosen for each participating grade in each school. Certificates will be awarded to the winners at the town meeting. All posters will be displayed at each event.

Exhibits and refreshments are also included.

The organizations and individuals involved in the coalition include the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, American Lung Association, citizen advocates, Garrett Community College, Garrett County Health Department, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and the March of Dimes.

More information may be obtained by calling 334-8116.

LWV Meets With Hafer, Edwards, Board Candidates

The Garrett County League of Women Voters recently sponsored an informal get-together to provide all citizens an opportunity to talk with Senator John Hafer, Delegate George Edwards, and the six candidates vying for the two at-large Garrett County Board of Education seats. Other persons in attendance included Garrett County Commissioner Brenda Butscher, School Superintendent Jerome Ryscavage, and Health Officer Rex Archer.

Hafer and Edwards spoke briefly on their anticipations of the 1992 General Assembly, both agreeing that it will be an intense session with the state's budget as the main topic.

The elected officials stated that they need to hear from their constituents on topics of concern. Edwards said that he does pay attention to the letters and telephone calls he receives, and added that public input can indeed make a difference with how an elected official votes on various topics. He stated that both he and Hafer are always available to hear from citizens, whether they are in Annapolis or Garrett County.

The LWV has brochures which contain the telephone numbers and addresses of the county's elected officials. Persons may obtain a brochure by contacting the league at 202 E. Alder Street, Oakland, Md. 21550; 334-1109.

The six school candidates made informal comments at the meeting, according to a league spokesperson.

Russell Sines said his interest in running for the board of education stems from his desire to bring some strong leadership to the board. Sines said he felt that his experience in business and management and his involvement in a number of organizations would support the needs of the education board.

Hannah Sincell stated that seeking a board seat is something she has wanted to do for a long time. She stated that she is a straightforward, fair-minded person, which is the type of person who would be effective on the school board. She added that having seven grandchildren in the Garrett school system has reinforced her interest in running for a board position.

Wayne Johnson said that he too has considered running for the education board for some time, and that he hoped to bring about a positive change in the relationship between the school board and the fiscal authority. He stated that he wants to involve the Garrett County Teachers' Association and the community in the relationship as well. Johnson said his main interest is to see that the students of the school system receive the best education possible, and that his 27 years of experience as a teacher and an administrator qualify him for the position.

Helen Fitzwater said she has 37 years of experience in education, which qualifies her for the position. She said her late husband always wanted to seek a board seat, and his wish also inspired her.

Former education board member Charles Teets told the group that he is seeking the position because the two years he has not been on the board, he has found that he misses the involvement. Teets stated that he has the commitment, background, and desire to do something positive for the county.

Charlotte Sebold told those attending that she went back to school when her child entered the school system. The candidate has served on the PTA and is currently the PTA County Council president. She said she has great interest in education in the county, and has followed changes that have occurred within the system. Sebold said her background and interest qualify her for the position.

Although the candidates are running against each other for the two positions, the race is amicable, according to a spokesperson. The candidates agreed that whichever two candidates out of the six are elected to the positions, they would not disappoint the public.

"Fireside Chat" Slated At GCC; Herman To Speak

A "fireside chat" with Dr. Steve Herman, president of Garrett Community College, will be held in the Bausch & Lomb Art Gallery of the college on Wednesday, January 22, at 6:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Dr. Herman will speak about the state of the economy and give his analysis of the current budget crisis, along with possible remedies for it. He will stress the importance of keeping a positive outlook during these times of economic problems.

The event has been planned in conjunction with National Higher Education Week designated by Governor William Donald Schaefer and being observed on college campuses throughout the state.

Man Dies

V. Ferne Belmonte, 72, sustained head and facial injuries and lacerations in the Tuesday afternoon mishap, according to officials at the scene.

According to state police reports, the accident occurred when the 1988 Ford Taurus Belmonte was operating south on the Turkey Neck Road, north of the Steiding Church Road, slid across the ice- and snow-covered road and struck a fence post. The vehicle then reportedly continued on and struck a small embankment and stream bed.

Tfc. G.S. Becker investigated the 2:10 p.m. mishap and filed no charges against Belmonte.

WOMAN INJURED

State police reported that a one-vehicle accident Friday resulted in a young Friendsville woman being hospitalized.

Crystal Annette Keefer, 19, was operating a 1979 Ford Fairmont south on the White Rock - Cranesville Road when the vehicle apparently slid on the snow-covered pavement.

The car crossed the center line and struck a tree. Keefer was reportedly trapped in her vehicle and was freed by Friendsville volunteer firefighters.

She was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad and was in "guarded" condition late Friday following surgery before being transferred to Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va. for additional treatment. A spokesperson at Ruby said Wednesday that Keefer was in "fair" condition. Garrett County Emergency Management also dispatched Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad to the scene. Tfc. J.K. Moore investigated the 9:55 a.m. mishap for state police.

REPORTEDLY HURT

A Manassas, Va., man was reportedly injured in a single-vehicle mishap on Wednesday, January 8, although a spokesman at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, could not confirm him as a patient.

William R. Withers, 26, reportedly sustained injuries when the 1989 Pontiac Grand Am he was operating on Interstate 68 ran off the road into the median strip, came back onto the roadway, crossed over three lanes and ran off the right side striking an embankment. The vehicle then flipped over and came to rest on its wheels.

The driver said an animal ran out in front of him, according to Tfc. J.E. Foley, investigating officer for state police.

The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad reportedly transported Withers to the Cumberland hospital following the 8:05 a.m. mishap.

TREATED, RELEASED

A Beaver, Pa., man was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital Saturday when he sustained minor injuries in a one-car mishap, according to a nursing spokeswoman at the hospital.

Matthew H. Harris, 22, was injured when the 1989 Renault Alliance he was operating north on U.S. Route 219 near Gnegy Church Road slid off the right roadside into the ditch. The vehicle came to rest against a corncrib. According to reports, Harris drove himself to the local hospital.

Tfc. J.K. Moore investigated the 9:30 a.m. mishap for state police.

DWI WRECK

A McHenry man was admitted to the local hospital early Saturday morning after being involved in a single-vehicle mishap and charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

Robert V. Cutter, 50, sustained injuries in the 3:15 a.m. mishap and was released from the local hospital Wednesday, according to a nursing spokeswoman.

The accident occurred when Cutter, operating a 1989 Toyota south on Marsh Hill Road failed to negotiate a turn. The vehicle crossed the center line and struck a tree. Cutter was transported to the hospital by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

Tfc. W.E. Dixon investigated and also charged Cutter with failure to drive on the right side of the road.

OTHER DWI'S

Three additional DWI (driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) arrests were logged by the state police this past week.

Michael J. Andres, 33, Grantsville, was charged with DWI on Friday by Tfc. S.H. Anderson.

Anderson also charged Jeffrey C. Sheffield, 24, Grantsville, with DWI on Sunday.

Elmer R. Wilt, 41, Swanton, was charged by Tfc. G.R. Chaney with DWI on Monday.

TREE TOPPLES ONTO CAR - Strong, gusty winds that were components of a storm front Tuesday toppled an old tree that landed on the roof of the station wagon of Leslie Noland. She stated that she was just about to move her car when she felt the tree might fall, but fortunately changed her mind when she saw the roots of the tree moving under the earth. Shown above are Potomac Edison crews repairing power lines the tree also damaged. Some residents were reportedly out of power for about two and one-half hours. Below is a shot Photographer Craig Phillips captured of the damage done to the vehicle by the obviously large tree. Above far right is an additional shot of the damage done at Wood Products Inc. when the roof blew off a structure there on Tuesday

November State, County Jobless Rates Higher

The unemployment rate in Maryland in November rose to 6.1 percent from October's rate of 5.5 percent, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED). The increase of 0.6 percentage points equals the rise at this time last year and mirrors the pattern of other recessionary years.

The DEED said additional unemployment was caused in part by seasonal jobseekers entering the labor market. The labor force grew by more than 7,700 people, which, combined with an employment decline of over 9,000 workers, increased the unemployment count by 16,778 persons to 157,189. Employment in November stood at 2,408,139 workers, compared to October's 2,417,174. Total employment remained higher than in November 1990, when it was 2,359,872.

Jobless rates rose in every jurisdiction in the state. Garrett County's was 10.5 percent, up from October's rate of 9.2 percent, but below the November 1990 rate of 11.6 percent.

Nationally, the unemployment rate rose to 6.6 percent in November from 6.4 percent in October.

"Although the 0.6 percentage point rise in unemployment in November looks high, we do not feel that this increase indicates a further decline in the economy," said DEED Secretary Mark L. Wasserman. "The unemployment rate, while indicating that the economy is still flat, is reflecting anticipated seasonal changes."

Initial and continuing claims for unemployment insurance and the amount of benefits fell from October to November. Initial claims fell 10.5 percent to about 29,000 and continuing claims fell 7.8 percent to under 50,000 people. Regular unemployment insurance benefit payments fell 8.9 percent to $33 million. These amounts continue to be above last year's levels.

Other factors influencing the Maryland economy are:

Average hourly wages in Maryland's manufacturing industries rose 16 cents to $12.16 in November. This was due to an increase in average wages in durable goods.

Retail sales in Maryland rose $112 million in October to $2.97 billion, an increase of 3.9 percent. However, retail sales were down 3.0 percent from last year.

Housing unit permits were up 0.7 percent from October, but were 5.3 percent below last year. In November 2,030 housing unit permits were issued.

In Western Maryland the jobless rate rose to 9.1 percent from October's 7.8 percent rate. The addition of 1,500 workers to the jobless rolls and layoffs in construction in Garrett and Washington counties caused the rate to rise.

Locally, unemployment rates ranged from a low of 3.5 percent in Montgomery County to a high of 15.1 percent in Worcester County.

Arrests Logged By GCSO; Theft, Car Wrecks Noted

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office logged several arrests this week, responded to two auto accidents in which the drivers were injured, and is currently investigating a theft.

Dahlin D. Robertson, 39, Oakland, was arrested for destruction of property after he allegedly broke and entered the residence of David B. Gates and destroyed property. The police report stated that the defendant damaged a refrigerator, boat, and other personal effects. He was later released on $5,000 bond.

Patrick G. Ernest, 28, Vienna, Va., was arrested for malicious destruction of property reportedly after he willfully damaged a wall at the Wisp Resort Hotel, McHenry. The destruction was valued at less than $300.

Allen L. Teter Jr. (no age provided), Kingwood, W.Va., was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) after a deputy observed him operating his vehicle in an erratic manner on Rt. 135 in Mtn. Lake Park. Teter was incarcerated after his arrest, which took place on Sunday, according to the report.

George A. Rishell, (age, home not provided), was charged with DWI after he wrecked his vehicle on Deer Park Avenue, Mtn. Lake Park. Rishell apparently slid through a stop sign and struck a utility pole. He was not injured in the mishap and was taken home after signing the citation.

A warrant was issued for Wendy J. Moreland, 25, Mt. Storm, W.Va., on the charge of adult kidnapping. She was arrested on January 9, according to the report. There were no further details on the arrest.

David F. Moon, 35, Mtn. Lake Park, was arrested on the strength of a warrant issued from Garrett County District Court. He was charged with driving under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol (DUI).

Two bench warrants were issued for Kenneth R. Broadwater, 37, Oakland, for failure to make two deferred payments, according to the report.

Stephen Jenkins, 23, Ronco, Pa., was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to appear in district court. Jenkins was scheduled to face a traffic charge.

Ronald A. Boler, 29, Oakland, was arrested January 9 on the strength of three bench warrants. There were no further details.

Donald G. Miller Jr., 23, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of a warrant issued from Garrett County Circuit Court. Further details were not provided.

Car Wrecks

R. Thomas Thayer Jr., 65, Oakland, was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a car accident last Friday evening.

Thayer was reportedly operating his 1985 Jeep Wagoneer northbound on Oakland-Sang Run Road when the vehicle hit a slick area in the road and went out of control. It then went into a ditch and traveled approximately 50 feet before striking a concrete culvert. Thayer was transported to the hospital by private vehicle later that evening, and is being treated for back and other injuries.

In a separate mishap, James L. McDonald, 91, Deer Park, was driving a 1983 Chevrolet Citation on Centre Street in Kitzmiller Monday afternoon when he apparently crossed the center line, left the roadway, and struck a utility pole. He was transported to Garrett Memorial by Elk District Ambulance where he was treated and later released.

There were no charges made in either accident, according to the report.

Theft

Francis Hanrahan, Deep Creek Lake, reported the theft of several tools from a locked building on his property. An unknown person(s) apparently broke into the building sometime between January 1-11 and removed the items, which have been valued at $550.

There are no leads in the case, according to the report, and an investigation is continuing.

Staggering Realization...

While cleaning out the drawers of the family desk last night, the writer of this column stumbled upon some genealogy information that he had searched for, unsuccessfully, on several occasions over the past few years. His aunt had given him the information after doing extensive research on the family, even to the extent of traveling overseas to examine records in the "old country." She was successful in tracing one line back as far as the 1500s. It was most interesting to read that a one Thomas Trowbridge, a resident of Taunton, England, was this writer's great-great-great-great-great-great-great-great-great-great-great-grandfather.

What was even more fascinating, however, and indeed startling, was the realization that Trowbridge was but one of 2,048 of the writer's 11-greats-grandfathers! Such a figure was simple to calculate, since one has two grandfathers, four great-grandfathers, eight great-great-grandfathers, 16 great-great-great-grandfathers, and so on. The number reaches 2,048 after just 11 generations. When one goes just four generations further back, he finds that he has 32,724 15-greats grandfathers. Of course, there is an equal number of grandmothers as well.

When one then adds in all of the aunts, uncles, and cousins involved in each of those generations, the result is literally hundreds of thousands, no, millions of relatives.

The staggering realization here is that we are indeed, somewhere along the genealogy trail, related to just about everyone else, not only in our own community, but in the entire nation and throughout the world.

With this thought in mind, it seems even more important that we go through this life with our attention focused more on those around us and not hesitate to aid and assist people in need if it is within our power to do so. This should apply not only to the folks we already know personally, but also to the stranger who is stranded along the roadway, to the homeless all over our country, and to the starving on the other side of the world; because the numbers seem to prove that we are truly one big family.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In your editorial of January 9, 1992, in which you indulge in a little of the ever popular "Bash the Police," I can't help but get the feeling this was more a matter of coming to the defense of "one's own" than it was to bring to light the supposedly glaring defects of our local law officers. Since other individuals are mentioned, but no names are given, this would appear to be the case.

You grant that officers of the law have a tough, dangerous, and often thankless job to do, yet we the public have a right to expect these same officers to conduct themselves as professional and models of courtesy. Much the same could be said about responsible and objective journalism. The tossing around of words like lawsuit, charges, termination, and Gestapo-like, while satisfying to some, can hardly be considered responsible or objective journalism.

The thinking person will find that, if we don't always get service with a smile from our law officers, given the above conditions, may be inappropriate, it is at least understandable.

Alexander Snyder
Oakland

Dear Mr. Snyder,

An editorial is an opinion, not a news story, and therefore is subjective, rather than objective. The reader certainly has the right to disagree with that opinion. I think you will agree, however, that our news coverage of the event was entirely objective.

Editor

To the Editor:

I'm speaking out for my right to breathe clean air!

A few months ago I contacted the health department requesting information on the regulations regarding smoking in public places, such as grocery stores and restaurants. I've always been against breathing other people's smoke, but it has become a real issue for me since my grandson has developed asthma.

At the time I contacted the health department, Dr. Rex Archer mentioned that a group was forming to work towards reducing the unnecessary death and disability due to tobacco use among citizens of the county. Tobacco use is the most important single preventable cause of death and disease in Garrett County.

I urge people of all ages to attend one of the first "town meetings" of the Garrett County Tobacco-free Coalition. Please come to find out more about how to quit smoking, prevent young people from using tobacco products, or reduce your chances of developing cancer and heart and lung disease from exposure to other people's tobacco smoke.

The first town meeting will be on Thursday, Jan. 23, at 7 p.m., at Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, and the second meeting is on Thursday, Jan. 30, at 7 p.m., at Southern High School, Oakland. The agendas are identical, so come to the one closest to you. Call 334-8116 for more information.

Sincerely,
Virginia Wiltison,
Swanton

To the Editor:

In regards to some of your recent letters concerning Garrett County school transportation, I say we need more bus drivers like Richard Thomas, who will speak out for the safety of the children they transport. I know they all care, but they are being too quiet.

As for a change in the department, definitely. But not just Mike Sines. In my opinion, his superiors, John Morris and Jerome Ryscavage, also. All three are allowing some pretty unsafe bus stops.

I think the bus stops should be up to each bus

Senior Citizens' Menus

"Eating Together" sites are now operating two days per week and offer only two menu selections per week. The menu for the week of January 20-24 is as follows:

Day 1 - Cole slaw, homemake vegetable beef soup, cheese-filled bread, raspberry sherbet.

Day 2 - Tomato juice, hamburger stroganoff, buttered noodles, broccoli, roll, fruit cocktail.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Telephone numbers of individual sites are as follows: Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, 746-8824; Bull's Restaurant, Bloomington, 359-3035; Finzel Fire Hall, Finzel, 689-8388; Old Mill Grill, Friendsville, 746-5416; Old Mill Restaurant, Gorman, 334-4865; Starner Hill Apts., Grantsville, 895-5092; Jennings Community Building, Jennings, 245-4204; Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller, 453-3445; Oakland Senior Center, Mtn. Lake Park, 334-3399; and Swanton Community Building, Swanton, 387-9191.

Maryland Commentary

Now-or-never time

BALTIMORE — The 1992 session of the General Assembly may turn out to be a watershed event. Either the 188 elected lawmakers will swallow hard and come to grips with crucial issues, or the state will continue to flounder as legislators run for political cover.

Since last summer, legislators have been formulating ways to cut costs, raise new revenue and restructure government. Now they get to implement these plans.

At the same time, freshmen legislators elected in 1990 have been around the General Assembly circuit not once but three times one regular session and two special sessions last year. They're seasoned.

No legislator should be unsettled any more by talk of higher taxes. They raised nuisance taxes last year by $90 million and imposed large increases on motor vehicle fees without the wrath of the avenging taxpayer descending upon them.

Instead, public sentiment is building in favor of enhanced revenues if the money is carefully targeted and legislators convince Marylanders excessive spending has been wrung out of the budget.

The trick is for top lawmakers to agree on a unified approach. That won't be easy because they don't like to stick their necks out.

They have the opportunity, though, to revamp the state's tax structure so it is comprehensive and equitable, with the revenue capacity to meet most needs this decade.

But that can only happen if lawmakers find the courage to approve vast cuts in existing programs. That is the only sure way to lower the basic cost of government and keep the revenue increases within prudent political bounds.

Legislators cannot afford to tarry. First, bond-rating houses are closely watching. If quick action is not forthcoming, the state could lose its much-coveted AAA bond rating. Second, the sooner a solution is put in place, the less expensive it will be. Conversely, the longer a decision is delayed, the tougher it will be to balance the state's books by June 30 as required by the constitution.

Judging from the legislature's abysmal track record under Senate President Thomas V. Mike Miller and House Speaker R. Clayton Mitchell, the odds are no better than 50-50 that the Assembly is up to the task. Their Scarlet O'Hara approach to governing ("put off till tomorrow what we should have handled today") has helped create this mess.

But a number of legislators are expressing anxiety about the public image of a General Assembly. They favor action, not more equivocation.

Other far-reaching proposals have the potential to gain legislative assent, too. One is a tough auto-emissions bill similar to California's law. With strong administration support and the backing of environmental groups, this bill could put Maryland in a leadership role on emissions. It is a popular issue with constituents, a key point for voter-conscious legislators.

Welfare reform is also likely to win Assembly backing in large measure because of its popularity with voters. Making welfare moms responsible for educating their kids and keeping them healthy strikes a chord with taxpayers.

But perhaps the most sweeping step could come in health insurance. A "summit" on health care took place in Annapolis to sort out options and come up with a consensus on universal health insurance.

The most likely vehicle is a tax-credit plan. If labor and management groups agree to this approach, along with the state's doctors and hospitals, the Assembly might approve an experimental program in health insurance that could be used as a national model.

That kind of success would take enormous persistence from legislators and a commitment to resolving the health-care problem this session. The potential for forward-looking action is there, though. The groundwork has been laid.

Will legislators act decisively?

Or will they wimp out again?

They are never likely to get a better chance to make profound social changes than 1992.

Arranging Flowers Attractively
by Willetta Rissell

It does not require a lot of flowers or unusual skills to create an attractive flower arrangement. With some planning and advance preparation, an interesting arrangement can be made with just a few blooms and some foliage.

The first step is deciding where the arrangement will be used, for this will determine the style of arrangement. A table centerpiece should be low and complete on all sides but a composition for a narrow hallway could be one-sided, with its dimensions suited to the furniture it will be displayed on. Next, determine a design for the arrangement. Some different styles are: circular, (in which the general appearance is round), triangular, or linear, (such as a tall, slender grouping).

Then select a container. It is not necessary to buy expensive vases, for every home has pitchers, bowls, beanpots, or some type of container that could be used. The container should be appropriate for the location, and also suitable for the flowers used. For example, a beanpot might be perfect for informal flowers like marigolds, but not for roses, which would look better in a glass bowl. If there is a limited choice of colors, the container's color should be harmonious with the shade of the blooms. In general, containers with wide mouths and subtle patterns are best.

Flowers must be "conditioned" so they will stay fresh-looking. When collecting from your garden, try to pick blooms early in the morning and cut stems on a slant with a sharp knife. Be sure to include some buds, some half-opened blooms, and also some greenery. Leave these sitting in deep, warm water in a cool location for several hours so they can absorb lots of water. Some flowers require special treatment; for example, the woody stems of roses should be crushed, but the milky stems of poppies should be burned so they will not lose their sap.

Now you are ready to put the composition together. All containers require some means of holding the flowers upright. The easiest method is the Oasis, a porous material available from the florist, which should first be soaked in water before cutting and placing in your container. By now you should have a mental picture of your design, keeping in mind that every arrangement must have a focal point--dominant part that draws attention. This point may be created by a dominant color, an especially large bloom, such as a peony, or a group of blooms that contrast in color or texture from the rest of the flowers.

Start by placing the highest bloom above the focal point. Its length should be one and a half or two times the longest dimension of the container. Use smaller or lighter colored flowers up high, saving larger, darker blooms for lower down. Any foliage that would be under water should be removed or it will rot and cause flowers to spoil quickly. Vary the length of stems so that no two blooms of the same size are at the same level, and try to have all stems radiating from a central area. If your design is to be seen from all sides, remember to keep turning it as you work so it looks attractive from all points. Try to avoid using too many blooms spaced too close together; a simple design with space to show off the blooms is more attractive than a crowded group. Step back now and see if your arrangement looks "balanced." The design should look stable, and not top-heavy. When flowers are all arranged, add some foliage, especially at the bottom to fill in above the container and to disguise its edge. More foliage can be inserted among the blooms, if desired. When finished, add warm water.

With some practice, and further reading from library books on flower arranging, you can learn to make attractive arrangements to beautify your home.

Out Of The Darkness

LET'S STAMP OUT STIGMA
by Carol L. Cox

Mental illness is a disease -- a biologically based brain disease.

There are many forms, including those most commonly recognized as severe mental illnesses, including bipolar disorder (manic depression); schizophrenia; depressive disorders; panic and anxiety disorders; autism and obsessive-compulsive behavior.

The Alliance for the Mentally Ill of Garrett County is dedicated to presenting actual facts about these often misunderstood brain diseases and diminishing the hideous stigma constantly associated with the works "mental illness."

The fact is, severe mental illnesses are not neurotic or emotional problems but rather physical illnesses. Why can't the public understand that people suffering from manic depression, schizophrenia, etc. deserve as much sympathy and understanding as people with other serious chronic physical illnesses such as multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy, cancer, etc.?

A poll recently conducted by the National AMI revealed that 71 percent of the respondents throught that mental illness was the result of emotional weakness, 65% though it came from bad parenting, and 43% believed the mentally ill brought on their sicknesses themselves. When someone has Alzheimer's disease or cancer, no one accuses the patient or his family of having caused the illness. Why then are the mentally ill so often treated with disdain or disgust, neglect, or cruelty?

Often, people may not even realize they are abusing the mentally ill. We've all heard people calling someone with mental illness crazy, nuts, mad, insane, etc. Why is it permissible to mock people afflicted with the chronic physical illnesses called mental illness? The answer to that is simple. It's not permissible.

We, as a society, must overcome the negative attitudes, stereotypes and misunderstandings about mental illness.

AMI of Garrett County, through this column and other community activities, hopes to help the general public more clearly understand. Next time, we'll explore together the 14 most common myths about mental illness.

AMI invites your questions, comments and interest. Anyone desiring more information is urged to call 334-4357 anytime. We're here to help.

School Health Services

This article was written in conjunction with Mrs. Ann Kendall, one of two health nurses with the Garrett County Board of Education.

In the latter part of 1990 Garrett County was one of eight counties in the state to receive a grant entitled The Drug-Free Schools Nursing Initiative. As a result of this grant, two school health nurses were placed in the middle and high schools of Garrett County. As a condition of the grant, 25 percent of the nurses' time must be spent on drug and alcohol prevention education. The Garrett County Health Department provides health services to the elementary schools. However, because of a combination of budget costs as well as increased workloads, the health department is not able to provide daily on-site health services at each of the twelve elementary schools in the county.

The primary goal of the school health nursing program is to remove health barriers to the educational process. For instance, over 50 percent of our students do not see a doctor or dentist on a regular basis. A tremendous number of students come to school without breakfast. It is impossible to perform to the best of your ability if you are sitting in the classroom and your stomach is growling, or you have a toothache, or you are upset about problems at home. We are also concerned with student attendance. A student can't learn if he/she is not present in the classroom. In these cases the school health nurse addresses the problem as quickly as possible so that the student may return to class.

In addition, sick or injured students require much of the nurses' time. The school health nurses also serve as a resource to teachers, students, and parents by providing classroom instruction on health-related issues such as AIDS, drugs, alcohol, tobacco, etc. Administering medication is often a major activity - for instance, 100 medications may be given at lunch time at Southern Middle School.

Our future lies in the hands and minds of the students of today. The time and energy invested in our students of today will produce results in the future. School health services staff work together with teachers and parents to ensure that students maximize their individual potentials.

What's happening in our schools this week?

* The month of January is Black History Month. All schools in the county will be noting this with special activities. For example, Northern Middle School has an activity every Friday for one grade level to learn about Black Culture.

* In order to further mark Black History Month, all public schools in Garrett County will be closed on Monday January 20, in memory of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Garrett County Schools Update can be heard each week on WMSG Radio at 8:35 a.m. each Monday, WXIE Radio at 8:30 a.m. each Saturday, and at 3:30 p.m each Saturday on WALJ Radio.

MOON'S CALLIGRAPHY of Finzel was among a handful of arts and crafts businesses and individuals invited to the Governor's Mansion in Annapolis for Governor Schaefer's holiday open house for state employees. Ellen Moon, owner of Moon's Calligraphy, is a self-taught calligrapher who has taught and participated in arts and crafts events for the past seven years. She favors Old English and Advanced Italic styles, but does a wide variety of custom work. Her husband, Larry, and her sons, John and James, assist with her business. Ellen is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and Frostburg State College. Pictured left to right above are Governor Schaefer, John Moon, Joanne Holmes (a sister of Ellen), Ellen Moon, and her mother-in-law, Beulah Moon, of Bittinger. Governor Schaefer is holding his favorite sample of Mrs. Moon's work, which reads "When life hands you scraps, make a quilt."

Garrett County Literacy Council Schedules Dance

A Valentine's Day Dance for the benefit of the Garrett County Literacy Council will be held Friday, February 14, from 9 p.m. to midnight at the Elks Lodge on Hamill Street in Oakland.

Featured entertainment for the event will be "Restless," a five member band from Frostburg. Food and beverages will be served by the Elks Lodge.

Admission is $5 per person, and tickets are available from members of the Literacy Council or at the Literacy Council Office at 205 South Third Street. Additional information may be obtained by phoning 301-334-8606.

The Literacy Council is a non-profit, volunteer organization seeking to further the cause of literacy in Garrett County through a volunteer tutoring program.

According to published statistics, nearly half of Garrett County's work force lacks a high school diploma. Many have less than a sixth grade education. Through the literacy effort using the Laubach Way to Reading, adults and out-of-school teens can increase their reading and comprehension skills.

"The Valentine's Day Dance will be our key fund raising event this year," Mary Beckman, literacy coordinator, said. "Area merchants have been very supportive by supplying us with certificates and merchandise to be used as door prizes. We want to encourage those who are interested in attending the dance to buy their tickets early as only a limited number will be sold. Early buyers will not be disappointed."

ATTENTION GARRETT COUNTY RESIDENTS

A public meeting will be held to discuss the petitions circulated throughout the county to have Mike Sines terminated from his position as Director of Pupil Transportation for Garrett County schools. This is not a personal vendetta, but many important issues have been raised in connection with Mr. Sines and his position at the Board of Education. Please plan to attend.

Swanton Native Retires From Columbia Gas

Stanley L. Bittinger, a Swanton native and 1946 graduate of Oakland High School, has retired after 40 years with the Columbia Gas System. He is the son of Bertha Bittinger, Swanton.

Bittinger began his Columbia career in 1951 in Oakland. He was a natural gas leakage and corrosion mechanic in Columbia Gas Transmission Corps.'s Buckhannon, W.Va., office at his retirement.

Bittinger and his wife, the former Willetta McRobie, reside in Buckhannon.

Two Honored For Academic Efforts

Two Oakland students have been recognized by Alderson-Broaddus College for academic achievement during the fall 1991 semester, according to Robert Digman, academic dean of the College.

Stacy Sines was named to the dean's list for scholarly achievement. To be eligible for the dean's list, students must attain a semester average of 3.6 or above on 4.0 grading scale. Ms. Sines is a senior applied mathematics major at A-B. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sines, she is a 1987 graduate of Southern High School.

Christa Updyke received academic honorable mention. To be eligible for academic honorable mention, students must attain a semester average of 3.4 or above on a 4.0 scale. Christa, a freshman pre-physical therapy major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorris (Buzz) Updyke. She is a 1991 graduate of Southern High School.

Alderson-Broaddus College, located in Philippi, W.Va., is a four-year fully accredited liberal arts and sciences college which has developed a curriculum of strong liberal arts foundation, contemporary professional and pre-professional program, and experience appropriate to the student's academic major.

Stanton's Final Work Donated To Local Hospital

Aza C. Stanton

The last work of the late Aza Stanton, local artist, has been donated to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The rural scene of a large country barn can be viewed along with two other Stanton works hanging in the main hospital lobby.

According to Stanton's widow, Louise Stanton, this painting was finished on December 21, 1981, just four days prior to his death.

Stanton was born September 15, 1923, and spent the first 16 years of his life in Grantsville, where he graduated from high school in 1940. Following high school, he attended Frostburg State College. He volunteered for the U.S. Navy in 1943 and served with the Navy Seabees where he became a sign painter. Upon leaving the Navy in 1946, he enrolled at the Maryland Institute of Art in Baltimore and graduated in 1950.

In a biographic sketch, Stanton stated, "I enjoy doing landscapes and still life, but only if I can paint an impression of them with a feeling of movement and a little flair."

"This last painting which Louise Stanton donated to the hospital is a reflection of this philosophy and a tribute to the beauty in the rural life of Garrett County," stated a hospital spokesman.

Hospice Discusses Final Plans For Winter Frolic

Hospice of Garrett County, Inc. recently held a fund raising committee meeting at Pizzeria Uno, Deep Creek Lake, to discuss final plans for the annual Winter Frolic dinner/dance.

The event will be held at the Oakland American Legion on Saturday, February 8, from 6 p.m. until 1 a.m. Paul McCloud, disc jockey from WMSG/WXIE Radio Station, will provide the music.

The cost of the dinner/dance is $25 per person. Reservations may be made by contacting the Hospice office at 253 North Fourth Street, Oakland, or by calling 334-5151.

Brenda Butscher, executive director of Hospice, stated, "The money raised from this event will be put into the general fund and used to serve the terminally ill and their families in Garrett County. If you have a spouse, a friend, or employee that you want to give an appreciation gift to, the Winter Frolic provides a great opportunity. By taking them to the dinner/dance, you would not only be expressing your appreciation, but would also be donating money to serve the terminally ill. It would be a worthwhile and enjoyable evening for everyone."

Butscher noted that $17 of the cost of each ticket will be considered a donation to Hospice.

Of this total, approximately $3.5 million was returned to state and local police agencies to assist in their drug enforcement efforts. In the last three months alone, over $730,000 went to Maryland law enforcement agencies as a result of federally-assisted forfeitures.

Maryland's crime victims also benefit from the work of Bennett's office. The Maryland U.S. Attorney noted the efforts of Steven J. Hess, Victim-Witness Coordinator, for his work on behalf of the victims of crime. Each defendant convicted in federal court pays a special assessment fee which is deposited into a federal victim's fund. This money returns to the state in block grants to assist in funding direct victim services, such as rape crisis centers and victim assistance units in local prosecutors' offices.

In the past, these federal funds have also supplemented Maryland's Criminal Injuries Compensation Fund, which provided financial assistance ranging from medical costs to funeral expenses for violent crime victims.

"We will always vigorously pursue every dollar owed to the American taxpayer, especially in these tough economic times. Both our criminal and civil divisions are looking at the bottom line in every case," Bennett said.

Lifeguard Jobs Now Available

The State Forest and Park Service in Garrett County announced applications for summer employment are available at the Job Service or state park offices.

About nine lifeguards will be employed during the summer months with hiring based on experience and personal qualifications.

Lifeguard applicants must have Red Cross, YMCA, or other recognized lifeguard certification and minimum 20/40 uncorrected visions. Applications are available through the Job Service, 216 East Alder Street, Oakland; telephone, 301-334-3972.

Catechism class met Sunday evening at Emmanuel.

All yearbook reports are due by January 19.

Lectors for Sunday's worship were: Barbara Herbert, St. John's; Jenny Weller, Emmanuel; and Nellie Yommer, Zion.

Alan Kinsey returned home to South Carolina after visiting in the Bittinger parish for several days. He had spent from Wednesday until Sunday at the home of Leona Yaste. He along with Pastor Lousie Knotts and family members had Sunday lunch at the home of Russell and Dorothy Teets.

REPORT FROM ZION'S ELCA

The January study program for Zion's Women of the ELCA was canceled.

Leota Baker sent this report of things that had been done by the group:

A total of 15 lap robes and 30 chair pads have been made and sent to the Good Samaritan Home in Franklin, W.Va. A package of eight baby quilts was sent to Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Box Elder, Montana, for their layette ministry on the Rocky Bay Indian Reservation.

Altar flowers were placed in Zion Church on January 5 in honor of Pastor Louise Knotts on her birthday as a tribute of gratitude for her ministry.

A book Stepping Stones featuring poems by Helen Steiner Rice, was sent to Dorothy Burow during her recent illness.

The quarterly offering was sent to the American Bible Society for the Bible-A-Month Ministry.

Subscriptions were received for the magazine, "Lutheran Women Today."

Canceled postage stamps are being received for the National Lutheran Home's Stamp Club. A gift offering has been received from Viola Meyers, a former member of Zion.

This Sunday evening, Kevin Miller and Paul Kurtz will represent the Rosedale Mennonite Mission and its work to the congregation of Cherry Glade Mennonite Church.

Maryland U.S. Attorney Office Earns A Profit

Maryland U.S. Attorney Richard D. Bennett has announced that his office operated for the entire year of 1991 at absolutely no cost to taxpayers. Indeed, Bennett's office has operated at a profit, which was shared with state and local police agencies.

The civil division of the U.S. Attorney's Office under the leadership of Assistant United States Attorney Juliet A. Eurich collected over $17 million in 1991 in fines and penalties assessed against convicted criminals, as well as from successful civil actions brought on behalf of the government. This $17 million was more than twice the cost of operating the Maryland U.S. Attorney's Office last year. Furthermore, Bennett noted that approximately $3.5 million was returned to state and local police agencies. "While crime never pays for the criminal, we do our very best to make sure it pays the taxpayers when we collect these criminal fines and penalties," Bennett said.

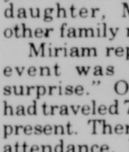
In March of 1991 the U.S. Attorney's Office collected a $10 million fine imposed on Bolar Pharmaceutical Company of New York. In an investigation headed by First Assistant U.S. Attorney Gary P. Jordan, Bolar was convicted of fraudulent practices by which it obtained FDA approval to manufacture generic drug products. This remains the largest criminal fine ever imposed in the District of Maryland.

A sampling of other cases includes:

A $500,000 fine and a $750,000 civil judgment was levied against Nurad, Inc., of Baltimore for false statements made in connection with a defense contract to provide radar antennas to the U.S. Air Force for the F-16 fighter.

Automated Sciences Group, Incorporated of Silver Spring, Maryland was fined $350,000 for conspiring to bribe Navy officials.

American Therapeutics, Inc., another generic drug manufacturer from New York, was fined $1 million for violations of FDA regulations, including bribes to FDA regulators and obstruction of an FDA inspection of the company.



The Solarex Corporation of Rockville paid $275,000 to the United States for the alleged submission of false claims to the government and for the violation of the terms of a 1984 contract between Solarex and the United States.

Systems Engineering and Development Corporation of Columbia was fined $123,785 for filing false claims against the United States. The fine recovered the value of the false claims.

In addition, between August 26 and December 20, 1991, the U.S. Attorney's Office filed 117 claims against individuals whose student loans are in default. The government hopes to recover nearly $363,000 from these claims in Maryland alone. As of December 31, 1991, the total amount outstanding in Department of Education loans nationwide is more than $15 billion.

However, not all the money generated by the U.S. Attorney's Office goes into the federal treasury. In cooperation with federal, state and local law enforcement, over $4.6 million in assets, mostly from drug dealers, were seized and subsequently forfeited under federal law for the fiscal year ending 09/30/91.

Calcium Blockers Lower Blood Pressure

A group of prescription medicines referred to as "calcium channel blockers" was originally approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for the treatment of angina and the control of heart beat irregularities. In addition, it has been shown that calcium blocker medicines, which include nifedipine (Procardia), verapamil (Calan; Isoptin; Verelan), diltiazem (Cardizem) and Isradipine (Dynacirc), are effective in lowering high blood pressure. These medicines are reported to be equally effective but differ as to side effects.

According to a recent issue of American Family Physician, calcium channel blockers disrupt the flow of calcium into certain cells. This disruption appears to prevent inappropriate heart contractions and narrowing of blood vessels. The net effect is an overall lowering of the blood pressure. One advantage of calcium blockers over other blood pressure medicines is their high degree of effectiveness in blacks and the elderly. This is thought to occur because individuals in these categories have low levels of the enzyme renin.

Calcium blockers may be used alone or in combination with other blood pressure medicines. It may take one to two weeks for the full effect of these medicines to be obtained. Some references indicate calcium blockers should be used with caution in persons who also receive beta blocker medicines.

GRANTSVILLE

Manard Miller has been transferred from the Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, to the Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, W.Va.

The Billy Bender Garage had a Christmas party for all their employees and gave each a gift at the Hilltop Restaurant.

Mrs. Phyllis Bender has returned home from the Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown and is improving.

The Grantsville Rotary Club held its Christmas dinner at the Holiday Inn.

The American Heart Association held a tea party at its headquarters at the Narrows on Sunday afternoon to kick off the annual drive. Thomas and Phyllis Bender and Walter and Alice Younkin attended the meeting and brought home the materials. The drive will start as soon as the volunteers are ready.

The chairman of the 500 card parties will be Mrs. Fran Steiringer and Mary Alice Broadwater. Card party dates will be announced as soon as they are cleared with the American Legion. Phyllis Bender and Alice Younkin are co-chairing the annual Heart Fund drive. Volunteers are welcome and will be listed in the near future. Anyone wishing to send in donations may send them to Alice Younkin or Phyllis Bender.

HOMEMAKER NEWS

The Mars Hill Homemakers club members met Tuesday, Jan. 14, at the Jennings United Methodist Church. Ruth Stanton returned thanks. Each one brought a sandwich and snacks were served. Linda Upole read the thought.

Volunteers hours were given. The demonstration was a discussion on international news and its effects on America, led by Esther Stanton. Norma Bowser demonstrated crafts. Fans, earrings, and bows were made. Many crafts were brought and shared. A card was sent to Marlene Beachy who was in the hospital.

Next month's meeting will be February 11 at noon at the Jennings United Methodist Church. The demonstration will be "Recycling: Taking the Time and Trouble." Each member is to wear red for Valentine's Day. Norma Bowser will be in charge of the games. Ruth Stanton will bring the gifts for the winners.

Those attending were: Ruth Kinsinger, Robyn Brenneman, Linda Upole, Norma Bowser, Ruth Stanton, Karen Durst, Janice Stockslager, Esther Stanton, and Mary Kamp.

Folksinger To Kick-Off FSU's Center Reopening

Folksinger Eddie Brooks, known for his acoustic guitar renderings of traditional and original music, will be the headliner for the re-opening of Frostburg State University's Lane Center set for Thursday, January 23.

He will perform in the center's Greenhouse from noon to 2 p.m. Brooks has nearly 20 years experience performing in the Mid-Atlantic region, particularly in the coffeehouses of Baltimore.

Brooks's performance is only part of a full day of activities planned during the open house. From 6-8 p.m., the Lane Center will feature roaming entertainers, including a magician and balloon artist. The game room will be having a pool tournament with sign-ups beginning at 6 p.m. and the tournament at 6:30. First prize will be a pool cue. A video game tournament will run from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

During this time, short films and cartoons including the Little Rascals, the Marx Brothers, Charlie Chaplin, and Laurel and Hardy, will be shown in Room 201. Free cotton candy and popcorn will be available at the Candy Cart from 6 to 8 p.m.

For more information on these activities, persons may call the FSU Lane Center at 689-4151.

Health Care To Be Topic Of LWV Meeting

The League of Women Voters (LWV) of Garrett County will hold a meeting concerning health care and national health insurance on Monday, January 27, at 7:30 p.m., at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, located at the corner of Oak and Fourth Streets in Oakland.

Discussion will center on the rising cost of health insurance, the cause of increasing costs, and solutions as proposed by political leaders, various health agencies, and media articles. League members Charles Morris, from the Board of Governors of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and Clint Englander, Oakland pharmacist, will lead the discussion.

According to a league spokesperson, the public is urged to attend "to become better informed about the problems and proposed solutions for controlling health care costs and still providing quality health care." Participants will be invited to present their opinions on the LWV national consensus questionnaire that will be sent to lawmakers.

Following are the consensus questions that will be considered: "What should the goals of health care policy in the United States include?," "If a goal of U.S. health care policy is a minimum basic level of care for all U.S. residents, what should that minimum basic level include?," "If a goal of U.S. health care policy is equitable distribution of health care services, what would contribute to achieving this goal?," "If the goal of U.S. health care policy is efficient and economical delivery of care, which of the following cost control methods would contribute to achieving this goal?," "In a health care system with limited resources, what criteria should be used in allocating or rationing health care services for individuals in need of care?"

The FSU Cultural Events Series presents:
ALVIN AILEY REPERTORY ENSEMBLE
One of America's most exciting young dance companies, the ALVIN AILEY REPERTORY ENSEMBLE has drawn critical and popular acclaim across the country.
Under the direction of Sylvia Waters, a former Ailey dancer, the company has committed itself to the development of young dancers and choreographers alike. The Ensemble has a unique and exciting repertoire of ballets by such famed choreographers as Talley Beatty and Mr. Ailey himself, as well as works by new, young choreographers.
The result is absolute magic - the company leaves audiences begging for more – smiling, joyous, exultant.

JENNIE MANDROVSKY

Jennie Mandrovsky, 77, Oakland, died Saturday, January 11, 1992, at the home of her friend, Charlotte Bock, where she had been residing for the past few months.

Born September 12, 1914, in Valley Lee, she was a daughter of the late the Rev. James Harry and Jennie Emoline (Gardner) Garner. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Boris Nickolas Mandrovsky.

Mrs. Mandrovsky was a graduate of The Hannah More Academy, Reisterstown, and of George Washington University, where she obtained a degree in physical education.

She taught at a number of schools in and around Fairfax County, Va., including the Pimmitt Hills Elementary School in the mid-1950s and at the Pohick Church School in the late 1950s and early 1960s. Mrs. Mandrovsky and her husband were both active in the preservation of the Pohick Chruch and both were also active in the Pimmitt Hills Citizens' Association. They were delegates to the Fairfax County Federation of Citizens Association from 1958-75.

Mrs. Mandrovsky also served on various committees of the Pimmitt Hills Citizens' Association including zoning, membership, and gardening committees.

A resident of Oakland for the past 17 years, Mrs. Mandrovsky had been active with the local Meals on Wheels Program and a member of the Board of Zoning Appeals. In her commitment to higher education for all, she volunteered to teach others to read after her retirement as a school teacher. She also had a fondness for world traveling.

Survivors include one sister, Margaret "Midge" Garner Tucker, Washington, Va.; two nieces and 10 nephews, including James Garner, Gaithersburg, and John Garner, McHenry.

A private interment will be held at Cedar Hill Cemetery. A memorial service will be held locally at a later date.

The family suggests that memorials take the form of contributions to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, or the Oakland Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library.

JOANNE R. KYLE

Joanne Rae Kyle, 60, Oakland, died Saturday, January 11, 1992, in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Born January 16, 1931, in Westernport, she was the daughter of Irene (Hoover) Strickler, Westernport, and the late Victor Strickler.

Mrs. Kyle was a 1949 graduate of Bruce High School and manager of the Maryland Tavern on Route 50 near Gorman.

Surviving besides her mother are her husband, Richard L. Kyle; one son, Richard G. Kyle, Mountain Lake Park; one daughter, Kathy Litwin, Jacksonville, Fla.; one brother, Victor Strickler; and three grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Boal-Warnick Funeral Home on Sunday and Monday, and a service was conducted there Tuesday by the Rev. Ada Kittle.

Interment was in the Philos Cemetery, Westernport.

VICTORIA K. KNOX

Victoria K. Knox, infant daughter of C. David and Christina L. (Richmond) Knox, Oakland, died Saturday, January 11, 1992, at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland.

Born January 11, 1992, at Oakland, she is survived by one sister Kayla M. Knox, Oakland; maternal grandparents, Vernon L. and Mary (Chaney) Richmond, Inwood, W.Va.; paternal grandparents, Floyd J. and Bernadine L. (Baker) Knox, Oakland; and her paternal great grandfather, Charles Baker, Cross, W.Va.

Services were held at the Stewart Funeral Home on Wednesday with the Rev. Ralph Jacks officiating. Interment was in the Mt. Zion Cemetery.

MARY M. JENKINS

Mary Millicent Jenkins, 82, Accident, died Sunday, January 8, 1992, at the Goodwill Mennonite Home, Grantsville.

Born June 13, 1909, at Cove, she was a daughter of the late Peter and Emma (Georg) Brown.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Harold J. Jenkins, August 4, 1972.

Mrs. Jenkins was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include one son, Roy G. Jenkins, Friendsville; one daughter, Edna E. Artice, Accident; six grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren.

Friends were received in the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville, where a service was conducted Saturday, January 11, at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Alan Birkby officiating.

Interment was in St. John's Cemetery, U.S. Rt. 219.

The family suggests that memorials take the form of contributions to the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad or to WAIJ Radio Station.

EVELYN BLANKENSHIP

Evelyn (Friend) Blankenship, 70, Lewes, Del., died Wednesday, January 8, 1992, in Peninsula General Hospital, Salisbury, Del.

Mrs. Blankenship was a homemaker. She was a member of Bethel United Methodist Church, Lewes, but attended St. John's United Methodist Church, Springfield Crossroads, near Georgetown, Del.

She was a member of the Ladies of the Elk; V.F.W. Auxiliary, Rehoboth Beach, Del.; American Legion Auxiliary, Lewes; and Women of the Moose.

Survivors include her husband, Newell Blankenship; seven sons, Cecil R. Friend Jr., Harbeson, Del.; Colin Friend, Perry W. Friend, and William A. Friend, all of Lewes; Steven J. Friend, Florence, Ala.; Randall L. Friend, Bellingham, Wash.; and Carl W. Friend, Lewes; and three daughters, Mary E. Pulley, Brenda L. Yaeger, and Carol F. Brinck, all of Lewes; one sister, Mildred Massey, Camelot, Del.; 17 grandchildren; and one great-grandson.

Friends were received at the Parsell, Atkins & Lodge Funeral Home, Lewes.

A service was conducted Saturday, January 11, at Bethel United Methodist Church, Lewes.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests that memorial contributions be directed to the American Cancer Society.

BEULAH M. SINK

Beulah Maria Sink, 64, Lakeland, Fla., died Saturday, January 4, 1992, at her home.

Born February 12, 1927, in Swanton, she was the daughter of the late William E. and Estella E. (Reckner) Fitzwater.

Mrs. Sink was employed by the Department of the State in Washington, D.C. as a secretary, prior to retiring and moving to Florida. She was a member of the Southside Assembly of God Church in Lakeland.

Survivors include her husband, Carter G. Sink, Lakeland; two daughters, Marsha Core, Lakeland; Yvonne Mockabee, West Columbia, S.C.; one son, William Sink, Laurel; two sisters, Ruth Mayfield, Terra Alta, W.Va.; Lorena Smith, Deer Park; one brother, William Fitzwater Jr., Deer Park; and eight grandchildren.

A service was conducted on January 7 at Lakeland Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Elwood Rakes and the Rev. Walter Wilhelm officiating.

Interment was in Lakeland Memorial Gardens.

The family suggests that memorial contributions be directed to the American Cancer Society.

On the average, a person takes in about 16,000 gallons of water during his/her life.

Northern Wrestlers Nip Meyersdale, Successfully Defend County Title

The Northern High School wrestling team won four of the final five bouts to edge Meyersdale, 36-30, last Thursday night and then traveled to Southern on Saturday where they successfully defended their Garrett County Invitational title against nine other teams.

The 8-1 Huskies were trailing visiting Meyersdale going into the second portion of the match, but Jarett McKenzie, Todd Burdock, and Jason Fazenbaker all won by pins in the 152, 160, and 189 weight divisions, respectively. Then Scott Beitzel sealed the win for the Huskies when he was awarded a forfeit in the heavyweight division.

Also winning via a pin for Northern was Greg Miller in the 140-pound class, while Chris Rowe and Allen Bittinger won by decision in the 130- and 135-pound bouts.

Jim Brown, Jason Smith, and Aaron Hollar won by pins for Meyersdale, as the visitors shut out the Huskies in the first four weight classes.

The Huskies won by a wide margin in the annual Garrett County Invitational on Saturday, as they amassed 150 points. Preston County placed second with 130 and one-half points, followed by Frankfort, 114; Southern, 108; Phillip Barbour, 105; Westmar, 104; Fort Hill, 74; Morgantown, 52; Allegany, 26 and one-half; and Hyndman, 19 and one-half.

Huskies winning individual titles were Scott Beitzel, who pinned Preston County's Buddy Turner in the finals, and Chris Rowe, Allen Bittinger, and Greg Miller, who all won by decision in their final bouts.

Gary Sweitzer of Southern won the 112-pound division title when he pinned Westmar's Aaron Wilson.

Northern grapplers winning runner-up trophies were Todd Burdock (160) and Jason Fazenbaker (189). Southern runner-ups were Jason Burgess (119), Pete Strawser (125), Mike DeWitt (135), and Sonny Livengood (152).

Third place finishes were recorded by Northern's Tirell Burdock (103) and Jarrett McKenzie (152).

The Rams will wrestle again next Wednesday at Clay-Battelle.

REVERSAL FOR TWO -- Northern High varsity grappler Greg Miller, top, reverses for two points against Meyersdale Red Raider Les Dunmyer in 140-pound class action last Thursday at Northern. Miller won by pinfall in the third period, then went on to claim the 140-pound class championship in the Garrett County Invitational Wrestling Tournament held last Saturday at Southern High. Photo by Craig Speicher.

HUSKIES EDGE RAIDERS – The Northern High varsity matmen defeated the Meyersdale Red Raiders 36-30 last Thursday at the Igloo, but never held the lead until the final contest. In a 130-pound bout of a cliffhanger, Huskie Chris Rowe twice fell behind to Raider Tim Rousch, but at the last minute jumped ahead to win 6-5. In the above photo, Rowe tightens his grip on Rousch's legs for the winning takedown. Rowe also won the championship for his weight class at the Garrett County Invitational Wrestling Tournament held last Saturday at Southern High. See stories. Photo by Craig Speicher.

Cross-Country Ski Races Slated At New Germany

The State Forest and Park Service, The Potomac-Appalachian Trail Club, and the New Germany Ski Hosts are sponsoring the annual New Germany cross-country ski race. The event is open to the public and is scheduled for Saturday, February 1, at 10 a.m. in New Germany State Park. The race is part of the 1992 Allegheny Cross-Country Ski Race Series.

The 8K race for adults (ages 12 and older) covers varying terrain. The 2K children's race (ages 8-11) is over a flat course. The 1/8th mile youngest group race (ages 0-7) will be held in front of the New Germany warming hut after the adult and children's races.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded to the winners in the various age group classes. Registration will be on race day at the warming hut from 8 to 9:30 a.m.

If snow conditions are not favorable on Friday, January 31, the race will be canceled.

For more information, persons may call New Germany State Park at 301-895-5453.

THOUGHTS OF A COUNTRY DOCTOR, AN IMMIGRANT'S SON

by A.E. Mance, M.D.

The author, who is still active as a General Practitioner after 50 years, reveals in his writings the strong influence of the culture of his parents who emigrated to the United States from Austria (present-day Croatia) in the early 1900s. Reared in poverty before the Great Depression, he and his family survived the struggle in the coal mines and lumber woods of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, creating intense bonds, gentle humor, frank wisdom, and respect for labor and for life. This translated into his ability to help people survive illness in many forms. The insight gained from listening to thousands of patients and a deep respect for his heritage have inspired Thoughts of a Country Doctor, an Immigrant's Son. No one who reads Dr. Mance's "Thoughts" will come away untouched.

Rams Flatten Campers, 71-56, To Maintain Area Number One Ranking

The Southern High School Rams solidified their area number one ranking Friday evening when they flattened Allegany, then the number four ranked team, 71-56, on the Campers' floor. It was the ninth win in 10 starts for Coach Tom Bosley's team, which will play at Mt. Savage this Friday evening. A game scheduled for Tuesday at home against Petersburg was postponed because of bad weather.

While Brett Rice again led the Rams in scoring as he has done all season, Britten Martin had his best career performance Friday night, as he scored 23 points and pulled down a game-high 12 rebounds. Rice finished with 24 points.

After ties of 4-4 and 7-7, the Rams went on top for good when Rice netted a three-pointer at the 3:42 mark to make it 10-7. They expanded their advantage to 19-11 before Allegany's D.J. Jessie hit a three-point shot with five seconds left in the quarter.

After Allegany cut the Ram lead to three (19-16) early in the second period, Martin hit a pair of buckets and Dave Kurtz added another one to put Southern on top 25-16. Late in the period the Rams stretched their lead to 12 points, 40-28, on a steal and lay-up by Nathan Dixon. The Campers closed the gap to 40-32 by halftime.

After intermission the Rams went on a quick surge to boost their lead to 46-32 before stalling and allowing the Campers to carve the lead back to eight points, 50-42, by the end of the third quarter.

Southern scored the first five points of the final stanza and Allegany could get no closer than eight points the rest of the way. The Rams' biggest lead of the game was 71-53 with just 14 seconds remaining in the game.

Dan Bauer led Allegany in scoring, equalling Rice's total of 24, while Scott McGann finished with 12 points.

The Southern junior varsity won the preliminary contest, 54-49, after trailing at halftime, 34-25. Mark Elliott led the Rams with 14 points. Scott Robinette netted 16 for the Allegany jayvees.

The make-up game with Petersburg that was postponed Tuesday has reportedly been re-scheduled for next Tuesday on the Rams' court.

GCC Lakers Break .500 Mark With Two Wins, But Then Fall To Hawks

The Garrett Community College Lakers broke the .500 mark in the win-loss column this past week with back-to-back home wins over Essex CC in an Maryland JUCO American Division contest Friday and over Butler CC Saturday night. However, they evened things up again last night at 7-7 when they were defeated by visiting Hagerstown Junior College, 107-92.

The Lakers will go back on the road this week with a Saturday game at Prince George's CC, a game at Potomac State College on Monday, and one at Dundalk CC next Wednesday.

Against Essex, freshman guard Fred Wilson, an Allegany High School graduate, netted a career-high 26 points to lead the Lakers to their 72-65 win. Wilson hit 10 of 16 shots from the floor and six of eight attempts at the free throw line.

After a 13-13 tie early in the game, the Lakers scored 11 of the next 13 points to go on top 24-15. Essex came back to cut Garrett's lead to just one point with about two and one-half minutes left in the half, but they could get no closer the rest of the way. The Lakers led 32-28 at halftime.

After an 8-0 run by the Lakers to open the second half, the Knights could never get closer than five points.

Curtis Shepherd recorded 20 points, nine assists, and five steals for the Lakers, while Ron Wolfe grabbed nine rebounds.

Leading the 1-9 Knights and all scorers was Michael White with 28 points.

Nick Gray grabbed the scoring limelight in the Lakers' 71-64 come-from-behind victory over Butler as he pumped in 25 points.

After holding a 31-28 advantage at halftime, the Lakers fell behind by seven, 57-50, with eight minutes left in the game. Buckets by Shepherd and Wilson, plus two free throws by Wolfe, cut Butler's lead to one.

After several ties, the Lakers took a 66-64 lead on a follow-up shot by Wolfe and they went on to score the final five points of the game for the win.

Also reaching double figures for the Lakers were Wolfe and Shepherd with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Leading Butler was Brett McHenry with 18 points, while teammate Eric Bovaird contributed 13.

The Lakers trailed the entire game last night against Hagerstown, as six Hawks finished in double figures to up their team record to 8-8.

The Lakers were down 23-7 early in the game, but cut the deficit to just two points, 41-39, with a 9-0 spurt with about five minutes remaining in the half. The Hawks stretched their advantage back to 54-49 by halftime.

The Lakers were within six points, 77-71, with 12 minutes remaining, but Hagerstown scored 11 of the next 13 points to go on top by 15 with about eight minutes remaining. The Lakers were unable to threaten again.

Shaid Perkins finished with 24 points for the Hawks, followed by Kenyatta Mason with 19, Trummelle Allison with 15, Ira Winston with 13, Patrick Bowsers with 12, and Matt Butts with 10.

Leading the Lakers' scoring was Wolfe with 20, while Wilson and Shepherd each netted 19, Nick Gray had 18, and Ron Gerald scored 12.

Sierra Club To Meet, To Hear About Acid Rain

As a part of its on-going series to gather information on subjects of concern to local environmentalists, the next meeting of the Sierra Club will feature an address by Dr. Ray Morgan on the effects of acid rain on Western Maryland.

Morgan, of the University of Maryland's Appalachian Environmental Laboratory, has recently completed a major multi-year study of acid rain in the Big Run area of the Savage River State Forest in Garrett County. He will present the results of his study and will discuss remedies and associated costs.

Morgan has been researching this and related elements of estuarine studies ever since he arrived at AEL in 1969. Before that he was with Chesapeake Biological Laboratory and the Battelle Memorial Institute, the world's largest non-profit research foundation.

The presentation will be held in Room 104 of the Guild Center, on the campus of Frostburg State University. The meeting will be held Tuesday, January 21, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Morgan's address will be preceded by a short business meeting. Coffee and refreshments will follow, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Laker Women Win First, But Lose Two Others

After three straight losses, the Garrett Community College women's team chalked one up in the win column this past week by rolling over Dundalk CC on Saturday, 61-40, in McHenry. The Lakers lost their third game of the season Friday against visiting Essex and then fell last night to Hagerstown Junior College, 85-50, at the McHenry Campus.

Freshman Heather Shepherd led the Lakers in scoring against Essex as she finished with 24 points and also had four assists, four steals, and a pair of blocked shots.

Garrett was down 39-23 at halftime and trailed by as many as 20 points before cutting the deficit to just eight points with three and one-half minutes left in the game. The Lakers then forced four consecutive turnovers in the final minutes, but could not convert them into points.

Lisa St. Claire and Debbi Povenza each scored 16 points for the Knights, while Dawn St. Claire finished with 14.

Also reaching double figures for Garrett was Kenyatta Brown with 13 points, 10 rebounds, and five steals. Kathy Gibson contributed eight points and a dozen rebounds.

In the win over Dundalk, Gibson, a former Southern High School standout who skipped her senior year of high school eligibility, led the Lakers with 19 points. Tracy Feather and Shepherd followed with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Lakers took control of the contest early and held a 26-18 advantage at halftime.

Pacing Dundalk's scoring was Sherri Bossle with 16 points.

The Lakers were never really in the game last night against Hagerstown, as the Hawks held a commanding 41-16 lead at halftime.

Sheri Hamilton led the Hawks with 20 points, Janell Smith netted 12, and Amy Carey scored 11, plus pulled 12 rebounds. The Lakers were out-rebounded, 49-24.

Tracy Feather paced Garrett's scoring with 13 points, while Shepherd and Gibson each finished with 10. Kenyatta Brown grabbed eight rebounds.

The 1-5 Lakers, coached by Dennis Gibson, are slated to play at Cecil today at 5 p.m.

Huskies Succumb To Tiger Rally, But Come Back To Defeat Hancock

The Northern High Huskies let one get away from them Friday night in Mt. Storm, W.Va., as they allowed Union to come back for a 47-44 after the Tigers trailed throughout the game. The Huskies then rebounded last night at home by defeating Hancock, 62-54. The results left the Huskies with a 5-6 mark, which they will try to improve this Friday at home against Oldtown.

The Huskies led the Union Tigers at the quarters, 16-14, 27-20, and 37-29, but the home team came alive in the final stanza and outscored Coach Harv Speicher's squad 18-7 in that period to record the three-point win.

Matt Davis sunk a pair of free throws to tie the score and a follow-up bucket by Hershal Seebolt gave the Tigers the lead for good with about four minutes left in the game.

Leading the Huskies' scoring was Dave Hinebaugh, who finished with 15 points. Rob Speicher netted 12 and Jon Houser added nine.

Jim Idleman and Davis paced Union with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Seebolt, who finished with eight points, scored six of them in the final period.

The preliminary junior varsity contest was equally exciting, however the jayvee Huskies were able to hold on for a 48-47 victory. Tim Hinebaugh scored 23 for Northern, while Chris Evans netted 15 for Union.

Last night against Hancock, Hinebaugh and Brian Kamp each scored 16 points and led a second quarter offensive surge that gave the Huskies a commanding lead.

The Huskies trailed 14-8 near the end of the first period, but knotted the score at 14-14 and then erupted for 20 points in the second stanza while holding the visitors to just four points to take a 34-18 halftime advantage. Hancock narrowed the gap in the third stanza (44-31), but the Huskies held them at arm's length the rest of the way.

Kamp scored 10 of his points in the first quarter.

Snowboard, Ski Race Results At Wisp Announced

Three competitive events, one for snowboarders and two for skiers, were held under sunny skies at the Wisp Ski Resort this past weekend.

Thirty-five of the regions top snowboarders competed in the first leg of the six-race Mid-Atlantic Snowboard Series slalom on Saturday, the overall winner of which was Tony Lincoln, Wisp Snowboard School director.

Lincoln won first place in the masters' division (over 25), while Allan Chaney and Eric Thomas placed second and third, respectively.

Cathie Slaney was the women's open class winner, with Sherry Lebowitz finishing second.

Jeff Simco won first place in the men's 18-24 division, followed by Justin Weldon and Eric Rosenwald. Collin Lintz placed first in the men's 17 and under class, while Mark Ayers was second and Jesse Manoni, third.

The second event of the day, the third annual Molson Ski Challenge, drew 85 participants. The race featured an obstacle course which had to be negotiated on skis. More than $1,500 in prizes were awarded, with the top three men and women receiving skis, goggles, or gloves.

Those winners in order of finish were: Debbie Tab, Barb Kilmer, and Tricia Lewis for the women, and Ben Acrermen, Dick Ehringer, and Matt Thoman for the men.

The second skiing competition, the annual Wisp Memorial Slalom, was held Sunday, with 67 racers ranging in age from 5 to 57 years participating.

Dave Wales, Bruceton Mills, W.Va., was the overall winner and was awarded the Wisp Memorial trophy.

Other racers, in order of finish, were as follows:

Female 5-6 - Kristin Ehringer, 38.16; Ida Hellebrekers, 62.93.

Female 7-8 - Hilary Faust, 223.03; Tess Hellebrekers, 229.59.

Jon Houser and Rob Speicher also reached double figures for Northern with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Kamp also grabbed six rebounds, Speicher dished out four assists, and Hinebaugh recorded four steals.

The top scorer of the game was Hancock's Andy McKenzie, who finished with 21 points, 10 of which he scored in the fourth quarter. He also pulled 14 rebounds. Chris Clingerman netted 17 points.

The Northern junior varsity continued to win, as Dave Hinebaugh's brothers, Tim and John, scored 20 and 12 points, respectively, to pace the Huskies over the Hancock jayvees, 46-28. Bill Rinard led Hancock with 12 points and Brian Fink chipped in with 10.

Hunters Alerted To The Dangers Of Hypothermia

The Maryland Natural Resources Police report that Maryland hunters and boaters are in danger of suffering hypothermia at this time of year. Recently two hunters were treated for hypothermia at Dorchester County Hospital after their 14-foot boat capsized while they were putting out decoys.

Hypothermia is a condition of abnormally low body temperature and is caused by extended exposure to cold weather, or by extended time in cold water. Frostbite can result and possibly lead to gangrene.

The Natural Resources Police recommended the following precautions be taken to avoid the threat of hypothermia: stay dry and avoid the wind; put on rain gear before you get wet; if you fall into cold water, do not discard clothing, as it will help trap heat; if boating, wear a life jacket. A life jacket reduces the need to move and it helps insulate against heat loss.

The best treatment for hypothermia is to remove the victim from the cold producing environment. Persons should never give alcohol to the victim. For severe cases, dress the victim in layers of dry clothing or blankets, and send for medical assistance immediately.

Southern Girls Rip Fort Hill, Fall To Campers

The Southern High School girls' varsity embarrassed Fort Hill last Thursday night in Oakland, 62-23, but fell to Cumberland's other public high school, Allegany, last night, 55-43, also on the Rams' court.

Coach Don Stemple's Rams, now 6-3, will host Tri-Valley this Friday evening and then play at Westmar Wednesday.

Shelly Cannon pumped in 20 points to lead the Rams in their easy win over the Sentinels last Thursday, while Michelle Duling finished with 12 points and five steals.

The Rams led 20-8 at the end of the first quarter, upped their advantage to 30-13 by halftime, and were on top 46-16 after three periods.

Sherry Adams grabbed 10 rebounds and Alana Harkins was credited with six assists for the Rams.

The only Sentinel to reach double figures was Kara Goldsworthy, who netted 12 points. It was the seventh defeat in nine starts for Fort Hill.

In the preliminary contest the Southern junior varsity recorded its fourth win in five outings by whipping the Fort Hill jayvees, 34-19. Stacy Kisner led Southern with 16 points, while Smith scored 14 for the Sentinels.

Last night against 10-1 Allegany, the Rams could not contain Tonya Wharton and Michelle Barrett, who scored 21 and 20 points, respectively.

The Rams played tough throughout the first half, trailing by only one at the end of the first quarter, 7-6, and one at halftime, 19-18, but the Campers began to pull away in the third period as they took a 36-30 advantage into the fourth stanza.

Carrie Newcomb led the Rams with 15 points and nine rebounds. Cannon finished with 14 points and Duling added 10.

The Southern junior varsity upped its record to 5-1 with a 40-21 win over the Camper jayvees in the preliminary game. Stacy Kisner netted 12 points for the Rams and Jody Thrasher led Allegany with 13.

The Huskies led 13-5 at the end of the first quarter and 21-19 at halftime, but were then out-scored in the third stanza, 20-10, to give the Campers a 39-31 advantage going into the fourth period. Northern's playmaker, guard Audra Speicher, had to leave the game late in the third quarter because of a sprained ankle.

Rebecca Fratz led the Huskies and all scorers as she finished with 14 points and 15 rebounds. Cara Wachter added 10 points and Speicher was credited with six assists.

A 19-point effort by Elida Schofield highlighted a 40-20 thrashing of the Allegany jayvees by the Northern junior varsity. Becky Uphold scored 10 points for the Huskies, while Kyler Adams led Allegany with 11.

Fratz ripped the nets for 25 points Monday night at Hyndman, as the Huskies broke open what had been a close game until the second quarter.

Northern led by only one, 11-10, the end of the first quarter, stretched their lead to 21-14 by halftime, and were on top 30-22 after three periods.

Fratz's points came on eight field goals and nine of 10 shots at the line. Wachter added 12 points and five assists while Jennifer Dolan also dished out five assists.

Ann Deremer and Kristi Reed netted 12 and 11 points, respectively, for Hyndman.

Northern will get another shot at the Campers this Saturday in Cumberland.

Northern Girls Fall To Campers, Whip Hyndman

The Northern High School girls' varsity played well throughout the first half against an outstanding Allegany team Saturday night in Accident, but fell behind in the third period and could not catch up. The 9-1 Campers won the contest, 51-37.

Coach Harv Speicher's girls came back Monday evening, however, to record a 41-28 victory over host Hyndman to improve their record to 7-3.

Against Allegany, the Huskies kept Tanya Wharton, the Campers' top scorer, in check with just nine points, but Michelle Barrett and Danita Emerson led the visitors' successful rally in the second half. Barrett finished with 13 points and Emerson recorded 12.

How To Save Up To $35,507.25 On Your Mortgage.

Now you can save a substantial amount of interest on your mortgage and pay it off more quickly. It's easy with a Bi-Weekly Mortgage, new from First Federal Savings Bank.

The idea behind a Bi-Weekly Mortgage is very simple. Instead of making one monthly mortgage payment, you make ½ a payment every two weeks. So how do you save all that interest?

Simple mathematics tells you that ½ a payment every two weeks over the course of a year equals 26 bi-weekly payments—or the yearly equivalent of 13 monthly payments. So your mortgage is paid off more quickly, meaning less interest as well.

Your payments will be automatically deducted from a First Federal checking account, so you won't have to worry about writing two checks a month instead of one.

Still not convinced? Well, just take a look at how much you'd save on both a fixed rate and an adjustable rate Bi-Weekly Mortgage versus a traditional monthly mortgage:

Mortgage Amount	$75,000
Interest Rate:	10.00% A.P.R. (Fixed)
Term:	15 Years
Monthly Payment:	$806.25
BI-WEEKLY PAYMENT:	$403.13
Total Paid (Monthly):	$145,125.00
TOTAL PAID (BI-WEEKLY):	$131,823.51
INTEREST SAVINGS WITH BI-WEEKLY MORTGAGE!	$13,301.49

AND YOU OWN YOUR HOME IN JUST 12 YEARS AND 7 MONTHS, INSTEAD OF 15!

Mortgage Amount	$75,000
Interest Rate:	8.00% A.P.R.* (Adjustable)
Term:	30 Years
Monthly Payment:	$550.50
BI-WEEKLY PAYMENT:	$275.25
Total Paid (Monthly):	$198,180.00
TOTAL PAID (BI-WEEKLY):	$162,672.75
INTEREST SAVINGS WITH BI-WEEKLY MORTGAGE!	$35,507.25

AND YOU OWN YOUR HOME IN JUST 22 YEARS AND 9 MONTHS INSTEAD OF 30!

The annual percentage rate is subject to change after consummation.*

Find out how much you could save on your mortgage by choosing a First Federal Bi-Weekly Mortgage instead of a traditional mortgage plan. Call today for current rates and an estimate on your possible interest savings.

driver. Who would know better where the safest stops are?

I am not against consolidating unnecessary stops that are too close together. But when you endanger 4-year-olds by making them walk on unsafe roadways (that don't even have a speed limit sign) or when kids have to walk in the woods to get to the stop and when their driveway is ¼ mile from the previous stop, I just cannot understand or agree.

Is someone acting out of spite or trying to make a name for themselves? I guess I shouldn't complain too much -- John Morris did walk the road and gave us back a "temporary bus stop" during snow months; a stop that has been here over 13 years is now temporary.

I wonder what the children think when all of a sudden the bus no longer stops at their house, but does stop almost ¼ mile away (maybe even in a turn).

Come on, taxpayers, vote your mind come election time.

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the hundreds and hundreds of people who have signed the petition I am sponsoring. This petition is for the replacement of the Director of Pupil Transportation with the Board of Education. When all petitions are in I will let you know so that you can see the effect, and then realize how little you as a parent and taxpayer mean to your Board of Education.

I am told that the Board of Education's budget this year is 24 million dollars. This budget is millions of dollars greater than the rest of the county budget. I believe that because of the great percentage of county tax dollars that go for education the Board of Education must accept their equitable share of the cuts. I strongly suggest that the way the Administration is accepting their share is a deliberate attempt to preserve the administrative FAT and further slice into the muscle (strength) of our system, the teachers and other areas that directly affect students.

One of the examples of administrative "fat" is the salary of Mike Sines, director of pupil transportation. This salary was reported by the Board to be paid from local funds (4/11/91), and is supported by the "Good Old Boy System" that permeates the administration. Now the Administration says that Sines is paid by state funds. Why is this? Which is it? Could it be that there is a limitation on how much can be paid out of these funds or is it one of those convenient categories that can be shifted when the heat rises? Why not start saving money by returning the $57,000 to the General Fund so that it can be used for some constructive (rather than destructive) use such as underfunded items like libraries, teachers' salaries, student lunch prices, and support personnel.

Another example of this "good old boy system" and brazen administrative hypocrisy is the way the Board of Education handles hiring teacher substitutes. Most of you remember an article where the Board wanted volunteers with B.S. degrees to fill in when a teacher was absent. Great idea! When the Board of Education does not have a volunteer available, guess who gets paid the $50 per day sub fee? It appears to be the norm, at least in the Northern area of the county, that if you are unqualified, without a degree, and have a friend in the administration, you are worth being paid. Don't believe me -- check out the sign-in sheets at the schools and see how many of the paid subs have the minimum qualifications to be a volunteer (degree).

Sincerely,
Richard Thomas

To the Editor:

As concerned grandparents of kids riding Garrett County school buses and as taxpayers, my wife and I would like to say we hope the bus stops will get better for the safety of all kids. It seems they are not very safe right now.

We commend Mr. Thomas for what he is trying to do. We all need to consider our kids' safety, first of all.

To the Editor:

It has been about two years since our encounter with the "almighty" Board of Education over a transportation conflict. Some of you may remember our quest for a bus stop for our children in Kitzmiller. Nothing, we fear, has improved in the area of transportation for many children, (thanks to Mike Sines.) Parents are still reduced to begging for some consideration in the area of safety for their children -- to no avail.

Yes, we do have a bus stop now. (Many children still have to walk because they live a few feet too close for the bus to pick them up -- Can you believe it? The bus drivess right by them!) Many thousands of taxpayers dollars went to keep us from trying to ensure our children's safety, only to have been wasted by a policy change that we requested in the very beginning.

There are many positive factors in our educational system. Teachers who know and care about each individual student are many in Garrett County. They make us proud of their fortitude under the oppressive and deceitful hand of the administrative board.

There are many support personnel to be commended for their contribution to the efficient operation of our schools.

Volunteers who "fill in the void" left by needs that cannot be met by those who already must do too much for too little are essential and appreciated. Can "YOU" think of anything else? Does the administrative board fit in this category?

What totally confounds us is how the Board can continue to justify outrageous salaries to those personnel who consistently act in a matter which is deteriorating the quality of our children's education. What will it take for someone to realize that each dollar you pay out in taxes will probably be used in some outlandish bureaucratic plan that will not benefit you, your family or the community, but will only line the pockets of the administration? Such is the case with our present administrative personnel and those elected Board members who refused to listen to the voice of the people and institute a change.

We are well aware that you can't please everyone all the time. Someone will always complain. When everyone is complaining shouldn't you, members of the elected Board, finally stand up and take notice?

Citizens of Garrett County, let your voice be heard -- for the educational future of the children.

If you care....if you dare.

Sincerely,
Crystal A. Shaffer
Melissa Lucas

P.S. Yes, Mr. Robert Savage, we agree wholeheartedly!

To the Editor:

I was shocked to find out that the director of transportation makes $57,000 a year. My question is why? For making bad judgment calls?

A while back I put my child on the school bus only to discover a while later how extremely bad the roads were. Sure that they would dismiss early (the roads became worse as the day passed), I went to the school and picked her up. I was not about to let her get back on the bus. These bus drivers should not be put in that position. I would not want to be responsible for a busload of children on a day like that.

After returning home I called the Transportation Department. After voicing my concern, I was told that they were out on the roads at 5:30 a.m. that morning and they did not feel the roads were that bad. My husband left for work at 4 a.m. and they were a sheet of ice then and they were the same way at 7:45 when the bus arrived. What I would like to know is, where they were at 5:30 a.m.? I was also told that if I felt the roads were too bad to put my child on the bus, then to keep her at home. All this time I was under the impression that he is paid to make that decision.

I also know a number of families who have been fighting to get their children's bus stops changed, some successfully, others not. I will not pretend to know about all these cases. I do know that we live on a road that is very curvy and extremely bad during the winter. It is also heavily traveled by truck drivers. What if one of these drivers didn't see these small children walking along the road? I suppose the truck driver would be held responsible when in all actuality these children shouldn't have to be walking. Do we have to have a bad accident before something is done?

I would like to know how he would feel if the shoe were on the other foot? My guess would be he wouldn't like it either.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Tina Sisler

New Hampshire digest

WASHINGTON — For a presidential candidate, winning the New Hampshire primary is not a matter of life or death — it's more important than that. Since Ike in 1952, every American elected to the White House has first had to win the New Hampshire primary. Since 1976, with the lone exception of Gary Hart in 1984, the New Hampshire primary winners — both Democrat and Republican — have both gone on to win their party's presidential nominations.

Who wins the New Hampshire primary on February 18 really does matter and is now truly unpredictable. What can be predicted with confidence are the winners' exhilaration, the losers' explanations, and the pundits' exaggerations.

Here are a few.

After the Bush administration on primary day has announced its 412th emergency federal grant and/or pilot program of 1992 to New Hampshire, Republican challenger Patrick J. Buchanan will say: "I only hope New Hampshire will see fit to do as much for my campaign as my campaign has already done for New Hampshire."

The campaign manager for the formerly front-running Democratic presidential candidate who finishes a disappointing and probably disastrous fourth:

"This stingy state is America's Lichtenstein with all the social conscience of Ivan Boesky. People here were smugly certain they had found the painless formula for perpetual prosperity: No taxes, no public services. Well, they were wrong and now they're paying for it. If I never hear another Pepperidge Farm accent from these self-absorbed narcissists, it will be too soon. Goodbye, Manchester."

Campaign manager of the upset winner of the 1992 New Hampshire primary:

"Everybody in the ball game knew the rules: It all begins in New Hampshire. You win some, you lose some, and some are rained out. But one way or the other, you have to dress for all of 'em.

"If the Boss's gutsy message — of competence and compassion, a hand up instead of a handout, and making 'Made in the USA' the worldwide standard for quality and excellence again — can resonate here at the foot of Mt. Washington, I'm frankly confident."

The exculpation of the famous Bi-Coastal columnist/commentator whose predicted New Hampshire primary winners finish badly out of the money:

"New Hampshire in 1992 is nothing more than Peyton Place in Chapter 11. Nobody should pay any attention to the judgment of people who three times elected John Sununu their governor. But actually Sununu personified what New Hampshire is all about: Work in Massachusetts and drive an hour and a half each way to avoid paying taxes while you watch the Red Sox on Boston TV."

The exultation of the syndicated pundit who never once having set foot in the state or talked to a single live voter totally by chance picked both New Hampshire primary winners:

"New Hampshire has never been the grapefruit league. This is not an exhibition game. No, when it comes to picking presidents, New Hampshire is the seventh game of the World Series, the Olympics, and the Super Bowl all rolled into one.

"Beltway sophisticates may snicker over their chardonnay at these Granite Staters. But these New Hampshire Yankees have survived hard winters and harder times with their independence intact. They know that when it comes to the making of a commander-in-chief they hold the proxy for the nation. It is a serious obligation, one the good people of New Hampshire in 1992 have seriously discharged . . . blah, blah, blah."

Finally, sadly missing from New Hampshire in 1992 will be any losing candidate in either party with the wit of 1976 Democratic presidential candidate Fred Harris or the candor of legendary political prankster turned candidate Dick Tuck.

In 1976, when he ran as the champion of America's ordinary hardworking "little people" who didn't have big money or big influence, Fred Harris offered this postmortem for his dismal showing in the New Hampshire primary:

"The 'little people' couldn't reach the levers in the voting booth."

Years earlier, when he lost the Democratic primary for a Los Angeles state senate seat, Dick Tuck conceded into an open radio microphone, "The people have spoken, the bastards."

Madigan Says U.S. Is Committed To Fair Trade, Expanded Markets

Foreign markets for agricultural products are important to American farmers and ranchers but new domestic markets are also needed, according to Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan.

"We're not going to give up on GATT, but we're not going to put all our eggs in the foreign export basket either," Madigan told members attending the American Farm Bureau Federation's 73rd annual meeting in Kansas City on Monday.

USDA experts have been analyzing GATT Director-General Arthur Dunkel's current proposal for a trade agreement in agriculture, Madigan said. "Not everything we want is in there, but we believe it is good enough to give us a framework to bring the negotiations to a successful conclusion," he said.

Negotiators are now meeting in Geneva to discuss the Dunkel proposal. While cautioning that progress toward a final agreement will not be easy, Madigan told reporters at a news conference following his address that he was hopeful the talks would move along "at a rate sufficient to wrap up by April." He said negotiations for a North American free trade agreement area also proceeding "simultaneously" with the GATT talks.

Madigan said the U.S. is committed to "fair and free trade" and to an agreement that is good for agriculture. "The president has made it clear he will walk away from any GATT agreement that is not something better for American farmers and ranchers than what we have now. "The agriculture secretary noted to reporters that he is required by law to spend an additional $1 billion on the export enhancement program if there is no agreement by June 30.

Speaking to reporters, Madigan said the proposed revisions to the federal wetlands delineation manual are a substantial improvement over the 1989 manual.

"The changes or additions to wetlands definitions with regard to prior-converted croplands or farmed wetlands are both things that deal with a lot of the (wetlands) problems that we've heard about," he said.

Madigan said the Bush administration "continues to be concerned about the financial stress many dairy farmers are feeling." But rather than "asking Congress to do anything, like raise milk supports, we will take administrative steps that proved helpful in raising milk prices" from last April's national all-milk price of $11.30 to December's price of $13.90.

Madigan pledged renewed efforts to make USDA more "farmer-friendly" and cut down on red tape and paperwork hurdles farmers face. He also vowed to expand markets around the world and at home. "Expanding domestic markets can create jobs in rural America," Madigan said, USDA wants to "help farmers and companies move products from the fields, through the labs and to the marketplace."

He said plans are in the works to increase research and development of alternative uses for agricultural commodities -- including plastic-like products, newsprint, soy ink and biofuels such as ethanol.

The processing plants for such products are being built in rural areas "because that's where the raw materials are," in turn creating rural jobs and boosting rural economies, Madigan said.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that in 1989, there were 10.1 million dairy cows in the United States. Wisconsin had the most cows, with 1.7 million, Alaska had the fewest — only 1,600.

President Bush Pledges Support For Farmers

President George Bush affirmed his support for free trade as long as it is fair trade. In remarks to 5,000 farmers and ranchers in Kansas City, on Monday, the president said he would not unilaterally disarm the U.S. export enhancement program, which counters subsidies 10 times as large from the European Community.

In a keynote address to the American Farm Bureau Federation's 73rd annual meeting, Bush said, "Open markets are the key to our economic future, both for American agriculture and business. That fight is going to take a long time."

President Bush also addressed the need to cut capital gains taxes as well as his commitment to finally add common sense to the nation's wetlands policy.

"We won the Cold War, and we will win the competitive wars. We will do it on the merits, and we're going to do it the American way -- through grit, through determination and through quality."

Just back from his trade mission to Asia and Australia, Bush said, "I oppose managed trade. What I want to get is more fair access to the other guy's markets -- and that's exactly what we got in our negotiations. Not everything we wanted, but we made progress. I want to give all farmers -- the grain farmers, the rice farmers -- a fair shot at selling their goods everywhere."

The president said he realizes American farmers out-think, out-work and out-produce anyone in the world, and "thrive in the international marketplace despite the barriers other governments throw in their way." The president was adamant about avoiding protectionist measures.

"We all know that protectionism boils down to defeatism," he said. "If you don't trust your product, you try to keep others from sampling the competition. But if you trust your handiwork, you see foreign markets as a great opportunity."

The president emphasized the need for an agreement in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). However, he said he will not support an agreement that is not good for America.

With or without a trade agreement, a cut in the capital gains tax is one step that could increase America's competitiveness. According to Bush, now more than ever, a capital gains tax cut will help put the U.S. economy back on track.

"It is good for everyone in our economy and especially for you -- the American farmer," he said. "And, I need your help to make the Congress understand this once and for all."

Reduction of restrictive land-use regulations is yet another area where America's farmers and ranchers could benefit. While he did not mention the issue of compensation for the regulatory taking of private property, Bush said he remains committed to inserting common sense in the nation's wetlands policy.

Bush said he has directed Vice President Quayle's Council on Competitiveness to protect "environmentally-sensitive wetlands" as well as the property rights of landowners.

"Our new guidelines will distinguish between genuine wetlands, which deserve to be protected, and other kinds of land -- including your farmlands," Bush told the group.

Kleckner Says Farmers Must Battle Back

America's farmers and ranchers are fighting a wide range of battles to protect their ability to earn a living, according to American Farm Bureau Federation's President Dean Kleckner.

Through the courts, through Congress and through world opinion, American agriculture is striking back, Kleckner told more than 5,000 farmers and ranchers Monday during AFBF's 73rd annual meeting.

Property rights and America's economic future are among agriculture's top concerns, Kleckner said. "The entrepreneurial spirit that pushes us is being stifled in America today," Kleckner said during his annual address to Farm Bureau members from the 50 states and Puerto Rico. "There are many in this country who seek to limit our opportunities and our freedoms.

"Our efforts throughout the '90s will be aimed at protecting and expanding those basic American freedoms that have made us the envy of the world. Those who think a farmer's only responsibility is to look quaint for urban tourists on weekends don't like the way you and I are working our land."

The controversy surrounding wetlands is only one example of land-use restrictions through regulation. The federal government's 1989 change in the wetlands definition instantly created millions of acres of "paper wetlands" that are not wet, he charged.

Farm Bureau is making passage of common-sense wetlands legislation in Congress a top priority. The legislation offers a definition that includes protection for true wetlands, but excludes dry, "paper" wetlands.

The pending rewrite of the Endangered Species Act could be just as damaging to America's agricultural system, Kleckner noted. "Enforcers of this act are out of control," he said. "They believe the only way to protect species is to protect habitat. And, who do you think owns that habitat? America's farmers and ranchers."

Kleckner told the audience that Farm Bureau is working to protect its property rights interests on several fronts, including in the courts.

In the U.S. Supreme Court, AFBF and the South Carolina Farm Bureau have filed a brief on behalf of an individual's right to be compensated for the regulatory taking of personal property.

"Requiring government to pay us when its actions impair our ability to use our land efficiently and effectively will slow down the land control movement," Kleckner said.

Farm Bureau is equally determined when it comes to cleaning up the federal budget mess. Kleckner said efforts by government leaders to "buy their way out of hock" through new taxes stifle productivity and are clearly not working.

He said a solution to the mess should include pro-growth incentives such as reforming the capital gains tax, changes in depreciation schedules to allow quicker recovery of investments for tax purposes, Social Security tax cuts, increased personal exemptions, a one-year freeze on all federal outlays, including entitlements, a constitutional amendment to balance the budget through spending control and a presidential line-item veto.

Kleckner also expressed disappointment in the pace of progress of world trade talks under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. Six years have passed since the kickoff of the present Uruguay Round of the talks to eliminate trade barriers around the world.

He cautioned against an "America First" policy that only "sounds patriotic," saying such protectionism would hurt America's farmers and ranchers.

Kleckner emphasized, however, that any Farm Bureau-backed trade agreement, including a free-trade agreement with Mexico, must treat U.S. agriculture fairly, and be supported by policies approved by the organization's delegates.

"Trade negotiations must result in benefits for U.S. farmers and ranchers," Kleckner said. If these trade agreements are concluded solely for the sake of having a trade agreement, then Farm Bureau will be one of the most vocal opponents."

Kleckner said extending aid and credits to the Commonwealth of Independent States and former Soviet republics would be little more than a short-term solution. Developing that region's free-market system "is the long-term answer." Any "assistance we give now should strengthen long-term U.S. farm markets in the republics."

"They are going down the right trail -- a trail blazed by U.S. farmers, rancher and other entrepreneurs," Kleckner said. "It is a trail our country is now in danger of straying from."

There were no sheep in America before 1540.

U.S. Food & Ag Draw Japanese Investors

During the past decade, several factors have made U.S. food and agricultural enterprises attractive to Japanese investors. Depreciating land values in the U.S. in the early to mid-1980s, an appreciating exchange rate favoring the yen, elimination of Japanese trade barriers for some key products, and the opportunity to satisfy both Japanese and American consumer demands have all lured Japanese investment. An economic boom in Japan in the late 1980s provided capital to take advantage of investment opportunities overseas as well as at home.

October Egg Production Up Two Percent

The Nation's laying flocks produced 5.87 billion eggs during October 1991, up two percent from the 5.79 billion eggs produced a year ago. Production included 5.06 billion table eggs, 751 million broiler-type hatching eggs and 63.0 million egg-type hatching eggs. The average number of layers during October was 276 million, up two percent from the 270 million head a year ago. The October 1991 egg production averaged 2,131 eggs per 100 layers, compared with 2,145 eggs per 100 layers in October 1990.

HEARING AIDS
DO YOU HAVE FEEDBACK OR WHISTLING WITH YOUR HEARING AID?
ARE YOU CONTINUALLY ADJUSTING THE VOLUME?
This is a common complaint that we hear from many hearing aid users. With the new Cleartone hearing aids you will not have feedback once the hearing aid is completely in your ear. You will not have to continually adjust the volume control, because the hearing aid will automatically reduce the loud noises for you.
We have found that it even helps those who have Tinnitus "ringing ears".

Grasses Making A Come Back

Alfalfa is considered the "king" of the forages. No doubt, alfalfa is one of the most consistent forages for supplying a feed high in nutrients. However, the majority of our soils in the area are not the type needed for optimum alfalfa production. I know several farmers who have faced this fact and have switched to grass production and harvesting a high quality feed. I thought the Penn State University grass variety trials may be of interest to you. Some of the new varieties are far better than some of the old ones that have been around for years. The data is for 1991 and 1990. As you know, the summer of 1991 was dry.

Species	Variety	1991	1990
Orchard Grass	Ambassador	3.66	5.34
	Justus	4.04	5.31
	Pennlate	3.60	5.53
	Rancho	3.90	5.34
Perennial Rye Grass	Bastion	2.42	3.73
	Bison	2.94	4.69
	Gremalda	2.65	3.54
Reed Canary Grass	Palaton	4.12	4.70
	Venture	3.37	5.06
Broome Grass	Baylor	3.03	4.43
	Saratoga	3.69	4.31
Tall Fescue	Festorina	5.23	6.59
	Johnstone	4.45	5.72
	Ky 31	4.14	5.92
	Martin	4.92	6.09
	Mozark	4.94	6.37
Timothy	Chazy	3.94	5.18
	Clair	3.96	5.34
	Climax	3.74	4.44
	Mohawk	3.84	5.22
	Richmond	4.05	4.83
	Toro	3.70	4.88

All of these grasses were seeded April 22, 1988 and the yields represent four cuttings each year. The tons per acre were at 12 percent moisture.

Three Drug Violations, And You'll Be Out Of Business

The above title appeared in the Hoard's Dairymen just recently. If you receive the Hoard's magazine, you should read the article. Starting on January 1, any farmer who sells milk which tests positive for antibiotics is required by law to complete a 10 point Quality Assurance Program. Also for the first offense you cannot sell your milk for a minimum to two days. The second offense within a 12 month period suspension for a minimum of four days. The third occurrence would probably put you out of business.

On February 13 we are planning a farmers workshop at the Pleasant Valley Community Center. Part of the program will be on the Quality Assurance Program. Mark this date on your calendar. More details will be coming soon.

Private Applicators Pesticide Licenses

A reminder -- If you need your pesticide licenses, the MDA will be giving the test at my office on Thursday, January 23, at 7:30 p.m. This will be the last chance until next fall. Also, if you would like some help in preparing for the test, I will be holding a workshop on Thursday, January 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension office.

Onfarm Research Conference Has Environmental Emphasis

Onfarm research is a new term for an old land-grant university concept designed to help farmers prove to themselves and their neighbors that innovative cropping methods can be profitable under local field conditions.

But an additional factor nowadays is a concern for the environment. Thus, the term, "Profitable Agriculture and a Clean Environment," has been coined by the Cooperative Extension Service of the Maryland Institute for Agriculture and Natural Resources, an institution of the University of Maryland System.

Extension officials unveiled the PACE program last February in Timonium during the first farm-oriented environmental conference for the Chesapeake Bay area. The second annual conference in this series is scheduled January 23 in the Holiday Inn at Annapolis. The all-day event is titled "Adaptive Onfarm Research in the Chesapeake Bay Region."

John M. Gerber, a University of Illinois agricultural administrator, is scheduled as the leadoff major speaker on the morning program. His topic will be "The Benefits of Adaptive Onfarm Research to the Agricultural Community."

A New York state native with academic credentials from Cornell University, Dr. Gerber joined the College of Agriculture faculty at Urbana 10 years ago as an Extension vegetable crops specialist. For the past 2½ years he has been assistant director of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.

Gerber said he will stress that "the key to success in onfarm research is active farmer participation. Farmers must feel that they own the projects in which they are participating. Such projects must have both scientific validity and local relevance."

He commented that outstanding results have been achieved with individual onfarm research projects in Illinois that ranged from two acres to 40 acres in size.

Following Gerber's philosophical approach, an agronomist from the Rodale Research Center at Kutztown, Pa., Rhonda R. Janke, will make a "nuts and bolts" presentation on "How to Design an Onfarm Research Project." Dr. Janke is acting director of the internationally known Rodale facility.

Ralph J. Adkins, the final morning speaker, will give a report on "University of Maryland Initiatives for Agriculture and the Environment." Dr. Adkins is associate director of the Cooperative Extension Service in Maryland. His responsibilities include agriculture and natural resources.

Both Maryland and Delaware farmers are invited to attend the January 23 conference at Annapolis, according to James C. Hanson, conference coordinator. Dr. Hanson is the southern Maryland regional farm management specialist for the Cooperative Extension Service.

Farmers from the two participating states, along with Extension specialists and county agents, will report during afternoon breakout sessions on PACE research and demonstration projects in which they have participated during the past year or more.

Subject areas will include field crops, ornamental horticulture, fruits and vegetables, poultry waste management, and water quality on a commercial agriculture scale.

Registration forms and program brochures are available from offices of the Cooperative Extension Service throughout Maryland and Delaware. A $20 registration fee includes coffee breaks, lunch and printed materials. Program sessions will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The registration deadline is Friday, January 17.

Governor's Pesticide Council Seeks Public Input

Governor William Donald Schaefer's Pesticide Council is seeking public participation and direct input during its monthly meeting on January 22 in Annapolis.

The Governor's Pesticide Council was formed to provide a mechanism by which a variety of people could have input into evaluation and development of state pesticide management plans relating to pesticide use. The Council will advise the governor on actions necessary to produce healthy agricultural products and to allow proper pest control while ensuring the health and safety of Maryland citizens and the environment. The Council's 14 members represent pesticide manufacturers, regulators, scientists, pesticide users, environmental organizations and the public.

"We want the public to be part of our decision making process and we are encouraging people or groups to give an oral presentation to the Council on specific issues relating to pesticides," said Dr. Christine Eccles, chairperson of the Council.

The Council generally meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month. Specific meetings are held during the year at which the public may present their questions, issues or support. The January 22 meeting will be the third in a series of scheduled meetings available for public comment.

The Council has formed two subcommittees to focus on specific issues. The Regulatory Subcommittee is addressing pesticide use, storage, and disposal regulations. The Education Subcommittee is considering pesticide education programs for farmers, commercial pesticide applicators and the general public. Both subcommittees are considering issues presented by members of the public during the first two public forums.

Anyone who wants to make a presentation or report to the Council on January 22, should write directly to Dr. Christine Eccles, Chairperson, Governor's Pesticide Council, c/o Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Room 500, Annapolis, MD 21401. Requests must be received by January 21.

"We look forward to hearing from the public in January and at future Council meetings," Dr. Eccles said.

Report Available Concerning Agricultural Zoning In Maryland

The Maryland Office of Planning has prepared a report which summarizes agricultural zoning in the state. Entitled "A Synopsis of Agricultural Zoning in Maryland," the report offers a concise description of the zoning techniques used by counties to protect Maryland's vanishing agricultural land base. The report also briefly discusses the application of specific agricultural protection strategies within certain counties and offers some conclusions about the effectiveness of the various zoning methods.

"The protection of Maryland's farmland from encroaching development is a critical land use issue, from both a resource protection and growth management perspective," noted Ronald M. Kreitner, director of the Maryland Office of Planning. Kreitner stated that "the report should be helpful to local governments and concerned citizens that are interested and committed to exploring the array of techniques that can be used to preserve Maryland's agricultural heritage and economy."

For additional information, or to obtain copies of the report, please call Larry Duket at the Maryland Office of Planning, (410) 225-4550.

Farm Bureau: Questions Remain On GATT Ag Proposal

The latest GATT proposal does not meet all of Farm Bureau's goals for an acceptable agricultural agreement and leaves several questions unanswered, American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner told the House Agriculture Committee.

The proposal offered by GATT Director-General Arthur Dunkel late last month is the result of more than five years of "frustrating and often fruitless talks between countries with widely different and strongly held positions on agricultural trade," Kleckner testified at the committee hearing.

While commending Dunkel on his efforts to move world agricultural trade in the right direction, Kleckner told committee members that more information is needed on the effects of the proposal.

Kleckner pointed out Farm Bureau's four specific objectives that have been in place since the current round of GATT negotiations began in 1986: a cutback in export subsidies, an opening of foreign markets for U.S. farm products, reduction or elimination of domestic subsidies, and an end to the use of sanitary and phytosanitary standards as trade restrictions.

"Our expectations as to how much reform might be achieved in each of these areas have been lowered over the years, but the four basic objectives have not changed," Kleckner said. "We set a target at the outset and it has gradually moved farther and farther away from us. Hitting a bull's-eye has now become almost impossible."

Kleckner said the area of export subsidies is probably "the single most important element" in the negotiations. While Dunkel proposed budgetary cuts of 36 percent and tonnage cuts of 24 percent, "we need to know what these numbers will mean in terms of the actual effect on the ability of the EC to dispose of its surpluses in world markets," the Farm Bureau leader said.

He also questioned whether the agreement would contain a "continuation clause" strong enough to ensure that reductions in export subsidies continue beyond the initial six years proposed by Dunkel.

"We need to understand how much the EC will be required to cut back its subsidized exports -- and we want to know what such tonnage reductions by the EC will mean for U.S. exports and for world commodity prices," said Kleckner.

In the area of market access, Kleckner said, "our objective has been to achieve a substantial opening of foreign markets to U.S. farm exports" while the EC, Japan and other countries have sought to keep their markets largely protected.

Dunkel's draft contains a provision that no country should limit imports to less than three percent of domestic consumption (rising to five percent by 1999). Kleckner said that could create a new market for about 650,000 metric tons of rice in Japan by 1999, "a market in which the United States could be expected to share. If the United States could gain a half-share of this market, it would represent an approximate 15 percent increase in U.S. rice exports."

Kleckner also mentioned Farm Bureau's concern about effects on U.S. producers of import-sensitive commodities and "what types of income protection programs, if necessary, may be made available to them."

The Farm Bureau leader told the committee that it is "still possible and necessary" to strengthen the agreement so that it better resolves the problems in agricultural trade.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON -- A Nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientist may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to an decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of the product called Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 3 weeks on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritional sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

Farm Bureau Files Brief In Supreme Court Takings Case

The American Farm Bureau Federation and the South Carolina Farm Bureau Federation have filed a brief in the Supreme Court of the United States on behalf of a property owner's right to compensation for property stripped of its worth by a state land-use regulation.

The nation's highest court soon will hear arguments in the case, David H. Lucas V. South Carolina Coastal Council. The case is important to farmers and ranchers due to its potential impact on compensation awards in matters involving the regulatory "taking" of private property.

Farm Bureau's brief in the case contends that if the value of private property is destroyed by a state's regulations, that state should pay the property owner compensation under terms of the Fifth Amendment's Takings Clause. Furthermore, the brief argues the state should not be allowed to skirt its constitutional obligation by pointing to some public harm its regulation was intended to prevent.

According to John Rademacher, general counsel for AFBF, the Supreme Court's ruling in the Lucas case, whatever the result, will voice the court's opinion on "judge-made exceptions to just compensation requirements for regulatory takings."

"A ruling for Lucas, the property owner in this case, would greatly enhance claims for compensation of land owners in numerous other cases dealing with restrictive land-use regulations -- from wetlands restrictions to endangered species programs -- all across the nation," Rademacher said. "Unless the Supreme Court reverses the South Carolina Supreme Court's decision, regulators will have an open door to evade just compensation requirements, simply by pointing to some public harm a land-use restriction is designed to prevent.

"Farmers and ranchers depend on the right to use the lands they own or lease. Government action against the right to own property that is not justified on economic terms and ignores constitutional guarantees cannot be tolerated. We have an opportunity here to stand up for the individual's right to own and use their property," Rademacher explained.

The case in question involved petitioner David Lucas, who in 1986 bought two undeveloped oceanfront lots in a development of single-family homes on the Isle of Palms, S.C. He planned to build a home for himself and his family on one of the lots, as was permitted by state law at that time, and hold the other lot as an investment.

A 1988 amendment to South Carolina law, the Beachfront Management Act, prohibited the development of Lucas' two lots. The new laws barred the construction of any permanent structure except a walkway and small deck on the seaward side of setback lines drawn by the South Carolina Coastal Council, the respondents in this case. Because Lucas' property lies entirely on the seaward side of the setback line, he cannot build his home and his lots are rendered worthless.

Basically, Mr. Lucas contends that, due to the state's regulations, he is either subsidizing a very, very expensive beachfront picnic area for the state, or he is the owner of a very worthless lot on which he cannot build his family home. In either case, Farm Bureau believes Lucas deserves just compensation because the lots were subject to the state's regulatory taking.

A Lucas victory in the U.S. Supreme Court would overturn a ruling by the South Carolina Supreme Court, which stated the ban on development of Lucas' property was not a "compensable taking" since the law was aimed at ending the "public harm" of erosion along the South Carolina coast's beach and dune system. Two of the five members of South Carolina's highest court concluded that a taking had occurred and dissented from the ruling.

By its majority ruling, the state Supreme Court reversed a lower court's ruling that the Coastal Council's action "resulted in a total taking of Lucas' two beachfront lots." The lower court also ordered that Lucas be compensated for his loss in the amount of $1,232,387.50 -- the sum of the fair market value of the lots in 1988, property taxes and interest paid by Lucas since July 1 of that year.

In arguing for reversal of the South Carolina Supreme Court's judgment, Farm Bureau's friend of the court brief states that "the South Carolina Supreme Court's decision in this case takes the clear-cut constitutional command that 'private property (shall not) be taken for public use, without just compensation,' and transforms it into something unrecognizable."

The brief argues that "on even the narrowest reading of (the U.S. Supreme Court's) takings cases, the South Carolina Supreme Court erred." The entitlement to compensation for the "total regulatory destruction of land's value" does not depend upon the objective of the regulation which caused the taking.

"Nothing in the (Takings Clause's) history or role in our Constitution gives warrant to government to 'invade private right under the pretext of the public good,'" Farm Bureau's brief stated. "Even if this Court were to recognize an exception to the just compensation requirement -- it should call a firm halt to the erosion of the Takings Clause by making clear that any exception (to it) is limited to instances in which government regulates nuisances that involve physical invasions of others' property."

The oral argument on the Lucas case is set for March 2. A ruling on the case is expected near the end of the court's term in June.

Letters

To the Editor:

And all concerned parents and residents of Garrett County.

It's time to take a stand and speak out for our children as they are our most important asset and our future; and their safety is more important than anything else.

In recent months there have been many letters in your paper questioning the actions of the Board of Education Transportation Department and we agree, it's time to make some changes.

Our bus routes are overlapping and our children living three miles (10 minutes) from the school are being bused 12-15 miles (one hour) in order to save one or two miles travel time.

Our children are walking ¼-½ mile to board the bus at twilight in rural wooded areas to save the bus making frequent stops. This means walking up or down hills on traveled portions of highway or in a ditch with unplowed and untreated roadways as the county road trucks do not arrive until 1-2 hours after the buses have run.

Mr. Sines, we do not live in a suburban area and you are risking our children's lives everyday. Will it take a fatal tragedy, a hit and run, a kidnapping, abduction and rape? Do you care?

Come on everyone, stand behind these parents, bus contractors, and other concerned citizens and get some changes made. Write letters, sign the petitions. "Save our children."

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Sisler

To the Editor:

As a concerned parent, I am writing in reference to Herb Clevenger's letter. I was wondering why time was wasted in changing bus stops if contractors are paid by the mile.

Surely time could have been better spent on something that needed changed. For instance, try and find other means of saving money with all the Board of Education budget cuts. Apparently "consolidating" bus stops was not the answer.

Safety is supposed to be the number one priority. Why then are our children walking along roadways with insufficient walking space?

I think it is time for a new face and better judgment in the position of transportation supervisor for the safety and well being of our children.

Sincerely,
Ronda Saunders
Friendsville

To the Editor:

Is it me, or is there something grossly disingenuous about people, who live off the taxes of others, marching on our legislature demanding higher taxes for everyone? Higher taxes may be the answer for fractious school teachers (not all are so inclined), and other overpaid public sector employees, but anyone without a vested interest in "Big Government" knows higher taxes is the problem, not the answer!

Here's a "Pop Quiz" for the higher taxes devotees from a former teacher:

1. Which state currently inflicts its residents with the fifth highest tax load in the nation? Ans. - Maryland!

2. Who began his first gubernatorial term with a $450,000,000 surplus (which should have been returned to the taxpayers, due to the way it was acquired, but wasn't), and now, a little over five years later, he faces an outrageous $1,200,000,000 deficit? Ans. - William Donald "Shifty" Schaefer! (And we should give more money to these incompetents!?)

3. What is the number one priority for businesses seeking to relocate? Ans. - Lower taxes and tax incentives!

4. (The flip-side of 3. above.) What drives marginal businesses into the ground, and sound businesses (jobs) out of the state? Ans. - (You got!) Higher taxes!

5. In our ultraliberal, welfare state, how can you redistribute wealth you are not generating? Ans. - You can't, but if you're a liberal Democrat you think you can!

6. If mere mortals were to address the current "spending crisis," instead of "career politicians," what would they do? Ans. - Cut spending and big government, then go back and cut some more, before finishing with; Cut! Cut! Cut!

7. Education (one of the most expensive items on every state and county budget), should we continue to throw more money into a failed system? Ans. - No! More money, pumped into an anachronistic monstrosity of the establishment, by the establishment and for the establishment, is not the solution. It simply feeds the monster and compounds the problem; for the system is the problem, and, as usual, the missing essentials are: independent evaluation and accountability! Teachers, take note: necessary reforms must begin from within the system...no one knows better than you how bad the system really is.

For the record: *83 percent of the residents of Maryland are opposed to higher property taxes, and 71 percent are against increasing the personal income tax...but does it really matter in a state locked in the clutches of ultraliberal, "social engineers?" (*Source: Cumberland Times/News)

To the Editor:

This past weekend Southern High School hosted the Garrett County Wrestling Tournament. Thanks to many businesses sharing the expenses of the tournament, it was a very successful one.

The following people and businesses donated toward the tournament and the Southern High School Wrestling Program would like to take time to thank them: Browning's Foodland, First United and Trust, Webco Credit Union, Rob Michael, Jerry Ferguson, Deer Park IGA, Ernie Gregg and Gregg's Pharmacy, Marvin's Men's Wear, Arby's Restaurant, Super Valu- , The Farmers' Market, Tom Browning and Browning's Hometown Market, and Al Boxley of McDonald's Inc. Also special thanks to parents and supporters of the Southern High School Wrestling program for their help at the tournament.

To the Editor:

The sobering reality forced on many Republicans, myself included, as a result of President Bush's fainting episode in Japan, is that Vice President Quayle is no longer considered, "a catastrophe waiting in the wings."

The growing perception has nothing, whatsoever, to do with the VP's "improving" credentials. Instead, it is as a direct result of Mr. Bush's diminishing competence quotient in the past 10 months on all visible levels.

Based on the president's handling of domestic matters, and his quixotic foreign affairs performances, many of the faithful are beginning to see the two men not only as highly compatible, but equally competent; a revelation with earth shaking consequences to our Party; and our country, come November.

To the Editor:

Ham radio. What is it? A lot of people here in Garrett County have never heard of it, and of those who have heard of it, only a few know what it really is.

Amateur radio (ham radio) has been around for a very long time, since shortly after radio was invented. The equipment has changed and been improved over the years, but the ideals and goals have remained the same: to provide a public service for the community at large and to continue making advancements in radio communication.

In providing public service for the community, these are the people who set-up emergency communication posts in disaster areas -- such as Hurricane Hugo - to help co-ordinate people for emergency services and to provide communication links to worried family members outside the disaster area until phone communications can be re-established.

Ham radio operators are also unofficial ambassadors with foreign countries, through communications with ham operators in those countries. It was with the aid of a ham radio operator in Kuwait that enabled UN troops to know what was happening to the Kuwaites under Iraq's invasion.

With radio advancement, it has been with the help of experiments made by hams that electronics have improved over the years. We have gone from vacuum tubes inside of large radios down to IC chips and transistors inside of radios that can fit in your pocket.

Ham radio has been a hobby that has overcome barriers that may have seemed impossible before. It overlooks color, nationality, sex and handicaps. It is a hobby that is enjoyed worldwide, as well as locally. Garrett County started out with only four ham

Local Author's Work Listed In Books In Print

The Past is a Key to the Future, by Terra Alta historian Betty Whittaker White, is listed in the 1991-92 edition of Books in Print, Published by R. R. Bowker, the Information Reference Company.

The latest edition is a set used particularly for book acquisition both current and classic. The first eight volumes, some of which are three inches thick, are for the locating of authors, titles, and publishers. The other four volumes are subject guides to Books in Print. Each entry includes author, title, publisher, date of publication, cost and number of pages. Book annotations may also be included.

When White was librarian at East Preston High School in Terra Alta, and was still researching her history book, she stated she hoped someday to see her own book listed in Books in Print. "It was an exciting moment for me at the Ruth Enlow Library last week when I first saw my book listed," she said. Books in Print is used heavily by the public as well as librarians, she noted.

The Past is a Key to the Future, a 619-page history of Terra Alta and surrounding area, was printed in December 1990 by McClain of Parsons, W.Va. "Many of the facts about Preston County in the book are synonymous with Garrett County, White said. They share beauty, geology, topography, weather, and agriculture. Moreover, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Washington's travels in 1784, Cranesville Swamp, McCulloughs Path and H-P stores all figure similarly in the book as does Jones Raid (Civil War)." John Grant and John Wolfe, both of Oakland, have local-color stories and specific maps in the book.

The Past is a Key to the Future is available at the Appalachian Book and Craft Shop in Oakland and at Penn Alps, Grantsville.

LOCAL AUTHOR LISTED - The 1991-92 edition of Books in Print contains the name and biography of local author Betty White, Terra Alta, W.Va., who recently published The Past is a Key to the Future, an historical work about the Preston/Garrett County region. Mrs. White is pictured above, left, reviewing Books in Print with Edith Brock, librarian of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland.

AURORA/EGLON NEWS

HOMEMAKERS MEET

At the January 7 meeting of the Eglon Homemakers, Linda Lewis led a discussion on "Preventing Back Injuries in the Home" and used illustrations both of the back and movement to emphasis her points.

The meeting opened with the special feature, quotes from Robert Fulghum's book, "Un-Oh" and a funny story from the news. These remarks by the president, Linda Lewis, were followed by devotions, led by Sandra Hauser and Mary Rembold who were acting as hostesses for their mother, Avenell Parsons, who was ill.

It was decided that a copy of the devotional book will be handed to each hostess following the meeting and another copy shall be kept at the Memorial Building. The new county yearbooks were filled in, providing lessons and hostesses, also discussed were goals for the new year. More participation in county activities was one of those considered.

At the close of the discussion topic, the acting hostesses served refreshments to Lectie Bonner, Lillian Knotts, Rebecca Teets, and Jean Winters in addition to the above mentioned. Rebecca Teets is serving as interim secretary.

The next meeting will be February 4 with the lesson, "Snack Attack: What To Do" and Avenell Parsons as hostess.

PERSONAL MENTION

Recent guests of Delbert and Lois Waybright and Wilma Waybright of Brookside were Lois's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Snederker, and daughter, Rita, of Kissimmee, Fla., also Mrs. Waybright's children and grandchildren, Dale and Debbie Brown, Christopher and Lisa of Medina, Ohio, Glenn and Carol Waybright of Trumbull, Conn., and Wendell, Carol and Nicole Waybright of Cranston, R.I.

Morgan Fulk of Brookside was treated last week in Garrett County Memorial Hospital for pneumonia and returned Monday to his home.

Ronald Slaubaugh, Rowlesburg, and formerly of Aurora, is a patient in Ruby Memorial Hospital after experiencing an embolism last week.

Hilda Frantz of Eglon underwent an emergency appendectomy Friday at Garrett Memorial and expects to return to her home early this week.

Iris Myers of Aurora was a medical patient in Garrett Memorial Hospital last week and has now returned to her home.

Lorain and Mary Jane Hanline of Aurora went last Sunday and Monday to Canton, Ohio, to visit her mother, Mrs. Lydia Harsh, who is staying with another daughter, Cleota Hoisington.

Visiting last weekend with David and Wilma Mae Teets at Horse Shoe Run were their son-in-law and daughter, Dick and Mary Lou Miller of Goldsboro, N.C.

Charles Elliott of Brookside remains quite ill in Ruby Memorial Hospital where he has been a patient for several weeks.

Also very ill and a patient in Ruby Memorial Hospital is Ernest Harsh of Eglon.

Louessa Harsh of Parsons is visiting her sister-in-law, Lectie Bonner, and brother, William Pennington, in Eglon.

Cora Cullers of Eglon is a surgical patient this week in a Morgantown hospital. Her grandmother, Carolyn Wiles, Aurora, and her foster mother, Betty Bolyard, Eglon, are staying with her.

The Maple Spring Young Adult Class met Sunday for a covered dish dinner and afternoon of fellowship at the church.

PAUGH BIRTH

A girl was born Friday, January 10, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital to Bonnie and Richard Paugh at Mt. Grove. She weighed six pounds, seven ounces and is named Christine Sue. Her older brother, Joshua, is 2½ years old. Sue Wotring of Mt. Grove is the maternal grandmother. Paternal grandparents are Eugene "Mace" and Sandra Paugh, Deer Park.

FOODSHARE CANCELED

Thomas Community Center Foodshare distribution has been canceled for the months of January and February because of the uncertainty of weather conditions. Persons should watch for an announcement of resumption of service in this news column. The program should resume in early March.

CLASS SEEKING GRADS

The graduating class of 1962 of Aurora High School is planning a class reunion for this summer. They wish to invite members of the graduating classes of 1960, 1961, 1963 and 1964 to join their class for the event. Those interested in joining this group are asked to contact Ruth Wotring at Star Route Box 43A, Aurora, WV 26705 by February 10; telephone 735-5761. Those who read this notice and had a child or friend in this group who lives away and does not receive this notice are asked to inform that person so that they may respond.

The meeting was called to order by President Lillie McCray. Devotions were given by Ruth Vlodek.

Paul Sisler and Helen Ritchie gave readings and a gift exchange followed.

The next meeting will be held today, January 16. A covered dish meal is planned.

Rebecca Pippert To Appear At Mountaintop '92

Rebecca Manley Pippert, best-selling author who travels world-wide as a speaker, will present the conference "Hope Has Its Reasons" at "Mountaintop '92" on March 6-8 at Lakeview Resort, Morgantown, W.Va. She will lead attendees in discovering that the road to knowledge leads beyond the pursuit of self to the discovery of God, according to a spokesperson.

"We are pleased to be featuring such a gifted speaker at our sixth annual conference," said Anne Robinson, chairman of Living for Christ Conferences, the nonprofit, nondenominational sponsor. "Becky Pippert is an intelligent and warm speaker who has the ability to reach into her own personal experience and create an insightful wise vision which connects with the experience of the listener."

Mrs. Pippert is well-known for her book Out of the Saltshaker and Into the World.

This get-away weekend for men and women will also headline Richard Allen Farmer, an award-winning pianist, in concert at "A Festival in Celebration of God's Faithfulness."

Two seminars will be featured to expand the weekend. Bill Forbes, a successful businessman, will present "The Deity of Christ" and Jim Forbes, WTOV News-9 anchorman, will present "Faith Through Adversity." Also, a certified jazzercise instructor, Julie Pettinger, will offer an aerobic workout to interested attendees.

The conference rates, including all program, four meals, and two nights lodging, begin at $122 per person. Persons may obtain registration brochures from Living for Christ Conferences at P.O. Box 217, New Martinsville, W.Va. 26155, (304) 455-5322.

additional award from Governor Schaefer was presented to the Western Maryland Consortium for exceeding these six performance standards by a higher margin than any other service delivery area in the entire state. The Governor's Award for Excellence provided an additional $20,000 in funds to expand programs in Allegany, Garrett, and Washington counties.

On hand to receive these awards from the governor were Peter P. Thomas, executive director of the Western Maryland Consortium, and Jack King, chairman of the Consortium's Private Industry Council. King is manager of human resources for the local Bausch and Lomb plant.

Shannon Sell Becomes Bride Of Brad King In September Event

Shannon Marie Sell and Brad Lynn King exchanged wedding vows on September 21, 1991. The double-ring ceremony was held at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland with pastor Robert P. Johnson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Carol Butler, Oakland, and Gary Sell, Ormond Beach, Fla. Mr. King is the son of Rodney and Mary King, Deer Park.

The bride wore a white satin gown featuring a wedding band collar with an illusion neckline and leg of mutton sleeves. A fitted basque bodice topped a full skirt accented with applique. A cathedral train was edged in Shiffli lace. The bride's veil consisted of a V-shaped headband adorned with sequins and pearl filament, double pouf, and fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of fuschia and white lilies accented with baby's breath.

Serving as maid of honor was Tamra Kelley, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Jodi Wilt and Beth Mulac, friends of the bride, and Teresa Helbig, cousin of the bride. The flower girl was Kayla Grimm, cousin of the bride.

Serving as his brother's best man was Chad King. Ushers were Reid King, brother of the groom, and Joey Shaffer and Brian Glass, friends of the groom. Ring bearer was Jeremiah King, nephew of the groom.

Linda Bray, aunt of the bride, registered the guests. Amanda King, niece of the groom, and Brenda King, sister-in-law of the groom, gave out programs and seed packets.

The reception was held at the BPO Elk's Lodge, Oakland. The three-tiered cake surrounded by two side cakes was baked and arranged by Mary King, mother of the groom. The disc jockey was Dan Daniels and pictures were done by Judy Wilt of Photographic Reflections.

The bride was guest at a bridal shower given by Tamra Kelley, maid of honor. Friends and family attended.

For their honeymoon, the couple traveled to Canaan Valley. Upon their return, they established residence along Pleasant Valley Road, Oakland.

and sponsored a DNR Hunter Safety class.

Shaffer said vehicle preventive maintenance was stressed last year and will be again this year. Shaffer and President Richard Helmick are implementing a basic loss control program for the department. "In light of limited financial resources in the small service area, this program will help manage assets by reducing accidents, waste and misuse of equipment, properties, personnel and materials, thus serving the community more efficiently," Shaffer said.

Company 7 awaits delivery of a 1,600-gallon pumper/tanker which will replace Tanker 6. Recent donations toward the purchase of this unit have been received. Tanker 7 is being built for mountainous terrain and has many custom features adapted for this area's particular demands, the chief said. An open house is being planned to officially present it to the community and place it into active service.

Administrative and command line officers remain nearly unchanged for the 1992 year, with the following changes: Charlie Mathes will assume duties of vice president and Dennis Roth will chair the 11th Potato Festival committee.

Goals for this year include the installation of dry hydrants in various locations in the area. Spreading nationwide as the new rural fire-fighter supplement, a dry hydrant can be installed in a farm pond accessible by truck with little or no physical alteration to the pond. Cost is minimal, access time for tanker shuttle is greatly reduced, and it could result in a lowering of insurance rates to the farm home owner, Shaffer said. Owners of accessible ponds may contact Company 7 for details.

the Commission, which will provide a cash return on such expenditures during construction. The company's proposed compliance plan was accepted by the Commission following hearings held in 1991. This plan will enable Potomac Edison to comply with Phase I of the environmental legislation by January 1995.

According to Potomac Edison President Alan J. Noia, the Commission, in Phase I of the rate case concluded on Nov. 26, 1991, allowed the company to recover a portion of its initial costs of compliance.

"Potomac Edison, in its most recent rate filing, requested $6.3 million for expenditures to be made for compliance with the Clean Air Act Amendments," Noia said. "The Commission allowed $1 million for such compliance expenditures made through 1991 and has determined that the company can recover future costs through a new surcharge.

"In order to improve the quality of the environment and to comply with the amendments, Potomac Edison will spend a quarter of a billion dollars within a 5-year period to retrofit three power station units with scrubbers or equipment that will clean emissions. We are pleased that the Commission has provided for recovery of the costs on a current basis while we work to comply with the Clean Air Act Amendments," he concluded.

Dawn Hartman Weds Kevin Rissell In December Double-Ring Ceremony

Dawn Marie Hartman and Kevin Charles Rissell were united in marriage December 21. The double-ring ceremony took place at the Church of the Assumption in Keyser, W.Va., with Father Ivan LeBar officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hartman, Keyser, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Rissell, Swanton.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore her sister-in-law's bridal gown of white charmeuse satin. The floor length gown, with a shirred bodice, was accented with beaded silk Venise lace and shirred pouf sleeves. The basque waistline heid the gathered A-line skirt which was edged with Venise lace and flowed to a semi-cathedral train. A caplet of silk lace held a waist length veil. The bride's jewelry consisted of a pearl and diamond sweetheart pendant, pearl earrings, and a gold bracelet belonging to her grandmother.

Stacey Boggs, Keyser, friend of the bride, served as matron of honor, while Keith MacMillan, Alexandria, Va., friend of the groom, served as best man.

Craig Rotruck, Keyser, was the organist.

The best man hosted a pre-wedding party for the couple in Alexandria.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the American Legion in Keyser.

Following a trip to Canaan Valley Resort, the couple set up residence in Frostburg.

Guests were from Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia.

To the Editor:

During our recent attendance at meetings of the Garrett County Board of Education in support of educational programs, we were upset to learn of the efforts of the president of the Garrett County Federation of Teachers, Mr. Joe Heatherman, and the principal of Dennett Road School, Mr. Clark Sharpless, to balance the budget using our children.

While we attended the meeting in support of educational funding and programs, we find a teacher and principal supporting cuts to the budget at the expense of the children in the Finzel and Bloomington areas. The budget cut proposed was directed at the students primarily from the Finzel and Bloomington communities, who attend junior high and high school in Allegany County, due to the geographic location of these two areas which border neighboring Allegany County.

The issue is not a new issue, as it seems every time money is tight these students are looked upon to balance the budget. Last spring a meeting was held in the Finzel area to discuss this matter at which time County Commissioner Brenda Butscher stated her opposition to such a change. Commissioner John Braskey, who represents the Finzel area (District 9), failed to attend the meeting, and has since questioned the Board of Education concerning this issue and their rationale for providing this service.

Has anyone calculated the true savings to Garrett County? Will more teachers be needed or will students be packed into the classrooms? Northern High is currently requesting additional classroom space, so how can an already crowded school accommodate more students?

These are the questions we posed at the community meeting. We guess the employees better watch for another hit. This time perhaps these educators will advocate for residency requirements for Board of Education employees. After all, it appears they want all Garrett County tax dollars to remain in Garrett County. Strange enough, one of the teachers at Northern who recently was quoted in the Cumberland paper as supporting this issue of all students in Garrett County attending school in Garrett County is a resident of LaVale, as reported in the article. If he is so genuinely concerned about Garrett County tax money perhaps he should look to residency in Garrett County. After all, we in Finzel are Garrett County taxpayers, yet we rely heavily upon Allegany County for jobs.

Let's be fair to the future of all children by not balancing the budget at the expense of some children. Certainly one could advocate for many things to be eliminated which do not benefit all children, such as athletic programs, but instead, why not get behind full funding for our schools? We feel a tremendous disservice has been bestowed upon the employees of the Garrett County Board of Education with the recent furloughs. Please don't do the same to our children.

Sincerely,
Debra M. Bolden

To the Editor:

I wish to applaud Manning L. Smith, Director of Student Services, Garrett County Community College, for his successful efforts in making the college "smoke-free."

Because of Manning's sincere concern for the health and welfare of the students, and particularly his college athletes, he invited me several years ago to share a presentation on "Oral Cancer, and Other Health Hazards Associated With the Use of Tobacco." The Harvard Medical School Health Letter reported that "since 1964, the year of the first Surgeon General report, tobacco has caused over six million deaths in America. Smoking is responsible for about 1/3 of all deaths from coronary heart disease, and 1/3 of all cancer deaths. Lung cancer is only one of several types of cancer induced by cigarette smoking."

Approximately 3/4 of all deaths from chronic lung disease, bronchitis, emphysema, and other lung conditions are attributed to smoking. Smokeless tobacco, in the form of chewing tobacco and snuff are just as harmful to your health as smoking, except nicotine is absorbed into the blood stream through the mucous membranes of the mouth instead of the alveoli in the lungs. By some estimates, nicotine in the form of cigarette smoke is several times more "addictive" than alcohol. Many experts think that cigarette smoke is at least as addictive as "heroin."

We have seen a dramatic increase in the incidence of oral cancer here in Garrett County and nearby West Virginia. During my last 10 years of dental practice, I biopsied and diagnosed 12 cases of oral cancer involving salivary glands, mucous membranes, the tongue, the floor of the mouth, the mandible, and the hard palate. Eleven of these patients were moderate to heavy users of tobacco in the form of smoking and smokeless tobacco, (chewing tobacco and snuff). Tobacco contains lead, a trace of cyanide, nitro-samines, nicotine, carbon monoxide, alkaloids, and insecticide residues. Leukoplakia, a pre-cancerous lesion, and gingival 'gum' recession are common observation in the oral cavity of "chewers and snuff dippers." In addition to pathological tissue changes, smokeless tobacco may present other adverse effects, such as bad breath, tooth discoloration, and abrasion. Most people have been made aware in recent years that smoking is associated with higher death rates at earlier ages from oral, throat, laryngeal, and lung cancer, heart disease, emphysema, and chronic bronchitis. Smoking hastens the aging process, and has been linked to abnormal sperm production which may cause infertility or birth defects in offspring. Recent studies reveal that non-smokers exposed to a passive smoking environment are getting lung cancer, and infants under one year old are afflicted with upper and lower respiratory infections.

I have been working several years as a volunteer with The American Cancer Society and The American Lung Association presenting numerous school health programs on "Oral Cancer and Other Health Hazards Associated With the Use of Tobacco," in both Garrett and Allegany counties. Again, I commend Manning for his efforts in making Garrett Community College smoke-free, and join him in challenging other educational institutions, government offices, business and industry to consider making the work place a safe, smoke-free environment for their employees.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is a worthy and reliable proverb, and prevention of the disease process is far better than the treatment in any case. We have encouraged the school children through the years not to jeopardize their health by using tobacco. We sometimes have the idea that it always happens to someone else, but unfortunately, no person is immune to malignancy and disease. If one has ever seen a person gasping for every breath, even on 24-hour oxygen therapy, or witness the anatomic mutilation resulting from radical cancer treatment, I can assure you it is very difficult to cope with emotionally. Knowing the reality of the disease process, the advice I give to my patients is this: "If You Don't Use Tobacco in any form, Don't Start; and if you do, Stop."

There are positive benefits and practical reasons for giving up the tobacco habit, or abstaining from its use in any form: 1. You will live 5-10 years longer; 2. Sleep better; 3. Think more clearly; 4. Breathe better and have more wind; 5. Digest food better; 6. Combat fatigue; 7. Safeguard your memory; 8. Drink less alcohol because heavy smokers tend to drink more; 9. Have a clean, sweet breath; 10. Grow old less quickly, because tobacco hastens the aging process and put wrinkles in your face; 11. Save a lot a money over the long haul; and 12. Enjoy a more healthful and happy life.

Yours for Better Health,
Alvin P. Friend, D.D.S.

AHEC EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR NAMED TO NATIONAL COMMITTEE – Donald Spencer, executive director of the Western Maryland Area Health Education Center (AHEC), recently was named to the steering committee of the National AHEC Center Directors' Association and appointed legislative liaison. The steering committee is responsible for the coordination and facilitation of information exchange among centers, planning annual national training events for center staff, and conducting orientation of new center directors. Currently, the committee is planning and developing a national electronic bulletin board program to be available in Fall 1993. As the committee's legislative liaison, Spencer works with AHEC leadership in the promotion and support of national AHEC legislation. Spencer was chosen for the 12 member steering committee from among 106 AHEC directors nationwide. The Western Maryland AHEC, located on Columbia Street in Cumberland is the only AHEC in Maryland. The non-profit community based organization works to improve health care delivery in Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties through a full complement of programs supporting health personnel education and professional development.

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to announce the upcoming auditions for the Garrett Community College Theatre spring production. I have found that a "Letter to the Editor" is one of the best ways to inform the public of such events and also to raise excitement about the theatre!

This semester's planned production is the powerful Broadway drama "The Elephant Man" by Bernard Pomerance. Set in 19th century Victorian England, the play traces the extraordinary life of Mr. John Merrick, a horribly deformed yet intelligent and sensitive young man. Merrick's life of misery as a circus "freak" was turned around by the intervention of Dr. Frederick Treves of the London Hospital. Merrick spent the remaining years of his life in comfort under the care of Dr. Treves and yet never was fully delivered from the curious and abusive stares of his fellow human beings.

This production will be one of the few truly "serious" plays the college theatre has attempted. And while there are certainly humorous moments within the play, most of the action is quite thought provoking and deeply moving. Therefore, this play will give our local actors and actresses a chance to "really sink their teeth into a role" and it will provide our audiences with what I hope will be a wonderful evening of theatre.

Another exciting feature is that a new director to the area will be directing the production! This will provide our actors and actresses with further education about theatre, bring in some "new ideas" and give our local directors like Jane Avery and Frances Acton a well deserved break. (By the way, Jane is going to try out for a part!)

The dates for auditions will be January 29 and 30 with times and directions to be announced next week in this paper and over the local radio stations. If there are any questions please contact me at 334-2878 in the evenings.

I hope I have raised the interest level of many by this letter and I also hope to see many of you at auditions! Thank you!

Sincerely,
Ben Sincell

"SMOKING, NON-SMOKING OR TRYING TO QUIT?"

To the Editor:

It's been interesting and at times amusing to follow the various news stories concerning the personal correspondence sent by our illustrious Governor Schaefer to various individuals during the last couple of years.

While I wholeheartedly support William Donald Schaefer's right to contact whomever he pleases and express his opinion, the last story forces me to conclude that the gentleman has succumbed to the pres-sures of high office and carried his personal right and privilege to the unsavory level of a one-man Gestapo.

Had I received a copy of my photograph, taken at an anti-Schaefer rally, with no explanation or comment, I would undoubtedly feel intimidated or threatened. "Big Brother is watching!"

Regardless of my own reaction to such an event, I must ask several questions. Who took the pictures? For what purpose were they taken? Who paid for the photographer, film, development, and postal charges? Who took the time and trouble to identify the persons involved? Where are the negatives? What other information may have been compiled regarding these people? How many dossiers exist that we aren't aware of?

I may be as paranoid as Governor Schaefer appears to be, but I strongly suspect that Maryland taxpayers unknowingly finance this expensive and reprehensible behavior.

Since the majority of Maryland's citizens are law-abiding taxpayers perhaps it's appropriate for each one of us to voluntarily send the governor our photograph for his questionable collection and thereby save tax dollars that would otherwise be spent on whatever childish personal vendettas he feels compelled to pursue.

I candidly admit it's often difficult to distinguish the difference between an intelligent and outspoken eccentric and a bona fide crackpot with a serious mental illness. But this latest Schaefer escapade has certainly caused my assessment to swing from the former to the latter.

My last question is this. In the event our state leader is or has lost his mental balance, why aren't our newspapers investigating or reporting it, and why don't any voters give a damn? Hitler was purportedly deranged, but he certainly was popular while in power.

Sincerely,
Sherry Dougherty
Oldtown

GCC Offering Culinary Hearts Cooking Course

Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Garrett County Extension Service, is currently taking enrollments for a Culinary Hearts Cooking course.

According to a GCC spokesperson, the course is designed to teach students how to plan and prepare attractive, "tasty" meals which adhere to the American Heart Association's dietary recommendations.

The course will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis and will be held each Wednesday beginning January 22 from 5-7:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office.

Students may register at either the Oakland Center (old Rolyans building) or the McHenry campus of the college. Garrett County residents will be charged $20 tuition plus a $3 registration fee. Out-of-county residents will be charged $22 tuition plus a $3 registration fee. Out-of-state residents will be charged $24 tuition plus a $3 registration fee. A small materials fee will be charged each class to cover the cost of food being prepared.

More information may be obtained by contacting Patricia Baer at 334-8304.

Demo To Host Meet Candidates Forum Saturday

Western Maryland Democrats from Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties are encouraged to attend the Meet Your Candidates Forum to be held at the Cumberland Holiday Inn this Saturday, January 18, from 2 to 5 p.m. It is sponsored by the Garrett County Democratic Club.

With the March 3 primary election rapidly approaching, Marylanders will be given the opportunity of hearing from candidates/representatives of the presidential campaigns of U.S. Senator Tom Harkin, U.S. Senator Bob Kerrey, U.S. Senator Paul Tsongas, former Mayor Larry Agran, and Governor Bill Clinton. Also planning to attend are U.S. Senator Barbara Mikulski and 6th Congressional District contenders Congresswoman Beverly B. Byron and Delegate Thomas Hattery. A question/answer session will follow after each candidate/representative has spoken.

Officers of the Garrett County Democratic Club are: president, Phyllis Trickett; vice-president, Bruce Opel; secretary, Doris Goldsborough; and treasurer, Harold Trickett.

All are members of the Garrett County Democratic State Central Committee.

SELECTED AS NEW DIRECTOR OF MEDICAL RECORDS – Shown above is Joy Moore, A.R.T., who has been selected as the new director of medical records at Garrett County Memorial Hospital (GCMH). Moore formerly served for seven years as the assistant director at Princeton Community Hospital in Princeton, W.Va. She is currently completing her B.S. degree at Ohio State University in the Medical Record Administration program. Upon completion of her degree, Moore will be eligible to sit for the Registered Record Administrator Exam offered through the American Health Information Management Association.

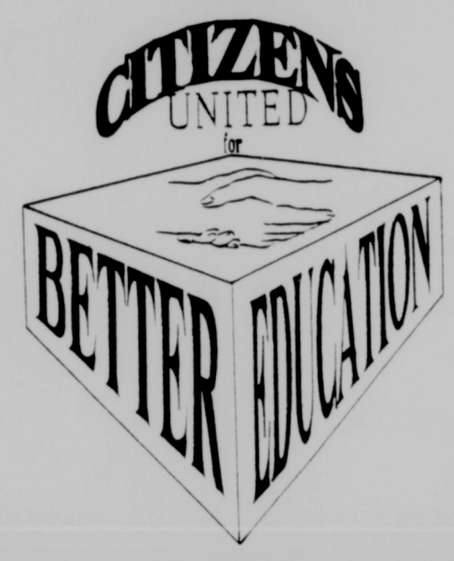
legany County Health Department, all of which were conditions to the suspended sentence and probation.



Toston was the representing attorney in the case.

Richard M. Resh, 55, Grantsville, requested a jury trial in circuit court with his record from Garrett County District Court, where he had been tried for reckless driving and assault. The assault charge was not prosecuted by order of the state's attorney, and the defendant pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge.

The jury accepted the plea and fined Resh $300 plus court costs. Details of the charges were not included in the court document.

Robert C. Hesson was Resh's attorney.

First GCC Graduate Earns Success, Reflects On McHenry Campus Days

Ann Elliott

One of the many Garrett Community College graduates who have gone on to become successful in their careers is Ann Elliott, a member of the 1973 graduating class. Ms. Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Elliott, Oakland, has the distinction of being the first student to be accepted when the college opened in 1971 and the first to receive her diploma at commencement exercises two years later.

She is now executive assistant for operations and customer service at Lee Electric Company in Baltimore. Although she is not currently working in the career field of teaching physical education, which she began to pursue at GCC, and later as a recreation major at West Virginia University, she feels that her two years at Garrett gave her "a good foundation" for making future career choices. After receiving her bachelor's degree in 1977, Ms. Elliott worked as manager of the Village Inn until 1986 when she moved to Baltimore and her present job.

About her years at Garrett, she remembers the close relationship between students and faculty, and the feeling that first class of students had of being pioneers in setting the tone for future classes of students. She says she also remembers the pranks and the snowball battles with the college president in the breezeway.

While at GCC, Ms. Elliott participated in all intramural sports and made the dean's list. An avid skier, she became patrol leader of the Wisp Ski Patrol. She also holds a senior life saving certificate and emergency medical care certification.

Ms. Elliott recently gave advice to present and future GCC students. "Never get complacent when it comes to your career," she said. "Constantly evaluate opportunities around you, where you are at the present time, and where you may be heading. Take advantage of education opportunities presented to you by your employer, but most of all, be in touch with yourself and how you feel about what you are doing. Don't be afraid to explore new careers."

In the future, she said she expects to see Garrett Community College grow and continue to provide opportunities for persons to learn new skills, further their education, and expand their interests.

"Forgiveness is the flow from the heart as water is from a brimming stream."

Agree In Writing!

Have you ever gone to a real estate department store, written a check for your purchase and walked out with a new home? Oh, that it were so simple to purchase a home!

Once you have made the decision to purchase a specific home, you will be asked to sign a written purchase contract. You will also be asked to provide an earnest money deposit, given as evidence of your intent to complete the purchase.

Real estate agreements are required to be in writing to be enforceable. They begin as a purchase offer, a written offer signed by the buyers which states the price and terms under which they are willing to make the purchase. Until accepted and signed by the sellers, this offer may be withdrawn at any time by the purchasers.

In considering a purchase offer, the sellers may accept it, as written, by simply signing it. They may also reject it outright, or make a "counter-offer." A counter-offer with the appropriate changes may first be signed by the sellers. As a counter-offer, it becomes an "offer to sell" which may be withdrawn by the sellers at any time before being accepted by the purchasers.

Finally, when both buyers and sellers have agreed on all terms and conditions of the transaction by signing the purchase agreement, a contract is created which states in detail the rights and responsibilities of all parties to the sale.

The purchase agreement, or contract, is an important element in any sale of real estate. Not only does it state the price and terms, it also gives dates for closing the transaction and possession of the property. The contract is, in effect, a detailed set of instructions to the party who will close the transaction, be it an attorney or title company.

When selling or buying a home, be certain that all items agreed upon have been reduced to writing and included in the purchase contract. A smooth transaction will benefit both buyers and sellers.

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 387-5303. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or oblication.

Grantsville Visit Of Bloodmobile Nets 115 Pints

The January 7 visit of the bloodmobile in Grantsville netted 115 units of blood for the Johnstown Region of the American Red Cross, according to Lela H. Bender, blood services chairman.

Donald Opel completed his seventh gallon, Dorothy Teets and David Bohnert received five-gallon pins, Sandra Hutzell was a three-gallon donor, and Kenneth Gilpin and Carla Cumberworth were one-gallon donors.

Volunteer nurses were: Kris Graber, Audrey Kinsinger, Louise Maust, Rhoda Maust, Elnora Schrock, Verna Lutz, Ruth Yoder, Alice Orendorf, Arletha Yoder, Judith Ramer, and Melissa Fazenbaker.

Other volunteers were: Debbie Haning, Lois Bender, Lois Durst, Glenda Yoder, Lila Maust, Claudine Opel, Esther Opel, Eileen Yoder, Helen Durst, Alice Younkin, Lulu Brown, Cleda Baker, Annabelle Folk, and members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department.

Milk and orange juice were donated by Potomac Farms Dairy and Yoder's Country Market. Grantsville Subway contributed sandwiches.

Primary Election Registration Deadline Feb. 3

Monday, February 3, is the last day that an individual may register to vote in the Maryland March 3 Presidential Primary according to the Maryland State Administrative Board of Election Laws.

To register to vote, one must be a United States citizen, a Maryland resident, 18 years old by the next General Election (November 3, 1992) and, must not have been disqualified by a criminal record or be under guardianship for mental disability.

Persons may receive voter registration applications by calling the local election office or the State Administrative Board of Election Laws. Voter registration applications are available throughout Maryland at any office of the State Department of Health, Social Services Administration, Motor Vehicle Administration and most other State agencies. Persons may also obtain voter registration applications at post offices, libraries, and any public elementary or secondary school, or community college.

A voter registration application received by mail after the February 3 deadline, but no later than 4 p.m. February 5, is considered timely received if it is postmarked by the U.S. Post Office on or before February 3, 1992.

For more information regarding voter registration, persons may call the local election board at 334-1962 or the State Administration Board of Election Laws at 1-800-222-VOTE.

Sixteen Offer Services To GCC As Volunteers

In response to Garrett Community College president Dr. Steve Herman's call for volunteers to help in various college offices, 16 persons have offered their services, according to volunteer coordinator Paul Shogren.

Volunteers have been assigned to do teaching and tutoring, secretarial and clerical work in offices, work in the library and in the communications center, help with public relations, and help with the Whitewater Olympic Trials. Donna Shogren has volunteered to serve as the college chaplain.

At the present time, Shogren pointed out, there is a critical need for volunteers with clerical skills to help in the Registrar's Office with spring semester registration. Anyone wishing to do this is asked to call the president's office at 387-6666.

Maryland Students Record Average Scores In Reading, Language, Math

The State Department of Education has released the results of the Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills (CTBS/4), the nationally normed test that replaces the California Achievement Tests (CAT) for students in grades 3, 5, and 8.

Maryland students, who took the CTBS/4 last April, generally scored in the average range on the test compared with students across the country. Standards for the tests were established in 1989 after it was given to a national sample of students.

The State Board of Education selected the CTBS/4 to replace a form of the California Achievement Test that had been normed on a sample of students in 1977. The Board selected the CTBS/4 because it represents a more challenging test in its greater emphasis on higher level skills similar to current classroom instructional emphasis.

Department of Education officials said norm-referenced tests like the CTBS/4 are used to provide broad comparisons among states. They have little of the instructional significance for teachers and educators possessed by new performance tests being developed in Maryland or by the state's functional tests.

Last April, third, fifth, and eighth grade students took the new state performance tests for the first time.

Unlike the CTBS/4, the state tests are central to school improvement efforts under the Maryland School Performance Program and the Schools for Success initiative.

On the CTBS/4, the median percentile ranks for Maryland students in grade 3 are 56.7 in reading comprehension, 50.0 in total language, and 49.8 in mathematics. Percentiles indicate the percentage of students in the national norming group who received a lower score on the test; for example, on average Maryland third graders performed better than 56.7 percent of third graders nationally in reading comprehension.

At the fifth grade, Maryland students scored at percentile 50.2 in reading comprehension, 52.6 in language total, and 53.9 in mathematics. Percentile scores for eighth grade students in the three areas were 57.4, 50.6, and 49.8.

Asian students generally had the highest average scores, followed by white, Hispanic, and black students. Black males scored significantly below other students in all areas.

A draft report by the education committee of the Governor's Commission on Black Males addresses the issue of black male achievement. The full commission report is expected to be released later this year.

On average, girls outperformed boys, though Hispanic boys scored higher in all three areas in grade 5 and Asian boys scored higher than Asian girls in grade 3 reading comprehension.

"We have many challenges ahead as we strive to achieve excellence in our schools for all students," State Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick said. "Currently, we are implementing school improvement efforts to move us to a higher level of excellence."

SANCTUARY

This young lady views the winter world with a smile, for she knows she is protected from the bitter cold by the windowpane, reflecting the warmth of the sun. . .providing refuge. . .sanctuary.

P. K. Thomajan has referred to the church as a "soularium". Truly, God's house is a sanctuary for the soul. . . a refuge for the spirit. . . a protective shelter from the storms of life. "Strength and beauty are in His sanctuary." (Ps. 96:06)

Ps. 150:01 urges us to "Praise God in His sanctuary." As you worship God each Sabbath, may your blessed experience echo the sentiments of Cyrus Albertson, as he wrote. . .

"A room of quiet . . .a temple of peace.
The home of faith. . .where doubtings cease.
A house of comfort. . .where hope is given;
A source of strength. . .to make earth heaven.
A shrine of worship. . .a place to pray---
I found all this. . . in my church today."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

LEARNING FROM A LOVE SONG
JANUARY 19, 1992

Background Stripture:
Song of Solomon 2: 8-17.
Devotional Reading:
1 Corinthians 13.

Christians and Jews alike have often not known what to do with The Song of Solomon (or The Song of Songs). In this ancient book there is no overt religious content, no mention whatsoever of God. There is no literary or dramatic structure to the book and it uses many Hebrew terms that are rare in the Bible.

Just what is this book supposed to be? Is it an allegory? A drama? A Syrian wedding ritual? A Hebrew poem that reflects the influence of Canaanite fertility religion? Or is it a series of secular love songs that got into the Old Testament canon because it was erroneously assumed that they were written by King Solomon? These are some of the answers provided by various scholars.

Even if one treats it as an allegory of the relationship of Christ and his Church -- one which is frequently used by Christians -- there are passages of the book which most of us would be hesitant to read in a worship service. There is hardly anything in the book that could be called "devotional" in nature.

Let's assume for a moment that these are secular love songs, that their original intention was to celebrate romantic and carnal love. Is there anything that God can say to us through these songs? Can we learn anything about love from them?

The very fact that this book is in the Bible should dispel once and for all the latterday Christian notion that sexual union is inherently either evil -- necessary or otherwise -- or, at best, an experience that is essentially secular. The Song of Soloman's presence in the Old Testament assures us that sex is a gift of God. Like any of God's gifts, sex can be misused, exploited, prostituted, or serve as a substitute for God. But our problem is not in what sex is, but what we make it.

The writer of this book says "for I am sick with love" (2:5). That's right, in its romantic and erotic forms, love is a kind of sickness, sometimes even with aberrant physical and emotional symptoms. In the throes of this love, some people can't think straight, lose their appetites, run a slight fever, act absessively and irrationally, and behave in a manner contrary to their normal state of intelligence. It is one of the few sicknesses of humanity that can be either pleasant or painful, or both. During the most chronic phases of this being "sick with love," we are governed more by our hormones than by our intellect.

Would anyone want to say that, in ordaining this state of affairs, God had done something less than divinely good or wise? We may not understand these overwhelming attractions, and some of us may not handle them very well, but that doesn't say that they are not without their appointed place in his plan of creation. If then, we are squeamish about reading this book in public worship, if some of its passages make us uncomfortable, the problem is with us, not with those who wrote the book, nor our God who created us this way.

If we have experienced love in its deeper dimensions, we know that although love may begin with the hormones of attraction, that is just the beginning of the process. From attraction, we must move to genuine mutual regard -- and we see some of that in the Song of Solomon -- to commitment, and, most of all, friendship, the deepest form of friendship in which love has grown from wanting to giving, from possessing to sharing, and, as Jesus Christ demonstrated for all of us to see, being willing to lay down one's own life for the sake of the other.

FOUR IMPORTANT REASONS TO SEE A PHYSICIAN

The American Medical Association does not advise you to see a physician for unimportant medical problems. But, what problems are important?

1. If the patient's complaints or symptoms are too painful to be endured — get a doctor. Immediate relief is needed.

2. When an apparently minor symptom or symptoms persist for more than a few days or weeks and does not appear to be due to some easily identified cause — get a doctor.

3. When symptoms returned repeatedly for no recognizable cause, such as in headaches, digestive distress, etc. — get a doctor.

4. When in doubt about any ailment — call a doctor.

Goldstein Against Proposal Concerning The Piggyback Tax

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has told state senate sponsors of bills which would distribute local income taxes according to where taxpayers work as well as where they live that his office does not have the information necessary to make the distribution.

"No one knows, on a current basis, where each taxpayer works," Goldstein said. "Even W-2 information, which comes to our office at the end of the income tax filing cycle, does not reveal in which subdivision the income is earned."

The comptroller stressed that an even larger concern about the proposals is the "commuter tax" aspect of the legislation.

"We have successfully fought to prevent Washington, D.C. from imposing a commuter tax ever since the 1960's," Goldstein said. "If Washington, D.C. were allowed to impose a commuter tax, it would cost Maryland's General Fund $200 million in lost revenue because of tax credits the state would have to allow residents who paid the Washington, D.C. commuter tax.

"We could hardly continue to fight a commuter tax in Washington, D.C. if the Maryland Legislature established the same type of tax here, by basing part of the local income tax distribution on where the income is earned," Comptroller Goldstein said in letters to Senator Barbara Hoffman and Senator John Pica, Jr.

BOSS Program Available For Senior Citizens

Benefits Outreach and Screening Software (BOSS) is a software package developed by the United Seniors Health Cooperative in cooperation with the Maryland Office on Aging and the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging.

According to the Agency, the primary goal of BOSS is to optimize the linkage between people needing service and the community resources for providing service. From information provided about the client, the software produces a personalized cover letter and a detailed report listing the benefit programs and services for which the client may be eligible. A total of 31 programs are listed.

Use of BOSS is not limited to inquiries made by older persons, the Agency said, and, in fact, may be a useful resource for adult children or others interested in the welfare of an older person.

Those interested in the program may contact the Senior Information and Assistance Office at (301) 746-8824 or (301) 895-3447 or write to: BOSS Program, Senior Information and Assistance, P.O. Box 248, Accident, MD 21520.

Alzheimer's Group To Meet Jan. 27

The Alzheimer's and Related Dementias Support Group will meet Monday, January 27, in the Garrett County Health Department Assembly Room from 7-9 p.m. The topic "Emotional Aspects of Caregiving" will be presented by Jean James, M.A., Garrett Counseling Services.

The group was formed to help caregivers, patients, and families cope with the disease.

According to a group spokesman, Alzheimer's disease is one of the most frequent diagnosed irreverible brain diseases found in adults. "The intellectual impairment progresses gradually from forgetfulness to total disability," said the spokesman. "Slight forgetfulness is common as we age but is not bad enough to interfere with our lives. With Alzheimer's disease even the simple tasks of dressing, eating, or knowing familiar faces may be lost."

The spokesman continued, "Coping with a loved one with Alzheimer's or dementia on a day-to-day basis can be overwhelming. The support group can help by 1) giving helpful hints for coping, 2) relieving guilt feelings, 3) planning for terminal care, 4) limited respite resources."

Persons desiring additional information about the disease should call their family doctors or call the support group at 334-8113, Geriatric Evaluation Services.

The group meets the last Monday evening of every month from 7-9 p.m.

Post Offices To Be Closed Monday

Post offices, stations and branches will be closed Monday, January 20, in observance of Martin Luther King Jr.'s Birthday, Baltimore Division General Manager/ Postmaster Richard W. Rudez has announced.

Post office box service will be provided on a holiday schedule. Delivery services will be limited to Express Mail and Special Delivery at offices having receipt of mail.

Local customers may purchase stamps from self-service postal centers which are opened 24-hours daily at the Oakland and Mtn. Lake Park post offices.

On Dean's List

Nancy L. Harsh, wife of Charles N. Harsh, Oakland, has been named to the dean's list for the fall 1991 semester at Davis & Elkins College, Elkins, W.Va.

To achieve dean's list status, students must have earned 12 credit hours for the semester and have achieved a 3.6 or better grade point average (GPA).

Davis & Elkins College is a private, four-year, coeducational liberal arts and sciences college, affiliated with the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. The College offers 29 baccalaureate and 15 associate degree programs, plus a graduate program in special education. Over 900 students from 23 states and 12 foreign countries compose the student body.

Eastern Star Chapter Meets

Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday, January 7, at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple in Oakland.

Wilma Minor, Worthy Matron, gave a reading, "What is Life without a Friend," and greeted Wilda Hile, Deputy Grand Lecturer of Maryland, Theodore Raynovich III, Worshipful Master of Oakland Lodge #192 A.F. & A.M., all officers and members of Oakland Chapter.

Balloting was held for two candidates and the altar was draped in memory of Arthur Young, P.G.P. of Maryland. A New Year's program was presented by the Worthy Matron and several officers.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, January 21, at which time all officers, substitutes, and 25-year members will be honored.

The Worthy Matron closed with, "A Road We Must All Take," and Marie Shrout and her committee served refreshments.

One-Year-Olds Now Need SSN For Tax Forms

Thomas W. Armbruster, assistant district manager of the Cumberland Social Security Administration office, issued a reminder for parents who do not yet have social security numbers (SSN) for their children. "This year, when you file your 1991 federal income tax return, you must have a number assigned to each child age 1 or over in order to claim him or her as a dependent," he said. Previously, federal law required a social security number for any dependent age 2 or older.

Parents may get a social security number for their children by calling the toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, any weekday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Social Security Administration will send an application form and instructions. Parents can mail the completed form and required original documents to social security in the pre-addressed envelope that is provided with the application. The orginal documents will be returned promptly, and a social security card usually will be issued within two weeks, Armbruster said.

The application and card are provided free of charge by social security, and they also provide free help in completing the form for those who need it.

"We urge all parents to get SSN for their children early so they will have them when they are ready to file their 1991 tax returns," Armbruster said.

SUNNYSIDE/ UNDERWOOD

The worship service on Sunday morning in the United Brethren Church at Underwood was under the direction of the Rev. David Kisamore, who is assigned as full-time pastor for church services. He is enrolled in Eastern Bible Seminary College in Harrisonburg, Va. Former Pastor Michael Mudge has accepted full-time pastoring of the United Brethren Church in Crellin.

The Underwood Bible study group met Thursday in the home of Arlena Dilley. The lesson was taught by Jane Kope, Brookside. Prayers were by Mildred Peterson and Hazel White, and closing prayer by Wilma Waybright. Refreshments were served to the above named and Sherry Ford, Carolyn Foster, and Elaine Beckman. Mrs. Waybright will be hostess to next week's meeting.

Visiting with Mrs. Marie Knotts one afternoon recently were her cousin, Warren LeMasters, and a friend, Ray Frizeir, and friend, Cindy, and Melissa Hope of Parkersburg, W.Va., Mary Miller, Eglon, W.Va., Dorothy Armstrong and Selma Stratton, Mt. Lake Park, and Myrtle Harvey, Oakland. Floyd and Wilma Knapp, Amboy, were also guests of Mrs. Knotts.

Recent guests in the home of Delbert and Lois Waybright and Mrs. Wilma Waybright included Lois's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Snideker, and Reda of Kissamore, Fla., Dale, Debra, Lisa and Christopher Brown of Medina, Ohio, Glenn and Carol Waybright, Trumbull, Conn., Wendell and Carol Waybright and Nicole, Cranston, Rhode Island, Orval and Janet DeWitt, Oakland, Stanley, June and LaVerne Waybright, Brookside.

Milton Canan remains a patient in the Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown because of a fall he sustained while at work for Beitzel Corporation at a water treatment plant in Friendsville on Tuesday afternoon of last week. His injuries include a broken neck and shoulder and severe back injuries. His wife, Mrs. Dawn Canan, Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper, Larry Canan, and his mother, Bessie, Ray Upole and wife, have been visiting him.

Holiday guests of the Roy Sander's families included Ronald and Danita Jo Rhodes, Zackary, Ashley Nicole, and Melissa Jo Rhodes, Wayne and Debbie Rounds and children, Butch and Cathy Sanders and sons.

Mrs. Jennie Miller, who had been spending part of the summer months with her family, the Rev. Woods and Mrs. Patty Woods of Webster Springs, W.Va., and Mrs. Shirley Cassity and daughter, Lois, visited with Mrs. Marie Knotts while her son, DeWayne, and wife, Patty, were to meet them at the old Miller farm home, where they met for a carry-in dinner. Mrs. Miller then accompanied DeWayne and Patty to their home in Clarksburg, W.Va., to spend the winter.

Mrs. Nada Marie Daoust, Fairmont, W.Va., is spending some time visiting her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Fulk, while her father, Morgan Fulk, remains a patient in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

David and Bobbi McRobie were dinner guests on Sunday of his mother, Mrs. Knotts. Others visiting recently were Nina Layman, Aurora, Jean Sollars, Kitzmiller, Jim and Vida McRobie for lunch, Catherine Ball, Stemple Ridge, Clayton and Dorothy Hauser, Wilma nd Floyd Knapp, Amboy, Mary and Junior Bolyard, Aurora.

Ronnie and Michelle Hauser and his mother, Mrs. Erma Hauser, were last Thursday evening guests of Bessie Canan.

Mrs. Marie Knotts accompanied Mrs. Myrtle Harvey for a visit with Herbert and Ruth Evans on Sunday afternoon on Brookside Road. Guests of Mrs. Knotts on Thursday were Myrtle Liller, Hattie Arbogast, and Barbara Fishel and grandson.

Mildred Peterson and Hazel White were visiting Morgan Fulk in Garrett Memorial one day last week. Pastor David Kisamore visited Mr. Fulk on Saturday and Keith Cummings visited him Sunday.

Honey Mustard Glazed Veal Loaf

Moist and tender, this veal loaf is made extra special with a quick honey mustard glaze. For perfect results, combine the veal mixture gently and bake just until no longer pink.

- 1½ pounds ground veal
- ⅓ cup dry bread crumbs
- ⅓ cup plus 2 tablespoons thinly sliced green onion, divided
- 1 teaspoon dried basil leaves
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon coarse grind black pepper
- ½ cup Pet Evaporated Milk
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 tablespoon Dijon-style mustard

Combine ground veal, bread crumbs, ⅓ cup of the onion, basil, salt and pepper; add evaporated milk, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Shape into loaf approximately 8 x 4 inches. Place loaf in baking pan. Combine honey and mustard. Brush half of honey mustard glaze over loaf. Bake uncovered in moderate (350°F) oven for 30 minutes. Brush with remaining glaze. Continue baking until veal loaf is cooked through, about 20 to 30 minutes. Sprinkle remaining 2 tablespoons green onion over top of loaf before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking time: 50 to 60 minutes

Peppercorn Salad Dressing

Make a salad with your favorite vegetables and top with this creamy, peppery dressing for a real taste treat.

- 1½ cups mayonnaise
- ¾ cup Pet Evaporated Milk
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon freshly ground or coarse grind black pepper

In a mixing bowl, combine all ingredients. Blend well using a wire whisk. Cover and refrigerate at least one hour before serving. Serve with a variety of sliced and shredded vegetables (such as tomato, carrot, cauliflower, mushrooms, radishes and cucumber) on leaf lettuce or your favorite tossed salad. Store refrigerated in covered container up to two weeks. Makes 2½ cups.

Note: For a thinner dressing, add more evaporated milk. Dressing can be served as a dip for raw vegetables or as a topping for baked potatoes.

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Chilling time: 1 hour

Juicy Apple Crisp

Apples with a crispy topping is an easy and simple dessert. Serve warm with evaporated milk.

- 2 pounds Jonathan apples, cored and thinly sliced
- ¼ cup granulated sugar
- ¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour, divided
- 1½ teaspoons ground cinnamon, divided
- 6 tablespoons margarine or butter
- ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ¾ cup quick-cooking oats

Preheat oven to 350°F. Generously coat a 9 x 9-inch baking dish with margarine. Place apple slices in large bowl. Sprinkle with granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon flour and ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Toss to coat, then pour into baking dish. In medium bowl, combine margarine, remaining ¼ cup plus 1 tablespoon flour, brown sugar, remaining 1 teaspoon cinnamon and nutmeg until crumbly. Stir in oats. Sprinkle over apples, making sure edges are covered. Bake 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve with evaporated milk. Makes 6 servings.

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking time: 40 to 45 minutes

Times are tighter for many of us — the indulgent '80s are over. But, even so, the savvy cook knows how to plan flavorful, fabulous meals.

If you're cooking on a budget, selecting quality ingredients becomes even more important. The right mix of ingredients will result in dishes that will please the most sophisticated palate.

When planning meals, most of us begin with the main dish, and that often means selecting the right cut of meat. Ground veal and veal for stew are two good examples of versatile cuts that easily fit into economical menus featuring soups and stews, loaves and meat balls. And, veal's delicate flavor blends easily with a variety of herbs and seasonings. When savory Honey Mustard Glazed Veal Loaf is on the menu, "dollar saving" is definitely delicious!

Savvy cooks with an eye towards economy also call on tried and true ingredients like convenient Pet Evaporated Milk. It can be kept on hand in the pantry and used in most recipes that call for fresh milk or cream. In meat loaves, evaporated milk acts as a binder, eliminating the need for eggs. It adds flavor and richness to baked goods such as breads and cakes. Or, use it as the base for delicious homemade salad dressings. Peppercorn Salad Dressing pairs evaporated milk with mayonnaise and seasonings — easy and economical!

The beverage doesn't have to break the budget either. With high quality loose tea or tea bags on the shelf, a pot of perfectly brewed tea is never more than a few minutes away. Preparing a flavored tea is quick and economy-minded, too. Simply Spiced Tea is a combination of brewed tea, three spices and lemon juice — a relaxing sipper to savor with dessert or alone.

To save time and energy, use the oven for more than one food at a time. Juicy Apple Crisp or baked apples can cook alongside the veal loaf.

A PERFECT POT OF TEA

It's refreshing, relaxing and hits the spot whether served alone or with the meal. High quality teas are a good bargain—you're assured of perfect results every time.

1. Bring fresh, cold tap water to a full rolling boil.
2. Preheat your teapot by rinsing it with hot water.
3. Put 1 tea bag or 1 teaspoon loose tea per cup into the pot.
4. Pour boiling water over the bags or leaves using 5 to 6 ounces per serving.
5. Cover the pot and let brew 3 to 5 minutes. Remove tea bags or strain loose tea before serving.

DOLLAR-SAVING TIPS

1. Plan menus for an entire week. Select produce that is in season, take advantage of specials, and use coupons whenever appropriate.
2. Shop with a list — you'll be more likely to purchase only the items you need. Shop after you've eaten — you'll be less likely to make impulse purchases.
3. Shop the specials. You'll save even more by buying veal cuts when they're on sale and freezing for later use. Ground veal may be frozen up to 3 months; veal for stew and roasts as long as 6 to 9 months when wrapped in a moisture/vaporproof material such as heavy-duty aluminum foil, freezer storage bags, or freezer storage containers.
4. Take advantage of unit pricing — the price per ounce or cup — to find the most economical size when a product comes in several sizes.
5. Prepare double batches of foods that freeze well. Most breads, soups and stews freeze and reheat beautifully.
6. Avoid waste. Leftover veal loaf makes great sandwiches. A partial can of evaporated milk can be used for scrambled eggs, sauces, gravies, soups or puddings. Refrigerate opened evaporated milk and use within five days or freeze in a freezer storage container.
7. Buy the highest quality ingredients — the end result will be the best that it can be. For example, a pot of tea will be perfect when a quality tea is used in the preparation — no disappointing flavor, no waste!

Hearty Veal and Black Bean Soup

Pieces of veal for stew teamed with vegetables, black beans and seasonings is a meal-in-one soup. Bread is the only accompaniment you'll need!

- 6 teaspoons vegetable oil, divided
- 2 pounds veal for stew, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon coarse grind black pepper
- 2 cups coarsely chopped onions
- 1 cup thinly sliced celery
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 can (14½ or 16 ounces) whole peeled tomatoes
- 7 cups water
- 1½ teaspoons dried thyme leaves
- 1 can (16 ounces) black beans, well drained*
- Salt, to taste
- Minced parsley

Heat 2 teaspoons oil in Dutch oven or large heavy saucepan over medium heat. Brown veal for stew (⅓ at a time) on all sides, using additional 2 teaspoons oil as needed. Remove from pan. Sprinkle veal with 1¼ teaspoons salt and the pepper; reserve. Add 2 teaspoons oil to pan and cook onions over medium heat until browned and tender, about 5 to 10 minutes; stir frequently. Stir in celery and garlic. Continue cooking 1 minute; stir occasionally. Return veal to pan with onion mixture. Stir in tomatoes with liquid, breaking up tomatoes with spoon. Add water and thyme. Bring to boil. Reduce heat to low and simmer, covered, until veal is tender, 45 minutes to 1 hour. Stir in beans; heat through. Add salt, if desired. Sprinkle with parsley. Makes 8 servings.

*1 can (16 ounces) great northern or navy beans, well drained, may be substituted.

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking time: 1 hour 10 minutes to 1 hour 25 minutes

Cheese Garlic Biscuits

Quick, tender biscuits with the zesty flavor of Parmesan and garlic taste great with a steaming bowl of soup. Freeze extras in freezer storage bags.

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- ⅓ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons parsley flakes
- 2½ teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅓ cup margarine or butter
- 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded mozzarella cheese
- ¾ cup Pet Evaporated Milk
- ½ cup water
- 4 cloves garlic, minced

Preheat oven to 450°F. In a mixing bowl, combine flour, Parmesan cheese, parsley, baking powder and salt. Using a pastry blender or two knives, cut margarine into flour mixture until it resembles fine crumbs. Stir in remaining ingredients. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto well greased baking sheets. Bake 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 2 dozen.

Preparation time: 10 minutes
Cooking time: 10 to 12 minutes

Simply Spiced Tea

Making flavored tea is easy on the budget—just steep the tea with on-hand ingredients like spices and lemon juice.

- 6 cups water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 (3-inch) stick cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves
- 6 tea bags
- Sugar or honey, to taste

Combine water, lemon juice and spices. Heat to boiling; pour over tea bags. Cover and steep 3 minutes. Remove tea bags and cinnamon stick. Add sugar or honey, if desired. Makes 8 (6 ounce) servings.

COVER STORY

Dukes on the hazards of TV movie-making

BY LYNN HOOGENBOOM

One of the things David Dukes likes best about "She Woke Up" (airing Sunday, Jan. 19, on ABC) is that it's not based on a true story.

"One of the reasons we tell stories to each other is to make sense of the chaos in the world out there," he says. "Reality programming just sort of presents chaos."

David Dukes

In "She Woke Up," Dukes plays the husband of a wealthy woman (Lindsay Wagner) who emerges from a coma after a near-fatal beating and comes to the gradual realization that she has to figure out who attacked her, because they're likely to try it again.

"You don't know quite what he is," says Dukes of his character. "He can be charming and, I guess, sexy. But he certainly has a temper, and he's certainly arrogant."

TV frequently has trouble doing original stories. But Dukes thinks "She Woke Up" might be different.

"I don't know whether it's because of Lindsay's involvement or whether it was because of Waris Hussein, the director. But there's gotta be somebody who has the muscle, to say, 'I will walk away if we don't make this scene work.' "

Problems develop, says Dukes, when there is too much input from too many people. "They all get in there and say we've gotta have a romantic musical montage, because that's hot now; we've gotta have a suggestion of sex, because that's what brings in the numbers. With all of these demographic demands they don't tell the story."

Then there's the casting. "They want to have somebody with a big TVQ (a ranking of TV stars' likability)," Dukes says. "But they'll often pick out names that have nothing to do with the story."

Duke's own TVQ has an unusual history. "There was a time when I was sort of a nice supporting role in miniseries after miniseries," he says. "Then, in 1986, I did 'War and Remembrance,' which took all of '86 into '87 and didn't come out until '88. It was like I had disappeared. I had had this great TVQ because I was in all of these big major events – 'George Washington,' 'Space,' 'Kane and Abel.' Then I disappeared, and suddenly there weren't any more miniseries. It's all kind of coming back around now, but it's been two or three tough years."

Projects that have helped turn things around include the NBC series "Sisters," in which Dukes has a recurring role, and the HBO movie "The Josephine Baker Story." He's pretty sure "She Woke Up" will keep the momentum going.

"You do some, and you just sort of throw your hands up and say, 'We'll see,' " he says. "But this one I have great hopes for."

Lindsay Wagner and David Dukes star as the wealthy Claudia and Sloane Parr in "She Woke Up." The thriller airs Sunday, Jan. 19, on ABC.

TV DIALOGUE

BY TONI REINHOLD

RAY AND RAY – Aren't there two entertainers named Ray Charles? – E.B., Houston

Singer Ray Charles

Yes, and both are musicians. One Ray Charles is among the greatest rhythm-and-blues singers and pianists ever. Nicknamed "The Genius," Charles' many hits include "I've Got a Woman," "What'd I Say," "Georgia on My Mind," "Hit the Road, Jack" and "I Can't Stop Loving You."

The other Ray Charles is an orchestra leader and choral director. He worked on "The Perry Como Show" from 1950-61, "The Kraft Music Hall" from 1961-63 and "The John Byner Comedy Hour" in 1972.

CHRISTIE AND BILLY – Isn't Christie Brinkley married to the man who sings "Uptown Girl"? – P.B., Edgewater, Fla.

Yes. Brinkley is married to recording artist Billy Joel, and she appeared in the video for his song "Uptown Girl." They have one daughter, Alexa.

'WATER' LINES – I watched a cartoon series called "Dark Water" with my two young children. We enjoyed it, but it went off the air. Will it return to TV? Also, who provided the voice for the character named Niddler? I know I recognized the voice, and this has been needling me since I saw the cartoon. – A.W., Fishkill, N.Y.

"Dark Water" was a five-part animated miniseries produced by Hanna-Barbera and created by David Kirschmer, who also created the characters in Steven Spielberg's "American Tail" films. The Fox miniseries featured the voices of a number of famous actors, including Roddy McDowall as Niddler.

BURR'S SERVICE – I remember Raymond Burr talking about being in the military during World War II. What branch did he serve in? – H.M., Crescent City, Calif.

Burr, who was born in Canada, served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

GHOSTS – What actors were in the film and TV series versions of "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir"? – F.T., South Bend, Ind.

Rex Harrison and Gene Tierney played the title roles in the 1947 film about the spirit of a sea captain who haunts an English cottage. Edward Mulhare and Hope Lange recreated the roles in the 1968-70 television series.

Lawyer Matthau returns in 'Against Her Will'

BY FELICIA A. FEASTER

Academy Award winner Delbert Mann ("Marty") directs Walter Matthau in "Against Her Will: An Incident in Baltimore" (CBS, Jan. 19), a sequel to the 1990 Emmy winner "The Incident." Matthau returns as humble lawyer Harmon Cobb who, in 1947, moves with his widowed daughter-in-law and granddaughter to Baltimore. Once there, Cobb is intrigued by the experience of a young woman (Bridgit Ryan) who has been wrongfully committed to a mental institution; he launches a fight to release the woman, battling a powerful adversary in the state. Susan Blakely reprises her role as Billie, Cobb's daughter-in-law, and Harry Morgan reprises his as Judge Stoddard Bell, Cobb's partner in a profitable Baltimore law firm.

Blakely and Matthau

• Fighting the war on drugs at the source is the subject of the new NBC miniseries "Drug Wars: The Cocaine Cartel" (NBC, Jan. 19 and 20). Dennis Farina and Alex McArthur star as a pair of DEA agents assigned to bring two Colombian drug lords to justice. With the help of a headstrong female judge and a smuggler-turned-informant, the two G-men go undercover to infiltrate and destroy the $3 billion empire. A sequel to "Drug Wars: The Camarena Story," this miniseries promises to blend the sleek style of "Miami Vice" (created by executive producer Michael Mann) with an accurate depiction of the government's ongoing battles with the cocaine cartels – from the courtrooms of America to the mean streets of Medellin, Colombia.

• In the 1986 film "The Mosquito Coast" (Lifetime, Jan. 21), Harrison Ford stars as a cynical yet idealistic inventor who flees civilization to set up a new home for his family in the untamed jungles of Central America. The film did not enjoy a successful theatrical release, since critics and audiences were uncertain how to react to the central character – a man who is balanced between genius and madness, who is both caring father and irrational tyrant. It is this very defiance of the conventional good guy/bad guy character designation that makes "The Mosquito Coast" so haunting. The story is presented through the eyes of the son, played by River Phoenix ("My Private Idaho"), who has mixed feelings of his own. For, in their idyllic world-away-from-the-world, he watches as his father's vision is gradually corrupted from within and without by the woes that plague the society they sought to escape.

Australian Open fills void before Super Bowl

BY CHRISTOPHER HULL

The National Football League takes the weekend of Jan. 18 and 19 off, but one week before Super Bowl XXVI, there's no shortage of sports on television. And it even includes some football-related programming.

As far as actual competitive sports goes, ESPN has finals coverage of the Australian Open tennis tournament live from Melbourne later this week. The women's final is Friday, Jan. 24, and the men's is Saturday, Jan. 25. ESPN will also have next-day taped coverage of an early-round or semifinal match each day from Monday through Friday.

Boris Becker

Leave it to the all-sports network to pick up the broadcast networks' slack.

The Australian Open is the first of tennis's prestigious Grand Slam events on the calendar, but it's the only one to be completely shut out by the three broadcast networks. The others — the French Open, Wimbledon and the U.S. Open — all receive extensive cable coverage of early-round play and network coverage of weekend and late-round action.

Not so the Aussie.

Given the huge time difference between Australia and the United States, airing the event live would mean making room for it in precious prime time. (There's a nine-hour lapse between Melbourne and New York City, meaning the women's final that actually starts Saturday at noon local Melbourne time airs live in the United States at the unwieldy hour of 9 p.m. Friday.)

Last year, Boris Becker won the men's final in four sets over Ivan Lendl, and Monica Seles won the women's final in three over Jana Novotna. It was the first Australian Open win for each player.

• On Sunday, Jan. 19, NBC has an NBA doubleheader featuring the Chicago Bulls against the Detroit Pistons in the first game and the Portland Trail Blazers versus the Phoenix Suns in the second. The Bulls and Pistons get back together in Chicago Friday, Jan. 24, on TNT.

The Bulls headed into January playing better than .800 basketball — making Chicago far and away the hottest team in the league. In their first meeting with Detroit, back on Nov. 12, the Bulls hammered the Pistons 110-93.

• Sunday, Jan. 19, on CBS, John Madden reveals his 1992 lineup of down-and-dirty NFL tough guys on "The All-Madden Team." On Jan. 26, Madden will be at the Metrodome in Minneapolis with Pat Summerall to announce Super Bowl XXVI, also on CBS.

THIS WEEK

Jane Seymour

SOCIALITE Seymour: Jane Seymour stars in "Are You Lonesome Tonight," a thriller premiering Wednesday, Jan. 22, on USA Network. She plays the wife of a socially prominent man whose secret life comes to light after he is murdered. • Henry Gibson, Paula Prentiss and Stuart Whitman guest-star on "Murder, She Wrote," Sunday, Jan. 19, on CBS. • The Family Channel airs the monumental 1977 miniseries "Roots" in its entirety from Monday, Jan. 20, through Saturday, Jan. 25. Ben Vereen, Louis Gossett Jr. and LeVar Burton star. • Quinn Cummings, who once played the precocious orphan Annie on "Family," guests on CBS's "Evening Shade" Monday, Jan. 20, as Shirley, the town mechanic and author of a series of erotic letters to Herman. • Jay Thomas reprises his role of Jerry Gold on the episode of "Murphy Brown" airing Monday, Jan. 20, on CBS. • Two teen-age brothers find their lives change dramatically when they gain a baby sister in "Two Teens and a Baby," a new "CBS Schoolbreak Special" airing Tuesday, Jan. 21. • Former welterweight boxing champion Carlos Palomino guests on the episode of "Jake and the Fatman" airing Wednesday, Jan. 22, on CBS.

SUNDAY

Dennis Farina plays a DEA agent in "Drug Wars: The Cocaine Cartel." This follow-up to the Emmy-winning drama "Drug Wars: The Camarena Story" revolves around the effort to destroy the Medellin Cartel in Colombia. The NBC miniseries airs Sunday, Jan. 19, and Monday, Jan. 20.

IN FOCUS

In Korea in 1936, Jesus Christ, so the story goes, told a young Sun Myung Moon (pictured) to unify the world. Moon's controversial movement slipped from the headlines after he was convicted of tax evasion in the early 1980s. "The Resurrection of Reverend Moon," airing Tuesday, Jan. 21, on PBS's "Frontline" (check local listings), examines Moon's resurgent influence through conservative political organizations and media outlets.

IN FOCUS

Ten years of isolated and often tedious work in the Savuti region of northern Botswana by husband-and-wife naturalists and filmmakers Beverly and Dereck Joubert is brought together in the National Geographic special "Eternal Enemies: Lions and Hyenas," airing Wednesday, Jan. 22, on PBS. (Check local listings.) This look at one of Earth's oldest, most vicious natural rivalries is at times as heartbreaking as it is compelling.

IN FOCUS

A kicker with dirt and grass stains on his uniform. A quarterback with two broken ribs and a flak jacket. A linebacker with a missing tooth. A lineman in a sweat-darkened jersey and with tape across his nose. What do these players have in common? They're all likely candidates for the 1992 All-Madden Team. Analyst John Madden announces his annual guts squad on "The All-Madden Team," Sunday, Jan. 19, on CBS.

AFTERNOON

1:00 pm 12 ★★½ "It Happens Every Spring" (1949, Comedy) Ray Milland, Jean Peters. A chemistry professor discovers a formula that turns the baseball world upside down.
1:05 pm 9 ★★½ "Harry-O" (1973, Mystery) David Janssen, Martin Sheen. An ex-policeman turned private eye accepts an assignment from the man who shot him.

THURSDAY

IN FOCUS

"Prime Suspect" is more hard-boiled than PBS's average "Mystery!" entry, but it's a first-rate effort. Helen Mirren (pictured) plays a detective chief inspector who faces intense pressure on three counts: There is little evidence against the prime suspect in a series of brutal murders, some of her men may be covering for a colleague, and most of them are hoping she will fail. It airs Thursday, Jan. 23, on PBS. (Check local listings.)

Covered Load Law Emphasized By State Police

Maryland State Police are enforcing a new state law intended to help reduce the risk of vehicular damage or bodily injury resulting from uncovered loads on Maryland highways. Beginning January 1, 1992, State Police began enforcing Maryland's Covered Load Law requiring any vehicle, not exempted by law, carrying a load of loose material to have its bed fully enclosed on the top by a canvas or other type of cover approved by the Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration.

"The law covers dirt, sand, gravel, wood chips, or other material that can blow, fall, or spill from a vehicle as a result of movement or of exposure to air, wind, or weather," stated Second Lieutenant Kenneth R. Harry of the Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Division. Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service broadcast, Second Lieutenant Harry said enforcement of the new law is strict.

"We are looking for violations of the law, and will take appropriate enforcement action," Harry stated. Under the new law, violators could face a fine of $60.00.

The Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Division is working with trucking industry representatives from the Maryland Motor Truck Association, Inc. and Independent Truckers and Drivers Association to explain the new law and provide information on exemptions to the law. The law provides certain exemptions for farm vehicles, any Class E truck, Class G trailer, and construction vehicles operating within a designated work zone site.

"The intent of this law is to enhance highway safety for all motorists on our highways," stated Harry.

The Maryland State Police Radio Program is a weekly public service broadcast carried on approximately 50 radio stations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. Portions of this program are carried on the Maryland State Police Newsline, (410) 653-4275.

"Md. Arts Day In Annapolis '92" Set For Feb. 5

The Maryland Citizens for the Arts, in cooperation with the Community Arts Alliance of Maryland (CAAM), is sponsoring the third biannual arts conference, "Maryland Arts Day in Annapolis - '92." This event will be held on Wednesday, February 5, at St. John's College, Annapolis. Two years ago, this occasion celebrated the proposed $2.4 million increase to the Maryland State Arts Council. This year's day-long program will address "New Tools for Tough Times - Surviving and Thriving in the 90's."

The Maryland State Arts Council provides funding for the arts to all counties in the state for the promulgation and advancement of the arts. Such events as the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, the Garrett County Choral Society, The Highland Festival, AITTCO Indian Pow-Wow, PennAlps Summerfest, GCC Community Chorus, and the GCC Theatre Department, among others, have been the recipient of these funds.

This conference, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending at about 5 p.m., will cover such topics as "The Arts Mean Business," "Nailing Down Creative Partnerships," and "Building Earned Income." Appointments will be made for participants to meet and have lunch with their state representatives. The registration fee is $12, which includes lunch. Free bus transportation can be made available from designated locations in both the southern and northern ends of the county. The deadline for registration to arrive in Baltimore is January 31 and the Garrett County Arts Council would like to have the names of those desiring to attend no later than January 27 in order to finalized transportation plans. Application forms may be picked up at the Ruth Enlow Library.

More information may be obtained by contacting Frances Acton at 387-4018.

Subject to certain restrictive covenants and reservations for rights-of-way set out in said Land Records.

Defendants
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situated in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to the Plaintiffs in this proceeding on June 8, 1990, and for which a Certificate of Sale was issued to the Plaintiffs herein, said Certificate dated June 13, 1990, and the property being described as follows:

All that lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, known and designated at Lot No. 16, Section 3, Block "V" on a revised Plat of Piney Mountain Corporation recorded in Plat Book 2, Page 108 of the Plat Records of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 0.94 of an acre, more or less, and described in a deed from Piney Mountain Corporation to John D. NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF MTN. LAKE PARK, MD.

The following is a condensed version of an ordinance providing for the regulation and control for Floodplain Management within the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

ORDINANCE No. 91-3 is an ordinance providing for the regulation and control for Floodplain Management within the Town of Mountain Lake Park. The Ordinance explains/defines Permit Procedures, the Establishment of Floodplain Zones, Development Regulations in Floodplain Zones (including the Floodway Fringe Zone, and the Floodway Zone), and Specific Requirements for building.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency, which administers the National Flood Insurance Program, has required that all Maryland communities which had been under resolution for the Department of Natural Resources to enforce their floodplain regulations, must now adopt their own ordinances. The primary responsibility for compliance with an ordinance and its enforcement rests with the Town.

ORDINANCE No. 91-3 is available in its entirety, for review at the Town Hall, 1007 Allegheny Drive, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland.

Bowman, et ux., dated August 20, 1971, and recorded in Liber No. 315, folio 129, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, said beginning iron pin also standing North 65° 13' East, 3.16 feet from the fifth corner of said 12.904 acre parcel and running thence from said beginning iron pin the said northerly margin and part of said fifth line, North 65° 13' East, 347.12 feet to a stake in the westerly margin of a private drive, thence with said westerly margin, North 33° 26' West, 200.0 feet to a stake, thence South 65° 37' West, 320.21 feet to a stake in the easterly margin of a private drive, thence with said easterly margin, South 25° 43' East, 200.0 feet to the beginning, containing 1.56 acres, more or less.

TOGETHER with the right of use in perpetuity water from a well located on an adjoining property owned by Lakeside Development Corporation and an easement to said well for the purpose of access, use and maintenance of said well.

BEING the same conveyed to Robert Alton Queen, Jr. by from Edgar M. Browning dated April 13, 1984 and recorded in Liber No. 445, folio 428; and then by deed from Robert Alton Queen, Jr. to Robert Alton Queen, Jr. and Janice G. Queen, his wife, dated July 23, 1985 and recorded in Liber No. 487, folio 407, both among the said Land Records.

SAID property is improved with a 36' x 45' two story frame and masonry dwelling with second floor utilized as an owner's private residence with 4 bedrooms and full bath.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of TWENTY percent (20%) of the purchase price will be required in cash or by certified check at the time of sale; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court of Garrett County, Maryland; except that the noteholder where the noteholder bids on the property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the noteholder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by the mortgage. Interest shall accrue at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of court ratification, and at a rate of twenty percent (20%) per annum from the date of court ratification to settlement. If the purchaser fails to make settlement within ten (10) days of said court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire aforesaid deposit may, at the option of the Assignee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages. If the deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, the property may be resold by the Assignee at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. All taxes, water and public charges and assessments shall be prorated on and as of the date of sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the purchaser. The purchaser shall pay the costs of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, document preparation and all other costs of settlement. The undersigned specifically reserves the right to reject any bids submitted. Possession shall be given upon final settlement.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, please contact the undersigned anytime during regular business hours.

Bowman Hill South

The Maryland State Forest and Park Service is offering for sale the following timber on 21 acres of Compartment #13 of Savage River State Forest. This sale is estimated to cut 194,456 BD FT of excellent quality sawtimber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule, more or less. All tallied trees 11" D.B.H. and larger with at least one 16' log to a 8" top D.I.B. with less than 50 percent defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located south of Bowman Hill Road from a point one mile east of the intersection with Rabbit Hollow Road. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 AM on Tuesday, January 21, 1992. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet at the intersection of Bowman Hill Road and Foxtown Road.
2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Savage River State Forest Headquarters, Rt. 2, Box 63-A, Grantsville, MD 21536 or phone (301) 895-5759.
3. A Security Bond in the amount of 10 percent of the bid submitted must be posted upon submission of the bid to the Maryland State Forest & Park Service.
4. The operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator in Maryland for 1991 and hold a Certificate of Erosion and Sediment Control (Green/Gold Card) training to be awarded successful bidding.
5. A Performance Bond in the amount of 10 percent of the bid submitted must be posted upon acceptance of the contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.
6. All timber volumes noted in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. NO adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.
7. Bidder may pay 50 percent of bid price on acceptance of the contract, with the remaining 50 percent payable within 90 calendar days from bid acceptance. If buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in form acceptable to the State.
8. Bids will be received up until 1:00 PM on Monday, February 3, 1992.

A&A Realty Better Homes and Gardens

Dear Residents and Friends of Garrett County,

All year long we have been hearing economic reports that tried to make us believe that the real estate market was awful. To the contrary, these economic conditions made 1991 one of the BEST YEARS EVER to build or buy a home.

The two best reasons:

INVENTORY -- a great selection from which to choose.

INTEREST RATES -- the lowest rates in over 10 years.

I personally salute and convey my heartfelt thanks to each and every agent pictured. Despite the news reports and gloomy forecasts, they kept on going. Each of them worked harder than ever with our buyers and sellers. Their consistent, continued and solid hard work has given me the opportunity to announce that we have helped more families than ever before.

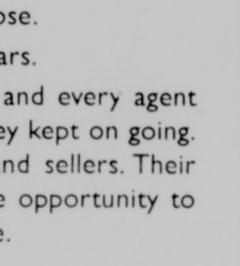
BETTER YET, 1992 has the ingredients to repeat 1991:

INTEREST RATES -- Now the federal government has announced that the home mortgage rates are at their lowest level in 20 years.

INVENTORY -- still a good selection of affordable properties.

At A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens, we are committed to professional service with the highest ethical standards to our clients and customers.

If your family is considering in any way the purchase of a home or even if you just want to discuss your families' needs, please call one of the marketing professionals pictured. They can even assist you in determining how much house you can afford at today's low rates.



We guarantee that we will do our best to help you find just the right property and locate the very best financing on today's market.

My thanks not only to our staff, but also to each and every buyer and seller who helped make this year one of our best ever.

Sincerely yours,

Murder Trial Underway In Garrett County

Jury selection for the trial of a Harford County man began Monday, in Garrett County Circuit Court.

John Frederick Thanos, 42, Joppa, is accused of the shooting deaths of two teenagers in Baltimore County.

Thanos was mistakenly released from jail, 543 days too early, on April 5, 1990.

Between August 29 and September 3, Thanos allegedly committed crimes including murders, shootings, robberies, and kidnapping. Thanos is accused of the shooting murders of 16-year-old William Wesley Winebrenner and 14-year-old Melody Nichol Pistorio on September 3, 1990, at the Big Red Mini Mart in Middle River.

The case is scheduled to be prosecuted through January 31, in Garrett County Circuit Court. Sue Schenning, Baltimore County Deputy State's Attorney, will prosecute the case before Judge Fred A. Thayer.

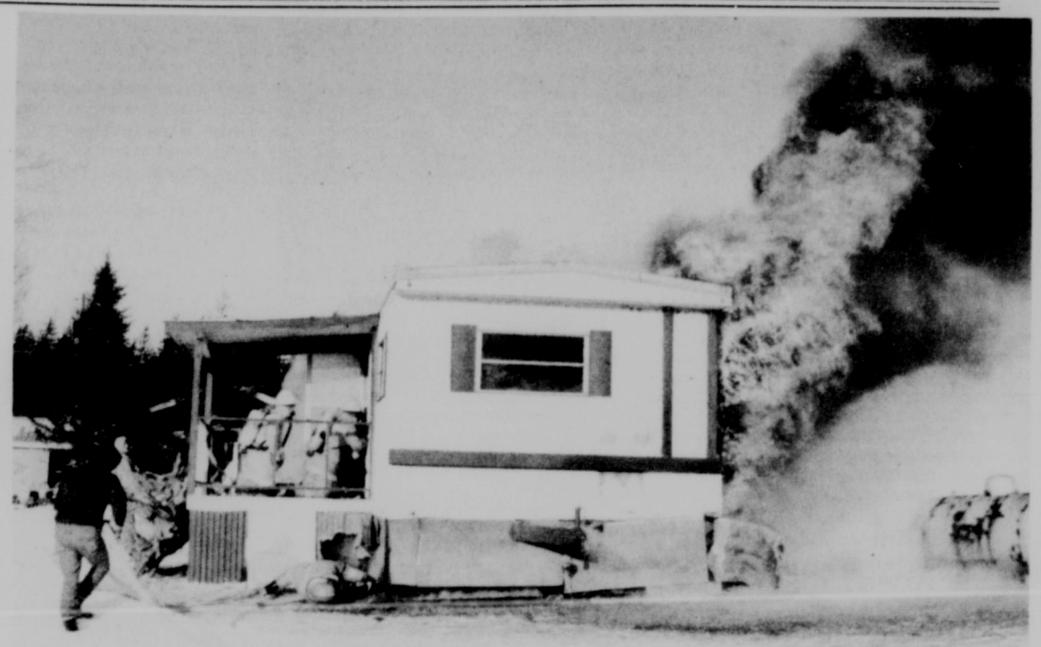
Thanos is also scheduled to go on trial for the murder of an 18 year old, from Hebron. Thanos allegedly shot Gregory Taylor during the same crime spree in August of 1990. The trial will be later this year in St. Mary's County.

Juvenile Escapee Leads Police On High-Speed Chase

A juvenile escapee from the Backbone Mountain Youth Center lead police in a high-speed chase Tuesday that ended when the youth wrecked a stolen vehicle off Interstate 68, east of Cumberland.

The 15-year-old male reportedly stole a 1990 Plymouth Acclaim from an employee at the youth center. A description of the stolen vehicle was immediately broadcast by state police. Tfc. Linda DeVore from the Cumberland Barrack observed the vehicle at about 2 p.m. Tuesday on Md. Rt. 36.

DeVore stated that when she reached him, he turned onto Interstate 68 and passed a car on the shoulder. She said the stolen vehicle reached speeds of nearly 120 mph as it headed across the Clarysville Bridge toward LaVale. DeVore radioed for assistance and three officers attempted to set up a rolling roadblock.



The youth reportedly ran several vehicles off the road, even tractor-trailers. He also struck the guardrail and median before heading into downtown Cumberland. The 12-mile chase ended when the driver lost control of the car after he exited the interstate at U.S. Rt. 220 near Mason's Barn.

The car skidded on gravel and traveled up an embankment before coming to rest against several trees on Ali Ghan Shrine property. The youth was not injured because an air bag in the vehicle activated at the time of impact.

Some 10 state troopers joined in the chase and no one was injured. The youth had been serving a sentence for truancy at the center. He will now be charged as a juvenile on various motor vehicle charges, police said.

A PROPANE TORCH being used to thaw frozen water pipes was determined to be the cause of this blaze that gutted a Loch Lynn mobile home last Thursday afternoon. Oakland and Deer Park fire fighters were called to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Smith at 3:51 p.m. and spent nearly two hours battling the blaze, which destroyed nearly all of the Smith's possessions. The trailer, which was owned by Tom Tressler, was covered by insurance. See story for more details.

Organization Key To GCC's Hosting Of U.S. Canoe, Kayak Olympic Trials

The U.S. Canoe & Kayak Team Olympic Trials on the Savage River May 16 and 17 will be a historical event in more ways than one, according to Don Storck, director of institutional research at Garrett Community College, who is serving as chairperson of the event. Not only will the two days of competition determine the paddlers who will represent the United States at the Summer Olympics in Barcelona, but for the first time, an Olympic Trials event will be hosted by a community college.

If one were to ask how Garrett Community College, the smallest college in Maryland, could accomplish such a seemingly monumental task, the answer might be found in one word: organization. Storck heads an administrative team that includes several members who were responsible for the successful 1989 World's Whitewater Championships on the Savage River. This previous experience has enabled him to form a local Organizing Committee of key persons who now meet with him bi-weekly to review plans and discuss progress.

This committee is organized into five divisions, each with a specific function to perform and each headed by a director. The Technical Services Division is responsible for conducting and officiating the races -- starting, timekeeping, scoring, judging, as well as boat control, safety, and drug testing. This division is directed by Mike Fetchero, vice president of Beall, Garner, Screen and Geare, who works closely with the U.S. Canoe & Kayak Team Olympic Trials director.

Closely associated with this function is that of the Support Services Division directed by Mike Logsdon of Garrett Community College. This division gives technical support to the race operations, including facilities on the site, medical and security services, transportation, and amenities.

During the two days of whitewater competition, spectators will be treated to a Star Spangled Festival on the site. Festival events are being planned by the Special Events Division directed by Dr. Steve Herman, president of GCC, and Sam Butler, interim director of the Resort Management program at the college. The festival will feature entertainment for all ages, foods, concessions, arts and crafts exhibits, and other displays.

The Finance Division of the organizing committee is responsible for revenue-

Loch Lynn Mobile Home Destroyed By Fire Thursday

The use of a torch to thaw frozen water pipes was determined to be the cause of a fire that destroyed a mobile home in Loch Lynn last Thursday afternoon.

Oakland and Deer Park fire fighters were summoned to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lewis, located along Cherry Street, at 3:51 p.m. Upon their arrival they discovered one end and the entire area underneath the trailer involved in flames. According to a spokesman for the Oakland VFD, Lewis had been attempting to thaw frozen pipes underneath the structure shortly before the alarm was received.

The trailer and a wood frame addition on the back were gutted by the blaze and the Lewises lost all of their possessions with the exception of some clothing and a few pieces of furniture. The trailer was owned by Tom Tressler, who stated that he did have insurance to help cover the loss, which was estimated to be $15,000.

Fire fighters remained on the scene for about two hours, while Kitzmiller and Terra Alta units stood by at Deer Park's and Oakland's stations, respectively. Also called to the scene was the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

Byron Discusses Health Care, Budget With Area Residents At Town Meeting

Sixth District Congresswoman Beverly B. Byron shared her concerns with Garrett County residents last week about the growing costs of health care and insurance, as well as her commitment to a balanced federal budget, during a town meeting held at the Oakland Town Hall Wednesday evening.

Addressing the economic problems now facing the nation, Byron stated, "There was a great pride in this country a year ago. Today, there is great fear -- of the unknown, of the economy, and a fear of what's going to happen to us . . . as a nation."

She also stated that the country seemed more united than ever one year ago but, now, seems "as divided as I've ever seen it."

Byron then addressed the problems she believes are being created by the dismantling of the all-volunteer armed forces. "Those people will be coming home with no place to live and no health care," she said, continuing, "Somebody's going to have to pick up the pieces."

She emphasized that the economic savings realized by that dismantling "might be short-sighted if we do it wrong or too quickly."

She also stated that she has always and continues to work for a balanced federal budget, and believes that federal programs should be cut across the board by two to three percent.

One positive factor working in Garrett County, she said, is that the unemployment figures for the year ending November 1991 (10.7%) were lower for the year ending November 1990 (11.3%). All the other counties in her district have shown an increase in unemployment, she stated.

On the subject of lay-offs, Byron stated, "I understand what fear that brings to a family -- I have three children and two of them have been laid off. . . People are concerned about being laid off who were never concerned before."

Turning to the health care crisis, Byron then explained the plans and proposals now before Congress that attempt to resolve that crisis, and prefaced by stating, "Not too long ago, I would hear that there weren't enough doctors for this community. Today, that's not the case because the hospital has attracted new doctors and there is an availability of specialists here."

In fact, she said, "We have some of the finest health

Edwards Co-Sponsoring Bill To Abolish Delegate And Senatorial Scholarships

District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards is co-sponsor of a bill introduced into the 1992 Maryland General Assembly that would abolish the delegate and senatorial scholarship program in Maryland in order to "remove politics from the selection process."

Money set aside for the scholarships would remain in the appropriate districts but would be handed out by the State Scholarship Board instead of by legislators, said Edwards.

"There is a perception that this process is not handled appropriately by the legislators," he said, indicating that charges of favoritism have been made. Edwards feels it is not the place of the legislators to hand out the awards.

Although the scholarships are to be awarded based on financial need (and although some legislators have been accused of not following that guideline) Edwards stated that "need should not always be the only factor" in selecting a scholarship recipient, and that merit and achievement should also be considered in some cases.

He noted that Maryland is the only state with this type of scholarship program.

According to the bill (HB116), monies taken from the scholarship fund would be turned over to the General State Scholarship Program or, after a certain amount of time, to the Educational Excellence Award Program.

Delegate Edwards reported that he is currently drafting bills to be introduced to the legislature and will provide information about them as soon as they are complete.

Frostburg Man Receives Five Years For CDS

Brian G. Ayers, 44, Frostburg, was sentenced to five years to the Maryland Department of Corrections for a CDS (controlled dangerous substance) charge by Judge Fred A. Thayer.

Ayers was charged with one count of distribution of marihuana and two counts of possession of marihuana. The defendant pleaded guilty to count one. The plea was accepted by the court, and sentenced Ayers to five years in the Maryland Department of Corrections, he was given credit for time served.

Charges stem from a Grand Jury investigation. The defendant distributed marihuana to a Maryland State police officer on August 15, according to the police report. Indictment was on October 11.

The defendant was represented by John R. Toston.

In other circuit court news, Gregory J. Tirado, 34, Columbia, was fined $200 plus court costs after pleading guilty to DUI (driving under the influence).

He was originally charged with DWI (driving while intoxicated), being under the influence of alcohol and drugs, and possession of Two-Group Water Rate Adopted By Sanitary Comm.

Garrett County Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel this week announced that the Garrett County Sanitary Commission has voted to implement the "two-group" rate for water systems owned and operated by the Sanitary District. Beitzel said the decision was made as a result of considerable opposition to the universal rate by certain towns and the Garrett County Commissioners.

Sewer systems owned and operated by the Sanitary District, however, will be managed under the universal rate.

Residents from the towns of Mtn. Lake Park and Loch Lynn, where the water rates would have increased most significantly if the universal rate been adopted, voiced their opposition to the universal plan, calling it unfair.

Beitzel stated that those towns will still see an increase in their water rates but not a sharp one. The

Two Remain Hospitalized As Result Of Monday Afternoon Two-Car Mishap

Two persons remain hospitalized at Garrett County Memorial Hospital as the result of injuries they sustained in a Monday afternoon mishap that occurred on the Deep Creek Lake Bridge.

A nursing supervisor said late yesterday that William J. McCutcheon, 59, Beckley, W.Va., and Gloria Casey, 51, Odenton, were both upgraded to "fair" condition after initially being listed in "guarded" condition when they were admitted Monday.

According to reports filed by the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, the accident occurred when McCutcheon, operating a 1987 Chevrolet truck, lost control of his vehicle at the Deep Creek Lake Bridge, causing the truck to travel left of center and strike head-on a 1990 Ford Bronco, operated by William M. Casey, 54, Odenton.

Police said both vehicles came to rest on the bridge wall of the southbound lane of the bridge.

Tfc. S.H. Anderson investigated the 4:30 p.m. mishap and charged McCutcheon with failure to drive right of center and a seat belt violation.

FIVE INJURED

Five persons were treated at the local hospital following a two-vehicle mishap last Thursday, one of whom was admitted, but has since been released, according to a hospital spokesman.

Admitted for injuries was Brenda L. Burgess, 31, Mtn. Lake Park. Treated and released from the hospital were Arveta M. McCrum, 58;

Wildlife Officials Tell Commissioners Black Bear Hunting Season Untimely

Although the present Board of Garrett County Commissioners have twice attempted to obtain legislation that would permit a limited black bear season in Garrett County, wildlife officials from the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) met with them this week to explain why such a move would be untimely.

"Black bears have adapted to people better than people have adapted to black bears," stated Tom Mathews, Western Regional Wildlife Biologist for DNR, who also stated that black bears are the "largest, most misunderstood wildlife species."

Mathews told the commissioners that, although some people believe the black bear to be aggressive in nature, it is actually "very shy and timid."

The county commissioners reported that calls have been received by their office concerning bear damage to crops and livestock. For that reason, they believe a bear hunting season -- at least on a limited basis -- is in order in the county.

The wildlife officials, however, are in favor of a bear hunting season only if or when they deem the complaints to be at a sufficient level to justify such a plan. "We're also in favor of the season, but we'd like to hold off for awhile," stated Mathews.

Ed Golden, Forest Wildlife Supervisor for Maryland, told the commissioners that he, along with Mathews and District Wildlife Manager Leslie Johnston, do not believe the black bear population is large enough at this point to warrant a hunting season. DNR's calculations indicate that population to be somewhere between 150 and 170 at the present time, compared to 193 in 1989.

Golden also stated that, even though a black bear hunting season might have a positive economic impact on the county, considerations should be given to the fact that the black bear population in the county is young (the average age being three) so a hunting season would negatively impact the bear population.

Mathews then explained the positive impact the black bear has had on tourism and that "no other wilderness creature better reflects the wildness of an area than the black bear. It has national recognition as tourism interest and is generally considered to have a charismatic nature. People enjoy watching them and they only exist in significant numbers in Maryland throughout Garrett County (with the highest concentration being in the northern end) and the western part of Allegany County."

Mathews continued, "Unfortunately, farmers who complain about the damage done by bears are only looking at isolated incidents and don't have the big picture." He explained that the reasoning for a bear season should be based on the facts and "not just emotionalism."

"We want your support for continuing our management plan for the black bear," he said, noting that DNR personnel have killed certain bears known to be "repeat offenders" -- ones who roam from place to place habitually destroying property, especially wildlife. Reports of black bears destroying wildlife, however, are extremely rare, according to DNR officials.

In fact, DNR statistics indicate that, during the past year in the four westernmost counties in Maryland, four complaints were heard from beehive owners, one call concerned human safety, two reports of corn damage were recorded and three others were for miscellaneous sightings. Two or three complaints were taken about livestock damage during 1990 and only several in total were heard during the last five-year period. Mathews noted that damage from bears fluctuates depending on the food supply

Local Businessman Irvin R. Rudy Succumbs Thursday

Irvin R. "Bob" Rudy, 65, Oakland, local businessman and civic leader, died Thursday, January 16, 1992, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born in Oakland, March 4, 1926, he was the son of the late Irvin R. Rudy Sr. and Mary (Bell) Rudy.

Mr. Rudy was president of I.R. Rudy's Incorporated which operated Rudy's Department Store, Oakland, and Rudy's Ski Shop, Wisp Resort, McHenry. He was a member of the Board of Directors of First United Corporation, a position he had held since 1965, and was a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church.

Mr. Rudy was also a former board member and past president of Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce with over 25 years of service to the organization. He was a former member of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and was instrumental in the development of Marsh Mountain Ski Area, which is now Wisp Resort. He was also a member of the Garrett County Development Corporation, where he served on the board of directors and was among a few local business persons who were responsible for the attraction of various industries to Garrett County.

Mr. Rudy was a U.S.

Auditions For Elephant Man Slated At GCC

The Garrett Community College Theatre Department has announced auditions for the spring semester production of The Elephant Man by Bernard Pomerance. Auditions will be held Wednesday, January 29, and Thursday, January 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the college auditorium.

According to Ben Sincell, associate professor of theatre at GCC and scenic designer for the production, the play requires a flexible cast of six to eight men and four to six women. The production dates are scheduled for March 5, 6, and 7. Interested persons may sign up for a specific audition time at the college theatre or simply show up during the scheduled audition times. No special preparation is necessary for the audition, however, persons may perform a monologue of their choice if they so desire. Previous acting experience, while desirable, is also not necessary.

The play is set in 19th century Victorian England and traces the life of John Merrick, a horribly deformed, yet intelligent and sensitive

THE ELEPHANT MAN, by Bernard Pomerance, will be presented by the Garrett Community College Drama and Theatre Department in March and auditions for that production will be held Wednesday, Jan. 29, and Thursday, Jan. 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the college auditorium. Pictured above discussing the project, left to right, are Ben Sincell, set designer; Joan Sussman, costume designer; and Micki Selvitella, director. See story for details.

Seeks Fourth Term Re-Election As Friendsville Mayor

Spencer R. Schlosnagle, the youngest mayor to ever be elected in Maryland, recently announced his intentions to seek a fourth term as mayor of Friendsville.

A graduate of Northern High School, Schlosnagle attended Garrett Community College, majoring in business administration, and Frostburg State University, majoring in political science.

Schlosnagle serves on the Tri-County Council for Western Maryland, Inc., and the Garrett County Charter Board, having been appointed to both positions by the Garrett County Commissioners. He is also a member and past vice-president of the Grace Lutheran Church Council, member of the Board of Directors for the American Red Cross, and a volunteer/member of the American Heart Association.

Schlosnagle is also the past president of the Governor's Youth Advisory Council for the state of Maryland, a former member of the Friendsville Town Council, past chairman of the Democratic Central Committee for Garrett County, and past president of the Garrett County Democratic Club.

Mayor Schlosnagle stated, "During the last two years under my administration, the town of Friendsville has realized numerous accomplishments. With the assistance of Maryland Office of Planning, a new Comprehensive Development Plan was designed for the future development of Friendsville. The State Office of Planning also assisted with the town's new zoning ordinance which was recently adopted."

Schlosnagle also reported that major improvements have been made at the Friendsville water treatment plant through grants totaling over $440,000 from the Maryland Department of the Environment and the Farmers Home Administration. The town also received over $800,000 in grant money from the Small Cities Community Development Block Grant Program and the Maryland Department of the Environment for upgrading and renovations at the wastewater treatment plant, both of which are now underway.

Mayor Schlosnagle stated that over the past several years over $2,200 in delinquent water bills have been collected under his administration. This has aided in reducing the operating fund deficit in the water and sewer department budget, he said. He cited cooperation of the town council and the citizens for the many accomplishments the town has achieved.

The mayor stated, "For a small town to have received over one million dollars in grant monies should be a source of pride to everyone in our community. The citizens of Friendsville really demonstrate a lot of pride in our town in their efforts to beautify their properties. Our annual Clean Up-Paint Up Week, sponsored each May by the Mayor and Town Council, is always a great success."

He continued, "One of my top priorities as mayor is to continue to promote Friendsville as we all work to make our community a better place in which to live and work. Together we will continue to build a bright future for Friendsville."

Schlosnagle concluded, "I feel the town has the potential to do even more, and I want to follow through with my goals for Friendsville. I want the people who stop and visit our little town to know why Friendsville is known as 'The Friendliest Little Town in Maryland' and one of the cleanest towns as well."

COMIN' DOWN THE PIKE in mid-May will be not one, but two, separate wagon trains participating in the third annual Garrett County segment of the National Pike Festival. Just like last year, Garrett County's train will depart from Savage Mountain, camp overnight at the Old Stone Bridge in Grantsville, then proceed west to the Pennsylvania state line. For the first time ever, a second train, representing Fayette County, Pa., will simultaneously assemble in Grantsville and then travel on old U.S. Route 40 to Uniontown. Festival coordinators and representatives, including several from Fayette County, met recently at Grantsville Holiday Inn for a planning session. Pictured left to right, front row, are: Ken Resh, Wagon Train Committee; Jim Rogers, NPF secretary; Dave Bicker, Casselman Valley Sportsman's Club; Kathy Schartiger, Wagon Train Committee; Dan Klotz, NPF chairman; and Walter Spears, Fayette County NPF Committee. In the second row, left to right, are: Fred Holiday, mayor of Grantsville; Steve Prosser, NPF promotion and publicity; Jack Caruthers, vice chairman; Richard Schartiger, Wagon Train Committee; Clair Folk, Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department; Carol Fortunato, secretary, Fayette County NPF; Rebecca Balantine, Fayette County NPF; and Rita Ballantine, chairman, Fayette County NPF.

Illinois Man "Fair" After Monday Mishap

An Illinois man is listed in fair condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital this week after he sustained injuries in a two vehicle mishap, Monday at 5:30 p.m.

Bradley D. Austin, 21, Marion, was a passenger in a 1989 Jeep Wrangler, operated by Kenneth E. Knox, 21, Gettysburg, Pa. Knox was reportedly travelling north on Rt. 219 when his vehicle started skidding on the icy roadway, crossed the center line and struck a 1984 Dodge Daytona operated by John D. Hetrick, 20, Oakland, according to the police report.

Hetrick, as well as other passengers in the Knox vehicle, Amy Powers, 20, Parkersburg, W.Va., and Loretta A. Isner, 20, Morgantown, W.Va. were reportedly transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, treated and released. Knox was reportedly not injured in the mishap.

Both Northern and Southern rescue squads responded.

DFC J.B. Sowers charged Knox with failure to keep right of center.

DWI Arrests

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office reported several DWI's (driving while intoxicated) this week.

Michael L. Paugh was stopped January 8, for speeding on Baltimore Avenue in Mt. Lake Park at 11 p.m. Dep. Sowers administered a sobriety test, which he failed. The officer then arrested Paugh for DWI.

Stephen R. Thomas, 29, Hyndman, Pa. was arrested for DWI January 1 on Second Avenue Loch Lynn after displaying improper registration. Det. J.D. Murphy was the arresting officer.

Thomas W. Friend, 35, Oakland, was arrested by Det J.D. Murphy on January 1 for driving erratically. A check of his driving record revealed that his license was suspended in Maryland. He signed the citation and was released into the custody of a companion.

Warrants Served

Michael R. Guthrie, 26, Bruceton Mills, W.Va., was served a bench warrant, for failure to appear in court, by Dep. McLaughlin on January 16. He was then incarcerated.

A bench warrant was issued to Kenneth W. Hawkins, 25, Accident, from Baltimore City District Court for failure to appear in court on December 30. Charges included driving an uninsured vehicle and unauthorized vehicle registration. Dep. R.P. Shaffer served the warrant.

Wellness Together Project To Be Featured At National Conference

A special project of the Wellness Together Program at Garrett County Memorial Hospital has been selected to be presented at the Art and Science of Health Promotion Conference in San Diego, Calif. "Meeting the Needs of Special Populations" is the theme of the nationwide conference, which is sponsored by the American Journal of Health Promotion and will feature presentations by the top experts in the field of preventive health.

According to hospital spokesman Mikal Moomau, the program that was selected on a nationwide competitive basis is the Wellness Together Breast Cancer Screening Program. This program provides low-cost mammogram and educational awareness with the goal of decreasing the incidence of breast cancer in the Garrett County area.

Special arrangements were made to provide on-site screening to women in the local Amish Community through the combined efforts of the Wellness Together Staff and Dr. Margaret Kaiser.

Another outreach effort, Ms. Moomau said, was providing an educational program and mammograms to the employees at Garrett Manufacturing. In this case, the International Ladies Garment Workers Union paid the cost for each interested employee to receive the screening. This was the first program like this in the state of Maryland,.

Local physicians, the radiologists, and the Radiology Department at Garrett County Memorial Hospital have been "vital components" in the success of this program, Ms. Moomau said.

The Wellness Together Breast Cancer Screening Program is a part of the Health Services Cost Review Commission Illness Prevention Program. It is offered in coordination with the American Cancer Society and Maryland Cancer Consortium.

Wellness Together Staff involved in the Breast Cancer Program are Ms. Moomau, director of community relations; Francy Mountain, Wellness Together assistant; and Kendra Stemple, health educator. Ann Sherrard, R.D. with the Garrett County Health Department, also assisted with this program.

Ms. Moomau will be making the presentation at the conference in California. Some time during the next few months the abstract of the program written for the presentation will be published in the American Journal of Health Promotion.

Changes At GCC Campus In Effect

With the beginning of spring semester classes next week at Garrett Community College, students, faculty, and staff will need to deal with some major changes in the college's operating procedures, according to a GCC spokesman.

The first of these is the no smoking policy now being enforced for all campus buildings. The decision to go smoke-free was made by the Administrative Council and the Cabinet last November, with the policy taking effect this month.

The second major change will be the Friday closings of the college. In a move brought on by recent budget rescissions, GCC President Dr. Steve Herman determined that all college buildings will be closed on Fridays, with the exception of the Continuing Education Building that will be open for special training classes.

Although the Friday closing does not essentially affect the academic schedule of credit classes which has been on a four-day week for several years, it does affect employees who normally worked five days each week, and who now must work the same number of hours in a four-day period. It will also affect student access to various college offices, the library, and gymnasium, which will all be closed under the new plan, the spokesman concluded.

Registration Still Open At Garrett

Although spring semester classes at Garrett Community College will begin Monday, January 27, students may still register for day and evening classes. The Registrar's Office will be open until 6:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday next week. Persons may call 387-6666 for information.

Oakland Police Note Arrests

Two persons were arrested by the Oakland City Police Department this past week.

Darrick Butler, 30, Prince George's County, was arrested after local police learned he was wanted in Prince George's County on two counts of trespassing.

Pfc. Shawn Groves was tipped off by McDonald's employees who said Butler had been sitting in the restaurant for six hours. Butler was taken before a court commissioner and given a $5,000 bond. He reportedly refused to sign the document and bond was then denied. He has since been picked up by the Prince George's County Sheriff's Office.

DWI ARREST

Pfc. Shawn Groves also arrested Chris R. McCrobie, 24, Deer Park, and charged him with driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

McCrobie's vehicle apparently stalled on Eighth Street in Oakland prior to his arrest.

Education Board Convenes, Elects New Officers

The Garrett County Board of Education convened last Tuesday, January 14, to elect new officers and to address a variety of items on their agenda.

New Board Officers

Carol Clark was elected to serve as president of the board for 1992. Rodney Durst will serve as vice-president this year.

Beverly Sines-Murphy declined a nomination to serve as president for the third consecutive year. Sines-Murphy, along with Bryan Paugh and Mikal Moomau, will serve as associate board members.

New Meeting Time

The school board will hold its regularly scheduled monthly meeting in the evening beginning with its February 11 meeting. Members will meet in executive session at 4:30 p.m. and the board's public meeting will begin at 7 p.m. This new meeting time was arranged to accommodate schedules of all the board members and will be initiated on a trial basis.

Chapter I Grant Application

Dr. Brenda McCartney, director of elementary education, is submitting a Chapter I Program Improvement Grant application for the amount of $2,800. According to McCartney the monies, if received, would be used for training, home packets and incentive.

CTBS Results

Paul Harr, coordinator of accountability and assessment for the school board, reported on the results of the new Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills (CTBS) that has replaced the previously standard California Achievement Test. The test shows how Garrett County student scores compare to those of all Maryland students.

Students in grades three, five and eight were tested in the areas of reading comprehension, language and math. In reading comprehension, Garrett County students scored just slightly above the average: 3.9, 0.4 and 1.2 percentage points above the state average in grades three, five and eight respectively.

County language scores were comparatively better, with yields of 2.1, 4.0 and 4.4 above the state averages in grades three, five and eight respectively.

Local students did not fare as well in math scores. While students achieved above average math scores in third grade, scores dropped dramatically by grade eight, falling well below the state average. Garrett County students scored 5.9 percentage points above, 4.0 percentage points below and 8.4 percentage points below state averages.

According to Harr, the math curriculum is a major focus of the School Improvement Program.

Staff development in the area of math, as in other areas, will be affected by the furloughs currently in place.

1991-92 School Calendar Revisions

The board accepted the recommendations of an ad hoc committee to reinstate February 7, originally scheduled for parent-teacher conferences, as a regular school day from morning until noon. Students will be dismissed at noon and parent-teacher conferences will be held in the afternoon only. The ad hoc committee was composed of presidents of each employee organization as well as other staff members.

Board Schedules Meeting with Commissioners

The Board of Education will meet with county commissioners February 11 at 3:30 p.m. to discuss the commissioners' lack of consensus regarding the Loch Lynn-Red House Capital Improvement Project.

In a recent letter addressed to Dr. Ryscavage, Garrett County school superintendent, and Sines-Murphy the commissioners stated they were unable to reach a consensus on this issue. The board had earlier recommended the two elementary schools be consolidated into one centrally located facility.

This same letter stated the commissioners did support a proposed systematic renovation of Northern High School's heating system, contingent upon having available local matching funds of no more than $76,000, as the school board had previously requested.

Budget Work Session Scheduled

The board has scheduled a budget work session for February 4 at 6:30 p.m.

Funding Resolution

The school board adopted a resolution urging state delegates to support fiscal aid to local education in 1993 and to support their commitment to the Action Plan of Education Excellence (APEX). This request for an increase in state aid is designed to reduce funding disparities throughout the state.

Issues to be Discussed with Local Delegates

School board members are scheduled to meet with local delegates on February 6 and discuss the following issues.

In the area of collective bargaining and labor relations board members will discuss strikes and binding interest arbitration.

Pertinent issues under the area of curriculum and instruction include state compulsory attendance laws. Attendance is currently compulsory until age 18 or upon completion of graduation requirements. The Maryland School Performance Program is another topic slated for discussion. The revised high school graduation requirements will also be discussed along with a state-mandated change of grade level in functional testing. Functional testing is slated to be moved from the ninth grade to the seventh. This will necessitate curriculum changes in grade school and middle school.

According to Al Ringer the above state-mandated changes will cost the local school board at least $304,400 to implement. Ringer considers this an extremely conservative estimate. According to Ringer the estimate does not take into account items such as equivalency testing and an alternative curriculum.

The proposed high school graduation requirements would do away with a general curriculum; all high school students would be enrolled in either a college preparatory curriculum or that of technology education.

Public Meeting Held Regarding School Board Head

A public meeting was held Tuesday at the Deer Park Fire Hall to voice public opinion of Michael Sines and his methods of operation as director of Student Transportation for the Garrett County Board of Education.

With relatively short notice, some 50 citizens attended and voiced questions and concerns regarding Sines and other administrative personnel from the Board of Education. A spokesperson for the group indicated that two board members had stated that they would attend, but actually were not present to answer questions.

Richard Thomas, Friendsville, was introduced and stated that because of his problems arising as a school bus contractor he started a petition to have Sines removed from his position. Thomas read numerous letters he had received from supporters. He also read several letters from doctors written to Sines requesting changes or additions of bus stops because of medical problems of children.

Thomas noted that Garrett County Commissioner Brenda Butscher had even written to Superintendent of Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage asking him to review a bus stop location. He said that all concerned chose to ignore the requests, thus "endangering the lives of many students."

A group spokesman also noted that of the six candidates running for Board of Education, only one, Helen Fitzwater, was represented. Mrs. Fitzwater's representative stated that Mrs. Fitzwater wanted to keep informed of all concerns related to the education board.

A second meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, January 28, at the Deep Creek Fire Hall, McHenry, from 7-9 p.m. It was noted that invitations will be sent to Board of Education candidates as well as the Board of Garrett County Commissioners.

The public is invited to attend.

Julie Warnick To Practice Law

After notification of successful bar passage, Julie A. Warnick was recently admitted to practice law in the State of Maryland at a December 1991 ceremony in Annapolis. Miss Warnick received her juris doctor from Thomas M. Cooley Law School, Lansing, Mich., last May.

Miss Warnick is the daughter of Henry and Loretta Hummel, Lower New Germany Road.

While attending law school, Miss Warnick served as a class representative for the law student division of the American Bar Association and acted as chair of the Volunteer Income Tax Association (VITA). She was also a member of Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity and the International Law Society. For her participation in extracurricular and community activities, she was named to Who's Who Among American Law Students.

In addition to her studies, Miss Warnick worked as a law clerk and as a claimant representative at administrative law hearings. She represented elderly clients before administrative law judges and hearing officers for a period of three years.

Miss Warnick plans to return to practice law in Maryland and Pennsylvania after she completes a seven-month teaching contract. She is currently teaching paralegal and English classes at Jackson Community College, Jackson, Mich., in the corrections program.

W.Va. Man Sentenced After Being Found Guilty of Two Theft Counts

A Horse Shoe Run, W.Va., man was sentenced in Garrett County District Court proceedings last week after being found guilty on two counts of felony theft in court proceedings last October.

David A. Leary, 26, was ordered to serve 18 months in the Garrett County Jail for each count. The sentences are to run concurrently. Judge Jack R. Turney gave him credit for time already served. The fines were waived and probation was ordered. He was also ordered to pay restitution to Nationwide Insurance and to Delbert Tallman within six months.

Leary had been arrested in Elkins, W.Va. on May 3 of last year when he stole a vehicle from T.K. Auto Sales in Elkins and then drove that stolen vehicle to Team One and took a 1989 Chevrolet for a test drive and failed to return. The local arrest was made by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

In other District Court news, an Accident man was sentenced to one year in jail (all but 90 days was suspended), fined $25, and placed on three year's probation at a sentencing hearing.

John P. Georg, 21, had been found guilty last October of a fourth-degree sex offense committed against a 15-year-old female. At that time a pre-sentence investigation was ordered and Georg was ordered to have no contact with the victim. Since the investigation was ordered, the victim wrote to the judge and told him that Georg did not force her to have sexual intercourse and that she would like to see the restriction lifted because they wanted to get married. The restriction was lifted at the sentencing hearing. The alleged victim is now 16 years old.

Georg had been arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office when they learned that Georg was having sexual relations with the juvenile female.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Leo E. Lowdermilk, 38, Grantsville, who was found guilty of felony theft.

Lowdermilk had been charged by the Maryland State Police after an investigation revealed that Lowdermilk, a State Highway Administration (SHA) employee, had removed the pins from hinges on a storage room door in the State Highway Garage, Keyser's Ridge, and removed three snowplow cutting edges and a spreader auger. He then reportedly loaded them in an SHA truck and unloaded them on a stockpile on U.S. Route 219.

When Lowdermilk learned of a police investigation he took the items back and dumped them at the front gate of the garage. He then left the area and came back and loaded them in a truck and told the supervisors at the garage that he had found the items at the front gate.

Frederick L. Gregory, 27, Oakland, was found guilty of being disorderly in public and resisting arrest. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation in the case.

Deputies from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office reportedly found Gregory lying outside an apartment at Highview Apartments speaking in loud tones. He also reportedly resisted being placed in the police vehicle.

Delbert I. Liller, 48, Deer Park, pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty of battery. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the judge.

Liller had been charged with battery by Gary G. Glotfelty after an incident in front of the Deer Park Inn in November of last year.

Paul R. Wilt, no age given on court documents, Grantsville, pleaded not guilty to assault but was found guilty by the judge. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered in the case.

Wilt had been charged with assault by Michael W. Burgan following a hunting incident near Bittinger last November.

SENTENCE REVISIONS

Several sentence revision motions were granted by Judge Turney in court proceedings last week.

Probation before judgment (PBJ) was granted to Daniel L. Compton, 25, Germantown, who had been found guilty of possession of marijuana on October court proceedings. At that time, the judge sentenced Compton to 90 days in jail (all but 48 hours was suspended), fined $100, and placed on six months of unsupervised probation.

Compton had been charged by the Department of Natural Resources Police on August 17 when Compton was found to be in possession of marijuana at his campsite.

PBJ was also granted to David J. Gallo, 19, Gypsy, W.Va., in a sentence revision hearing last week. Gallo had been found guilty of three counts of felony theft in court last August. At that time, he was given a six-month suspended jail term, fined a total of $150, and placed on six months of unsupervised probation.

Gallo had been arrested by the Maryland State Police on February 20, 1991, after he admitted to stealing two pairs of skis and a snowboard from three persons at the Wisp Resort.

PBJ was granted to Ronald L. Mountin, 43, Pittsburgh, Pa., who had initially been found guilty of having a loaded handgun in his vehicle. During those October court proceedings the gun was confiscated and Mountin was fined $50 and placed on six months of unsupervised probation.

Mountin had been arrested by the Department of Natural Resources Police on August 17, 1991, when they spotted a dark Cadillac cross the center line on the New Germany Road. When he was finally stopped, Mountin was found to be in possession of a handgun loaded with a full magazine.

Elonda Y. Foglepole was granted probation before judgment by Judge Turney last week after she had been found guilty of unauthorized use of a vehicle in November court proceedings. At that time a fine was waived and she was placed on six months of unsupervised probation.

She had been charged last October by the Maryland State Police when she allegedly mistakenly moved a vehicle belonging to Jerry Everett from Josie's Bakery to the Stray Cat Cafe. Foglepole contended that she thought the car belonged to someone she knew and was doing it as a prank.

An Expensive System...

There is a murder trial going on right now in Garrett County Circuit Court before Judge Fred A. Thayer, an event that has attracted television and print news media from all over the state. There are literally hundreds of persons involved with the case, including all of those media representatives and their staffs, both here and at their home offices, the 130-plus persons who were interviewed as potential jurors, the various law enforcement personnel, the attorneys, the court staffs, and the various friends and family members of the victims the defendant allegedly murdered.

The alleged acts of this one human being are also resulting in tremendous financial expense for many of those aforementioned involved persons, much of which must be covered by taxpayer monies. We are reasonably certain, for example, that the defendant is not paying his attorney fees. The various witnesses, law enforcement personnel, and experts who will testify during the trial must have their travel and accommodation costs covered. The members of the jury, and all potential jurors, must be paid for their time and services.

Then there is the enormous amount of time that must be spent because of the alleged actions of this man. Thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, of man-hours will be expended (in our opinion, wasted) on this case - hours that could be spent on so many other things for the benefit of society.

To top it all off, the defendant in this case has admitted to the alleged crimes. "I decided, you know, that whatever I came across, that I would just kill it and bring as much heat on myself as I could," the defendant said on a videotape after his arrest. He also said he hoped the police would kill him in a shootout "so they could put me out of my pain." Certainly, if he had gotten his wish, it would have saved all of this time and expense.

This entire scenario makes us really question our system of justice. First of all, we really don't understand why a trial is being held since he has confessed to his crimes. Secondly, it seems ludicrous that all of this valuable time and money is expended because of the alleged horrible actions of one miserable person who should be removed from society, one way or another.

Then, after a person is convicted of horrible crimes and even if he is sentenced to death, in the great majority of cases, the sentence is never carried out and the criminal simply remains a ward of the state, and is provided free room and board for the rest of his life. (Unless, of course, a loophole is found and he is set free.)

On the other hand, what are our alternatives? Organized vigilante groups? Quick and inexpensive lynchings? Giving law enforcement officials the go-ahead to simply shoot these people upon their arrest and save us all a lot of time and money?

While one or more of these options seem just and desirable in certain cases, perhaps including the present case in Garrett County Circuit Court, we simply cannot bring ourselves to support these methods that were used in this country long ago and are still employed in some nations. We affirm there is major room for improvement in our system of justice, but we believe its foundation is solid and compatible with "the America way."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Irvin R. "Bob" Rudy Jr. died January 16, 1992. He was a giant of a man in his own right, always immaculate in dress and manner, loved life and had many, many, close friends, some older then he, which he always treated with the utmost respect.

His father, Irvin R. Rudy, was from the old school and he helped mold his son as one of the best and leading men in the clothing business. After his father retired from the business because of health, Bob started changing the Rudy's Department Store into a place of the latest fashions, men's and women's. His women's department is outstanding.

His foresight in the development of Marsh Mountain Ski Area, and his ski shop, have brought thousands of skiers from the Washington, D.C., Pittsburgh, and West Virginia areas, and other places near and far.

The Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce will find it extremely hard to replace a man of his ability and foresight.

He helped spearhead the first Autumn Glory Festival in 1967 and it took until 1988 for him to be named Honorary Golden Ambassador of the 21st Autumn Glory. This honor should have come a long time ago, but he would be the last one to complain about this to anyone.

Mr. Rudy was an Army veteran of World War II, a member of the Proctor-Kildow Post 71 American Legion, a member of the Board of Directors of the First United Corporation (a position he held for 27 years), and a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland. He played in the town band, had a wonderful singing voice, was a member of Oakland Volunteer Fire Department Band, past president of Oakland-Mountain Lake Lions Club, member of Oakland Lodge 192 A.F. and A.M., Cumberland Consistory Scottish Rite Masons, Ali Ghan Shrine Temple, and Shrine Band and past director of the Court 117 Royal Order of Jesters.

Mr. Rudy's wife, Dorothy is a registered nurse, and the home she planned is a show place, which just can't be described. Their children, I. Robert, Pamela and Jeanette all graduated from Ohio University.

Their son, Bobby, has worked with his father since finishing college and will step in his father's shoes, which will be hard to fill, but this young man can and will do it.

His two daughters have done very well in their respective fields.

So we will say so long to Mr. "Bob" Rudy Jr. His family can be justly proud of him as husband, father, and very close friend.

To the Editor:

I would like to warn the citizens of Garrett County, Maryland, that, in my opinion, if they are people who believe in justice, they are living in the wrong place. My husband was incarcerated, because of a Maryland Narcotics Agent, that I have now proven perjured himself in a court of law, Maryland's court of law. My husband, who told the truth, is now sitting in Garrett County Jail awaiting his transfer to a penitentiary.

This Maryland narcotics agent gave my husband a gun, the trooper's own gun, and then said he didn't, on the stand, where he swore to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. The judge, stating that he did not believe the "gun story," believed my husband was lying, and sentenced him to time away from me and his two children, while a now proven liar is still walking free, apparently endangering lives with his handgun, which he probably still carries in his back pocket.

Internal Affairs received my claim of the trooper's misconduct, investigated, and found my allegation to be true. I am not a law expert, but is there not a punishment for perjury? Not only has nothing been done about the perjury, but, I am told, that the necessary measures have been taken against the trooper, since promoted to corporal. I am told that I have no right to know what these measures were. I was told that I could go in front of a judge, and try to get "permission" to find out what measures were taken, but it is highly unlikely.

I have never been around lawyers, courts, judges, and prosecuting attorneys before, let alone been directly involved, but I never dreamed, that once I was, it could turn into such a nightmare. "Honesty" was always the best policy where I come from.

If this is justice in the legal system of Garrett County, Maryland, I pray I never have to depend on it again.

Sincerely,
Shari L. Boylen

To the Editor:

As a candidate for council in the town of Friendsville, I'd like to present my views, platform, opinion, and qualifications so that the voters of Friendsville can clearly see my position.

Honestly, I don't know if the services of the town are handled with maximum efficiency. If elected I aim to find out and take part. What I do know is that the town government officials run the business of making sure that we receive water, sewer service, laws made, budgets maintained, streets swept, etc. These services come to us at the expense of tax money and mayor and town councils lowly-compensated, managerial, time. I salute them for their efforts.

On the other hand, total selfless, humble public service is not a very strong trait of recent administrations in my opinion. With this thought, I hope the forthcoming comments are taken in concert with good intentions.

I think the town is being operated like a family business. That's fine, but not all of us are in the family. I think we the people want a revival of impartial, non-prejudice order in our government. I talk to people on the streets and in restaurants. Their complaints of town government decisions can mostly be described as partial and prejudice. By the way, the complaint list is long and getting longer. I think one of the ways to liberate Friendsville of this petty dictatorship would be to take issues to the people's court. In other words, publicize those embarrassing intentions of council before they're voted on; let the people decide. This problem is not major, it's just a simple clean-up operation. There is more to keeping the town of Friendsville clean than just sweeping the streets and filtering Oakland's sewage out of our drinking water. I want to be a custodian of democracy, a "watchdog"; that's my platform.

My qualifications are simple. I love Friendsville, I'm governmentally literate, and I cannot be bought, bribed, manipulated, or intimidated. I'm totally independent.

If elected, I do swear that I will support the constitution of the United States, and that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the state of Maryland and support the constitution and laws thereof; and that I will, to the best of my skill and judgment, diligently and faithfully, without partiality or prejudice, execute the office of council, according to the constitution and laws of this state.

Thank you,

Jess Whittemore

P.S. Meaning no disrespect to fellow candidates and running the risk of sounding selfish, please vote for me, and me alone for the office of council! This will increase my chances in an arena where I am clearly at a disadvantage.

To the Editor:

Isn't our First Amendment to the Constitution wonderful? Without freedom of the press, most Garrett Countians wouldn't have any idea that their tax dollars help the Allegany County school system as well as their own. Thanks to a certain letter sent to you last week, my fellow taxpayers see some of the abuses of their hard-earned dollars. I wonder if the people of Finzel and Bloomington look at the fact our system pays, according to Board of Education information, over 247 thousand dollars for 147 students for an out-of-county education as a right or a luxury. It seems some feel it is their right.

They decided themselves to live in their area. Shouldn't they have taken into account that any new (or old) board could reverse any earlier decision at anytime, especially during economic hard times? How can anyone justify paying the money we are paying for these transfers when we have a system of qualified personnel here? Maybe some should move directly to Allegany County if that system is so much better. That is what teachers are hearing: "If you don't like it, get out."

I have no doubts it would be a difficult change for those youngsters (leaving old friends, an extended bus ride, etc.). But is this system here to benefit a few and hinder the majority, or the opposite? Please don't misunderstand me, I feel for those kids. In fact, if it was in the tens of thousands and not the hundreds of thousands of dollars, then we shouldn't alter the process.

However, in a period of "cutting the fat," doesn't this situation seem "fatty" to you?

It seems easier said than done when some of us say "we need to all make sacrifices during these hard times." Apparently, some feel the sacrifices should be made by the other guy.

To the Editor:

I have a concern about what I feel is a general lack of communication by the Board of Education and their administrators. There have been numerous letters to the editor over the past several weeks concerning exorbitant pay for certain administrative positions at the Board of Education. One position in particular seems to be coming under severe criticism is that of Director of Transportation. I would like to propose the following simple solution to the Board of Education.

Define what the Director of Transportation's job is and let the public know why the position requires a pay check of almost $60,000 per annum. I am sure that once the public and concerned parents know what the special requirements of the job are they will realize that maybe the position might even be underpaid. Of course there is an inherent danger concerning too much clarity in job descriptions and positions. It is possible that the public will decide that the position of Director of Transportation ($57,000) should be Secretary for Transportation and paid at the current Board rate of $15,000.

From what I have read in the paper, it seems that unless Mr. Sines has some secret undercover job at the Board, this position could be handled by any one of several very competent secretaries in the Board office.

The administrators talk of "Teacher Accountability" which is great, however let's start with a little "Administrative Accountability." Put another way -- What is it that you guys do to deserve the biggest pay checks in Garrett County?

Sincerely,
Richard E. Edwards Jr.
Oakland

To the Editor:

Yes, we have also had our own dealings with Mr. Sines! Unpleasant, at that. We were denied a bus stop for our two girls, ages 6 and 8. He said that there was a stop before ours and that the two would be too close together. They have to be at least 100 to 150 feet apart.

I guess it doesn't matter to him that it is much too dangerous for children to walk along Table Rock Road. Mettiki traffic and coal truckers keep the road heavily traveled, and all too often the 30 m.p.h. speed limit is ignored.

Mr. Sines' solution? To have our girls walk up a rather steep hill, 2/10 of a mile, to an old stop. The bus no longer stops there because the two high school students drive to school. For the safety of my children, I drive them to the stop that is before our driveway. This stop is directly under high-tension power lines. Were my children to walk to it, they would have to cross the road, and cross an 8-foot culvert. What if they met an oncoming coal truck, or other speeding vehicle, while crossing the creek? Fall down into the creek, or be struck?

Apparently Mr. Sines doesn't care. My husband said to Mr. Sines during a phone conversation, "Buddy, I'd like to meet you in person, and take you there and show you where my girls have to walk to get on the bus." Mr. Sines immediately got defensive and said that was a threat to him! There's no talking to the man! He has an attitude and an ego to go with it.

We thought we were really getting somewhere when the owner of the bus called, especially since he and my husband are acquaintances. The bus owner knew where we lived, and that we would again be hearing from Mr. Sines, because "he is the boss." We got a letter in the mail, stating that they could not issue a stop at our driveway because it would make two stops within 150 feet. Is that a legitimate claim?

About the petition -- sign it!!! Also, Sylvan Manufacturing wants the petition at their business to circulate among the workers, and for customers to sign. We all need to work together to change our school system, even if it is by one person at a time!

Goodbye, Mr. Sines! Our children's safety depends on it!

Sincerely,
Lawrence W. Gregory Jr.

Senior Citizens' Menus

"Eating Together" sites are now operating two days per week and offer only two menu selections per week. The menu for the week of January 27-31 is as follows:

Day 1 - Cranberry juice, baked ham or turkey, baked sweet potato, peas, white bread, chocolate or yellow cake.

Day 2 - Sunshine salad, chili w/ground beef & tomatoes, corn bread, bread pudding.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

The Mind Wanders

Miss Information On Spelling
by Pam Ashby

Where have all the spellers gone? Is the art of spelling a word correctly a lost art? Have dictionaries been banned? What gives here? I have, for a number of years, collected various misspellings from various sources, including newspapers, police reports, written statements of criminals and crime victims, and press releases from public officials and educators. I can't help but share them with John Q. Public. They'll either amuse you or make your blood boil because I quoted you. The importance of the forthcoming make-believe story is that it just may educate someone. I borrowed all the misspelled words from my very real collection, See if you can ketch 'em all.

One day I was walking down the strete and noticed some writeing on a wale. The sentiments expressed were pretty graffic. I ran threw the wodes twords the wale. It be came clear that I didn't want to read any more of those volger sayings cause they were nasty. I ran up the strete and witnessed a promble situation, Some police officers were in persuit of some vandles. One of the officers waved a gun in their presents and a vandle yelled, "You can't full me, cop. I noe what your up to. My buddy drinks heavely and makes alot of noice, but we didn't do anything." The officers grabed the vandles and thew them to the grounded. One of the vandles ran away and stold a vehicle. He drove to the next town where he took a outher vehickle. He totally ecnored all the stop sines. He broke into a residents and stold a rifal. He kept driveing fast and struck an steep embankment. The vehickle overturned and came to rest in a river bead. The vandle was kilt instently. He was baried in a cemetary. Not one sole came to his funereal or internment. His club didn't even send flours cause their was no money in the treasure.

Now, test yourself. How many errors did you find? Here is the corrected version of the story.

One day I was walking down the street and noticed some writing on a wall. The sentiments expressed were pretty graphic. I ran through the woods toward the wall. It became clear that I didn't want to read any more of those vulgar sayings because they were nasty. I ran up the street and witnessed a problem situation. Some police officers were in pursuit of some vandals. One of the officers waved a gun in their presence and a vandal yelled, "You can't fool me, cop. I know what you're up to. My buddy drinks heavily and makes a lot of noise, but we didn't do anything." The officers grabbed the vandals and threw them to the ground. One of the vandals ran away and stole a vehicle. He drove to the next town where he took another vehicle. He totally ignored all the stop signs. He broke into a residence and stole a rifle. He kept driving fast and struck a steep embankment. The vehicle overturned and came to rest in a river bed. The vandal was killed instantly. He was buried in a cemetery. Not one soul came to his funeral or interment. His club didn't even send flowers because there was no money in the treasury.

I counted over 50 errors, including some repeats. How many arrows . . . er . . . ah . . . errors did you find. If you found over 50, go hug your nearest dictionary. Well, till (until is the correct word here, folks) next time, keep smiling and keep spelling.

Two-Car Mishap

John M. Boone, 10; Lisa M. Thomas, 24; and Herbert B. Paugh, 23; all of Oakland.

According to reports filed by the Maryland State Police, the accident occurred when McCrum, operating a 1991 Ford Taurus, was traveling south and was blinded by blowing snow and nearly stopped in the northbound lane of U.S. Route 219, north of Oakland. A 1982 Buick Regal, operated by Thomas, failed to see the McCrum vehicle in the northbound lane in which she was traveling and struck the McCrum vehicle head on. Upon impact, the McCrum vehicle was pushed back into the southbound lane. The Thomas vehicle came to rest in a field.

Tfc. Scott MacLane investigated the 2 p.m. mishap for state police and charged McCrum with failure to keep right of center.

The injured were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Also dispatched to the scene were Oakland volunteer firemen.

FALLS ASLEEP

Falling asleep behind the wheel and alcohol were contributing factors in a Saturday night accident that reportedly sent one man to the local hospital, although a nursing supervisor could not confirm the injured man was seen at that facility.

Reportedly injured was James M. Tucker, 35, Mtn. Lake Park, according to reports filed by the Maryland State Police.

The accident occurred when Tucker, operating a 1986 Dodge Ram south on the Loch Lynn-Gorman Road, fell asleep, losing control of his vehicle which traveled off the right side of the road and struck a guardrail. The vehicle then overturned and slid on its left side before coming to rest in the roadway. Tucker told police he fell asleep.

Tfc. Scott MacLane investigated the 9:55 p.m. accident and charged Tucker with driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs and with negligent driving.

RV MISHAP

A Baltimore man remained listed in "fair" condition Wednesday at Garrett County Memorial, according to a nursing supervisor, after he was injured in a snowmobile mishap early Saturday morning.

Injured in the 12:01 a.m. accident was Richard J. Leckert, 45, Baltimore.

State police said the accident occurred when Leckert, operating a 1987 Arctic Cat at the Youghiogheny Mountain Resort, make a 90-degree left turn and overturned. Leckert was ejected.

He was taken by private vehicle to the hospital. Tfc. J.K. Moore investigated for police.

STRUCK BY CHAIN

A Colora man was treated and released from the local hospital Saturday morning after he was struck by a chain cross link that dislodged from an unsuspecting Garrett County Roads truck.

Frank A. Morgan, 43, was operating a 1988 Dodge pickup south on U.S. Route 219 near King's Run Road. The county roads truck, operated by Harley W. Stemple, 57, Oakland, was traveling north when a chain cross link flew off the truck and struck Morgan's vehicle in the windshield. The cross link continued on through the windshield and struck Morgan in the head and then ripped through the vehicle's headliner.

The county truck driver was unaware of the mishap and continued on. No charges have been filed by Tfc. R.T. Wilson, who investigated the 10:50 a.m. mishap.

REAR-END COLLISION

Stemple was also involved in another accident earlier that morning when his county truck was struck in the rear by a skidding vehicle.

State police said slick roads, high winds, and blowing snow created hazardous driving. The accident occurred when Stemple's truck was stopped in the southbound lane of Md. Rt. 495 at the Beachy Road. Thomas L. Spiker, 30, Swanton, operating a 1990 Chevrolet pickup, came upon the truck and attempted to stop, but began skidding and struck the truck in the rear.

Neither Stemple, Spiker, nor a passenger in the Spiker vehicle, Anthony W. Schrock, 3, were injured in the 7 a.m. mishap, according to a report filed by Tfc. R.T. Wilson.

Army veteran of World War II and was a member of Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion. He was a member and past president of the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, member of Oakland Lodge 192, AF&AM; a member of Cumberland Consistory Scottish Rite Masons, Ali Ghan Shrine Temple and Shrine Band, a member and past director of Court 117, Royal Order of Jesters, a member of the Mountain City Band and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department's Oktoberfest Band.

He was a key figure in organizing the first Autumn Glory Festival in 1967 and was named Honorary Golden Ambassador of the 21st annual Autumn Glory Festival in 1988. He served as the first chairman of the festival's Grand Feature Parade which continues to be a highlight of the festival. Prior to the festival's beginnings, Mr. Rudy was among those who organized the first train and bus tours to Garrett County for autumn sightseeing as well as winter skiing.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy (Miller) Rudy; one son, I. Robert Rudy, Oakland; two daughters, Pamela Jean Rudy, Alexandria, Va.; and Jeanette Fitzwater, Mtn. Lake Park; one sister, Margaret Niles, Annapolis; and three grandchildren.

Friends were received in the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, where a Masonic memorial service was conducted Saturday by Oakland Lodge 192, AF&AM at 6:30 p.m.

A funeral service was conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church with the Rev. Robert Johnson and the Rev. Manning Smith officiating.

Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

The family suggests that memorials take the form of contributions to Hospice of Garrett County, Fourth Street, Oakland, Md. 21550.

Major Renovation Of Victorian House In Oakland Nearing Completion

Renovations are nearly complete on a nearly century-old Oakland landmark, converting the stately Victorian home to professional offices. The turreted, stucco house at 323 E. Oak St., across from St. Paul's United Methodist Church, has undergone a year-long restoration process, updating it to modern standards.

From the street, little has changed in the profile of the building since its construction in 1895 by Mary Bradford, according to the Maryland State Hall of Records and a 1906 pictorial map of Oakland. The home has seen the introduction of automobiles, street signs, and stoplights to the town of Oakland, as well as a municipal water and sewer system.

A hand-dug well remains on the renovated property, under the back porch, and restored Ford Model T and Model A cars can still be found parked at the home.

Relatively few changes have been made to the house in its 97 years. Shortly after World War I, the stucco exterior was applied over the original tongue and groove siding. The stucco work is believed to have been ordered by the McIntire family, who owned the house for 40 years. This original stucco is still evident today, with only a few slight cracks on the surface, to the surprise of local builders.

The recent modernization to the home includes insulation, as well as new wiring and plumbing throughout. A new green-shingled roof was added, which proved to be the most difficult aspect of the restoration work.

Scaffolding was specially constructed to match the contour of the tower roof, presenting quite a spectacle downtown last summer. Topping off the roof, a copper 'dunce cap,' was constructed to the exact specifications of the original by a local tinsmith.

The old garage was saved by the building of an abutment wall, which also provided additional parking spaces. A parking lot has also been added, accessed by South Fourth Street, which is scheduled to be paved this spring.

History was preserved inside the home as well. The foyer reflects the Victorian era with cut-glass and stained-glass windows, an antique wall mirror, and a showcase filled with reproduction porcelain dolls.

The woodwork throughout the house is also reminiscent of the late Victorian period style. The original brass handles and locks were polished and restored, requiring new keys to be custom made.

Much of the lighting in the house is also original, with century-old gas lights transformed to electric.

The home was first converted to professional offices several years ago by the county commissioners, who maintained five county offices on the property. The present owner, Dr. William G. Savage, will soon relocate his 26-year-old dental practice to the first floor of the building. Two office suites remain on the second floor.

AARP Free Tax Service Available

Volunteers who have been trained through the IRS and certified to meet the IRS standards will provide free state and federal tax return services for seniors and low- to moderate-income families, according to a spokeswoman from the Area Agency on Aging.

The services will begin January 28 and continue through April 15 at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. The schedule will be as follows: Tuesdays - 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.; Wednesdays - 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.; and Fridays - 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. The library office hours are open to walk-ins on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Tax-Aid volunteers will also travel to nursing homes, hospitals, or senior centers upon request. Arrangements may be made with the nutrition site managers to have the volunteers meet participants at the sites. Arrangements may also be made to have the volunteers meet participants at the Area Agency on Aging office on Second Street in Oakland by contacting the Agency office at 334-5856.

Tax volunteers returning for the second year are: Arzella Parsons, Betty Foy, Nordeck Shaffer, and Bea Crosco, area coordinator. Joining the staff this year will be Bob Hughes and Lee DeBerry.

Information and appointment requests may be obtained by calling the Agency office at 334-5856 or 334-9431.

Byron Discusses

care available here in the U.S., but it is extremely expensive."

Byron then explained that Congress is looking at the health care system now in place in Canada but "we're not sure it can meet the needs of the U.S. because there are distinct differences." For example, she said, Canada has 11 sites for open heart surgery while the U.S. has 793, and there are 31 sites for cardiac catheterization in Canada and 1,234 in the U.S. She added that the population of Canada (2.5 million) could fit into the state of California.

That proposal under consideration is known as "Medicare For All," and would be paid for by the taxpayers.

Another proposal is the "fully public, single-payer health care" or "Rousseau" proposal, that would include comprehensive benefits. If approved, the plan would be administered by state governments under federal guidance, said Byron. It would increase employer payroll taxes by six percent, corporate taxes by 38 percent, and an increase would also be seen in personal income taxes.

With approximately 34 million people in the country with no health insurance, Byron stated, "We need to make sure there is minimum health care coverage for those individuals."

Byron also assured county residents that, although federal programs that have been providing funding for local capital improvement projects have been cut or eliminated, "good administrators of those programs will find innovative ways to meet the commitment they're responsible for meeting."

Byron's message was followed by a question and answer period.

She said that complaints about the black bear have ranged from crop damage to "people just being afraid of them."

Commissioner Braskey told the wildlife biologists that if a hunting season for black bears could not be initiated then residents should at least be financially compensated for any damaged incurred by bears.

Wildlife Officials

available during any given year.

Black bears, he said, are primarily plant eaters.

He agreed that bears can do damage but that part of the management plan for black bears includes "educating people about how to live with bears. He also noted that six planning workshops were held -- one at Garrett Community College -- that were hosted by DNR to receive feedback and concerns about the black bear. "One thing we heard consistently was that people would only be in favor of a hunting season if the bear population becomes too high," said Mathews.

The Black Bear Management Plan for 1992-2001 lists its two main goals as: 1) to manage the black bear as a native wildlife species in Western Maryland where suitable habitat exists and is compatible with other land uses, and 2) to manage black bears in order to provide wildlife recreational opportunity.

The plan also states, "Present generations of Marylanders have lived during an era when bear populations have been very low, and bear sightings were a hot news item. As bears have become more common in the past decade, we have witnessed a situation where the bear has adapted to man's activity much better than man has adapted to the bear. There are many myths and misconceptions about black bears. One of the biggest problems facing the future of black bears in Maryland is the lack of education concerning bear biology and ecology. Public support will be of major importance to a successful bear management program."

When Garrett County Commission Chairperson Brenda Butscher was asked if she perceived the black bear issue differently as the result of DNR's presentation, she stated that she is still "very much in favor" of implementing a limited two-day black bear hunting season.

"My constituents have indicated to me they want this," she said, adding, "This is the first I've heard from anyone being against the bear season -- of course, you'd expect that from DNR."

A public meeting about the black bear is scheduled to take place Tuesday, February 4, at Northern High School.

Water Rate

water rate in Mtn. Lake Park, for instance, will be increased from $2 per 1,000 gallons to $2.30 per 1,000 gallons. All other systems will see either a slight decrease or a small increase.

Regarding the fixed quarterly charge, however, the Mtn. Lake Park rate will increase from $7.20 to $12 while all other system users will pay a $36 quarterly rate. The Mtn. Lake Park Water Company has requested that the Sanitary Commission investigate the possibility of a $10 quarterly rate, and Beitzel stated that the commission will "work with Mtn. Lake Park to structure what is best suited to the community."

The Sanitary Commission favored the universal rate because it provided some relief to residents of Shallmar and Kitzmiller, where rates for the small number of users are unaffordably high for residents there. Commission Chairperson Dorothy Leuba, at a recent meeting with the Garrett County Commissioners, stated that residents in those towns would "simply not pay their bills" if the separate rate (the rate in use at that time) were to continue.

In addition to the opposition voiced about the universal rate, Beitzel stated that the Sanitary Commission was also concerned about the possibility of a "legal challenge."

"We don't want to cause problems to that extent -- it would cost everyone a lot of time and money," he said.

Beitzel reported that all sewer systems owned and operated by the Sanitary District (excluding those systems that are contractually operated by the district) will have a fixed quarterly user rate of $49.75.

gaining activities, including sponsorships and grants, and sales of tickets, merchandise, and advertising. Lowell Bender, director of Continuing Education at the college, is coordinating sales of tickets to the Olympic Trials. Barbara Trask, now serving as administrative coordinator for the event, is in charge of merchandise, souvenir program, and related advertising sales.

The Promotion Division, directed by Joan B. Crawford of GCC, will handle all publicity for the Olympic Trials, including press releases, flyers, brochures, posters, radio and television coverage, and presentations to community organizations.

In addition to these five organized divisions, several local persons are heading other key functions on the administrative staff, and meeting regularly with the committee. They are Kathy Johnson, volunteer coordinator; Fred Bolton, V.I.P. coordinator; and Fred Stemple, ceremonies coordinator.

Officials from various state departments and agencies also come to Garrett County for biweekly meetings. They are: Larry Maxim, manager of Savage River State Forest; Lt. Col. Walter Sumpter, from the Maryland National Guard; George Small, assistant district engineer for state roads; Carolyn Matthews, Department of Natural Resources; and Bill Graham, coordinator of special services.

REGISTRATION AMNESTY
Are you or your Child's babysitter caring for children illegally?
Maryland law requires that a person must be registered with the child care administration to accept pay for caring for one or more children who are not relatives out of the child's home on a regular basis. There is a fine of up to $1,000 for breaking the law.
But in January and February 1992 a person can apply to become registered with the state while still caring for children and get immunity from fines.
To get free training and special help with the registration process and find out why its good business to provide legal child care,

NEARLY NEW SHOP RECEIVES MAJOR DONATION - Local business proprietor and realtor Bill Weissgerber recently donated over $1,400 worth of new clothing to the Nearly New Shop of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Oakland. The clothing, which totalled 400 pieces, included winter hats, vests, flannel shirts, sweatshirts, thermal underwear, and other garments. Weissgerber donated it from his local business, Reel Video and Video Connection. "We are in the video business, not the clothing business," Weissgerber said. "With as many needy people out there as there are now, we feel that this donation will really make a difference." Weissgerber is pictured above with Genevieve Schleigh, left, and Sandra Tasker, Nearly New Shop volunteers. The shop is located along Liberty Street in Oakland, adjacent to St. Matthew's Church.

On Dean's List

Deer Park resident Theresa Humberson, a graduate of Southern High School, has been named to the Dean's List at Shepherd College for the fall semester. Humberson is an art major.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, a student must maintain a 3.2 grade point average for the semester and carry at least 15 hours of course work or be in the professional teaching block.

Located in Shepherdstown, W.Va., Shepherd College is a state-supported institution offering two- and four-year degrees in liberal arts, business administration, teacher education, and the social and natural sciences. Shepherd is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Building Employee Productivity Class Slated At GCC

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College is offering a class which focuses on techniques for building a productive work force.

"Building Employee Productivity" is designed to help each participant explore and strengthen motivational and leadership skills that will help assure a productive, motivated work force, according to a spokesperson.

Key topics include: basic motivational techniques; the dynamics of effective leadership; developing team building skills; delegating to motivate; using situational leadership; and the components of personal change. The class will meet on February 4 and 11 from 6:15 to 9:30 p.m.

The class is designed to provide the skills and knowledge that will be most practical and valuable in meeting the diverse needs of the employees, managers and owners of area businesses.

The spokesperson stated, "New technology and competitive forces are bringing about tremendous challenges for the small business in today's world. Increased emphasis on customer service means that employees need to be more responsive than ever before. The heightened awareness and skills of today's employees require new types of management. Each of these factors has a great impact on the productivity and profitability of today's companies."

Since space is limited, those interested in these classes should register immediately. To obtain information on any of these classes or other business classes, call Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 180.

Cancer Support Group To Meet

The Cancer Support Group will meet Tuesday, January 28, at 7 p.m. at the board room of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The subject for the evening will be the Power of Attorney for Medical Care and the Living Will.

Speakers for the meeting will be Bernadette Simmons, assistant director of nurses at Garrett Memorial, and Mary VanSickle, director of patient and family services at Garrett Memorial.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Thank You

The Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville would like to thank these people, businesses, and organizations for their contributions to the Town's Christmas Decoration Fund.

GRANTSVILLE

WOODMEN MEET

Woodmen of the World Lodge No. 41 held its first meeting of the new year on January 13, with Alice Younkin, president presiding at the Woodmen hall on Miller Street.

A letter from State Manager Ford was shared for the activities of the new year. Installation of officers was held by Walter Younkin for the new officers for 1992. They are as follows: President, Phyllis Bender; vice president, James Gutherie; treasurer, Charles C. Bender; secretary, Thomas Bender; escort, Scott Pope; watchman, Louise Butler; sentry, Janis Pope; musician, Patsy Pope; and trustees, Walter Younkin, Harold Butler, and Lillian Gutherie.

Alice Younkin was appointed escort for the installation service. Lillian Gutherie is also a jurisdiction musician.

Mrs. Younkin thanked the group for their "help and kindness" during her term of president and presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Bender. Mrs. Younkin also won the door prize. Thomas Bender presented the president's award to the outgoing president.

The next meeting will be on Monday evening, Jan. 27, at 8 p.m., and all members are welcome.

500 PARTIES

The American Heart Association drive is underway in Grantsville, as 500 card parties are planned for the American Legion for February 1, 15, and 29. The parties are open to all who wish to attend. Mrs. Fran Steiringer is the chairman and the refreshments will be served by Broadwater Trucking, headed by Mary Alice Broadwater. Calls have been made for gifts for the parties. Lois Durst has made an afghan to be raffled off.

Homes and businesses will be visited in the near future. Mary Catherine Wiley will be working the Jennings area along with Chad Campbell on the Maple Grove Road. The Amish Road will be worked by Orpha Wiseman and the Durst Road by Rheta Durst. Route 219 to the Pennsylvania line will be worked by Ernest and Violet Beachy, Chestnut Ridge Road by William Merrill, Route 40 to Keyser's Ridge and Zehner Road by Goldie Beachy, Dorsey Hotel and Pea Vine Road by Irene Diller, Route 669 and Hemback Road by Elizabeth Fullerton, Grant Street by Phyllis Bender, Route 40 East to Hilltop Fruit Market by Thomas Bender and boys, west end of Grantsville, first part of 669 by Alice Younkin, east end of Grantsville and Starner Homes by Mary Miller, New Germany Church, Route 495 and Shade Hollow Road by Dorothy Wilburn, Upper New Germany Road by Frances Forney, Lower New Germany Road by Allison Miller, Meyersdale Road by Kim Anello, and Casselman Adventures and Senior Citizens by Ruth Harning.

The monies should be turned in by March 1. Anyone who wishes may send their donations to either Phyllis Bender or Alice Younkin.

Amnesty Given For Illegal Child Care Providers

The Department of Human Resources' Child Care Administration began an amnesty program January 1, 1992 for people who provide illegal child care in Maryland.

Under Maryland law, people caring for children who are not related to them in their homes for pay on a regular basis must be registered with the state.

Last year the General Assembly passed legislation that provided an amnesty period (January 1 to February 29) for unregistered family child care providers in Maryland.

Prior to the amnesty program, if the state licensing office (Department of Human Resources' Child Care Administration) received a complaint that someone was providing unregistered child care, the person could face a possible fine of up to $1,000.

"This amnesty program is designed to encourage illegal providers who are caring for children to register," said Carolyn W. Colvin, Secretary, Department of Human Resources. "A person can receive all the benefits of becoming a registered provider without losing income or disrupting a child's care."

There are about 11,000 registered child care providers in Maryland.

Unregistered providers participating in the amnesty program may continue caring for children, be immune from fines and get free training and special help with the registration process.

For additional information about the amnesty program, persons may call their local Child Care Administration office or 1-800-766-4900.

GOBA Members Meet; Discuss Ad Campaigns

Members of the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA) met January 14 and among the topics of discussion were various proposed advertising campaigns.

GOBA will again sponsor a coupon book and there is space available for 40-50 advertisers. The cost is $50 for each advertiser. The books will then be sold for $5. Businesses wishing to place coupon ads are asked to contact Marvin's Men's Wear by February 29. The books will be available for Memorial Day.

The Oakland group is also planning to conduct an Unsidewalk Sale in early February. GOBA hopes to make it an annual event, such as the August Sidewalk Sale.

WXIE/WMSG station manager, Paul McCloud, submitted information on a Garrett County Gold Card that shoppers could use at participating GOBA businesses to obtain discounts on merchandise or services.

McCloud explained that the card could be "non-specific" in nature and that the promotions could change on a weekly or monthly basis. He added that the proposed 5,000 cards would be given to customers free of charge and that the cost of printing them ($500) could be shared, with GOBA picking up half the tab and WXIE/WMSG picking up the other half.

He noted that WXIE/WMSG would reserve the right to be the sole radio station involved in the promotion, but would entertain ideas involving the use of newspapers. He said if newspapers were used they would have to pick up their share of the promotion.

McCloud further explained how merchants could participate in the promotion which is now in its planning stages.

GOBA members also discussed the problem of merchants and businesses not keeping consistent hours which sends shoppers to other areas where the hours are consistent. A proposal was made for each GOBA member to advertise his store hours.

Parking tickets for all-day parking offenders was also discussed. It was noted that there is a growing problem of Oakland employees utilizing parking meters all day, discouraging shoppers from stopping in downtown Oakland. It was suggested that the Oakland Police Department or the Oakland Town Council address the problem.

Members Nick Brown and Cathy Clocker presented ideas to help boost the morale of the Garrett County teachers and students. They suggested that perhaps a special week be assigned for that purpose and that businesses mention them in their ads.

Paul McCloud is to schedule the Pittsburgh Pirate Parrot for the annual August Sidewalk Sale.

JoAnn Vent announced a meeting at Southern High School on January 23 at 7 p.m. regarding Broadford Elementary, Southern Middle, and Southern High schools. She encouraged all members to attend.

The next GOBA meeting will be held at the Oakland Country Club.

PLANNING A SOUP LUNCHEON and house plant sale for February 7 are the members of the Mountain Laurel Garden Club. The events will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church parish hall on Liberty Street. Pictured left to right are committee members Ann Englander, arrangements; Bonnie Fedde, publicity; and Kathie Smith, arrangements. Committee members not present for the photo were Ferne Belmonte and Diane Thayer. The public is invited to the luncheon and plant sale.

New Area Code Being Used By Most Marylanders

Maryland's new 410 area code, introduced two months ago to provide an additional supply of telephone numbers in the state, is being used by Maryland phone callers in growing numbers, according to the C&P Telephone Company.

Recent C&P studies have shown that over a third of all calls made from within the state to numbers in the 410 area code are dialed using 410. That percentage has grown significantly since the new area code went into effect in November.

"These studies show outstanding cooperation and understanding on the part of Marylanders," said C&P spokesman Al Boyer. "Even on day one, November 1, 13 percent of the calls placed to the eastern part of the state were using 410 correctly. In other areas that have undergone area code splits over the last five years, that percentage was not reached until calls to the incorrect area code were blocked.

"We were extremely pleased with the initial response, but even better is the fact that the numbers have steadily and consistently improved," he said. As of January 14, 38 percent of all calls from within Maryland to 410 were using the correct area code.

"Marylanders have been good about getting the word out to those who call them from elsewhere, too. Roughly 70 percent of all long distance calls from outside the state to 410 were made using the right area code."

In addition to the dialing studies, a recent customer awareness survey showed that 99 percent of all business customers and 92 percent of the residence customers interviewed were aware of the new area code.

"In other words, while nearly everyone knows about the new area code, our studies show that many people aren't dialing it yet," said Boyer. "When we asked them 'why,' the people we surveyed said they either didn't have a reason or occasion to use the new area code, or they just haven't gotten out of the habit of using 301."

Permissive dialing will end on October 31, 1992. At that time, customers who use the wrong area code will receive an instructional announcement advising them of the error. They will then have to redial their calls, explained Boyer. "We're encouraging all customers to learn to dial correctly now, so they can save themselves some time and aggravation this fall," he said.

The 410 area code serves the Baltimore metropolitan area, the entire Eastern Shore, Calvert County and the majority of Carroll, Howard and Anne Arundel counties. Area code 301 remains in effect throughout the rest of the state, including Southern Maryland counties west of the Patuxent River, Prince George's and Montgomery counties, most of Frederick County and all the western Maryland counties.

Dr. Villanueva received his medical degree from the University of the East in the Philippines in 1972, and then went into a residency program and family practice. He underwent a four-year training program in general surgery at Saint Joseph's Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. He completed his Otolaryngology, Head and Neck residency in 1981 at the greater Baltimore Medical Center in association with Johns Hopkins.

He is Board Certified in his speciality by the American Board of Otolaryngology.

What Do These Specialists Do?

They perform a great variety of surgical procedures in the daily treatment of the ear, nose, sinuses, pharynx, larynx, nasal cavity, neck, thyroid salivary gland, bronchial tubes, and esophagus, as well as cosmetic surgery of face and neck. Many Otolaryngologists are proficient in facial plastic surgery. This is important for reconstructing the nose, ears, jaw, and facial area, to restore features and appearance. Virtually all ear, nose, and throat specialists routinely handle cases such as adnoidectomies, tonsillectomies, ear tubes, nose bleeds, infected mastoids and sinus disease.

Using moderate instruments such as an Endoscope, many Otolaryngologists perform intricate sinus surgery to help alleviate blockage and infections.

He is opening his office in Oakland on February 3, 1992.

PE To Assist Needy Customers With Energy Bills

The Potomac Edison Company, in cooperation with The Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., will help customers in need pay energy bills this winter.

Through the Community Energy Fund, the company's stockholders will match 50 cents to every dollar contributed to participating agencies, up to program limits, for use in paying household electric bills.

According to Potamac Edison's Western Division Manager Nancy Neff, the Community Energy Fund will provide assistance throughout the winter heating season and will become a yearly program.

"Potomac Edison recognizes that some of its customers may have trouble paying higher heating bills during the winter months," says Ms. Neff. "We've instituted the Energy Fund to help any customer who may have a problem for whatever the reason. By working with the Community Action Committee, residential customers who need and qualify for help will be identified. Potomac Edison will be able to fulfill a need in our communities at a time when many customers need help the most."

Ms. Neff notes that mailers included in customers' Potomac Edison bills will help the Community Action Committee collect additional funds to supplement its ongoing collection efforts.

"We're proud to help the agency help our neighbors in Garrett County," added Ms. Neff. "Contributions from customers coupled with monies matched by our stockholders will help many through some difficult times this winter. This is an opportunity for all of us to work together to help those in need."

For more information on the Community Energy Fund, persons may call Potomac Edison toll-free at 1-800-654-3317 or write to Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., P.O. Box 449, Oakland, MD 21550.

Seedlings Now Available For Sale To Public

Tree seedlings may be purchased from the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Forestry Division, for planting next spring. DNR Buckingham Forest Tree Nursery in Harmans, has seedlings for sale to private landowners for delivery this spring. The seedlings from the State Nursery are available primarily for planting for reforestation, windbreaks, wildlife habitat and for erosion control. White pine seedlings are offered for sale to Christmas tree growers in limited quantities after all reforestation orders have been satisfied.

The species available this year for reforestation are white pine 2-0, Norway spruce, white spruce, hybrid poplar, bicolor lespedeza, black locust, gray dogwood, silky dogwood, red osier dogwood, Japanese dogwood, red bud, crabapple, sawtooth oak, white ash, yellow poplar, white oak, red oak, and black cherry. The price range is $7 to $27 per 100 seedlings.

Environmental packets are for sale also, and consist of 50 white pine, 25 black locust, and 25 seedlings of one of the following: red osier dogwood, red oak, or flowering dogwood. Landowners ordering environmental packets must specify which one of the three options they desire in their packet.

Landowners can also place their order for wildlife packets now. Each wildlife packet consists of two seedlings of each of the following species: white pine 2-0, bicolor lespedeza, crabapple, and sawtooth oak. These seedlings can be used to enhance an area's value for wildlife by increasing its potential for providing food and protective cover in the future. Wildlife packets are also available to service organizations at special prices, for resale.

All seedlings, environmental packets, and wildlife packets are offered for sale on a "first come, first serve" basis. Landowners interested in purchasing seedlings should contact the DNR-Resources Conservation Service-Forestry Division office at Mt. Nebo at, (301) 334-3296, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, or by writing to Route 4, box 1190, Oakland, Md. 21550.

GCC Veterans' Club To Sponsor Valentine Dance

The Garrett Community College Veterans' Club is sponsoring a Valentine's Day dance February 14 at the American Legion, Proctor-Kildow Post #71, Oakland, from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Admission will be $3 at the door. The proceeds from the dance will be used to fund the community service outreach program and organizational operating expenses.

The band, Aspen, will provide the entertainment. The band specializes in country rock vocals.

Alliance For Mentally Ill Meets At GCHD

The first meeting of the Garrett County Alliance for the Mentally Ill for the new year was held January 8 at the Garrett County Health Department.

President Carol Cox outlined 1992 plans for the group and suggestions from the membership were solicited as part of the action to be taken by this family support and advocacy organization.

AMI of Garrett County was represented by Mrs. Cox at the public forum held recently by Senator John Hafer and Delegate George Edwards at Garrett Community College. She expressed the group's concern regarding recent state budget cuts; needed services for the mentally ill; and the organizations concern on health insurance and related matters. Written testimony was given to each official for his use and/or reference during the current legislative session.

A second representation of the Garrett County AMI was before Congresswoman Beverly Byron, who heard similar testimony from AMI representative Louise Harvey, who spoke at Mrs. Byron's Town Meeting held in Oakland January 15.

In other business, a winner was chosen as a result of AMI's first raffle fundraiser, and the winner, former President Ernest Brenneman of Grantsville, donated the proceeds of $393 back to the group's treasury. Acknowledgement of a cash donation from the Oakland American Legion, Post 41, was also recognized during the financial portion of the meeting.

Final plans were made for the monthly caring and sharing meeting to be held Sunday, January 26, at 2 p.m. in the Glade Mennonite Church, Accident-Bittinger Road, Grantsville. A special guest speaker will share her story as a psychiatric nurse and one who also has a mentally ill relative. Interested persons are urged to attend this meeting.

Questions and comments are welcome and individuals are encouraged to call 334-4357 or 895-5366 for further information or to visit a local meeting. The next Oakland area meeting will be held Wednesday, February 12, at 7 p.m. in the Assembly Room of the Garrett County Health Department.

MSP, Governor Express Support For Helmet Law

Motorcycle safety experts are lining up behind Governor William Donald Schaefer in support of a law requiring people who ride motorcycles to wear a helmet.

"Head injuries are the leading cause of death among motorcyclists involved in motor vehicle collisions," said Andrew S. Krajewski (Cry-eff-skee), coordinator of Maryland's Motorcycle Safety Program. Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service broadcast, Krajewski said a helmet law will save lives and money.

The Governor's Commission on Efficiency and Economy in Government estimates that Maryland could save $1.3 million a year now spent on victims of motorcycle crashes who are covered by Medicaid or who have no health insurance. According to a study conducted by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems, a helmet law that saves only 10 victims a year from serious head injuries, could save more than $4 million dollars.

"The real issue here is saving lives by reducing the risk of serious or fatal head injuries," stated Krajewski.

The Maryland Safety Program has enrolled more than 14,000 students in rider education programs at 15 training centers around the state. Anyone interested in enrolling in the program can call 1-800-638-1722. The program is credited with bringing national recognition to Maryland for its highway safety efforts.

The Maryland State Police Radio Program is a weekly public service broadcast carried on approximately 50 radio stations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. Portions of this program are carried on the Maryland State Police Newsline, (410) 653-4275.

Mid-Winter Bird Count Scheduled

A mid-winter bird count will be held in Garrett County Saturday, January 25, during the entire 24-hour period (from midnight to midnight), according to Fran Pope, count coordinator for the Maryland Ornithological Society.

Interested persons may participate in the count at any block of time during that period but are asked to contact Pope at 334-4908 or Connie Skipper at 387-5277 to advise them of the time and area they will be covering.

Birds may also be counted from residential bird feeders.

Northern Girls Nipped By Alco, Mash Salisbury

The Northern High School girls' varsity nearly pulled off a major upset Saturday when they traveled to Cumberland to take on Allegany, but the 11-1 Campers held on for a one-point win, 43-42. The Huskies then took out their frustration last night on host Salisbury to record their eighth win in 12 games, 52-33.

The Huskies, who had fallen to Allegany just eight days prior by 20 points, 57-37, were determined to put the Campers to a test the second time around and they nearly won the game, as they had possession of the ball with eight seconds left. However, a steal by Allegany's Danita Emerson dashed Northern's hopes.

In the early moments of the contest it appeared that the Campers would cruise to another easy win, as they went on top 10-4. But the Huskies came back to cut their deficit to 13-10 by the end of the first quarter. The Huskies were down by just one, 24-23, at halftime, but fell behind, 37-31, by the end of the third period. The Huskies won the fourth period, 11-5, but were a few points short overall.

Rebecca Fratz paced Northern and all scorers as she pumped in 26 points, while Cara Wachter added nine. Brenda Miller and Amy Beeman each scored 10 points for the Campers.

Fratz netted 28 points last night against Salisbury in a game that Northern dominated from the beginning. The Huskies held a 16-8 lead at the end of the first quarter and doubled their point total by halftime, while holding the host team scoreless.

Salisbury played better in the third stanza, cutting the Huskies' lead to 38-20, but Northern maintained a similar margin throughout the fourth period.

Livengood paced Salisbury with 12 points.

The Huskies will play again Monday at Fort Hill.

Southern Girls Defeated Twice; Record Now 6-5

The Southern High School girls' varsity dropped a pair of contests this past week, losing to Tri-Valley of Uniontown, Pa., Friday night in Oakland, 69-60, and falling to once-beaten Westmar last night in a close contest at Lonaconing, 57-53.

Coach Don Stemple's Rams will try to bounce back Saturday afternoon at Bishop Walsh (4 p.m.). They will travel to McConnellsburg, Pa., next Wednesday evening.

The Southern defensive unit could not stop Crystal Fields and Shantai Hall of Tri-Valley last Friday, as they poured in 30 and 24 points, respectively; however the Rams kept the game close until the fourth period.

The Rams trailed by three, 18-15, at the end of the first quarter, led by one at halftime, 33-32, and were down by only two after three periods, 47-45, but they were out-scored in the final stanza, 22-15. Hall scored 22 of her points in the second half.

Shelly Cannon and Michelle Duling paced the Rams' offensive effort with 22 and 20 points, respectively. Carrie Newcomb finished with 12 points and 10 rebounds and Alayna Harkins was credited with seven assists.

Also reaching double figures for Tri-Valley was Susan Kuritz with 13.

The Southern jayvee squad won the preliminary contest, 31-26, behind a 12-point effort by Crystal Wagner. Hall, the player who netted 24 for the varsity, also scored 24 for the Tri-Valley junior varsity.

Last night against 11-1 Westmar, the Rams did a good job defensively against area scoring leader Dawn Sloan, who came into the contest with an average of over 28 points per game. Sloan was held to 15 points, however her teammate Julie McGowan finished with 20 to lead the Wildcats.

Southern was on top by one, 13-12, at the end of the first quarter, down 26-21 at halftime, and ahead 41-38 at the end of the third period. The Wildcats out-scored the Rams in the fourth stanza, 19-12, to record the win.

Michelle Duling led all scorers as she finished with 25 points on 12 field goals and Shelly Cannon was close behind with 21 points.

The Southern jayvee squad was also defeated in the preliminary game, 33-23, by the Westmar junior varsity. Christy Preston led the Wildcats with 11 points and Stacy Kinser paced Southern with 10 points. It was the seventh win in nine games for the Westmar jayvees.

Ram Grapplers Split In Tri-Meet Last Night

The Southern High School varsity wrestling team traveled to Clay-Battelle High School last night to compete in a tri-meet with Clay-Battelle and North Marion. The Rams defeated North Marion, 32-30, and lost to Clay-Battelle, 48-24.

Rams recording pins in both matches were Pete Strawser (125) and Jason Rush (130).

Box scores of the matches will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

The Rams (3-4) will participate in the Potomac Valley Conference Tournament this Saturday at Berkeley Springs, beginning at 10:30 a.m. They will host Berlin, Pa., next Tuesday.

Alvarez Ranked Number One 10-12 Skier In Maryland

Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR (NAtional STAndard Race) has awarded an Oakland resident first place among Maryland's 10-12 year old skiers. Jack Alvarez, son of Jack Alvarez and Susan Alvarez, both of Oakland, received the ranking because of his outstanding ski racing performance during the 1990-91 ski season, according to NASTAR Commissioner Bob Beattie.

Skiing at Keystone Resort, Colo., Alvarez posted a personal season-best handicap of 9. A handicap is the percentage difference between a skier's race time and that of the fastest NASTAR racer in the country, U.S. Ski Team member Nate Bryan. Alvarez's handicap means he raced within 9 percent of Bryan.

"Jack has already proven to be one of the best young skiers in the state," said Dennis Agee, U.S. Skiing's Alpine Program Director. "Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR exposes young skiers to the thrill of racing, and may very well be shaping the future of American ski racing," he added.

Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR ranks the top 10 boys and girls in six age categories in all 50 states. The top-ranked skiers are listed on special rankings posters, and receive a state leader patch, and a certificate of achievement. First place winners also win a pair of I SKI sunglasses.

NASTAR is the world's largest recreational ski racing program. Last season, more than 100,000 youths participated in Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR at 180 ski areas nationwide. In addition to national and state rankings honors, young skiers can earn gold, silver or bronze medals every time they race.

Lakers Fall To Owls, Catamounts Before Whipping Dundalk CC, 95-79

The Garrett Community College Lakers dropped a pair of close contests this past week before coming back last night to defeat host Dundalk Community College, 95-79. Garrett was edged Saturday by Prince George's CC in Largo, 73-69, and then lost a heartbreaker to Potomac State College at Keyser, W.Va., Monday night, 82-81.

The results left the Lakers with an overall mark of 8-9 and 2-5 in the JUCO standings. They will host Baltimore CC this Saturday before traveling to Cumberland to take on their nationally-ranked arch rival Allegany CC next Wednesday.

The Lakers were on top by one point at halftime against Prince George's Saturday night, 28-27, after leading by as many as four in the first half. The Owls took the lead in the second half and were on top 64-59 with four minutes left in the game. Garrett came back to tie the score one more time with about two minutes remaining. The Owls regained the lead and kept it.

Nick Gray, who scored 12 of the Lakers' first 14 points of the game, finished with a team-high 22 points. Curtis Shepherd netted 14 points, handed out 11 assists, and recorded six steals, while Fred Wilson and Ed Gerald each contributed 10 points.

Leading the Owls was Jimmy Walker, who netted 23 points. Rod Little finished with 15 and Scott Stewart added 12.

A pair of free throws by Marlin McKinney with no time left on the clock cost the Lakers their game against Potomac State Monday night.

After the Catamounts were on top by six at halftime, 51-45, the Lakers came back to assume a similar lead, 68-62, with eight and one-half minutes remaining in the game. But Potomac State went on a 6-0 run to knot the score at 68.

Several three-point shots/plays by both teams followed, resulting in more ties. A three-pointer by Shepherd with 3:22 remaining gave Garrett a 77-74 advantage, which was followed by a pair of free throws by Potomac's Fred Johnson.

The lead changed hands five more times in the final few minutes, with Gray giving the Lakers their final lead of the game with a short jumper to make it 81-80 with 17 seconds left.

The Catamounts set up for the final shot which was attempted and missed four times. The first try was a 15-foot jumper by Bryan Crane, followed by two follow-up attempts by Johnson. McKinney put the ball up the fourth time at the buzzer, again unsuccessfully, but he was fouled in the process. He hit both of his attempts to win the game for the Catamounts, who improved their record to 5-9.

Crane, a former standout for Paw Paw High School, led the Catamounts and all scorers as he hit 10 field goals, including seven three-pointers, for 27 points. Each team finished with nine three-point goals.

Dave McKenzie scored 17 points, pulled 14 rebounds, and dished out five assists for the winners, while McKinney recorded 14 points and five assists.

The Lakers were again paced by Gray, who finished with 20 points and 11 rebounds. Scott Newman hit 17 points, and Wilson and Shepherd each scored 11.

The Lakers were outrebounded, 45-30.

Last night against Dundalk, Fred Wilson spearheaded the Laker attack as he finished with 24 points on a dozen field goals. Shepherd added 19 points, Gray finished with 18, and Scott Newman netted 15.

The Lakers led by as many as 13 points in the first half, 39-26, and were on top 44-34 at halftime. Their biggest lead of the game was 22 points, 89-58, with 8:30 left in the game.

Dundalk was led in scoring by Caprizio Chisholm, who hit 22 points, while George Raikes finished with 18.

Gray also grabbed 13 rebounds for the Lakers, Shepherd was credited with nine assists, and Ed Gerald recorded nine steals.

Rams Continue To Win With Rice On Sidelines; Martin Picks Up Slack

Although Southern High School's Brett Rice was on the sidelines with a sprained ankle, the Rams continued their winning ways Friday night by defeating host Mount Savage, 59-48. It was the 10th win in 11 games for Coach Tom Bosley's Rams, who are currently the unanimous choice for the number one ranking in the area.

Rice, who was injured during practice last week, watched his teammates handle the 6-4 Indians, as Britten Martin took over the bulk of the scoring duties. Martin finished with a career high 31 points as he was able to get open underneath all night long. He also grabbed a game-high eight rebounds.

Rice, who is averaging over 27 points, may return to the line-up this Friday at home against Frankfort; however Bosley said early this week he may keep him out of the contest to give his ankle more time to heal. "We may need Brett against Frankfort, but I definitely want him healthy for the Allegany game next Tuesday," Bosley said. The Campers, who are also a Region I, 2A team like Southern, will attempt to avenge a January 10 loss to the Rams in Cumberland.

Against Mt. Savage the Rams started slowly and allowed the Indians to take a 5-2 advantage. A three-point play by Martin knotted the score at 7-7 and the quarter ended in a 9-9 tie.

The Southern offense continued to sputter in the second stanza, as Martin scored the only field goal of the period; however, the Southern defense held the Indians to just seven points and the Rams trailed by just two at halftime, 16-14.

Southern took the lead for good in the third quarter, building a 10-point advantage, 31-21, but Mt. Savage, led by Tom Shaffer, cut the deficit to five points by the end of the period, 33-28. Shaffer finished with 20 points and five rebounds to lead the Indians.

Southern led by as many as 12 points twice in the final period, with most of their points being scored at the free throw line. The Rams hit 12 of 16 attempts in the fourth quarter to outscore the host team, 26-20, and record the win.

Jeremy Bosley also reached double figures for Southern with 12 points, while Brad Brehm netted 18 for the Indians.

Martin's points came on 11 field goals and a perfect nine-for-nine effort at the foul line.

Huskies Rip Oldtown, Then Avenge Loss To Mount Savage; Record 7-6

The Northern High Huskies added a pair of wins to their record this week by embarrassing Oldtown Friday night, 86-42, in Accident and then avenging an earlier loss to Mt. Savage Tuesday evening, 57-45, also on the Huskies' court. The victories upped Coach Harv Speicher's team's season mark to 7-6 and 3-0 in the Mid-Appalachian League.

The Huskies produced a balanced offensive attack against 2-9 Oldtown, as six of them finished in double figures. Dave Hinebaugh led with 15 points, Jon Houser and Mike Fike each netted 12, Rob Speicher and Brian Kamp scored 11, and Doug Brenneman chipped in with 10.

Northern dominated the contest from the beginning, building leads of 15-2, 31-12, and 56-24 at the quarters.

Speicher was also credited with eight assists, Fike grabbed eight rebounds, and Houser recorded four steals.

Pacing Oldtown was Brian Sheetz with 11 points.

Rob Speicher paced four Huskies in double figures Tuesday night against Mt. Savage with 16 points, as Northern evened its mark against the Indians, who had topped the Huskies earlier in the month, 48-34.

The Huskies were on top 15-8 at the end of the first quarter and led 28-23 at halftime. Mt. Savage came back to take a 34-33 advantage midway through the third stanza, but the Huskies closed the period with a 4-0 run to lead 37-34 going into the final eight minutes.

Northern out-scored the visitors in the fourth quarter, 20-11, to record the 12-point win.

Others scoring in double figures for the Huskies were Dave Hinebaugh with 15, Houser with 13, and Kamp with 10. Hinebaugh also pulled down eight rebounds, while Speicher was credited with five assists.

Leading Mount Savage in scoring were Tom Shaffer and Nathan Goebel with 14 and 10 points, respectively.

In the preliminary contest, the Northern junior varsity lost in overtime to the Mt. Savage jayvees, 64-56. Tim Hinebaugh led the Huskies with 24 points. Mark Jewell scored 31 for the Indians, while teammate Terry DeHaven finished with 22.

The Huskies will attempt to keep their win streak and a perfect mark in the Mid-Appalachian League mark perfect this Friday when they host Flintstone.

Laker Women Lose To PSC, Defeat Lions

The Garrett Community College women's basketball team split a pair of games this past week, losing to Potomac State College Monday evening in Keyser, W.Va., 78-67, and defeating host Dundalk CC in a Maryland JUCO Conference contest last night, 55-37. The Lakers, coached by Dennis Gibson, are now 2-5 on the season.

Cindy Martin was the thorn in the Lakers' sides Monday, as she poured in 28 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for Potomac State. The Catamounts held a 39-29 lead at halftime and were on top by as many as 22 points in the second half, as they improved their season mark to 4-6.

Susan Barbarito netted 21 points and pulled nine rebounds for PSC, while Heather Shepherd paced five Lakers in double figures. Shepherd recorded 16 points, Kathy Gibson finished with 14, Kenyatta Brown and Tracy Feather each netted 12, and Kim MacKall added 10.

Shepherd also led Garrett's scoring last night as she finished with 18 points, 16 of which she recorded in the second half.

Garrett was ahead by just three points, 18-15, before taking charge of the game down the stretch. Brown scored 12 points to go with her game-high 18 rebounds, Gibson finished with 11 points, and Feather was credited with six assists. Shepherd also had four steals.

Leading Dundalk's offensive effort were Paige Brooks and Wendy Dehn, who each scored 11 points.

The Lakers will play at Harford CC this Friday at 3 p.m.

Dance For Heart Raises $2,500 For Heart Assoc.

Sixty Garrett County residents proved their stamina in a Dance for Heart event held recently at Garrett Community College. The event, which was sponsored by Brenda's Body Shop of Oakland, raised approximately $2,500 to benefit the American Heart Association's programs of education and research.

The participants raised the proceeds for the four-hour dance extravaganza by asking friends, family, and coworkers to pledge contributions. Brenda Brosnihan, owner/operator of Brenda's Body Shop and chairman for the event, said, "It was a pleasure to help the AHA. We were able to raise funds for heart programs and research while demonstrating the benefits of aerobic dance to the community."

Brosnihan added, "We were thrilled with the number of people who participated and those who supported the event with contributions."

The following individuals and groups served as entertainers: Harold Sanco, Washington, D.C.; Chris Russell, Severna Park; Stan Stewart, Vienna, Va.; Annie Lopez, Charlottesville, Va.; Mary Beth Stewart, Vienna, Va.; and from Brenda's Body Shop, the Mat Mates, Sterling Strutters Dance Twirl Team, Aerobic Try Hards, Power Pack, Aerobic Die Hards, and Cindy Tichnell, who will be a competitor in the 1992 Reebok National Aerobic Championships.

Sponsors of the event included Garrett Community College, High Mountain Sports, Par Mat Lanes, and the Mid-Towns Cinemas.

The American Heart Association is the largest nonprofit organization dedicated to the reduction of disability and death from heart disease and stroke. For more information about the AHA, persons may call the local AHA Office at (301) 334-5865.

DANCE FOR HEART was held recently at Garrett Community College, an event that raised approximately $2,500 for the American Heart Association. The four-hour dance session was coordinated by Brenda's Body Shop, Oakland, and sponsored by GCC, High Mountain Sports, Par-Matt Lanes, and Mid-Towns Cinemas. Earning the most money was Amanda Palmer, who is pictured below with Brian Glotfelty and Steve Green, of High Mountain Sports, who presented Amanda with a new pair of Hart skis. Also pictured is Tommy the dalmation, who was either totally bored with it all, or failed to get a good night's sleep before the photo was taken.

drugs, alcohol, and a controlled dangerous substance.

Tirado was charged on July 4, as a result of an incident at Deep Creek Lake State Park. The defendant's attorney was Joseph E. Glass.

William M. Golden, 21, Hancock, last week pleaded no contest to the charge of violation of probation. Judge Thayer then reimposed a two-year sentence in the Maryland Department of Corrections.

Golden was originally charged with escaping from the Backbone Mountain Youth Center. John R. Tosten represented the defendant.

Larry L. Sweitzer, 25, Oakland, pleaded guilty to DWI and with eluding a police officer.

Judge Thayer accepted the plea and sentenced Sweitzer to a 90-day suspended jail term. He was also fined $500 and given two years supervised probation. The defendant's attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

Two New Ways of Delivering Medicines

Transdermal patches and implants represent two of the newest dosage forms prepared by pharmaceutical manufacturers. Both of these dosage forms work on the principal that a slow and constant release of active ingredients is a desirable feature for certain medicines.

Transdermal patches are similar to small bandages that contain medicine. When patches are applied to the skin, the medicine inside the patch flows through the skin into the bloodstream at a steady and predictable rate. The first medicine approved for skin patch application was scopolamine, an atropine-like medicine used to treat motion sickness. Scopolamine patches are placed on the skin just behind the ear and provide protection against motion sickness for up to three days. Nitroglycerin and other medicines are available in the form of skin patches.

Implants are surgically inserted under the skin to provide controlled release of active ingredients. A large amount of medicine is implanted for slow release. In 1990, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved Norplant, a contraceptive, for implantation. Norplant continuously releases small amounts of hormone. According to a recent issue of FDA Consumer, Norplant protects against pregnancy for a period of five years.

AURORA/EGLON NEWS

GRADS SEEK REUNION INTEREST

The Aurora High School 1962 graduating class is planning a class reunion for this summer. They wish to invite members of the graduating classes of 1960, 1961, 1963 and 1964 to participate. Those interested in joining with them are asked to contact Ruth Wotring at Star Route Box 43A, Aurora, WV 26705. Persons may also contact her by phone at 735-5761, but are asked to do so by February 10.

AURORA VFD DONATIONS

Recent donations to the Aurora Volunteer Fire Department have been received from the following: Union District Senior Citizens; Peggy Houser; Victor Kope; Madeline Wotring; Willard Feather; American Legion, Proctor-Kildow Post; Ken and Colleen Cooper.

FOODSHARE CANCELLED

For the months of February and March, distribution of foods at the Thomas Community Center has been discontinued because of uncertain weather conditions. Persons are encouraged to look for the announcement of resuming operations in early March. Date will be announced in this column.

PIONEER 4-H MEETS

Opening the January 13 meeting of the Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club was the singing of "Birdie" led by Megan Durst.

Carla Fint, Kimberly Fike, and Tina Fint led devotions.

The club donated two cases of food to the Food for Preston program prior to Christmas. Caps and gloves from the tree placed at the school were delivered to local persons who needed them. Carla Fint reported on the meeting held for county Teen Leaders on Sunday, Jan. 12.

Mrs. Marjie White spoke to the group concerning selling Stanley products as a club fundraiser. Those participating are asked to return their orders by January 27.

Carla Fint, teen leader, distributed records on which to chart club participation and activities during the year.

Dates to remember are: Teen Leader-Charting Weekend March 6-8, Dance Camp March 14-16, both at Jackson's Mill. On February 17 entries to the photo and poster competition are due in the county office.

David and Delores Stemple were present to show the slides and narrate their Alaskan trip in 1990.

Meeting at the home of leader Stacy Fint, Kimberly Fike and Tina Fint served as hostesses with the 20 present.

Talks were by Tina Fint, Megan Durst, Beth Hauser, Joey Fint and Lora Forman.

In addition to the above named, the following members attended: Stacy Bolyard, Charles Blamble, Elizabeth Morgan, Kendra Durst, Missy and Jessica Callahan, Joe Hauser, Natalie Snyder, Adrian Stemple, Shawn Stemple, Jessica Lantz, Courtney, Rebecca, Daniel and Joey Fint. Also present were leaders Debbie Fike, Betty Fint and Lori Durst.

At the February 10 meeting, each member is asked to bring a baked and Valentine decorated product for judging. (Tina Fint, reporter)

PORTRAITS BEING SOLICITED

Classic Camera Company of Goldsboro, N.C., is currently soliciting throughout the Aurora community for portrait sittings. Sponsored as a fundraising activity by the Aurora Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary, cost of a 10" x 13" portrait will be $15, with the Auxiliary sharing in that fee. Those not contacted may expect to be in the near future as weather permits.

Merrick spends the remaining years of his life in comfort under the care of Dr. Treves and yet is never fully delivered from the curious and abusive stares of his fellow human beings.

Director for the production will be Micki Selvitella who recently moved into the Frostburg area. Ms. Selvitella brings a wealth of directing experience and education to the Theatre, according to Sincell, having earned her bachelor of arts in theatre and music from Clark University in Worcester, Mass. She has also studied at the Yale School of Drama in New Haven, Conn. Joan Sussman, associate professor of English at GCC, will be designing the costumes.

Sincell also stated that there is a need for volunteers to help with the technical work, especially in the area of costumes. Interested persons are requested to call Sincell at the college, 387-6666, or at 334-2878 in the evenings. Any other questions about the auditions can be directed to Sincell at the same phone numbers.

NEW Arrivals

The births of 10 infants this week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital were announced this morning by a hospital spokesman.

A son was born January 17 to John Russell and Mary Ruth Sincell McEwen, Oakland. (John and Mary are both employees of The Republican and we feel our new "nephew" Robert James is pretty special, not to mention beautiful.)

A son was born January 18 to Glenn Dale and Donna Marie Kifer Collins, Deer Park.

A son was born January 18 to David Alan and Bonnie Sue Cross Wiles, Oakland.

A son was born January 19 to Dennis Keith and Robin Sue Helmick Roth, Horse Shoe Run, W.Va.

A daughter was born January 19 to Bruce Wayne and Shari Lea Mayle Burrell, Aurora, W.Va.

A son was born January 20 to Swisher Van and Brenda Lee Braithwaite Smith, Elk Garden, W.Va.

A daughter was born January 20 to Matthew Wayne and Donna Kay Hipp Piper, Elk Garden, W.Va.

A son was born January 20 to Daniel E. and Erma N. Beachy Yoder, Grantsville.

A daughter was born January 21 to Joseph Andrew and Danita Jean Friend Jenkins, Friendsville.

A daughter was born January 21 to Roger Lee Jr. and Stephanie Ann Broadwater Baker, Keyser, W.Va.

Admissions were listed at 75 with 67 discharges. This morning's census shows 50 patients.

A daughter was born January 12 to David and Sarah Burd Sharps at St. Luke's Roosevelt Hospital, New York City. The Sharps reside in West New York, N.J.

Maternal grandparents are Don and Shane Burd, Tappan, N.Y. Paternal grandmother is Sybilla Sharps, Oakland.

THE FLOWER OF THE MONTH, awarded by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club, was won by the second level nurses' station at Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home, to whom Joan Moran sold the winning ticket. Present for the awarding of the prize were, left to right, Ann Taylor, of Green Acres Flower Basket; Mary Blanche Miller, nurse's aide; Edna Moran, mother-in-law of Joan Moran; and Ann Englander, chairman of the Flower of the Month project.

Local Residents Are Asked To Lend Feet To Cause

Many people donate money, time, and talents to worthy causes. But many residents of the town of Oakland will lend their feet to help others.

On Saturday, April 4, Oakland residents will join 300,000 other Americans walking five (5) miles in the fourth annual Super Cities Walk For MS, a national event held in 250 sites, sponsored by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The Oakland Community Walk will begin at 8:00 a.m. at Dennett Road School and continue through Broadford Park Recreation Area.

Each person has his or own personal reason for joining the walk. Some have a family member or friend who has MS. Others join the company walk team where they work, or want to win the prizes that are offered for the best fundraisers. Many are motivated to participate because they want to do something to help others. Whatever the personal reason, all walkers help the quarter of a million Americans who have MS.

When the people from the Oakland area set stride in the walk, they will raise money to support the Society's research to find the cure, prevention and cause of MS, and to fund health-related services for people with MS and their families.

Garrett County now has its own MS Support Group and funds raised from this community walk will go to help people such as this group. Residents are invited to lend their feet as walkers, to support walkers with pledges, and to volunteer to help the fight against MS.

Any organization or individuals wishing to help in fighting this disease is asked to call Betsy J. Colaw at (301) 334-4880. Walking has become America's number one fitness pastime and what a way to start becoming fit by helping others who are not. Let's show that Garrett County and Western Maryland do care and walk on April 4.

WOW Rangers To Swim Saturday At Alpine Pool

Woodmen of the World Youth Rangers from Lodge 112 are planning a swim trip to Alpine Lake this Saturday, January 25, from 1 to 3 p.m. A bus will be leaving the Lodge Hall on Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls Road at 12:30 p.m.

Parents who wish to go may ride the bus also. Members and guests (ages 8 through 15) are welcome to attend. Those members under 8 may attend if chaperoned by an adult. The group will return to the Lodge Hall at 4:30 p.m.

More information may be obtained by calling 334-4704 during the day, 334-9148, or 334-2569.

The December bowling activity at Par-Matt Lanes was well attended, as 15 youth and five adults participated.

Knitting Machine Course Scheduled

A local training course is being offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College. Local Business woman, Lenora Flowers, of Lenora's Fabric Shop, who has been contracted by the ESPRIT Fashion Company to knit sweaters will be instructing the course. "It is like a gift from Heaven," said Lenora, describing the knitting project.

Ms. Flowers taught herself to knit on a knitting machine, took mail order production knitting classes, and dreamed of earning an income through her knitting. She said her dream had finally come true.

The ESPRIT® company is trying to support economically depressed areas with sustainable "trade not aid."

Two beginner's classes will be taught by Ms. Flowers and have been scheduled to begin January 29 at Lenora's Fabric Shop on US Route 219, south of Oakland. Each course will consist of 36 hours of instruction. The courses are scheduled to be held each Wednesday and the student may choose either an afternoon course from 1-4:15 p.m. or an evening course from 6-9:15 p.m.

The student will learn the use and operation of the knitting machine and have a machine-knitted sweater at the end of the course.

This class is being offered at a low cost to provide unemployed persons in the county the opportunity for possible employment. Tuition for a Garrett County resident will be $50 plus $3 registration fee, an out-of-county and out-of-state differential will be charged. There will be additional charges of $24.95 for a textbook and $15 for materials.

Intermediate and advanced courses will be offered to those persons who demonstrate a highly professional product.

Enrollment is limited to 8 persons per class on a first-come, first-served basis. More information may be obtained by contacting Patricia Baer at 334-8304.

Local Author To Tell Tales, Sign Books Saturday

Local storyteller and educator Gail Herman will be telling tales and signing copies of her new books at Main Street Books, Frostburg, this Saturday, January 25, beginning at 2 p.m.

Dr. Herman has had her writing published twice this year. She is the co-author of Kinetic Kaleidoscope: Exploring Movement in the Visual Arts. Also recently published was a folktale in an anthology of stories, Spinning Tales, Weaving Hope: Stories of Peace, Justice and the Environment.

Kinetic Kaleidoscope, published by Zephyr Press in Arizona, echoes the turn of the century notion that people can sense energy in art works. Spinning Tales, Weaving Hope, published by New Society Printers, Pennsylvania, and edited by Ed Brody, is a collection of stories and folktales for adults and children. The book is useful for teachers, camp counselors, parents and other helping professions, according to Dr. Herman.

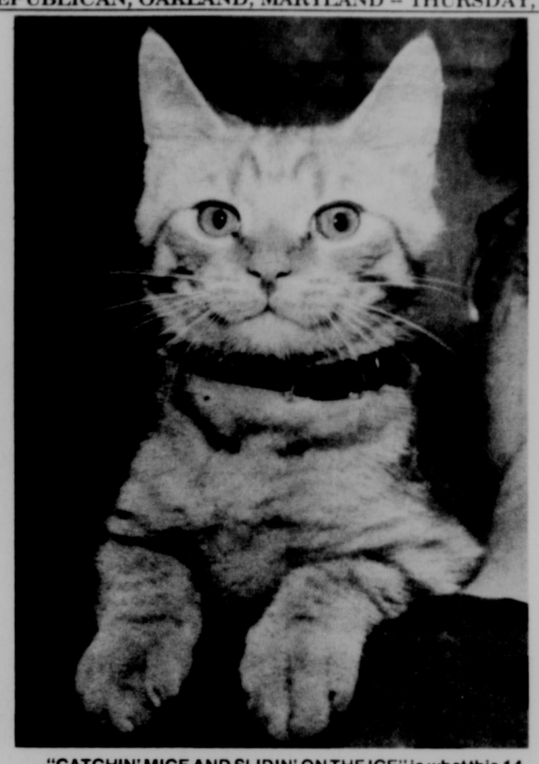
Dr. Herman is an adjunct faculty member at Frostburg State University and a supervisor of teaching interns. She is locally known for directing the Tapestry of Talent Student Storytelling Festival of Western Maryland an annual event held each year at FSU. She resides at Sky Valley, Deep Creek Lake.

During the book signing, Dr. Herman will perform "The Four Wise People" and share activities from Kinetic Kaleidoscope. Main Street Books is located at 10 E. Main Street in Frostburg. For additional information, persons may call the bookstore at (301) 689-5605.

Norma Dankulich To Speak At Aglow

Norma Dankulich, Mtn. Lake Park, will be the guest speaker at the Oakland Aglow first anniversary fellowship meeting on Saturday, January 25, at 9:30 a.m., at the Mtn. Lake Park Campground dining hall, located off Md. Route 135.

Ms. Dankulich was instrumental in organizing the local Women's Aglow Chapter. Following major surgeries and the removal of an extremely large tumor at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., she believes that her recovery was "because of the prayers of friends, family, and the support of Aglow."



Although she stated that she had "great respect" for her doctors, she gives credit for her recovery and positive attitude to the "Great Physician."

Ms. Dankulich's hobbies are art and poetry. While in the hospital, she wrote a poem about her life-threatening surgery. The poem was published by Poetry Corner. Consequently, she won the Golden Poet Award for 1991 and was nominated to Who's Who in Poetry. She has one son, John. He and his wife, Kim, are both students at Fairmont State College.

More information about the meeting may be obtained by calling 387-9352 or 334-8891.

Women's Aglow is an interdenominational Christian women's organization committed to Jesus Christ, according to a group spokeswoman. The group meets monthly and is open to any interested women.

Mrs. Weeks To Be On The Today Show

Edith Weeks, a resident of Mtn. Lake Park who will observe her 102nd birthday Friday, Jan. 31, will be pictured on NBC Television Network's "The Today Show" next Thursday morning, Jan. 30. She will be among those senior citizens recognized by weather man Willard Scott.

With the assistance of neighborly neighbors, Mrs. Weeks continues to maintain her own household in Mtn. Lake Park.

Small Business Class Scheduled To Begin Feb. 6

A class starting February 6 at Garrett Community College has been designated to help small business owners and managers by focusing on the elements of a good business plan and the essentials of finance necessary to run a small business.

"Whether you're starting a business or expanding an ongoing venture, a business plan will help you use your resources most effectively to achieve success. It is also required by financial institutions for loans. A business plan helps in working out cash flow problems, budgeting resources, and planning for growth," said a GCC spokesperson.

Key topics covered in this class are: developing the business plan, types of financing available, cash flow analysis, business taxes, budgeting and financial statement analysis.

The class will meet on 3 consecutive Thursdays from February 6 through February 20 from 6:30 to 9 p.m., at the GCC McHenry campus. Anyone wishing to register for this course or obtain additional information, should call Sandy Major at the college at 387-6666, ext. 180.

GCC To Offer Bereavement Course

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College will offer Bereavement Skills for Helping the Grieving Person, a course designed to offer knowledge and skills for coping with bereaved individuals.

Topics to be presented include: the dynamics of the process, help for those who may be dying or grieving, and discussion on support for an individual who is grieving. "Don't wait and feel helpless. Come join us and learned ways to cope with family and friends," said a GCC spokesperson.

Sessions will be held on Thursdays beginning January 30 through February 13, from 6-8 p.m. The tuition will be $7 for Garrett County residents, $7.70 for out-of-county, and $8.40 for out-of-state. All participants will be charged a $3 registration fee.

More information may be obtained by calling Patricia Baer at 334-8304.

Miss Burks Becomes Bride Of Mr. Hinkle In October Ceremony

Jann Johnson Burks and Matthew James Hinkle were united in marriage on October 19 at 1:30 p.m. in a double-ring, candlelight ceremony at the Davis Memorial Presbyterian Church in Elkins, W.Va. The Rev. Charles Logan Landrum and Father John V. DiBacco officiated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and the couple was blessed in marriage by their parents, Jane Hanst Burks of Elkins, James and Irene Burks of Hillsboro, and James and Barbara Hinkle of Dry Fork, W.Va. Also accompanied into the church were the maternal and paternal grandparents of the bride, George and Polly Hanst, Oakland, and Robert and Monica Ghent, Charleston, W.Va.; and the maternal grandparents of the groom, Lewis and Thelma Tingler of Bowden, W.Va.

A program of trumpet and organ music was performed by organist Robert Schaff of Arlington, Va., and trumpet soloist Mark Palmer of Parkersburg, W.Va., both friends of the groom.

Beneath the stained glass windows of the church were arrangements of trailing ivy, baby's breath, and dark pink ribbons. Ivory satin bows marked the reserved pews.

The altar and lectern were adorned with fresh flower arrangements of dark pink gerbera daisies, dark pink carnations, white Fuji mums, purple alstromeria, baby's breath and fresh ivy. Garlands of fresh ivy and ivory bows adorned the brass candelabras and altar rails.

The bride chose a formal Jim Hjelm ivory silk shantung gown with gracefully gathered short pouf sleeves and a basque bodice embellished with Alencon lace, iridescent sequins, and pearls. The scalloped sweetheart neckline accented the bodice which led to a long full skirt and chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil and headpiece were created by her mother and maternal grandmother and featured ivory silk shantung roses embellished with Venise point lace from the bride's mother's wedding gown.

The bride carried a cascading crescent bouquet of calla lilies, champagne roses, ivory gerbera daisies, peach lilies, and cream alstromeria lilies. She wore her maternal grandmother's pearls and carried a rose point lace handkerchief carried by her maternal grandmother in 1931 and her mother in 1964.

The bride chose her sister, Cynthia Jane Burks, of Philadelphia as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jamie Louise Burks, Elkins, sister of the bride; Susan Louise Chua, Elkins; Catherine Queen Everett, Charlotte, N.C.; Christine Elizabeth Esser, Mechanicsburg, Pa.; and Julie Shaw Seaman, Sterling, Va., all friends of the bride; and Paula Kay Hinkle, Dry Folk, cousin of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical peacock blue two-piece silk shantung dresses with long straight skirts, off the shoulder boat necklines, and soft peplum waists. They carried cascading arm bouquets of dark pink gerbera daisies, lavender alstromeria lilies, purple status, ivy, eucalyptus, and accents of peacock blue and metallic gold streamers. The wedding coordinator was Dee White of Hartman's Flower Shoppe.

The flower girl was Renae Irene Burks, Hillsboro, W.Va., sister of the bride, and the ring bearer was Andrew Steven DeMotto, Elkins, W.Va., cousin of the groom. The flower girl wore a peacock blue, lavender, and gold print dress with elbow length sleeves, fitted bodice, and a full tea-length skirt with cascading back ruffles accented by a bow at the back waist. She carried a nosegay of flowers similar to those of the bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was Thomas Peyton Patrick, Davis, W.Va., friend of the groom. Groomsmen included Stephen Matthew Hass, Weirton, W.Va.; Kevin Edward Lloyd, Springdale, Pa.; Scott Stephen Martin, Cadiz, Ohio; and Anthony Louis Tanzi, Kings Park, N.Y., all friends and fraternity brothers of the groom; Eric Craig Tingler, Romney, W.Va., cousin of the groom; and James Edward Burks, brother of the bride.

The soloist, Mark Palmer, sang "Everything I Do, I Do For You." Erin Poe Canales, Elkins, friend and sorority sister of the bride, read Philippians 4:8-9. Bulletins were distributed by cousins of the bride, Elizabeth Fowble Hanst, Jennifer Mann Hanst, and Rebecca Pauline Hanst, all of Baltimore. The guest book was attended by Joelle Graham Kenney, Philadelphia, friend of the bride, and birdseed was distributed by Zachary David Knotts, Pickens, W.Va., and Shelley Nicole Tingler, Romney, cousins of the groom.

A buffet reception followed the ceremony at Canaan Valley Lodge. Guests were entertained in a celebration atmosphere by "The Magnificents" of Morgantown. The wedding cake was designed and baked by Suzanne Carter of Norton, W.Va., and was decorated with fresh gerbera daisies, alstromeria, miniature dark pink carnations, greenery, and baby's breath. The floral bouquet from the top of the five-tier cake was thrown by the bride before departing the reception. Serving the cake were aunts of the bride, Barbara Mann Hanst and Joan Fowble Hanst, both of Baltimore.

The wedding events were photographed by James Gustke of Elkins and videotaped by Robert Bozic of Parsons.

A rehearsal dinner was held on the eve of the wedding at the Elkins Motor Lodge and was hosted by the parents of the groom, James and Barbara Hinkle. Music was provided by Mark Palmer.

A luncheon and bridal shower was given by Ann Baird and Patty Bryant of Beverly and Brenda Kidd of Charleston. A bridal shower was held in Charleston and was hosted by Jane Harris, Rae Jo Ghent, and Monica Ghent. The mother of the bride hosted a luncheon for the bridal party, mothers, and grandmothers at the Courthouse Inn in Elkins.

Mrs. Hinkle is a 1985 graduate of Elkins High School, a 1991 graduate of the West Virginia School of Pharmacy, and is employed as a pharmacist for Rite Aid Corporation in Charleston.

Mr. Hinkle is a 1987 graduate of Tucker County High School and a 1991 graduate of West Virginia University. He is employed as an auditor for the Division of Parks and Tourism of the West Virginia Department of Commerce in Charleston.

Following a honeymoon in the Bahamas, the couple established residence in Charleston.

Barbara Atkinson, Brian Kesner Exchange Vows In Sept. Event

Barbara Ann Atkinson and Brian Scott Kesner were united in marriage September 21, 1991. The double-ring ceremony took place at the Grace United Methodist Church with Dr. Lawrence Sherwood and the Rev. Herman Baliles officiating. Carla Brown was pianist and Dennis Brown was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson, Keyser, W.Va. Mr. Kesner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kesner, also of Keyser, and the grandson of the late Dora and Charles Wotring who were residents of Aurora, W.Va.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of bridal satin, with a fitted bodice encrusted with pearled Milano lace and sequins featuring scalloped V-neckline and ornate pouf sleeve. The skirt flowing from a basque waist was adorned with a pearled lace cameo. A cloverleaf train was ornamented with large lace and net pearled dotted motifs and running lace highlighted with a dainty lace hem encircling the gown.

The headpiece was a Venise and pearled tiara with cut crystals featuring pearl studded pouf and double finger tip bridal illusion.

The bride carried a nosegay of cascading gardenias, orchids, white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and Swedish ivy highlighted and accented with white bows, lace, strands of pearl beads and two gold wedding bands.

Serving as maid of honor was Jada Powelson of Keyser. Bridesmaids were Shannon McKenzie, McCoole; Jennifer Ledford, cousin of the groom, Fayetteville, N.C.; and Kelli Kasmier, sister of the bride, Harrisburg, Pa. Megan Boehmes of Keyser was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Craig Kesner, brother of the groom, Keyser. Groomsmen were Scott Rohrbough, Kenneth Rohrbough, and Elon Patterson, all of Keyser. Ushers were Craig Cannon Burlington and Rodney Cannon, Keyser. Ring bearer was Kirk Kesner, nephew of the groom.

The wedding was videotaped by Ken Wolfe, uncle of the bride, and Frank Burgess, friend of the groom. Photos were taken by Keyser Studio. Susan Alt and Marla Redman were in charge of the guest book and handing out programs. Becki and Nicki Smith, cousins of the groom, were in charge of the gifts.

The wedding reception was in the fellowship hall of the church. The wedding cake was baked by Judy Brown and was cut and served by Sandy Wolfe, aunt of the bride, and Helen Smith, aunt of the groom. Serving punch was Stacey Rohrbough, friend of the bride and groom.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Keyser High School and is employed at Sullivan and Sullivan, P.A. in Cumberland.

The groom is a 1984 graduate of Keyser High. He is also a graduate of Frostburg State University and is employed at the Potomac Highland Mental Health Guild in Romney, W.Va.

The parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Sunnyside Church of the Brethren Social Hall. The bride was guest of honor at two showers, one given by Karen Kesner and Phyllis Lyon, aunts of the groom, Trina Kesner, sister-in-law of the groom, and Dotty Kesner, mother of the groom. The other shower was given by the bridesmaids.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. Following a honeymoon to Canaan Valley, the couple established residence near Keyser.
